THE
P S A L M S

OF
D A V I D,

IMITATED IN THE LANGUAGE OF THE NEW TESTAMENT.

P S A L M I. Common metre.

The way and end of the Righteous and the Wicked.

BLEST is the man who shuns the place
Where sinners love to meet ;

Who fears to tread their wicked ways,
And hates the scoffers feat :

2 Who in the statutes of the Lord
Has plac'd his chief delight ;

By day he reads, or hears the word,
And meditates by night.

3 He like a plant, of gen'rous kind,
By living waters set,

Safe from the storms and blasting wind,
Enjoys a peaceful state.

4 Green as the leaf, and ever fair
Shall his profession shine ;

While fruits of holiness appear
Like clusters on the vine.

5 Not so the impious and unjust ;
What vain designs they form !

Their hopes are blown away, like dust,
Or chaff, before the storm.

B

- 6 Sinners in judgment shall not stand
 Among the sons of grace,
 When Christ, the Judge, at his right hand
 Appoints his saints a place.
- 7 His eye beholds the path they tread ;
 His heart approves it well ;
 But crooked ways of sinners, lead
 Down to the gates of hell.

P S A L M I. Short metre.

The saint happy—The sinner miserable.

- THE man is ever blest
 Who shuns the sinner's ways,
 Among their councils never stands,
 Nor takes the icorner's place :
- 2 Who makes the law of God
 His study and delight,
 Amidst the labors of the day,
 And watches of the night.
- 3 He, like a tree shall thrive,
 With waters near the root ;
 Fresh as the leaf his name shall live ;
 His works are heav'nly fruit.
- 4 But the ungodly race
 Can no such blessings find ;
 Their hopes will fly like empty chaff
 Before the driving wind.
- 5 How will they bear to stand
 Before that Judgment seat,
 Where all the saints, at Christ's right hand,
 In full assembly meet !
- 6 He knows, and he approves
 The way the righteous go ;
 But sinners, and their works, will meet
 A dreadful overthrow.

P S A L M I. Long metre.

The difference between the Righteous and Wicked.

HAPPY the man, whose cautious feet
Shun the broad way which sinners go,
Who hates the place where atheists meet,
And fears to talk as scoffers do.

2 He loves to pass his morning light
Among the statutes of the Lord,
And spends the wakeful hours of night,
With pleasure pond'ring o'er the word.

3 He, like a plant, by gentle streams,
Shall flourish in immortal green ;
And heav'n will shine with kindest beams
On ev'ry work his hands begin.

4 But sinners find their counsels crost ;
As chaff before the tempest flies ;
So shall their hopes be blown and lost,
When the last trumpet shakes the skies.

5 In vain the rebels seek to stand
In judgment with the pious race ;
The dreadful Judge, with stern command,
Divides them to a diff'rent place.

6 " Straight is the way my saints have trod ;
I blest'd the path, and dress'd it plain ;
But you would choose the crooked road,
And down it leads to endless pain."

P S A L M II. Short metre.

Translated according to the Divine pattern.

Acts, iv. 24. &c.

Christ's dying, rising, interceding and reigning.

MAKER and sov'reign Lord
Of heav'n, and earth and seas ;
Thy providence confirms thy word,
And answers thy decrees.

- 2 The things so long foretold
By David are fulfill'd,
When Jews and Gentiles join to slay
Jesus thine holy child.]
- 3 Why did the Gentiles rage,
And Jews with one accord,
Bend all their councils to destroy
Th' annointed of the Lord?
- 4 Rulers and kings agree
To form a vain design;
Against the Lord their pow'rs unite,
Against his Christ they join.
- 5 The Lord derides their rage,
And will support his throne,
The Lord who rais'd him from the dead
Hath own'd him for his Son.

P A U S E.

- 6 Now he's ascended high,
And asks to rule the earth,
The merit of his blood he pleads,
And pleads his heavenly birth.
- 7 He asks, and God bestows
A large inheritance;
Far as the world's remotest ends,
His kingdom shall advance.
- 8 The nations that rebel,
Must feel his iron rod;
He'll vindicate those honors well,
Which he receiv'd from God.
- 9 Be wise ye rulers, now,
And worship at his throne;
With trembling joy, ye people, bow
To God's exalted Son.

ye if once his wrath arise,
 Ye seek on the place :
 This world is the soul that flies
 For refuge to his grace.]

P S A L M II. Common metre.

WHY did the nations join to slay
 The Lord's anointed Son !

Why did they cast his laws away,
 And tread his gospel down ?

The Lord who sits above the skies,
 Derides their rage below ;
 He speaks with vengeance in his eyes,
 And strikes their spirits through.

3 " I call him my eternal Son,
 And raise him from the dead :
 I make my holy hill his throne,
 And wide his kingdom spread.

4 Ask me, my Son, and then enjoy,
 The utmost Heathen lands ;
 The rod of iron shall destroy
 The rebel who withstands.

5 Be wise, ye rulers of the earth
 Obey th' anointed Lord,
 Adore the King of heav'nly birth,
 And tremble at his word.

6 With humble love address his throne,
 For if he frown, ye die :
 Those are secure, and those alone,
 Who on his grace rely.

P S A L M II. Long metre.

Christ's death, resurrection and ascension.

WHY did the Jews proclaim their rage ?
 The Romans, why their swords employ ?

Against the Lord their pow'rs engage,
 His dear annointed to destroy.

2 "Come let us break his bands, they say,
 This man shall never give us laws,"
 And thus they cast his yoke away
 And nail'd the Monarch to the cross.

3 But God, who high in glory reigns,
 Lays out their pride, their rage controuls;
 He'll vex their hearts with inward pains,
 And speak in thunder to their souls.

4 "I will maintain the King I made
 On Zion's ever lasting hill;
 My hand shall bring him from the dead,
 And he shall stand your Sov'reign still."

[5 His wond'rous rising from the earth
 Makes his eternal Godhead known;
 The Lord declares his heavenly birth,
 "This day have I begot my Son.

6 "Ascend, my Son, to my right hand,
 There thou shalt ask, and I'll bestow
 The utmost bounds of Heathen lands,
 To thee the Northern Isles shall bow."]

7 But nations, that resist his grace,
 Shall fall beneath his iron stroke;
 His rod shall crush his foes with ease,
 As potter's earthen work is broke.

PAUSE.

8 Now ye who sit on earthly thrones,
 Be wise, and serve the Lord, the Lamb;
 Now at his feet submit your crowns,
 Rejoice and tremble at his name.

9 With humble love address the Son,
 Lest he grow angry, and ye die;

His wrath shall burn to worlds unknown,
It ye provoke his jealousy.

10 His storms shall drive you quick to hell !
He is a God, and ye but dust ;
Happy the souls that know him well,
And make his grace their only trust.

P S A L M III. Common metre.

Doubts and fears suppressed : or, God our defense from sin and Satan.

MY God, how many are my fears !
How fast my foes increase !

Contending my eternal death,
They break my present peace.

2 The lying tempter would persuade
There's no relief in heav'n ;
And all my swelling sins appear
Too big to be forgiv'n.

3 But thou my glory and my strength,
Shalt on the tempter tread,
Shalt silence all my threatening guilt,
And raise my drooping head.

[4 I cry'd and from his holy hill
He bow'd a list'ning ear ;
I call'd my Father and my God,
And he subdu'd my fear.

5 He shed soft Dumbers on mine eyes,
In spite of all my foes ;
I'woke, and wonder'd at the grace
Which guarded my repose.]

6 What though the hosts of death and hell
All arm'd against me stood !
Terrors no more shall shake my soul ;
My refuge is my God.

- 7 Arise, O Lord, fulfil thy grace
While I thy glory sing:
My God has broke the serpent's teeth,
And death has lost his sting.
- 8 Salvation to the Lord belongs;
His arm alone can save:
Blessings attend the peop'e here,
And reach beyond the grave.

P S A L M III. Long metre.

A Morning Psalm.

O LORD, how many are my foes
In this weak state of flesh and blood!
My peace they daily discompose,
But my defence and hope, is God.

2 Tir'd with the burdens of the day
To Thee I rais'd an ev'ning cry:
Thou heard'st, when I began to pray,
And thine Almighty help was nigh.

3 Supported by thine heav'nly aid,
I laid me down and slept secure:
Not death should make my heart afraid,
Though I should wake and rise no more.

4 But God sustain'd me all the night
Salvation doth to God belong:
He rais'd my head to see the light,
And make his praise my morning song.

P S A L M IV. Long metre.

Hearing of prayer—er, God our portion, and Christ our hope.

O GOD of grace and righteousness,
Hear and attend, when I complain;
Thou hast enlarg'd me in distress,
Bow down a gracious ear again.

- 2 Ye sons of men, in vain ye try
 To turn my glory into shame :
 How long will scoffers love to lie,
 And dare reproach my Saviour's name ?
- 3 Know that the Lord divides his saints
 From all the tribes of men besides ;
 He hears the cry of penitents
 For the dear sake of Christ, who dy'd,
- 4 When our obedient hands have done
 A thousand works of righteousness,
 We put our trust in God alone,
 And glory in his pard'ning grace.
- 5 Let the unthinking many say,
 Who will bestow some earthly good ?
 But, Lord, thy light and love we pray :
 Our soul's desire this heav'nly food.
- 6 Then shall my cheerful pow'rs rejoice,
 At grace and favor so divine ;
 Nor will I change my happy choice
 For all their corn, and all their wine.

P S A L M IV. Common metre.

An evening Psalm.

- LORD, thou wilt hear me, when I pray :
 I am forever thine :
 I fear before thee all the day,
 Nor would I dare to sin.
- 2 And while I rest my weary head,
 From cares and bus'ness free,
 'Tis sweet conversing on my bed
 With my own heart and Thee.
- 3 I pay this ev'ning, sacrifice :
 And when my work is done,
 Great God, my faith and hope relies
 Upon my grace alone.

4 Thus, with my thoughts compos'd to peace,
 I'll give mine eyes to sleep;
 Thy hand in safety keeps my days,
 And will my slumbers keep.

P S A L M V.

For the Lord's day morning.

LORD, in the morning thou shalt hear
 My voice ascending high;
 To Thee will I direct my pray'r,
 To thee lift up mine eye.

2 Up to the hills, where Christ is gone,
 To plead for all his saints,
 Presenting at His Father's throne
 Our songs and our complaints

3 Thou art a God, before whose sight,
 The wicked shall not stand;
 Sinners shall ne'er be thy delight,
 Nor dwell at thy right hand.

4 But to thy house will I resort,
 To taste thy mercies there;
 I will frequent thy holy court,
 And worship in thy fear.

5 O may thy Spirit guide my feet,
 In ways of righteousness!
 Make ev'ry path of duty strait,
 And plain before my face.

P A U S E.

6 My watchful enemies combine
 To tempt my feet astray:
 They flatter with a base design,
 To make my soul their prey.

Lord, crush the serpent into dust,
 And all his plots destroy;

While those who in thy mercy trust,
For ever shout for joy.

- 3 The men who love and fear thy name,
Shall see their hopes fulfill'd ;
The mighty God will compass them
With favor as a shield.

P S A L M VI. Common metre.

Complaint in sickness—or, diseases healed.

IN anger, Lord, rebuke me not ;
Withdraw the dreadful storm ;
Nor let thy fury grow so hot,
Against a feeble worm.

2 My soul bows down with heavy cares ;
My flesh with pain oppress'd ;
My couch is witness to my tears ;
My tears forbid my rest.

3 Sorrow and pain wear out my days ;
I waste the night with cries,
Counting the minutes as they pass,
'Till the slow morning rise.

4 Shall I be still tormented more ?
Mine eye consum'd with grief ?
How long my God how long, before,
Thy hand afford relief ?

5 He hears when dust and ashes speak ;
He pities all our groans ;
He saves us for his mercy's sake,
And heals our broken bones.

6 The virtue of his sov'reign word
Restores our fainting breath ;
But silent graves praise not the Lord,
Nor is he known in death.

P S A L M VI. Long metre.

Temptations in sickness overcome.

LORD I can suffer thy rebukes
When thou with kindness dost chastise.

But thy fierce wrath I cannot bear !
O let it not against me rise !

2 Pity my languishing estate,
And ease the sorrows which I feel ;
The wounds thy heavy hands hath made,
O let thy gentler touches heal !

3 See how I pass my weary days
In sighs and groans ; and when 'tis night,
My bed is water'd with my tears ;
My grief consumes and dims my sight.

4 Look how the pow'rs of nature mourn !
How long, Almighty God how long ?
When shall thine hour of grace return ?
When shall I make thy grace my song ?

5 I feel my flesh so near the grave.
My thoughts are tempted to despair ;
But graves can never praise the Lord,
For all is dust and silence there.

6 Depart ye tempters, from my soul ;
And all despairing thoughts depart ;
My God, who hears my humble moan,
Will ease my pain and cheer my heart.

P S A L M VII. Common metre.

God's care of his people, and punishment of persecutors

MY trust is in my heav'nly Friend,
My hope in thee, my God ;
Rise and my blessed life defend
From those who seek my blood.

2 With violence and fury, they
My soul in pieces tear,
As hungry lions rend the prey
When no deliv'rer's near.

3 If I have e'er provok'd them first ;
Or once abus'd my foes.

Then let him tread my life to dust,
And lay mine honor low.

4 If there be malice hid in me,
I know thy piercing eyes ;
I should not dare appeal to thee,
Nor ask my God to rise.

5 Arise, my God, lift up thy hand,
Their pride and power controul ;
Awake to judgment and command
Deliv'rance for my soul.

P A U S E.

6 Let sinners and their wicked rage
Be humbled to the dust :
Shall not the God of truth engage
To vindicate the just.

7 He knows the heart, he tries the reigns,
He will defend the upright :
His sharpst arrows he ordains
Against the sons of spite.

8 For me their malice digg'd a pit,
But there themselves are cast :
My God makes all their mischief light
On their own heads at last.

9 That cruel persecuting race
Must feel his dreadful sword ;
Awake, my soul, and praise the grace
And justice of the Lord.

P S A L M VIII. Short metre.

God's Sov'reignty and Goodness ; and man's dominion over the creatures.

O LORD, our heavenly king,
Thy name is all divine ;
Thy glories round the earth are spread,
And o'er the heavens they shine !

- 2 When to thy works on high
I raise my wand'ring eyes,
And see the moon, complete in light,
Adorn the darksome skies :
- 3 When I survey the stars,
And all their shining forms,
Lord what is man, that worthless thing,
A-kin to dust and worms ?
- 4 Lord, what is worthless man,
That thou shouldst love him so !
Next to thine angels is he plac'd,
And Lord of all below.
- 5 'T'wine honors crown his head,
While beasts, like slaves, obey,
And birds that cut the air with wings,
And fish which cleave the sea.
- 6 How rich thy bounties are !
And wondrous are thy ways :
Of dust and worms thy pow'r can frame
A monument of praise.
- [7 Out of the mouths of babes
And sucklings, thou canst draw
Surprising honors to thy name !
And strike the world with awe.
- 8 O Lord, our heav'nly king,
Thy name is all divine ;
Thy glories round the earth are spread
And o'er the heav'ns they shine.]

P S A L M VIII. Common metre.

Christ's condescension and glorification ; or, God made man.

O LORD, our Lord, how wond'rous great
Is thine exalted name !
The glories of thy heav'nly state
Let men and babes proclaim.

- When I behold thy works on high,
 The moon which rules the night,
 And stars that well adorn the sky
 These moving worlds of light.
- Lord what is man or all his race,
 Who dwells so far below,
 That thou should'st visit him with grace,
 And love his nature so!
- That thine eternal Son should bear,
 To take a mortal form,
 Made lower than his angels are,
 To save a dying worm!
- Yet while he liv'd on earth unknown
 And men wou'd not adore,
 Obedient seas and fishes own,
 His Godhead and his pow'r.
- The waves lay spread beneath his feet;
 And fish at his command,
 Bring their large shoals to Peter's net,
 Bring tribute to his hand.
- These lesser glories of thy Son
 Shine through the fleshy cloud;
 Now we behold him on his throne,
 And men confess him God.]
- Let him be crown'd with majesty,
 Who bow'd his head to death;
 And let his honors founded high,
 By all things that have breath.
- O Jesus our Lord, how wond'rous great
 Is thine exalted name!
 The glories of thy heav'nly state
 Let the whole earth proclaim.

P S A L M VII. Paraphras'd.First part. Long metreThe Hosana of the children; or, infants praising God.

ALMIGHTY Ru'er of the skies,
Thro' the wide earth thy name is spread;
An' shine eternal glories rise
O'er all the heav'n's thy hands have made.

2 To thee the voices of the young,
A monument of honor raise;
And babes, with uniastracted tongue,
Declare the wonders of thy praise.

3 Thy pow'r afflicts their tender age,
To bring proud rebels to the ground;
To still the bold blasphemer's rage,
And all their policies confound.

4 Children amidst thy temple throng
To see their great Redeemer's face;
The son of David is their song,
And young Ho annas fill the place.

5 The frowning scribes and angry priests
In vain their impious cavils bring;
Revenge sits silent in their breasts
While Jeovish babes proclaim their king.

P S A L M VIII. Paraphras'd.Second part. Long metre.Adam and Christ Lords of the old and the new creation.

LORD, what was man, when made at first,
Adam, the offspring of the dust,
That thou should'st set him and his race,
But just below an angel's place!

2 That thou should'st raise his nature so,
And make him Lord of all below;

Make ev'ry beast and bird submit,
And lay the fishes at his feet !

3 But O ! what brighter glories wait
To crown the second Adam's state ;
What honors shall thy Son adorn ;
Who condescended to be born !

4 See him below his angels made ;
See him in dust among the dead,
To save a ruin'd world from sin ;
Then see him reign with power divine !

5 The world to come redeem'd from all
The mis'ries which attend the fall,
New made and glor'ous shall submit
At our exalted Saviour's feet.

P S A L M IX. First part.

Wrath and mercy from the Judgement seat.

WITH my whole heart I'll raise my song ;
Thy wonders I'll proclaim ;
Thou Sov'reign Judge of right and wrong
Wilt put my foes to shame.

2 I'll sing thy majesty and grace :
My God prepares his throne
To judge the world in righteousness,
And make his vengeance known.

3 Then shall the lord a refuge prove
For all the poor oppress'd ;
To save the people of his love,
And give the weary rest.

4 The men who know thy name will trust,
In thy abundant grace ;
For thou hast ne'er forsook the just,
Who humbly seek thy face.

5 Sing praises to the righteous Lord,
Who dwells on Sion's hill
Who executes his threatening word,
And doth his grace fulfil.

P S A L M IX. Second part.The wisdom and equity of Providence.

WHEN the Great Judge, supreme and just,
 Shall once enquire for blood,
 The humble souls who mourn in dust,
 Shall find a faithful God.

2 He from the dreadful gates of death
 Does his own children raise :
 In Sion's gates, with cheerful breath,
 They sing their Father's praise.

3 His foes shall fall with heedless feet,
 Into the pit they made :
 And sinners perish in the net
 Which their own hands had spread.

4 Thus by thy judgments mighty God,
 Are thy deep counsels known :
 When men of mischief are destroy'd,
 The snare must be their own.

P A U S E.

5 The wicked shall sink down to hell ;
 Thy wrath devour the lands
 That dare forget thee, or rebel
 Against thy known commands.

6 Though saints to sore distress are brought,
 And wait and long complain,
 Their cries shall never be forgot,
 Nor shall their hopes be vain.

7 Rise great Redeemer, from thy seat,
 To judge and save the poor ;
 Let nations tremble at thy feet,
 And man prevail no more.

8 Thy thunder shall affright the proud,
 And put their hearts to pain,
 Make them confess that thou art God,
 And they but feeble men.

P S A L M X. Common metre.

Prayers heard, and saints saved: or, pride, atk-
ism, and oppression punished.

For a humiliation-day.

WHY doth the Lord stand off so far?

And why conceal his face,

When great calamities appear,

And times of deep distress?

2 Lord, shall the wicked still deride

Thy justice and thy pow'r?

Shall they advance their heads in pride,

And still thy saints devour?

3 They put thy judgements from their sight,

And then insult the poor;

They boast in their exalted height,

That they shall fall no more.

4 Arise, O God, lift up thine hand;

Attend our humble cry;

No enemy shall dare to stand

When God ascends on high.

P A U S E.

5 Why do the men of malice rage,

And say, with foolish pride,

The God of heav'n will ne'er engage

To fight on Zion's side?

6 Since thou for ever art the Lord;

And pow'rful is thine hand,

As when the Heathen felt thy sword,

And perish'd from thy land.

7 Thou wilt prepare our hearts to pray,

And cause thine ear to hear:

He hearkens what his children say,

And puts the world in fear.

8 Proud tyrants shall no more oppress;

No more despoil the just;

And mighty sinners shall confess,

They are but earth and dust.

PSALM XI. Long metre.

God loves the righteous and hates the wicked.

MY refuge is the God of love !
 Why do my foes insult and cry,
*Fly, like a tim'rous trembling dove,
 To distant woods or mountains fly ?*

2 If government be all destroy'd,
 (That firm foundation of our peace)
 And violence make justice void,
 Where shall the righteous seek redress ?

3 The Lord in heav'n has fix'd his throne ;
 His eye surveys the world below :
 To him all mortal things are known :
 His eye-lids search our spirits through.

4 If he afflicts his saints so far,
 To prove their love and try their grace,
 What may the bold transgressors fear !
 His very soul abhors their ways.

5 On impious wretches he shall rain
 Tempests of brimstone, fire and death,
 Such as he kindled on the plain
 Of Sodom, with his angry breath.

6 The righteous Lord loves righteous souls,
 Whose thoughts and actions are sincere,
 And with a gracious eye beholds
 The men who his own image bear.

PSALM XII. Long metre.

*The saints' safety and love in evil times : or ; An
 of the tongue complained of, viz. blasphemy, falsehood, &c.*

LORD, if thou dost not soon appear,
 Virtue and truth will fly away ;
 A faithful man among us here
 Will scarce be found, if thou delay.

2 The whole discourse, when neighbours meet,
 Is fill'd with trifles loose and vain ;

Their lips are flattery and deceit,
And their proud language is profane;

3 But lips that with deceit abound
Shall not maintain their triumph long;
The God of vengeance will confound
The flattering and blaspheming tongue.

4 Yet shall our words be free, they cry,
Our tongues shall be controul'd by none:
Where is the Lord will ask us why?
Or say our lips are not our own?

5 The Lord, who sees the poor oppress'd,
And hears oppressors' haughty strain,
Will rise to give his children rest,
Nor shall they trust his word in vain.

6 Thy word, O Lord, though often try'd,
Void of deceit shall still appear;
Not silver sev'n times purify'd
From dross and mixture, shines so clear.

7 Thy Grace shall, in the darkest hour,
Defend the holy soul from harm;
Though when the vilest men have pow'r,
On ev'ry side wild sinners swarm.

PSALM XII. Common metre.

*Complaint of a general corruption of manners; or
The promise and signs of CHRIST'S coming to judgment.*

HELP, Lord, for men of virtue fail;
Religion loses ground!
The sons of violence prevail,
And treacheries abound.

2 Their oaths and promises they break,
Yet act the flatterers part;
With fair deceitful lips they speak,
And with a double heart.

3 If we reprove some hateful lie,
How is their fury stirr'd!

*Are not our li's our own? they cry,
And who shall be our Lord?*

4 Scoffers appear on ev'ry side,
While a vile race of men
Are rais'd to seats of pow'r and pride,
And bears the sword in vain.

P A U S E.

5 Lord, when iniquities abound,
And blasphemy grows bold,
When faith is hardly to be found,
And love is waxing cold.

6 Is not thy char'ot halting on?
Hast thou not giv'n the sian?
May we not trust and live upon
A promise so divine?

7 "Yes, saith the Lord, now will I rise,
And make oppressors flee;
I shall appear to their surprize,
And set my servants free."

8 Thy word like silver sev'n times try'd,
Thro' ages shall endure:
The men who in thy truth confide,
Shall find the promise sure.

P S A L M XIII. Long metre.

Pleading with God under desertion; or, hope in darkness.

HOW long, O Lord, shall I complain
Like one who seeks his God in vain?
Can'st thou thy face forever hide,
And I still pray and be deny'd?

2 Shall I forever be forgot,
As one whom thou regard'st not?
Still shall my soul thy absence mourn?
And still despair of thy return?

3 How long shall my poor troubled breast
Be with these anxious thoughts oppress'd?
And Satan, my malicious foe,
Rejoice to see me sunk so low?

4 Hear, Lord, and grant me quick relief;
Before my death concludes my grief;
If thou withhold thy heav'nly light,
I sleep in everlasting night.

5 How will the pow'rs of darkness boast,
If but one praying soul be lost!
But I have trusted in thy grace,
And shall again behold thy face.

6 What'er my fears or foes suggest,
Thou art my hope, my joy, my rest;
My heart shall feel thy love, and raise
My cheerful voice to songs of praise.

PSALM XIII. Common metre.

Complaint under temptations of the devil.

HOW long wilt thou conceal thy face?
My God, how long delay!
When shall I feel those heav'nly rays
Which chase my fears away?

2 How long shall my poor lab'ring soul
Waste fire and toil in vain?
Thy word can all my foes controul,
And ease my raging pain.

3 See how the prince of darkness tries
All his malicious arts!
He spreads a mist around my eyes,
And throws his fiery darts.

Be thou my gun, and thou my shield;
My soul in safety keep;
Make haste before mine eyes are seal'd
In death's eternal sleep.

5 How will the tempter boast aloud
If I become his prey!
Behold the sons of hell grow proud
At thy so long delay!

6 But they shall flee at thy rebuke,
And satan hide his head:
He knows the terrors of thy look,
And hears thy voice, with dread,

7 Thou wilt display that sov'reign grace,
Where all my hopes have hung;
I shall employ my lips in praise,
And vict'ry shall be sung.

P S A L M XIV. First part. Common metre.

By nature all men are sinners.

FOOLS in their heart believe and say
That all religion's vain;
There is no God who reigns on high,
Or minds th' affairs of men."

2 From thoughts so dreadful and profane,
Corrupt discourse proceeds;
And in their impious hands are found
Abominable deeds.

3 The Lord, from his celestial throne,
Look'd down on things below,
To find the man who sought his grace,
Or did his justice know.

4 By nature all are gone astray;
Their practice all the same:
There's none who fears his Maker's hand;
There's none who loves his name.

5 Their tongues are us'd to speak deceit;
Their slanders never cease;
How swift to mischief are their feet!
Nor know the paths of peace.

6 Such seeds of sin (that bitter root)
 In all our hearts are found ;
 Nor can they bear diviner fruit,
 'Till grace refine the ground.

PSALM XIV. Second part. Common metre.

The folly of Persecutors.

ARE sinners now so senseless grown,
 That they thy saints devour ;
 And never worship at thy throne,
 Nor fear thine awful pow'r ?

2 Great God ! appear to their surprise,
 Reveal thy dreadful name !
 Let them no more thy wrath despise,
 Nor turn our hope to shame.

3 Dost thou not dwell among the just ?
 And yet our foes deride,
 That we should make thy name our trust ;
 Great God ! confound their pride.

4 O that the joyful day were come,
 To finish our distress !
 When God shall bring his children home :
 Our songs shall never cease.

PSALM XV. Common metre.

*Character of a saint ; or, a citizen of Zion ; or,
 the qualification of a christian.*

WHO shall inhabit in thy hill,
 O God of holiness ?
 Whom will the Lord admit to dwell
 So near his throne of grace ?

2 The man who walks in pious ways,
 And works with righteous hands,
 Who trusts his Maker's promises,
 And follows his commands :

3 Who speaks the meaning of his heart,
 Nor flanders with his tongue ;

Will not promote an ill report,
Nor do his neighbor wrong :

4 Who wealthy sinners still contemns,
Loves all who fear the Lord :
And though to his own hurt he swears,
Still he performs his word :

5 Whose hands disdain a golden bribe,
And never gripe the poor :
This man shall dwell with God on earth,
And find his heaven secure.

P S A L M XV. Long metre.

Religion and justice, goodness and truth ; or, Duties to God and man ; or, the qualifications of a christian.

WHO shall ascend thy heav'nly place ?
Great God ! and dwell before thy face ?
The man who minds religion now,
And humbly walks with God below :

2 Whose hands are pure, whose heart is clean,
Whose lips still speak the thing they mean :
No slanders dwell upon his tongue ;
He hates to do his neighbour wrong :

3 Who will not trust an ill report,
Nor vent it to his neighbour's hurt :
Sinners of state he can despise :
But saints are honor'd in his eyes :

4 Firm to his word he ever stood,
And always makes his promise good ;
Nor dares to change the thing he swears,
Whatever pain or loss he bears.

5 He never deals in bribing gold,
And mourns that justice should be sold :
While others gripe and grind the poor,
Sweet charity attends his door.

6 He loves his enemies, and prays
For those who curse him to his face :

And doth to all men still the same
Which he would hope or wish from them.

7 Yet, when his holiest works are done,
His soul depends on grace alone ;
This is the man thy face shall see,
And dwell forever, Lord, with thee.

P S A L M XVI. First part. Long metre.

Confession of our poverty, and saints the best company ; or, good works profit men, not God.

PRESENTE me, Lord, in time of need,
For succour to thy throne I flee,
But have no merits there to plead ;
My goodness cannot reach to thee.

2 O! have my heart and tongue confess'd,
How empty and how poor I am ;
My praise can never make thee blest,
Nor add new glories to thy name.

3 Yet, Lord, thy saints on earth may reap,
Some profit by the good we do ;
These are the company I keep,
These are the choicest friends I know.

4 Let others choose the sons of mirth,
To give a relish to their wine ;
I love the men of heav'ny birth,
Whose thoughts and language are divine.

P S A L M XVI. Second part. Long metre.

Christ's All-Sufficiency.

HOW fast their guilt and sorrows rise,
Who haste to seek some idol god !
I will not taste their sacrifice,
Their off'rings of forbidden blood.

2 My God provides a richer cup,
And nobler food to live upon ;
He for my life has offer'd up
Jesus, his best beloved Son,

3 His love is my perpetual feast ;
By day his counsels guide me right ;
And, be his name forever blest,
He gives me sweet advice by right.

4 I set him still before mine eyes ;
At my right hand he stands prepar'd,
To keep my soul from all surprise,
And be my everlasting guard.

P S A L M XVI. Third part. Long metre.
Courage in death, and hope of the resurrection.

W H E N God is high, my faith is strong,
His arm is my almighty prop :
Be glad, my heart, rejoice, my tongue,
My dying flesh shall rest in hope.

2 Tho' in the dust I lay my head,
Yet, gracious God, wilt thou not leave,
My soul forever with the dead ;
Nor lose thy children in the grave.

3 My flesh shall thy first call obey,
Shake off its dust and rise on high ;
Then shall thou lead the wond'rous way
Up to thy throne above the sky.

4 There streams of endless pleasure flow,
And full discov'ries of thy grace,
(Which we but tasted here below)
Spread heav'nly joys through all the place.

P S A L M XVI. First part. Common metre.

Support and counsel from GOD, without merit.

S A V E me, O Lord, from ev'ry foe :
In thee my trust I place,
Though all the good which I can do,
Can ne'er deserve thy grace.

2 Yet, if my God prolong my breath,
The saints may profit by't ;

The saints the glory of the earth,
The men of my delight.

3 Let Heathens to their ido's haste,
And worship wood or stone ;
But, my delightful lot is cast
Where the true God is known.

4 His hand provides my constant food ;
He fills my daily cup ;
Much am I pleas'd with present good,
But more rejoice in hope.

5 God is my portion and my joy !
His counsels are my light :
He gives me sweet advice by day,
And gentle hints by night .

6 My soul would all her thoughts approve
To his all-seeing eye :
Nor death, nor hel, my hopes shall move,
While such a friend is nigh.

P S A L M XVI. Second part. Com. metre.

The death and resurrection of Christ.

“ I SET the Lord before my face,
“ He bears my courage up ;
“ My heart and tongue their joys express ;
“ My flesh shall rest in hope.

2 “ My spirit, Lord, thou wilt not leave
“ Where souls departed are ;
“ Nor quit my body to the grave,
To see corruption there.

3 “ Thou wilt reveal the path of life,
“ And raise me to thy throne :
“ Thy courts immortal pleasures give,
“ Thy presence, joy unknown.”

[4 Thus, in the name of Christ the Lord,
The holy David sung

And providence fulfils the word
Of his prophetic tongue.

5 Jesus, whom ev'ry saint adores,
Was crucify'd and slain ;
Behold the tomb its prey restores !
Behold, he lives again !

6 When shall my feet arise and stand
On heav'n's eternal hills ?
There sits the Son at God's right hand,
And there the Father smiles.]

P S A L M XVII. Short metre.

Portion of saints and sinners ; or, hope and despair in death.

ARISE, my gracious God,
And make the wicked flee ;
They are but thy chastising rod
To drive thy saints to thee.

2 Behold, the sinner dies !
His haughty words are vain :
Here, in this life, his pleasure lies ;
And all beyond is pain :

3 Then let his pride advance,
And boast of all his store ;
The Lord is my inheritance,
My soul can wish no more.

4 I shall behold the face
Of my forgiving God ;
And stand compleat in righteousness,
Wash'd in my Saviour's blood.

5 See the new heav'n begun
When I awake from death,
Drest in the likeness of thy Son,
And draw immortal breath !

P S A L M XVII. Long metre.

The sinner's portion and saint's hope ; or, the heaven of separate souls and the resurrection.

LORD, I am thine, but thou wilt prove
My faith, my patience, and my love :
When men of spite against me join ;
They are the sword ; the hand is thine.

2 Their hope and portion lie below ;
'Tis all the happiness they know ;
'Tis all they seek : they take their shares,
And leave the rest among their heirs.

3 What sinners value, I resign :
Lord, 'tis enough that thou art mine ;
I shall behold thy blissful face,
And stand compleat in righteousness.

4 This life's a dream, an empty show ;
But the bright world to which I go,
Hath joys substantial and sincere :
When shall I 'wake and find me there ?

5 O glorious hour ! O blest abode !
I shall be near and like my God ;
And flesh and sin no more controul
The sacred pleasure of my soul.

6 My flesh shall slumber in the ground,
'Till the last trumpet's joyful sound :
Then burst the chains with sweet surprize,
And in my Saviour's image rise.

P S A L M XVIII. First part. Long Metre.

Deliverance from despair : or, temptations overcome.

THOU wilt I love, O Lord, my strength,
My rock, my tow'r, my high defence ;
Thy mighty arm shall be my trust,
For I have found salvation thence.

2 Death and the terrors of the grave,
Stood round me with their dismal shade ;

While floods of high temptations rose,
And made my sinking soul afraid.

3 I saw the op'ning gates of hell;
Which end els pains and sorrows there,
(Which none, but those who feel, can tell)
While I was hurry'd to despair.

4 In my distress, I call'd my God,
(When I could scarce believe him mine)
He bow'd his ear to my complaint;
Then did his grace appear divine.

[5 With speed he flew to my relief,
As on a cherub's wing he rode;
Awful and bright as light'ning, alone
The face of my deliv'rer, God.

6 Temptations fled at his rebuke,
(The blast of his almighty breath;)
He sent salvation from on high,
And drew me from the deeps of death.]

7 Great were my fears, my foes were great,
Much was their strength and more their rage,
But Christ, my Lord, is conqu'ror still,
In all the wars which devils wage.

8 My song forever shall record,
That terrible, that joyful hour;
And give the glory to the Lord,
Due to his mercy and his pow'r.

P S A L M XVIII. Second part. Long metre.

Sincerity proved and rewarded.

LORD, thou hast seen my soul sincere,
Hast made thy love and truth appear;
Before mine eyes I set thy laws,
And thou hast own'd my righteous cause.

2 Since I have learn'd thy holy ways,
I've walk'd upright before thy face:

Or, if my feet did e'er depart,
Twas ever with a broken heart.

1 What fore temptations broke my rest!
What wars and strugglings in my breast!
But, through thy grace which reigns within,
I guard against my darling sin.

2 That sin which close besets me still,
Which works and strives against my will;
When shall thy spirit's sov'reign pow'r
Destroy it that it rise no more?

3 With an impartial hand, the Lord
Deals out to mortals their reward,
The kind and faithful souls shall find,
A God as faithful and as kind.]

4 The just and pure shall ever say,
Thou art more pure, more just than they;
And men who love revenge, shall know,
God hath an arm of vengeance too.

P S A L M XVIII. Third part. Long metre.

Rejoicing in God, or, Salvation and triumph.

JUST are thy ways, and true thy word,
Great Rock of my secure abode;
Who is a God, beside the Lord?
Or, where's a refuge like our God?

2 'Tis he who girds me with his might,
Gives me his holy sword to wield;
And while with sin and hell I fight,
Spreads his salvation for my shield.

3 He lives, (and, blessed be my Rock)
The God of my salvation lives!
The dark designs of hell are broke;
Sweet is the peace my Father gives.

4 Before the scoffers of the age
I will exalt my Father's name,
Nor tremble at their mighty rage,
But meet reproach, and bear the shame

To David and his royal seed,
 Thy grace forever shall extend ;
 Thy love to saints in Christ their Head,
 Knows not a limit, nor an end.

P S A L M XVIII. First part Com. metre.

Victory and triumph over temporal enemies.

- WE love thee, Lord, and we adore,
 Now is thine arm reveal'd ;
 Thou art our strength, our heav'nly tow'r,
 Our bulwark and our shield.
- 2 We fly to our eternal Rock,
 And find a sure defence :
 His holy name our lips invoke,
 And draw salvation thence.
- 3 When God, our Leader shines in arms,
 What mortal heart can bear
 The thunder of his loud alarms,
 The light'ning of his spear ?
- 4 He rides upon the winged wind,
 And angels, in array,
 In millions wait, to know his mind,
 And swift as flames obey.
- 5 He speaks, and at his fierce rebuke
 Whole armies are dismay'd ;
 His voice, his frown, his angry look
 Strikes all their courage dead.
- 6 He forms our gen'ral's for the field,
 With all their dreadful skill,
 Gives them his awful sword to wield,
 And makes their hearts of steel.
- 7 He arms our captains for the fight,
 Tho' there his name's forgot ;
 (He wond'ring Cyrus with his might,
 But Cyrus knew him not.)

Of his the Lord whole nations blest,
 For his own Churches' sake ;
 The pow'rs which give his people rest,
 Shall of his care partake.]

PSALM XVIII. Second Part. Com. metre.

The conquerors song.

- TO thine almighty arm we owe
 The triumphs of the day ;
 Thy terrors, Lord, confound the foe,
 And melt their strength away.
- 2 'Tis by thine aid our troops prevail,
 And break united pow'rs ;
 Or burn their boasted fleets, or scale
 The proudest of their tow'rs.
- 3 How have we chas'd them through the field,
 And trod them to the ground,
 While thy salvation was our shield ;
 But they no shelter found !
- 4 In vain to idol-faints they cry ;
 They perish in their blood :
 Where is a rock so great, so high,
 So pow'rful as our God ?
- 5 The Rock of Isr'el ever lives ;
 His name be ever blest ;
 'Tis his own arm the vict'ry gives,
 And gives his people rest.
- 6 On faints who live as David did,
 He pours his blessings down ;
 Secures their priv'lege to their seed,
 And treats them as his own.

PSALM XIX. First part. Short metre.

The book of nature and scripture.

For a Lord's-day morning

- BEHOLD the lofty sky
 Declares its Maker God,
 And all his starry works on high
 Proclaim his pow'r abroad.
- 2 The darkness and the light
 Still keep their course the same ;
 While night to day and day to night,
 Divinely teach his name.
- 3 In ev'ry different land
 Their gen'ral voice is known ;
 They shew the wonders of his hand,
 And orders of his throne.
- 4 America, rejoice !
 He here reveals his word ;
 We are not left to nature's voice
 To bid us know the Lord.
- 5 His statutes and commands
 Are set before our eyes ;
 He puts his gospel in our hands,
 Where our salvation lies.
- 6 His laws are just and pure ;
 His truth without deceit ;
 His promises for ever sure,
 And his rewards are great.
- 7 Not honey to the taste
 Affords so much delight ;
 Nor gold, which has the farnace past,
 So much allures the sight.
- 8 While of thy works I sing,
 Thy glory to proclaim,
 Accept the praise, my God, my King,
 In my Redeemer's name.]

P S A L M XIX. Second part. Short metre.
 God's word most excellent ; or, sincerity and watchfulness.

For a Lord's-day morning.

BEHOLD the morning sun
 Burns his glorious way !
 His beams through all the nations run,
 And life and light convey.

2 But where the gospel comes,
 It spreads diviner light ;
 It calls dead sinners from their tombs,
 And gives the blind their sight.

3 How perfect is thy word !
 And all thy judgments just ;
 For ever sure thy promise, Lord,
 And men securely trust.

4 My gracious God, how plain
 Are thy directions giv'n !
 O my I never read in vain,
 But find the path to heav'n !

P A U S E.

5 I hear thy word with love,
 And I would fain obey ;
 Send thy good Spirit from above
 To guide me, lest I stray.

6 O who can ever find
 The errors of his ways ;
 Yet, with a bold presumptuous mind
 I would not dare transgress.

7 Warn me of ev'ry sin ;
 Forgive my secret faults,
 And cleanse this guilty soul of mine,
 Whose crimes exceed my thoughts.

8 While with my heart and tongue
 I spread thy praise abroad,

Accept the worship and the song,
My Saviour and my God.

P S A L M XIX. Long metre.

The books of nature and scripture compared or the glory and success of the gospel.

THE heav'ns declare thy glory, Lord!
In ev'ry star thy wisdom shines:
But, when our eyes behold thy word,
We read thy name in fairer lines.

2 The rolling sun, the changing light,
And nights, and days, thy pow'r confess;
But the blest volume thou hast writ
Reveals thy justice and thy grace.

3 Sun, moon and stars convey thy praise
Round the whole earth; and nev'r stand:
So, when the truth began its race,
It touch'd it glanc'd, on ev'ry land.

4 Nor shall thy spreading gospel rest
'Till through the world thy truth has run;
'Till Christ has all the nations blest
Which see the light, or feel the sun.

5 Great Sun of righteousness, arise!
Bless the dark world with heav'nly light;
Thy gospel makes the simple wise;
Thy laws are pure, thy judgments right.

6 Thy noblest wonders here we view,
In souls renew'd, and sins forgiv'n:
Lord, cleanse my sins, my soul renew,
And make thy word my guide to heav'n.

P S A L M XIX. Particular metre.

The books of nature and Scripture.

GREAT God! the heav'ns well order'd frame
Declares the glories of thy name;

There thy rich works of wonder shine ;
 A thousand starry beauties there,
 A thousand radiant marks appear
 Of boundless pow'r, and skill divine.

From night to day, from day to night,
 The dawning and the dying light,
 Let lines of heav'nly wisdom lead :
 With silent eloquence, they raise
 Our thoughts to our Creator's praise.
 And neither sound nor language need.

Yet, their divine instructions run
 Far as the courses of the sun :
 And ev'ry nation knows their voice :
 The sun like some young bridegroom dress'd,
 Breaks from the chambers of the east,
 Rolls round, and makes the earth rejoice.

Where e'er he spreads his beams abroad,
 He smiles, and speaks his Maker God,
 All nature joins to shew thy praise ;
 Thus, God in ev'ry creature shines ;
 Fair is the book of nature's lines,
 But fairer is thy book of grace.

P A U S E.

I love the volumes of thy word ;
 What light and joy those leaves afford
 To souls benighted and distressed !
 Thy precepts guide my doubtful way ;
 Thy fear forbids my feet to stray ;
 Thy promise leads my soul to rest.

From the discov'ries of thy law,
 The perfect rules of life I draw ; -
 These are my study and delight ;
 Nor honey so invites the taste,
 Nor gold, which bath the furnace pass,
 Appears so pleasing to the sight.

PSALM XX.

- 1 Thy threat'nings wake my slumb'ring eyes,
 And warn me where my dang'ries lie!
 But 'tis thy blest gospel Lord,
 Which makes my guilty conscience clean;
 Converts my soul, subdues my sin,
 And gives a free, but large reward!
- 2 Who knows the errors of his thoughts?
 My God forgive my secret faults,
 And from presumptuous sins restrain;
 Accept my poor attempts of praise,
 That I have read thy book of grace,
 And book of nature, not in vain.

PSALM XX. Long metre.

Prayer and hope of victory.

For a day of prayer in time of war.

- NOW may the God of pow'r and grace
 Attend his people's humble cry!
 Jehovah hears when I'r'el prays,
 And brings deliv'rance from on high.
- 2 The name of Jacob's God defends
 Better than shields, or brazen walls;
 He, from his sanctuary sends
 Succour and strength, when Zion calls.
- 3 Well he remembers all our sighs;
 His love exceeds our best desires;
 His love accepts the sacrifice
 Of humble groans and broken hearts.
- 4 In his salvation is our hope,
 And in the name of I'r'el's God,
 Our troops shall lift their banners up,
 Our navies spread their flags abroad.
- 5 Some trust in horses train'd for war,
 And some of chariots make their boasts;
 Our surest expectations are
 From thee, the Lord of heav'nly hosts.

16 O may the mem'ry of thy name
 Inspire our armies for the fight!
 Our foes shall fall and die with shame,
 Or quit the field with shameful flight.]

7 Now save us, Lord, from slavish fear;
 Now let our hopes be firm and strong,
 Then let salvation soon appear,
 And joy and triumph raise the song.

P S A L M XXI. Common metre

America the care of heaven.

OUR States, O Lord, with songs of praise
 Shall in thy strength rejoice;
 And, blest with thy salvation, raise
 To heav'n their cheerful voice.

2 Thy sure defence thro' nations round
 Has spread thy glorious name;
 And our successful actions crown'd
 Thy majesty with fame.

3 Then let our States on God alone
 For timely aid rely!
 His mercy, which adorns his throne,
 Shall all our wants supply.

4 But, righteous Lord, thy stubborn foes
 Shall feel thy dreadful hand;
 Thy vengeful arm shall find out those
 Who hate thy mild command.

5 When thou against them dost engage,
 Thy just, but dreadful doom
 Shall, like a fiery oven's rage,
 Their hopes, and them, consume.

6 Thus, Lord, thy wond'rous pow'r declare
 And thus exalt thy fame;
 Whilst we glad songs of praise prepare
 For thine almighty name.

P S A L M XXI. Long metre.

Christ exalted to the kingdom.

DAVID rejoic'd in God his strength
 Rais'd to the throne by special grace ;
 But, Christ, the Son appear'd at length,
 Fulfill'd the triumph and the praise

2 How great is the Messiah's joy
 In the salvation of thy hand !
 Lord, thou hast rais'd his kingdom high,
 And giv'n the world to his command.

3 Thy goodness grants what e'er he will,
 Nor both the least request withhold,
 Blessings of love prevent him still,
 And crowns of glory, not of gold.

4 Honor and majesty divine,
 Around his sacred temples shine ;
 Bless'd with the favor of thy face,
 And length of everlasting days.

5 Thine and shall find out all his foes ;
 And, as a fiery oven glows
 With raging heat, and living coals,
 So shall thy wrath devour their souls.

P S A L M XXII. First part.The sufferings and death of Christ.

WHY has my God my soul forsook,
 Nor will a smile afford ?
 (Thus David once in anguish spoke,
 And thus our dying Lord.)

2 Though 'tis thy chief delight, to dwell
 Among thy praising saints ;
 Yet thou can'st hear a groan as well
 And pity our complaints.

3 Our Fathers trust'd in thy name,
 And great deliv'rance found ;

But I'm a worm despis'd of men,
And trodd'n to the ground.

4 Shaking the head, they pass me by,
And laugh my soul to scorn :

*In vain he trusts in God, they cry,
Negl. God and forlorn.*

5 But thou art he who form'd my flesh,
By thine almighty word :

And since I hung upon the breast
My hope is in the Lord.

6 Why will my Father hide his face
When foes stand threat'ning round,
In the dark hour of deep distress,
And not a helper found ?

P A U S E.

7 Behold thy Darling, left among
The cruel and the proud !

As bulls of Bshan, fierce and strong,
And lions, roaring loud.

8 From earth and hail my sorrows meet,
To multiply the smart ;

They nail my hands, they pierce my feet,
And try to vex my heart.

9 Yet, if thy sov'reign hand let loose
The rage of earth and hell,

Why will my heav'nly Father bruise
The Son he loves so well ?

10 My God, if possible it be,
Withhold this bitter cup ;

But I resign my will to thee,
And drink the sorrows up.

11 My heart dissolves with pangs unknown ;
In groans I waste my breath :

Thy heavy hand hath brought me down
Low as the dust of death.

12 Father, I give my spirit up,
 And trust it in thy hand :
 My dying flesh shall rest in hope,
 And rise at thy command.

P S A L M XXII. Second part.

Christ's sufferings and humiliation.

66 NOW from the rearing Lion's rage,
 " O Lord, protect thy Son !

" Nor leave thy darling to engage
 " The pow'rs of hell alone.

2 Thus did the suffering Saviour pray,
 With mighty cries and tears :
 God heard him, in that dreadful day,
 And chas'd away his fears.

3 Great was the vict'ry of his death,
 His throne exalted high ;
 And all the kindreds of the earth
 Shall worship, or shall die.

4 A num'rous offspring must arise
 From his expiring groans ;
 They shall be reckon'd in his eyes,
 For daughters and for sons.

5 The meek and humble souls shall see
 His table richly spread ;
 And all who seek the Lord, shall be
 With joys immortal fed.

6 The isles shall know the righteous acts
 Of our incarnate God,
 And nations, yet unborn, profess
 Salvation in his blood.

P S A L M XXII. Long metre.

Christ's sufferings and exaltation.

NOW, let our mournful songs record
 The dying sorrows of our Lord :

When he complain'd in tears and blood,
As one forsaken of his God.

2 The Jews beheld him thus forlorn,
And shake the head and laugh in scorn ;

“ He rescu'd others from the grave,

“ Now, let him try himself to save :

“ 3 This is the man did once pretend

“ God was his Father, and his Friend ;

“ If God the blessed lov'd him so,

“ Why doth he fail to help him now ?”

4 Barbarous people ; crue priests !

How they stand round like savage beasts :

Like lions gaping to devour,

When God has left him in their pow'r.

5 They wound his head, his hands, his feet,

'Til streams of blood each other meet ;

By lot his garments they divide,

And mock the pangs in which he dy'd.

6 But God his Father heard his cry ;

Rais'd from the dead, he reigns on high ;

The nations learn his righteousnes ;

And humble sinners taste his grace.

P S A L M XXIII. Long metre.

God our Shepherd.

MY Shepherd is the living Lord,
Now shall my wants be well supply'd :

His providence and holy word

Become my safety and my guide

2 In pastures where salvation grows,

He makes me feed, he makes me rest :

There living water gently flows,

And all the food divinely blest.

3 My wand'ring feet his ways mistake !

But, he restores my soul to peace ;

And leads me, for his mercies sake,
In the fair path of righteous deeds.

4 Though I walk through the gloomy vale,
Where death and all its terrors are,
My heart and hope shall never fail,
For God my Shepherd's with me there.

5 Amidst the darkness and the deeps,
Thou art my comfort, thou my stay;
Thy staff supports my feeble steps;
Thy rod directs my doubtful way.

6 The sons of earth, and sons of hell
Gaze at thy goodness, and repine
To see my table spread so well,
With living bread and cheerful wine.

[7 How I rejoice, when on my head
Thy Spirit comes to rest!

'Tis a divine anointing, shed
Like oil of gladness, at a feast.

8 Surely the mercies of the Lord
Attend his household all their days;
There will I dwell, to hear his word,
To seek his face, and sing his praise.]

P S A L M XXIII. Common metre.

MY Shepherd will supply my need;
Jehovah is his name;
In pastures fresh he makes me feed,
Beside the living stream.

2 He brings my wand'ring spirit back,
When I forsake his ways,
And leads me, for his mercy's sake,
In paths of truth and grace.

3 When I walk through the shades of death,
Thy presence is my stay;
A word of thy supporting breath
Drives all my fears away.

4 Thy hand, in spite of all my foes,
Doth fill my table spread ;
My cup with blessings overflows,
Thine oil anoints my head.

5 The sure provisions of my God,
Attend me all my days ;
O may thy House be mine abode,
And all my work be praise !

6 There would I find a settled rest,
(While others go and come)
No more a stranger, or a guest,
But, like a child, at home.

P S A L M XXIII. Short metres

THE Lord my shepherd is,
I shall be well supply'd
Since he is mine, and I am his,
What can I want beside !

2 He leads me to the place
Where heav'ry pasture grows,
Where living waters gently pass,
And full salvation flows.

3 If e'er I go astray,
He doth my soul reclaim,
And guides me in his own right way,
For his most holy name.

4 While he affords his aid,
I cannot yield to fears :
Though I should walk through death's dark shade,
My Shepherd's with me there.

5 In spite of all my foes
Thou dost my table spread ;
My cup with blessings overflows,
And joy exalts my head.

6 The bounties of thy love
Shall crown my following days ;

PSALM XXIV.

Nor from thy house will I remove,
Nor cease to speak thy praise.

PSALM XXIV. Common metre.

Dwelling with God.

THE earth for ever is the Lord's,
With Adam's numerous race;
He rais'd its arches o'er the floods,
And built it on the seas.

2 But who, among the sons of men,
May visit thine abode?

He who has hands from mischief clean,
Whose heart is right with God.

3 This is the man may rise and take
The blessings of his grace;
This is the lot of those who seek
The God of Jacob's race.

4 Now, let your soul's immortal pow'rs
To meet the Lord prepare;
Lift up their everlasting doors,
The King of glory's near.

5 The King of glory! who can tell
The wonders of his might!
He rules the nations; but to dwell
With saints, is his delight.

PSALM XXIV. Long metre.

Saints Dwell in heaven; or, Christ's ascension.

THIS spacious earth is all the Lord's,
And men and worms, and beasts and birds;
He rais'd the building on the seas,
And gave it for their dwelling-place.

2 But there's a brighter place on high,
Thy palace, Lord, above the sky;
Who shall ascend that best abode,
And dwell so near his Maker, God?

PSALM XXV.

1 He who abhors and fears to sin,
 Whose heart is pure, whose hands are clean,
 Him shall the Lord the Saviour bless,
 And clothe his soul with righteousness.

2 These are the men, the pious race,
 Who seek the God of Jacob's face;
 These shall enjoy the blissful sight,
 And dwell in everlasting light!

PAUSE.

3 Rejoice, ye shining worlds on high,
 Behold the King of glory's night!
 Who can this King of glory be?
 The mighty Lord, the Saviour's he.

4 Ye heav'nly gates, your leaves display
 To make the Lord the Saviour way:
 Laden with spoils of earth and hell,
 The conqu'ror comes with God to dwell!

5 Rais'd from the dead he goes before;
 He opens heav'n's eternal door,
 To give his saints a blest abode,
 Near their Redeemer and their God.

PSALM XXV. First part.

Waiting for pardon and directions.

1 LIFT my soul to God,
 My trust is in his name:
 Let not my foes who seek my blood,
 Still triumph in my shame.

2 Sin and the pow'rs of hell
 Persuade me to despair:
 Lord, make me know thy cov'nant well,
 That I may 'scape the snare.

From the first dawning light,
 'Till the dark evening rite,

My faith upon thy promise stays
Nor from thy law my feet depart.

2 I hate to walk, I hate to sit
With men of vanity and lies;
The flatterer and the hypocrite,
Are the abhorrence of mine eyes.

3 Among the saints will I appear,
With hands well wash'd in innocence;
But when I stand before thy bar,
The blood of Christ is my defence,

4 I love thy habitation, Lord,
The temple where thine honors dwell
There shall I hear thy holy word,
And there thy works of wonder tell.

5 Let not my soul be join'd, at last,
With men of treachery and blood,
Since I my days on earth have past
Among thy saints, and near my God.

P S A L M XXVII. First part.

The Church is our delight and safety.

THE Lord of glory is my light,
And my salvation too;
God is my strength; nor will I fear
What all my foes can do.

2 One privilege my heart desires;
O grant me an abode
Among the churches of thy saints,
The temples of my God!

3 There shall I offer my requests,
And see thy beauty face to face;
Shall hear thy messages of love,
And there enquire thy will.

4 When troubles rise, and storms appear,
There may his children hide;

God has a strong pavilion, where
He makes my soul abide,

Now shall my head be lifted high
Above my foes around ;

And songs of joy and victory
Within thy temple sound.

PSALM XXVII. Second part.

Prayer and Hope.

SOON as I heard my Father say,
Ye children seek my grace,
My heart reply'd without de'ay,
I'll seek my father's face.

Let not thy face be hid from me,
Nor frown my soul away :

God of my life, I fly to thee,
In a distressing day.

Should friends and kindred near and dear,
Leave me to want or die,

My God would make my life his care,
And all my need supply.

My fainting flesh had dy'd with grief,
Had not my soul believ'd

To see thy grace provide relief,
Nor was my hope deceiv'd.

Wait on the Lord, ye trembling faints,
And keep your courage up ;

He'll raise your spirit when it faints
And far exceed your hope.

PSALM XXIX. Long metre.

Storm and Thunder.

GIVE to the Lord, ye sons of fame,
Give to the Lord renown and pow'r ;
Ascribe due honours to his name,
And his eternal might adore.

2 The Lord proclaims his pow'r aloud,
Over the ocean and the land ;
His voice divides the wat'ry cloud,
And light'nings blaze at his command.

3 He speaks, and tempest, hail and wind,
Lay the wide forest bare around :
The fearful hart and frighten'd hind,
Leap at the terrors of the sound.

4 To Lebanon he turns his voice,
And lo ! the stately cedars break,
The mountains tremble at the noise ;
The vallies roar ; the deserts quake.

5 The Lord sits sov'reign on the flood ;
The Thund'rer reigns forever King ;
But makes his church his blest abode,
Where we his awful glories sing.

6 In gentler language there the Lord,
The counsels of his grace imparts :
Amidst the raging storm, his word
Speaks peace and courage to our hearts.

P S A L M XXX. First part.

Sickness heal'd, and sorrow removed.

I WILL extol thee, Lord on high,
At thy command diseases fly !
Who but a God, can speak and save
From the dark borders of the grave ?

2 Sing to the Lord, ye faints of his,
And tell how large his goodness is ;
Let all your pow'rs rejoice and bless,
While you record his holiness.

3 His anger but a moment stays ;
His love is life and length of days :
Though grief and tears the night employ,
The morning star restores the joy.

PSALM XXX. Second part.Health, sickness, and recovery.

FIRM was my health, my day was bright,
 And I presum'd, 'twould ne'er be night;
 Fondly I said within my heart,
 "Pleasure and peace shall ne'er depart."

2 But I forgot thine arm was strong,
 Which made my mountain stand so long;
 Soon as thy face began to hide,
 My health was gone, my comforts dy'd.

3 I cry'd aloud to thee, my God!
 "What canst thou profit by my blood?
 "Deep in the dust can I declare
 "Thy truth, or sing thy goodness there!

4 "Hear me, O God of grace! I said,
 "And bring me from among the dead;"
 Thy word rebuk'd the pains I felt,
 Thy pard'ning love remov'd my guilt.

5 My groans, and tears and forms of woe,
 Are turn'd to joy and praises now;
 I throw my faccloth on the ground,
 And ease and gladness gird me round.

6 My tongue, the glory of my frame,
 Shall ne'er be silent of thy name;
 Thy praise shall sound through earth and heav'n,
 For sickness heal'd and sins forgiv'n!

PSALM XXXI. First part.Deliverance from death.

INTO thine hand, O God of truth,
 My spirit I commit;
 Thou hast redeem'd my soul from death,
 And sav'd me from the pit.

2 The passions of my hope and fear
 Maintain'd a double strife,

While sorrow, pain, and sin conspir'd
To take away my life.

3 My time is in thine hand, I cry'd,
Though I draw near the dust ;
Thou art the refuge where I hide,
The God in whom I trust.

4 O make thy reconciled face
Upon thy servant shine.
And save me, for thy mercy's sake,
For I'm entirely thine.

P A U S E.

[5 'Twas in my haste my spirit said,
I must despair and die,
I am cut off before thine eyes ?
But thou hast heard my cry.]

6 Thy goodness, how divinely free !
How wond'rous is thy grace,
To those who fear thy Majesty,
And trust thy promises !

7 O Lord, the Lord, all ye his saints,
And sing his praises loud ;
He'll lend his ear to your complaints,
And recompense the proud.

PSALM XXXI. Second part.

Deliverance from slander and reproach,

MY heart rejoices in thy name.
My God, my help, my Trust ;
Thou hast preserv'd my face from shame,
Mine honor from the dust.

2 " My life is spent with grief, I cry'd,
" My years consum'd in groans,
" My strength decays, mine eyes are dry'd,
" And sorrow waits my hours."

3 Among mine enemies, my name
Was a ræse proverb grown,

While to my neighbors I became
 Forgotten and unknown.

4 Slander and fear, on ev'ry side
 Seiz'd and beset me round :
 I to the throne of grace apply'd,
 And speedy rescue found.

P A U S E.

5 How great deliv'rance thou hast wrought,
 Before the sons of men !

The lying lips to silence brought,
 And made their boasting vain !

6 Thy children from the strife of tongues,
 Shall thy pavillion hide ;

Guard them from infamy and wrongs,
 And crush the sons of pride.

7 Within thy secret presence, Lord,
 Let me forever dwell ;

No fenced city wall'd and barr'd
 Secures a saint so well.

PSALM XXXII. Short metre.

Forgiveness of sin upon confession,

O BLESSED souls are they
 Whose sins are cover'd o'er !
 Divinely b'lest, to whom the Lord
 Imputes their guilt no more.

2 They mourn their follies past,
 And keep their hearts with care ;
 Their lips and lives, without deceit,
 Shall prove their faith sincere.

3 While I conceal'd my guilt,
 I felt the fest'ring wound,
 Till I confess'd my sins to thee,
 And ready pardon found.

60. PSALM XXXII.

1 Let finners learn to pray ;
 Let saints keep near the throne ;
 Our help in times of deep distress ;
 Is found in God alone !

PSALM XXXII. Common metre.

Free pardon and sincere obedience ; or, confession and forgiveness.

HAPPY the man to whom his God
 No more imputes his sin,
 But wash'd in the Redeemer's blood,
 Hath made his garments clean !

2 Happy, beyond expression he,
 Whose debts are thus discharg'd !

And from the guilty bondage free,
 He feels his soul enlarg'd.

3 His spirit hates deceit and lies ;
 His words are all sincere ;

He guards his heart, he guards his eyes
 To keep his conscience clear.

4 While I my inward guilt suppress,
 No quiet could I find ;

Thy wrath lay burning in my breast,
 And rack'd my tortur'd mind.

5 Then, I confess'd my troubled thoughts,
 My secret sins reveal'd ;

Thy pard'ning grace forgave my faults,
 Thy love my pardon seal'd.

6 This shall invite thy saints to pray ;
 While, like a raging flood,

Temptations rise, our strength and stay
 Is a forgiving God.

PSALM XXXII. First part. L. Metre.

Repentance and free pardon ; or, Justification and Sanctification.

BLEST is the man, for ever blest,
 Whose guilt is pardon'd by his God ;

Whose sins, with sorrow, are confess'd,
And cover'd with a Saviour's blood.

2 Blest is the man, to whom the Lord
Imputes not his iniquities ;
He pleads no merit of reward,
And not on works, but grace, relies.

3 From guile, his heart and lips are free ;
His humble joy, his holy fear
With deep repentance well agree,
And join to prove his faith sincere.

4 How glorious is that righteousness
Which hides and cancels all his sins !
While a bright evidence of grace,
Through his whole life appears and shines.

P S A L M XXXII. Second part. Long metre.

A guilty conscience eased by confession and pardon.

WHILE I keep silence, and conceal
My heavy guilt within my heart,
What torments doth my conscience feel !
What agencies of inward smart.

2 I spread my sins before the Lord,
And all my secret faults confess ;
Thy gospel speaks a pard'ning word,
Thy holy spirit seals the grace.

3 For this, shall ev'ry humble soul
Make swift addresses to thy seat ;
When floods of huge temptations roll,
There shall they find a blest retreat.

4 How safe beneath thy wings I lie,
When days grow dark, and storms appear !
And when I walk, thy watchful eye
Shall guide me safe, from ev'ry snare.

P S A L M XXXIII. First part. Com. met.

Works of creation and Providence.

REJOICE, ye righteous, in the Lord,
This work belongs to you ;

Sing of his name, his ways, his word,
How holy, just and true!

2 His mercy and his righteousness;
Let heav'n and earth proclaim;
His works of nature and of grace
Reveal his wond'rous name,

3 His wisdom and almighty word
The heav'nly arches spread;
And by the spirit of the Lord
Their shining hosts were made.

4 He bade the liquid waters flow
To their appointed deep;
The flowing seas their limits know,
And their own station keep.

5 Ye tenants of the spacious earth,
With fear before him stand;
He spake, and nature took its birth,
And rests on his command.

6 He scorns the angry nations' rage,
And breaks their vain designs;
His counsel stands through ev'ry age,
And in full glory shines.

P S A L M XXXIII. Second part. Common metre.

Creatures vain, and God all-sufficient.

BLEST is the nation where the Lord
Hath fix'd his glorious throne:
Where he reveals his heav'nly word,
And calls their tribes his own

2 His eye with infinite survey,
Does the whole world behold:
He form'd us all, of equal clay,
And knows our feeble mould.

3 Kings are not rescu'd, by the force
Of armies, from the grave;

Not speed nor courage of a horse
Can the bold rider save.

4 Vain is the strength of beasts or men,
To hope for safety thence ;

But holy souls from God obtain
A strong and sure defence.

5 God is their fear, and God their trust,
When plagues of famine spread ; —

His watchful eye secures the just,
Among ten thousand dead.

6 Lord, let our hearts in thee rejoice,
And bless us from thy throne ;

For we have made thy word our choice,
And trust thy grace alone.

P S A L M XXXIII. As the 113th Psalm.

First part.

Works of creation and providence.

YE holy souls, in God rejoice,
Your maker's praise becomes your voice

Great is your theme, your songs be new :

Sing of his name, his word, his ways,

His works of nature and of grace,

How wise and holy, just and true !

2 Justice and truth he ever loves,

And the whole earth, his goodness proves ;

His word the heav'nly arches spread ;

How wide they shine from north to south !

And by the spirit of his mouth

Were all the starry armies made.

3 He gathers the wide flowing seas,

Those wat'ry treasures know their place

In the vast store-house of the deep ;

He spake, and gave all nature birth,

And fires, and seas, and heav'n and earth,

His everlasting orders keep.

64 P S A L M XXXIII. XXXIV.

4 Let mortals tremble and adore
A God of such resistless pow'r ;
Nor dare indulge their feeble rage ;
Vain are your thoughts, and weak your hands,
But, his eternal counsel stands,
And rules the world, from age to age.

P S A L M XXXIII. Second part.

Creatures vain, and God all-sufficient.

O HAPPY nation, where the Lord
Reveals the treasure of his word,
And builds his Church, his earthly throne !
His eye the heathen world surveys,
He form'd their hearts, he knows their ways,
But God their maker is unknown.

2 Let kings rely upon their host,
And of his strength the champion boast ;
In vain they boast, in vain rely ;
In vain we trust the brutal force,
Or speed, or courage of a horse,
To guard his rider or to fly.

3 The eye of thy compassion, Lord,
Doth more secure defence afford,
When death or dangers threat'ning stand ;
Thy watchful eye preserves the just,
Who make thy name their fear and trust,
When wars or famine waste the land.

4 In sickness or the bloody field,
'Thou our physician, thou our shield,
Send us salvation from thy throne :
We wait to see thy goodness shine ;
Let us rejoice in help divine,
For all our hope is God alone.

P S A L M XXXIV. First part. Long metre.

God's care of the saints ; or deliverance by prayer

L ORD, I will bless thee all my days,
Thy praise shall dwell upon my tongue :

My soul shall glory in thy grace,
While saints rejoice to hear the song.

2 Come, magnify the Lord with me,
Come, let us all exalt his name ;
I fought the Eternal God, and he
Has not expos'd my hope to shame.

3 I told him all my secret grief,
My secret groanings reach his ears :
He gave my inward pains relief,
And calm'd the tumult of my fears.

4 To him the poor lift up their eyes
Their faces feel the heav'nly shine :
A beam of mercy from the skies
Fills them with light and joy divine.

5 His holy angels pitch their tents
Around the men who serve the Lord :
O fear and love him, all ye saints,
Taste of his grace, and trust his word !

6 The wild young Lions, pinch'd with pain
And hunger, roar through all the wood :
But none shall seek the Lord in vain,
Nor want supplies of real good.

P S A L M XXXIV. Second part. Long metre.

Religious education ; or, instructions of piety.

CHILDREN in years and knowledge young,
Your parents' hope, your parents' joy.
Attend the counsels of my tongue,
Let pious thoughts your minds employ.

2 If you desire a length of days,
And peace to crown your mortal state
Refrain your feet from impious ways ;
Your lips from slander and deceit.

3 The eyes of God regard his saints,
His ears are open to their cries :

He sets his frowning face against
The sons of violence and lies.

4 To humble souls and broken hearts,
God with his grace is ever nigh;
Pardon and hope his love imparts,
When men in deep contrition lie.

5 He tells their tears, he counts their groans,
His Son redeems their souls from death;
His spirit heals their broken bones;
They in his praise employ their breath.

P S A L M XXXIV. First part. Com. metre.

Prayer and praise for eminent deliverances.

I'll bless the Lord from day to day;
How good are all his ways!
Ye humble souls who use to pray,
Come, help my lips to praise.

2 Sing to the honor of his name,
How a poor sinner cry'd!
Nor was his hope expos'd to shame,
Nor was his suit deny'd.

3 When threat'ning sorrows round me flood,
And endless fears arose,
Like the loud billows of a flood,
Redoubling all my woes!

4 I told the Lord my sore distress,
With heavy groans and tears?
He gave my sharpest torments ease,
And silenc'd all my fears.

P A U S E.

5 O sinners come and taste his love,
Come, learn his pleasant ways,
And let your own experience prove
The sweetness of his grace.

6 He bids his angels pitch their tents
Round where his children dwell,

PSALM XXXIV.

65

What ill their heav'nly care prevents,
No earthly tongue can tell.]

7 O love the Lord, ye saints of his!
His eye regards the just;
How richly blest their portion is,
Who make the Lord their trust!

8 Young lions pinch'd with hunger roar,
And famish in the wood;
But God supplies his holy poor,
With ev'ry needful good.]

PSALM XXXIV. Second part. Com. metre.

Exhortation to peace and holiness.

COME, children, learn to fear the Lord.
And that your days be long,
Let not a false or spiteful word
Be found upon your tongue.

2 Depart from mischief, practise love,
Pursue the works of peace:
So shall the Lord your ways approve,
And set your souls at ease.

3 His eyes awake to guard the just,
His ears attend their cry:
When broken spirits dwell in dust,
The God of grace is nigh.

4 What though the sorrows here they taste
Are sharp and tedious too.
The Lord, who saves them all at last;
Is their supporter now!

5 Evil shall smite the wicked dead;
But God secures his own;
Prevents the mischief when they slide,
Or heals the broken bone.

6 When desolation, like a flood,
O'er the proud sinner rolls,

Saints find a refuge in their God,
For he redeems their souls.

PSALM XXXV. *First part. Com. metre.
Prayer and faith of persecuted saints ; or, Imprecations mixt with charity.*

NOW plead my cause, Almighty God,
With all the sons of strife ;
And fight against the men of blood,
Who fight against my life.

2 Draw out the spear and stop their way,
Lift thine avenging rod ;
But, to my soul in mercy, say,
I am thy Saviour God.

3 They plant their snares to catch my feet,
And nets of mischief spread ;
Plunge the destroyers in the pit
Which their own hands have made.

4 Let fogs and darkness hide their way,
And slipp'ry be their ground :
Thy wrath shall make their lives a prey,
And all their rage confound.

5 They fly like chaff before the wind,
Before thine angry breath ;
The angel of the Lord behind,
Pursues them down to death.

6 They love the road which leads to hell ;
Then let the rebels die,
Whose malice is implacable
Against the Lord most high,

7 But, if thou hast a chosen few
Among that impious race,
Divide them from the bloody crew,
By thy surprizing grace.

8 Then will I raise my tuneful voice
To make thy wonders known :

In their salvation I'll rejoice,
And bleis thee for my own.

P S A L M XXXV. Second part. Com. met.

Love to enemies; or, the love of Christ, to sinners, typified in David.

BEHOLD the love, the gen'rous love,
Which holy David shows!
Hark, how his founding bowels move
To his afflicted foes!

2 When they are sick, his soul complains,
And seems to feel the smart;
The spirit of the gospel reigns,
And melts his pious heart.

3 How did his flowing tears condole
As for a brother dead!
And, fasting, martyr'd his soul,
While for their life he pray'd.

4 They groan'd and curs'd him on their bed,
Yet still he pleads and mourns;
And double blessings on his head,
The righteous Lord returns.

5 O glorious type of heav'nly grace!
Thus Christ the Lord appears:
While sinners curse, the Saviour prays,
And pities them with tears!

6 He, the true David, Israel's King,
Blest and belov'd of God,
To save us, rebels dead in sin,
Paid his own dearest blood.

P S A L M XXXVI. Long metre!

The perfections and providence of God; or al providence and special grace.

HIGH in the heav'ns, Eternal God,
Thy goodness in full glory, shines

Thy truth shall break through ev'ry cloud
Which veils and darkens thy designs.

2 For ever firm thy justice stands,
As mountains their foundations keep;
Wise are the wonders of thy hands,
Thy judgements are a mighty deep.

3 Thy providence is kind and large,
Both man and beast thy bounty share;
The whole creation is thy charge,
But, saints are thy peculiar care.

4 My God! how excellent thy grace,
Whence all our hope or comfort springs!
The sons of Adam, in distress,
Fly to the shadow of thy wings.

5 From the provision of thy house
We shall be fed with sweet repast;
There mercy, like a river flows,
And brings salvation to our taste.

6 Life, like a fountain, rich and free,
Springs from the presence of the Lord;
And in thy light our souls shall see
The glories promis'd in thy word.

P S A L M XXXVI. Com. metre.

Practical Atheism exposed; or, the Being and Attributes of God asserted.

WHILE men grow bold in wicked ways
And yet a God they own,
My heart within me often says,
Their thoughts believ' e there's none.

2 Their thoughts and ways at once declare,
(What e'er their lips profess)
God hath no wrath for them to fear,
Nor will they seek his grace.

3 What strange self-flattery blinds their eyes!
But there's a hast'ning hour

When they shall see with sore surpris,
The terrors of thy pow'r.

4 Thy justice shall maintain its throne,
Though mountains melt away :
Thy judgements are a world unknown,
A deep unfathom'd sea.

5 Above these heaven's created rounds,
Thy mercies, Lord, extend :
Thy truth out-lives the narrow bounds
Where time and nature end.

6 Safety to man thy goodness brings,
Nor overlooks the beast ;
Beneath the shadow of thy wings
Thy children choose to rest.

7 From thee, when creature-streams run low,
And mortal comforts die,
Perpetual springs of life shall flow,
And raise our pleasures high,

8 Though all created light decay,
And death close up our eyes,
Thy presence makes eternal day,
Where clouds can never rise.

P S A L M XXXVI. Short metre.

*The wickedness of man, and the majesty of God :
or, practical Atheism exposed.*

WHEN man grows bold in sin,
My heart within me, cries,
*He hath no faith of God within,
No fear before his eyes.*

2 [He wa'ks a while conceal'd
In a self-flat'ring dream ;
Till his dark crimes, at once reveal'd,
Expose his hateful name.]

3 His heart is false and foul,
His words are smooth and fair :

- Wisdom is banish'd from his soul,
And leaves no goodness there,
- 4 He plots upon his bed,
New mischiefs to fulfil,
He sets his heart, and hand, and head,
To practice all that's ill.
- 5 But there's a dreadful God,
Though men renounce his fear ;
His justice, hid behind the cloud,
Shall one great day appear.
- 6 His truth transcends the sky,
In heaven his mercies dwell ;
Deep as the sea his judgments lie,
His anger burns to hell.
- 7 How excellent his love,
Whence all our safety springs !
O never let my soul remove
From underneath his wings.

P S A L M XXXVII. First part.

The cure of envy, fretful eyes and unbelief ; or, the Rewards of the righteous and the wicked ; or, the world's hatred and the saint's patience.

- WHY should I vex my soul and fret
To see the wicked rise ?
Or envy sinners waxing great
By violence and lies ?
- 2 As flow'ry grass cut down at noon,
Before the ev'ning shades,
So shall their glories vanish soon,
In everlasting shades.
- 3 Then let me make the Lord my trust,
And practise all that's good :
So shall I dwell among the just,
And he'll provide me food.
- 4 I to my God my ways commit,
And cheerful wait his will ;

Thy hand which guides my doubtful feet,
Shall my desires fulfil.

Mine innocence shalt thou display,
And make thy judgments known,
Fair as the light of dawning day,
And glorious as the noon.

The meek, at last, the earth possess
And are the heirs of heav'n :
True riches, with abundant peace,
To humble souls are giv'n

P A U S E.

Rest in the Lord, and keep his way :
Nor let your anger rise,
Though Providence should long delay
To punish haughty vice.

Let sinners join to break your peace.
And plot, and rage, and foam ;
The Lord derides them ; for he sees
Their day of vengeance come.

They have drawn out their threat'ning sword,
Have bent the murderous bow,
To slay the men who fear the Lord,
And bring the righteous low.

My God shall break their bows, and burn
Their persecuting darts ;
Shall their own swords against them turn,
And pain surprize their hearts.

P S A L M XXXVII. Second part

Charity to the poor ; or, Religion in words & deeds

WHY do the wealthy wicked boast,
And grow profanely bold ?
The meanest portion of the just
Excels the sinners' gold !

The wicked borrows of his friends,
But ne'er designs to pay ;

- The faint is merciful, and lends,
Nor turns the poor away.
- 3 His alms, with liberal heart, he gives,
Among the sons of need ;
His mem'ry to long ages lives,
And blessed is his seed.
- 4 His lips abhor to talk profane,
To slander or defraud ;
His ready tongue declares to men
What he has learn'd of God,
- 5 The law and gospel of the Lord
Deep in his heart abide ;
Led by the Spirit and the Word,
His feet shall never slide.
- 6 When sinners fall, the righteous stand
Preserv'd, from ev'ry snare ;
They shall possess the promis'd land,
And dwell forever there.

PSALM XXXVII. Third part.

The way and end of the righteous and the wicked,

- MY God, the steps of pious men
Are order'd by thy will ;
Though they should fall, they rise again ;
Thy hand supports them still.
- 1 The Lord delights to see their ways ;
Their virtue he approves ;
He'll ne'er deprive them of his grace,
Nor leave the men he loves.
- 2 The heav'nly heritage is their's,
Their portion and their home :
He feeds them, now, and makes them heirs,
Of blessings long to come,
- 3 Wait on the Lord, ye sons of men,
Nor fear, when tyrants frown ;

Ye shall confess their pride was vain,
When justice casts them down.

P A U S E.

- 5 The haughty finner have I seen,
Not fearing man nor God,
Like a tall bay-tree, fair and green,
Spreading his arms abroad.
- 6 And, lo ! he vanish'd from the ground ;
Destroy'd by hands unseen !
Nor root, nor branch, nor leaf was found
Where all that pride had been.
- 7 But, mark the man of righteousness,
His sev'ral steps attend ;
True pleasure runs through all his ways,
And peaceful is his end.

P S A L M XXXVIII.

Guilt of conscience, and relief ; or, Repentance and prayer for pardon and health.

- A MIDST thy wrath, remember love ;
Restore thy servant, Lord :
Nor let a father's chast'ning prove
Like an avenger's sword.
- 2 Thine arrows stick within my heart,
My flesh is sorely prest :
Between the sorrow and the smart,
My spirit finds no rest.
- 3 My sins a heavy load appear,
And o'er my head are gone ;
Too heavy they for me to bear,
Too hard for me t'atone.
- 4 My thoughts are like a troubled sea,
My head still bending down ;
And I go mourning all the day
Beneath my Father's frown.

5 Lord, I am weak and broken fore,
None of my pow'rs are whole ;
The inward anguish makes me roar,
The anguish of my soul.

6 All my desire to thee is known,
Thine eye counts ev'ry tear,
And ev'ry sigh, and ev'ry groan
Is notic'd by thine ear.

7 Thou art my God my only hope ;
My God will hear my cry ;
My God will bear my spirit up
When satan bids me die.

8 My foot is ever apt to slide,
My foes rejoice to see't ;
They taste their pleasure and their pride,
When they supplant my feet.

9 But I'll confess my guilt to thee,
And grieve for all my sin :
I'll mourn, how weak my graces be,
And beg support divine.

10 My God, forgive my follies past
And be forever nigh ;
O Lord of my salvation haste,
Before thy servant die.

P S A L M XXXIX. First part.

Watchfulne's over the tongue ; or, Prudence & zeal.

THUS I resolv'd before the Lord,
“ Now will I watch my tongue,
“ Left I let slip one sinful word.
“ Or do my neighbour wrong.”

2 And if I'm e'er constrain'd to stay
With men of lives profane,
I'll set a double guard, that day,
Nor let my talk be vain.

- 3 I'll scarce allow my lips to speak
 The pious thoughts I feel,
 Left scoffers should th' occasion take
 To mock my holy zeal.
- 4 Yet if some proper hour appear,
 I'll not be over-aw'd,
 But let the scoffing finners hear
 That I can speak for God.

P S A L M XXXIX. Second part.The vanity of Man, as mortal.

- TEACH me the measure of my days,
 Thou Maker of my frame ;
 I would survey life's narrow space,
 And learn how frail I am.
- 2 A span is all which we can boast,
 An inch or two of time ;
 Man is but vanity, and dust,
 In all his flow'r and prime.
- 3 See ! the vain race of mortals move
 Like shadows o'er the plain ;
 They rage and strive, desire and love,
 But all their noise is vain !
- 4 Some walk in honor's gaudy show ;
 Some dig for golden ore ;
 They toil for heirs they know not who,
 And straight are seen no more.
- 5 What could I wish or wait for, then,
 From creatures earth and dust ?
 They make our expectations vain,
 And disappoint our trust.
- 6 Now I forbid my carnal hope,
 My fond desires recall ;
 I give my mortal int'rest up,
 And make my God my All.

8 PSALM XXXIX. XL.

PSALM XXXIX. Third part.

Sick-bed devotion; or, Pleading without repining.

GOD of my life ! look gently down,
Behold the pains I feel ;
But, I am dumb, before thy throne,
Nor dare dispute thy will.

2 Diseases are thy servants, Lord,
They come at thy command :
I'll not attempt a murm'ring word
Against thy chast'ning hand.

3 Yet may I plead with humble cries,
Remove thy sharp rebukes ;
My strength consumes, my spirit dies,
Through thy repeated strokes.

4 Crush'd, as the moth, beneath thy hand,
We moulder to the dust ;
Our feeble pow'rs can ne'er withstand,
And all our beauty's lost.

[5 This mortal life decays apace :
How soon the bubble's broke &
Adam, and all his num'rous race,
Are vanity and smoke.]

6 I'm but a sojourner below,
As all my fathers were ;
May I be well prepar'd to go,
When I the summons hear !

7 But, if my life be spar'd a-while,
Before my last remove,
Thy praise shall be my bus'ness still,
And I'll declare thy love.

PSALM XL. First part. Com. metre.

A song of deliverance from great distress.

I WAITED patient for the Lord,
He bow'd to hear my cry ;

- He saw me resting on his word,
And brought salvation nigh.
- 2 He rais'd me from a horrid pit,
Where mourning long I lay,
And, from my bonds releas'd my feet.
(Deep bonds of miry clay.)
- 3 Firm on a rock he made me stand,
And taught my cheerful tongue
To praise the wonders of his hand
In a new thankful song.
- 4 I'll spread his works of grace abroad ;
The saints, with joy, shall hear ;
And sinners learn to make my God
Their only hope and fear.
- 5 How many are thy thoughts of love !
Thy mercies, Lord, how great !
We have not words nor hours enough
Their numbers to repeat.
- 6 When I'm afflicted, poor, and low,
And light and peace depart,
My God beholds my heavy woe,
And bears me on his heart.

P S A L M XL. Second part. Com. metre.

The incarnation and sacrifice of Christ.

- THUS saith the Lord, "Your work is vain,
" Give your burnt off'rings o'er ;
" In dying goats, and bullocks slain
" My soul delights no more."
- 2 Then spake the Saviour, "Lo ! I'm here,
" My God, to do thy will ;
" Whate'er thy sacred books declare
" Thy servant shall fulfil.
- 3 " Thy Law is ever in my sight,
" I keep it near my heart :

“ Mine ears are open'd with delight,
 “ To what thy lips impart.”

4 And, see ! the blest Redeemer comes &
 The Eternal Son appears !

And, at th' appointed time, assumes
 The body God prepares.

5 Much He reveal'd his Father's grace,
 And much His truth he shew'd,
 And preach'd the way of righteousness,
 Where great assemblies stood.

6 His Father's honor touch'd his heart,
 He pity'd sinner's cries,
 And to fulfil a saviour's part,
 Was made a sacrifice.

P A U S E.

7 No blood of beasts on altars shed,
 Cou'd wash the conscience clean ;
 But the rich sacrifice he paid
 Atones for all our sin !

8 Then was the great salvation spread,
 And satan's kingdom shook :
 Thus, by the woman's promis'd seed,
 The serpent's head was broke.

P S A L M XL. Long metre.

Christ our sacrifice.

THE wonders, Lord, thy love has wrought,
 Exceed our praise, surmount our thought ;
 Should I attempt the long detail,
 My speech would faint, my numbers fail.

2 No blood of beasts on altars spilt
 Can cleanse the souls of men from guilt ;
 But, thou hast set before our eyes,
 An all-sufficient sacrifice.

3 Lo ! thine Eternal Son appears,
 To thy demands he bows his ears ;

Assumes a body, well prepar'd,
And well performs the work so hard.

4 " Behold I come (the Saviour cries,
" With love and duty in his eyes)
" I come, to bear the heavy load
" Of sins, and do thy will, my God.

5 " 'Tis written in thy great decree,
" 'Tis in thy book foretold of me,
" I Must fulfil the Saviour's part,
" And lo! thy law is in my heart.

6 " I'll magnify thy holy law,
" And rebels to obed'ence draw
" When on my cross I'm lifted high,
" Or, on my throne above the sky.

7 " The Spirit shall descend and show
" What thou hast done and what I do ;
" The wond'ring world shall learn thy grace,
" Thy wisdom and thy righteousness."

PSALM XLI. Long metre.

Charity to the poor ; or, Pity to the afflicted.

BLEST is the man whose bowels move,
And melt with pity to the poor ;
Whose soul, by sympathizing love,
Feels what his fellow-saints endure.

2 His heart contrives for their relief.
More good than his own hands can do ;
He, in the time of gen'ral grief,
Shall find the Lord has bowels, too.

3 His soul shall live secure on earth,
With secret blessings on his head,
When drought, and pestilence and death,
Around him multiply their dead.

4 Or, if he languish on his couch,
God will pronounce his sins forgiv'n ;

Will save him with a healing touch,
Or take his willing soul to heav'n.

P S A L M XLII. First part.

Desertion and hope; or, Complaining of absence from public worship.

WITH earnest longings of the mind,
My God; to thee I look!

So pants the hunted hart, to find,
And taste, the cooling brook.

2 When shall I see thy courts of grace,
And meet my God again?

So long an absence from thy face
My heart endures with pain.

3 Temptations vex my weary soul,
And tears are my repast;

The foe insults, without controul,
And where's your God at last?

4 'Tis with a mournful pleasure, now,
I think on ancient days,

Then to thy house did numbers go,
And all our work was praise.

5 But why my soul sunk down so far
Beneath this heavy load?

Why do my thoughts indulge despair,
And sin against my God?

6 Hope in the Lord, whose mighty hand
Can all my woes remove;

For I shall yet before him stand,
And sing restoring love.

P S A L M XLII. Second part.

Melancholy thoughts reproved; or, Hope in affliction.

MY spirit sinks within me, Lord,

But I will call thy name to mind,

And times of past distress record,

When I have found my God was kind.

1 Huge troubles, with tumult'ous noise,
Swell, like a sea, and round me spread ;
Thy water-spouts drown all my joys,
And rising waves roll o'er my head.

2 Yet will the Lord command his love,
When I address his Throne, by day :
Nor, in the night, his grace remove ;
The night shall hear me sing and pray.

3 I'll cast my self before his feet,
And say, " My, God, my Heav'nly Rock
" Why doth thy love, so long forget
" The soul which groans beneath thy stroke ?"

4 I'll chide my heart, which sinks so low,
Why should my soul indulge her grief ?
Hope in the Lord, and praise him too ;
He is my rest, my sure relief.

5 Thy light and truth shall guide me still
Thy word shall my best thoughts employ,
And lead me to thy heav'nly hill,
My God, my most exceeding joy.

PSALM XLIV. Common metre.

The Church's complaint in persecution.

LORD, we have heard thy works of old,
Thy works of pow'r and grace ;
When to our ears our fathers told
The wonders of their days.

1 How 'thou didst build thy Churches here,
And make thy Gospel known ;
Among them did thine arm appear ;
Thy light and glory shone !

2 In God they boasted all the day,
And, in a cheerful throng
Did thousands meet, to praise and pray,
And grace was all their song.

3 But, now, our souls are seiz'd with shame ;
Confusion fills our face,

To hear the enemy blaspheme,
And fools reproach thy grace.

5 Yet have we not forgot our God,
Nor falsely dealt with Heav'n,
Nor have our steps declin'd the road
Of duty, thou hast giv'n?

6 Though Dragons all around us roar
With their destrutive breath,
And thine own hand has bruis'd us fore,
Hard by the gates of death.

P A U S E.

7 We are expos'd all day, to die
As martyrs, for thy cause;
As sheep, for slaughter bound, we lie,
By sharp and bloody laws.

8 Awake, arise, Almighty Lord,
Why sleeps thy wonted grace?
Why should we look like men abhor'd,
Or banish'd from thy face?

9 Wilt thou forever cast us off,
And still neglect our cries?
Forever hide thine heav'nly love
From our afflicted eyes?

10 Down to the dust our soul is bow'd,
And dies upon the ground;
Rise, for our help, rebuke the proud,
And all their pow'r confound.

11 Redeem us from perpet'al shame,
Our Saviour and our God;
We plead the honors of thy name,
The merits of thy blood.

P S A L M XLV. Short metre.

The glory of Christ; the success of the gospel, and the Gentile church.

MY Saviour and my King,
Thy beauties are divine;

Thy lips with blessings overflow,
And ev'ry grace is thine.

2 Now make thy glory known;
Gird on thy dreadful sword,
And ride, in majesty, to spread
The conquests of thy word.

3 Strike through thy stubborn foes,
Or melt their hearts t'obey;
While justice, meekness, grace and truth,
Attend thy glor'ous way.

4 Thy laws, O God, are right;
Thy Throne shall ever stand;
And thy victor'ous gospel proves
A sceptre in thy hand.

[5 Thy Father and thy God
Hath, without measure, shed
His Spirit, like a joyful oil,
T'anoint thy sacred head.]

6 Behold, at thy right hand,
The Gentile church is seen,
Like a fair bride, in rich attire,
And Princes guard the Queen.

7 Fair bride, receive his love,
Forget thy father's house;
Forsake thy gods, thy idol gods,
And pay the Lord thy vows.]

8 O let thy God and King
Thy sweetest thoughts employ;
Thy children shall his honor sing
In palaces of joy.

P S A L M XLV. Common metre

The personal glories and government of Christ.

I'LL speak the honors of my King,
His form divinely fair;

None of the sons of mortal race
May with the Lord compare.

2 Sweet is thy speech, and heav'nly grace
Upon thy lips is shed ;

Thy God, with blessings infinite
Hath crown'd thy sacred head.

3 Gird on thy sword, victorious Prince ;
Ride, with Majestic sway :

Thy terror shall strike through thy foes,
And make the world obey .

4 Thy throne, O God, forever stands ;
Thy word of grace shall prove

A peaceful sceptre, in thy hands,
To rule the saints, by Love.

5 Justice and truth attend thee, still,
But, mercy is thy choice ;

And God, thy God, thy soul shall fill
With most peculiar joys.

P S A L M XLV. First part. Long metre.

The glory of Christ, and power of his gospel.

NOW, be my heart inspir'd to sing
The glories of my Saviour King,
Jesus, the Lord ; how heav'nly fair
His form ! how bright his beauties are !

2 O'er all the sons of human race
He shines, with a superior grace ;
Love from his lips divinely flows
And blessings all his state compose.

3 Drest thee in arms, most mighty Lord,
Gird on the terror of thy sword ;
In majesty and glory, ride,
With truth and meekness at thy side.

4 Thine anger, like a pointed dart,
Shall pierce the foes of stubborn heart ;

PSALM XLV.

39

Or, words of mercy, kind and sweet,
Shall melt the rebels at thy feet.

5 Thy Throne, O God, forever stands,
Grace is the sceptre in thy hands ;
Thy laws and works are just and right,
Justice and grace are thy delight.

6 God, thine own God, has richly shed
His oil of gladness on thy head,
And with his sacred Spirit, blest
His first-born Son above the rest.

PSALM XLV. Second part Long metre.

Christ and his Church ; or, The mystical marriage

THE King of saints how fair his face !
Adorn'd with Majesty and Grace ;
He comes with blessings from above,
And wins the nations to his love.

2 At his right-hand, our eyes behold
The Queen array'd in purest gold ;
The world admires her heav'nly dress :
Her robe of joy and righteousness.

3 He forms her beauties like his own ;
He calls and seats her near his throne ;
Fair stranger, let thine heart forget
The idols of thy native State.

4 So shall the King the more rejoice
In thee, the fav'rite of his choice ;
Let him be lov'd and yet ador'd,
For he's thy Maker, and thy Lord.

5 O happy hour when thou shalt rise
To his fair palace in the skies !
And all thy sons (a num'rous train)
Each, like a prince, in glory reign !

6 Let endless honors crown his head !
Let ev'ry age his praises spread !

While we, with cheerful songs, approve
The condescensions of his love.

PSALM XLVI. First part.

The Church's safety and triumph, among national deploration

GOD is the refuge of his saints,
When storms of sharp distress invade!
E'er we can offer our complaints,
Behold him present with his aid!

2 Let mountains from their seats be hurl'd
Down to the deep, and bury'd there ;
Convulsions shake the solid world,
Our faith shall never yield to fear.

3 Loud may the troubled ocean roar,
In sacred peace our souls abide ;
While ev'ry nation, ev'ry shore
Tremble and dread the swelling tide.

3 There is a stream whose gentle flow
Supplies the city of our God :
Life, love and joy, still gliding through,
And wat'ring our divine abode.

5 That sacred stream, thine Holy Word,
There all our raging fear controuls :
Sweet peace thy promises afford,
And give new strength to fainting souls.

6 Sion enjoys her Monarch's love,
Secure against a threat'ning hour ;
Nor can her firm foundations move,
Built on His truth, and arm'd with pow'r.

PSALM XLVI. Second Part.

God fights for his Church.

LET Sion in her King rejoice,
Though tyrants rage, and kingdoms rise

He utters his Almighty voice,
The nations melt, the tumult dies.

2 The Lord of old, for Jacob fought,
And Jacob's God is still our aid ;
Behold the works his hand has wrought,
What desolations he has made !

3 From sea to sea through all the shores,
He makes the noise of battle cease ;
When, from on high, his thunder roars,
He awes the trembling world to peace.

4 He breaks the bow, he cuts the spear ;
Char'ots he burns with heav'nly flame !
Keep fierce, all ye earth, and hear
The sound and glory of his name !

5 " Be still, and learn that I am God,
" I'll be exalted o'er the lands ;
" I will be known and fear'd abroad ;
" But still my throne in Sion stands."

6 O Lord of Hosts, Almighty King !
While we so near thy presence dwell,
Our faith shall sit secure, and sing
Defiance to the gates of hell.

P S A L M XLVII. Common metre.

Christ ascending and reigning.

O FOR a shout of sacred joy
To God, the sov'reign King !
Let ev'ry land its tongues employ,
And hymns of triumph sing.

2 Jesus, our God, ascends on high,
His heav'nly guards around,
Attend him, rising through the sky,
With trumpets' joyful sound.

3 While angels shout and praise their King,
Let mortals learn their strains ;

Let all the earth his honors sing ;
O'er all the earth he reigns.

4 Rehearse his praise with awe profound ;
Let knowledge lead the song ;
Nor mock him, with a solemn sound
Upon a thoughtless tongue.

5 In Irr'el stood his ancient throne ;
He lov'd that chosen race ;
But now he calls the world his own,
And heathens taste his grace.

6 These ransom'd States are all the Lord's,
Here Abr'ham's God is known,
While pow'rs and princes, shields and swords,
Submit before his throne.

P S A L M XLVIII. First part.

The Church is the honor and safety of a nation.

GREAT is the Lord our God,
And let his praise be great ;
He makes his churches his abode,
His most delightful seat.

2 These temples of his grace,
How beautiful they stand !
The honors of our native place ;
The bulwarks of our land.

3 In Sion. God is known
A refuge in distress ;
How bright has his salvation shone
Through all her palaces !

4 When kings against her join'd,
And saw the Lord was there,
In wild confusion of the mind,
They fled with hasty fear.

5 When navies tall and proud
Attempt to spoil our peace,

He sends his tempest, roaring loud,
And sinks them in the seas.

6 Oft have our fathers told ;
Our eyes have often seen
How well our God secures the fold
Where his own sheep have been.

7 In ev'ry new distress
We'll to his House repair,
We'll think upon his wond'rous grace,
And seek deliv'rance there,

P S A L M XLVIII. Second part.

The beauty of the Church; or, Gospel-worship and order.

FAR as thy name is known
The world declares thy praise !
Thy saints, O Lord, before thy throne,
Their songs of honor raise.

2 With joy, let Judah stand
On Sion's chosen hill,
Proclaim the wonders of thy hand,
And counsels of thy will.

3 Let strangers walk around
The city where we dwell,
Compass and view thine holy ground,
And mark the building well.

4 The orders of thy house,
The worship of thy court,
The cheerful songs, the solemn vows,
And make a fair report.

5 How decent and how wise !
How glor'ous to behold !
Beyond the pomp which charms the eyes,
And rites adorn'd with gold.

6 The God we worship now
 Will guide us till we die,
 Will be our God while here below,
 And our's above the sky.

PSALM XLIX. First part.

Pride and death; or, The vanity of life and riches.

WHY doth the man of riches grow
 To insolence and pride,
 To see his wealth and honors flow
 With ev'ry rising tide?

[2 Why doth he treat the poor with scorn,
 Made of the self-same clay,
 And boast, as though his flesh were born
 Of better dust than they !]

3 Not all his treasure can procure
 His soul a short reprieve,
 Redeem from death one guilty hour,
 Or make his brother live.

[4 Life is a blessing can't be sold ;
 The ransom is too high ;
 Justice will ne'er be brib'd with gold,
 That man may never die.]

5 He sees the brutish and the wise,
 The tim'rous and the brave
 Quit their possessions, close their eyes,
 And hasten to the grave.

6 Yet 'tis his inward thought and pride,
 " My house shall ever stand :
 " And that my name may long abide,
 " I'll give it to my land."

7 Vain are his thoughts, his hopes are lost,
 How soon his mem'ry cles !
 His name is written in the dust
 Where his own carcase lies,

P A U S E.

8 This is the folly of their way;
And, yet, their sons as vain,
Approve the words their fathers say,
And act their works again.

9 Men void of wisdom and of grace,
If honor raise them high,
Live like a beast, a thoughtless race,
And like a beast they die.

[10 Laid in the grave, like filthy sheep,
Death feeds upon them there.

'Till the last trumpet breaks their sleep
In terror and despair.]

P S A L M XLIX. Second part. Com. metre.

Death and the Resurrection.

YE sons of pride, who hate the just
And trample on the poor,
When death has brought you down to dust,
Your pomp shall rise no more.

2 The last great day shall change the scene?
When will that hour appear?

When shall the just revive, and reign
O'er all who scorn'd them here?

3 God will my naked soul receive,
When sep'rate from the flesh!

And break the prison of the grave
To raise my bones afresh.

4 Heav'n is my everlasting home,
The inheritance is sure;

Let men of pride their rage resume,
But I'll repine no more.

P S A L M XLIX. Long metre.

The rich sinners' death, and the 'aints' resurrection.

WHY do the proud insult the poor,
And boast the large estates they have?

- He calls the nations, to attend
 And hear his awful word.
- 2 "Not for the want of bullocks slain
 "Will I the world reprove;
 "Altars and rites and forms are vain,
 "Without the fire of Love.
- 3 "And what have hypocrites to do,
 "To bring their sacrifice?
 "They call my statutes just and true,
 "But deal in theft and lies.
- 4 "Could you expect to 'scape my sight,
 "And sin without controul?
 "But I shall bring your crimes to light,
 "With anguish in your soul."
- 5 Consider ye who fight the Lord,
 Before his wrath appear:
 Once you fall beneath his sword,
 There's no de'iv'rer there.

P S A L M L. Long metre.

Hypocrisy exposed.

- THE Lord the Judge, his Churches warns;
 Let hypocrites attend and fear,
 Who place their hopes in rites and forms,
 But make not faith nor love their care.
- 2 Vile wretches! dare rehearse his name
 With lips of falsehood and deceit;
 A friend or brother they defame,
 And soothe and flatter those they hate.
- 3 They watch to do their neighbors wrong,
 Yet dare to seek their maker's face;
 They take his cov'nant on their tongue,
 But break his laws, abuse his grace.
- 4 To Heav'n they lift their hands, unclean,
 De'ild with lust, de'ild with blood:

By night they practise ev'ry sin,
By day their mouths draw near to God;

5 And while his judgments long delay
They grow secure, and sin the more :
They think he sleeps as well as they,
And put far of the dreadful hour !

6 O dreadful hour ! when God draws near,
And sets their crimes before their eyes ;
His wrath their guilty souls shall tear,
And no deliv'rer dare to rise.

PSALM L.

The last judgment.

THE Lord, the Sov'reign, sends his summons forth,

Calls the South nations, and awakes the North ;
From East to West the sounding orders spread,
Through distant worlds, and regions of the dead :
No more shall atheists mock his long delay :
His vengeance sleeps no More ; behold the day !

2 Behold the Judge descends ! his guards are nigh ;
Tempest and fire attend him down the sky :
Heav'n, earth, and hell draw near ! let all things
To hear his justice, and the sinner's doom ; (come
But, gather first my saints ! the Judge commands)
Bring them, ye angels, from their distant lands.

3 Behold ! my covenant stands forever good,
Seal'd by th' Eternal Sacrifice, in blood,
And sign'd with all their names ; the Greek the Jew,
Who paid the ancient worship, or the new,
There's no distinction here ; come, spread their
And near me eat my fav'rites and my sons, } thrones

4 I, their Almighty Saviour and their God.
I am their Judge : ye heav'ns proclaim abroad
My just Eternal Sentence, and declare
Thoie awful truths which sinners dread to hear,

Sinners in Zion, tremble and retire ?
I doom the painted hypocrite to fire !

5 Not for the want of goats or bullocks firm
Do I condemn thee : bulls and goats are vain
Without the flames of love : in vain the store
Of bru al off'rings which were mine before ;
Mine are the tamer beasts and savage breed,
Flocks, herds and fields, and forests, where they feed

6 If I were hungry, wou'd I ask thee food ?
When did I thirst or drink thy bullock's blood,
Can I be flatter'd with thy cringing bows ?
Thy solemn chatt'rings and fantastic vows ?
Are my eyes charm'd by vestments to behold
Glaring in gems and gay in woven gold ?

7 Unthinking wretch ! how could'st thou hope to
A God, a spirit, with such toys as these ? please
While with my grace and statutes on thy tongue
Thou lov'st deceit, and dost thy brother wrongs
In vain to pious forms thy zeal pretends,
Thieves and adulterers are thy chosen friends.

8 Silent I waited with long-suff'ring love ;
But didst thou hope that I shou'd ne'er reprove ?
And cherish such an imp'ous thought within.
That God the righteous, would indulge thy sin
Behold my terrors now ; my judgments roll,
And thy own crimes affright thy guilty soul !

9 Sinners, awake, betimes ; ye fools, be wise !
Awake, before this dreadful morning rise ;
Change your vain thoughts your crooke ways
amend ;

Fly to the Saviour make the Judge your friend,
Lest, like a Lion, his last vengeance tear
Your trembling souls, and no deliverer near.

P S A L M L.

The 1st Judgment.

THE God of Glory sends his summons forth,
Calls the South nations and awakes the North ;

From East to West the Sov'reign orders spread
Through distant worlds and regions of the dead:
The trumpet sounds ; hell trembles ; heav'n rejoices
Lift up your heads, ye saints, with cheerful voices.

2 No more shall atheists mock his long delay
His vengeance sleeps no more ; behold the day !
Behold the Judge descends, his guards are nigh ;
Tempest and fire attend him down the sky !
When God appears, all nature shall adore him ;
While sinners tremble, saints rejoice before him.

3 " Heav'n, earth, and hell draw near ; let all things come
" To hear my justice and the sinner's doom ;
" But gather first my saints, the Judge commands
" Bring them, ye angels, from their distant lands.
When Christ returns, awake ev'ry cheerful passion.
And shout, ye saints, he comes for your salvation.

4 " Behold my cov'nant stands forever good,
" Seal'd by th' Eternal Sacrifice in blood !
" And sign'd with all their names ; the Greek,
the Jew,
" Who paid the ancient worship, or the new,
There's no distinction here ; join all your voices,
And raise your heads, ye saints, for heav'n rejoices.

5 " Here, (saith the Lord) ye angels, spread their thrones,
" And near me seat my fav'rites and my sons :
" Come my redeem'd, possess the joy prepar'd,
" E'er time began ; 'tis your divine reward
When Christ returns, awake ev'ry cheerful passion,
And shout, ye saints, he comes for your salvation.

PAUSE the first.

*When God appears, all nature shall adore him ;
While sinners tremble, saints rejoice before him.*

7 " Stand forth, thou bold blasphemer, and profane ;

" Now feel my wrath, nor call my threat'nings vain ;

" Thou hypocrite, once drest in saints' attire,

" I doom the painted hypocrite to fire.

*Judgment proceeds! hell trembles! heav'n rejoices!
Lift up your heads, ye saints, with cheerful voices.*

8 " Not for the want of goats, or bullocks slain

" Do I condemn thee ; bulls and goats are vain,

" Without the flames of love ; in vain the store

" Of brutal off'rings which were mine before :

Earth is the Lord's all nature shall adore him :

While sinners tremble, saints rejoice before him.

9 " If I were hungry, would I ask thee food ?

" When did I thirst, or drink thy bullock's blood ?

" Mine are the tamer beasts and savage breed,

All is the Lord's, he rules the wide creation ; feed.

Gives sinners, vengeance ; and the saints salvation.

10 " Can I be flatter'd with thy cringing bows,

" Thy solemn chatt'rings and fantastic vows ?

" Are my eyes charm'd thy vestments to behold

" Glaring in gems, and gay in woven gold ?

God is the Judge of hearts : no fair disguises

Can screen the guilty, when his vengeance rises.

P A U S the second.

11 " Unthinking wretch! how cou'd'st thou

12 " In vain to pious forms thy zeal pretends,
 " Thieves and adult'ers are thy chosen friends ;
 " While the false flatterer at my altar waits,
 " His harden'd soul Divine Instruction hates.

*God is the Judge of hearts ; no fair disguis
 Can screen the guilty, when his vengeance rises.*

13 " Silent I waited with long-suff'ring love ;
 " But didst thou hope that I should ne'er reprove ?
 " And cherish such an impious thought within,
 " That the ALL HOLY would indulge thy sin ?
*See, God appears, all nature joins t' adore him,
 Judgment proceeds and sinners fall before him.*

14 " Behold my terrors now : my thunders roll,
 " And thy own crimes affright thy guilty soul :
 " Now like a Lion shall my vengeance tear
 " Thy bleeding heart, and thy deliv'rer rear.
*Judgment conclude ; hell trembles ; heav'n rejoices ;
 Lift up your heads, ye saints with cheerful voices.*

EPIPHONEMA.

15 Sinners, awake betimes : ye fools be wise ;
 Awake, before this dreadful morning rise ;
 Change your vain thoughts, your crooked works
 amend,

Fly to the Saviour, make the Judge your friend,
 Then join, ye saints, awake ev'ry cheerful passion ;
 When Christ returns, he comes for your salvation.

P S A L M LI. First part. Long metre.

A penitent pleading for pardon.

SHEW pity, Lord ! O Lord ! forgive,
 Let a repenting rebel live ;
 Are not thy mercies large and free ?
 May not a sinner trust in thee ?

2 My crimes are great, but ca'n't surpass
 The pow'r and glory of thy grace :

Great God ! thy nature hath no bound !
So let thy pard'ning grace be found.

3 O wash my soul from ev'ry sin !
And make my guilty conscience clean ;
Here, on my heart, my burden lies ;
And past offences pain my eyes.

4 My lips, with shame, my sins confess
Against thy law, against thy grace ;
Lord should thy judgment grow severe,
I am condemn'd, but thou art clear.

5 Should sudden vengeance seize my breath,
I must pronounce thee just, in death :
And, if my soul were sent to hell,
Thy righteous law approves it well.

6 Yet, save a trembling sinner, Lord,
Whof' hope, sin hov'ring round thy word,
Would light on some sweet promise there,
Some sure support against despair

P S A L M LI. Second part. Long metre

Original and anew. I sin confessed.

LORD, I am vile, conceiv'd in sin,
And born unholy and unclean,
Sprung from the man, whose guilty fall
Corrupts his race and taints us all.

2 Soon as we draw our infant breath,
The seeds of sin grow up for death ;
Thy law demands a perfect heart ;
But we're defil'd in ev'ry part.

[3 Great God ! create my heart anew,
And form my spirit pure and true ;
O make me wise betimes, to spy
My danger, and my remedy.]

4 Behold ! I fall before thy face ;
My only refuge is thy grace

No outward forms can make me clean !
The leprosy lies deep within :

5 Nor bleeding bird, nor bleeding beast,
Nor hyssop-branch, nor sprinkling priest,
Nor running-brook, nor flood, nor sea,
Can wash the dismal stain away.

6 Jesus my God, thy blood alone
Hath pow'r sufficient to atone ;
Thy blood can make me white as snow !
No Jewish types could cleanse me so.

7 While guilt disturbs and breaks my peace,
Nor flesh, nor soul, hath rest or ease ;
Lord, let me hear thy pard'ning voice,
And make my broken bones rejoice

P S A L M LI. Third part. Long metre.

The backslider restored ; or, Repentance and Faith in the blood of Christ.

O THOU ! who hear'st when sinners cry
Though all my crimes before thee lie,
Behold them not, with angry look,
But blot their mem'ry from thy book.

2 Create my nature pure within ,
And form my soul averse to sin ;
Let thy Good Spirit ne'er depart,
Nor hide thy presence from my heart.

3 I cannot live without thy light,
Cast out and banish'd from thy sight ;
Thine holy joys, my God, restore ;
And guard me, that I fall no more.

4 Though I have griev'd thy Spirit, Lord,
His help and comfort still afford :
And let a wretch come near thy Throne
To plead the merits of thy Son.

5 A broken heart, my God, my King,
Is all the sacrifice I bring ;

The God of Grace will ne'er despise
A broken heart for sacrifice.

6 My soul lies humbled in the dust,
And owns thy dreadful sentence just :
Look down, O Lord with pitying eye,
And save the soul condemn'd to die.

7 Then will I teach the world thy ways ;
Sinners shall learn thy sov'reign grace ;
I'll lead them to my Saviour's blood,
And they shall praise a pard'ning God.

8 O may thy love inspire my tongue !
Salvation shall be all my song ;
And all my powers shall join, to bless
The Lord my strength and Righteousness.

P S A L M LI. First part. Com. metre.

Original and actual sin confessed and pardoned.

LORD, I would spread my sore distress
And guilt before thine eyes ;
Against thy laws, against thy grace
How high my crimes arise.

2 Should'st thou condemn my soul to hell,
And crush my flesh to dust,
Heav'n would approve thy vengeance well,
And earth must own it just.

3 I from the stock of Adam came,
Unholy and unclean ;
All my original is shame,
And all my nature sin.

4 Born in a world of guilt, I drew
Contagion with my breath,
And as my days advanc'd, I grew
A juster prey for death.

5 Cleanse me, O Lord ; and cheer my soul
With thy forgiving love !
O make my broken spirit whole,
And bid my pains remove.

- 6 Let not thy Spirit quite depart,
Nor drive me from thy face ;
7 Create anew my vicious heart,
And fill it with thy grace.
8 Then will I make thy mercy known
Before the sons of men ;
9 Backsliders shall address thy throne,
And turn to God again.

P S A L M LI. Second part. Com. metre.Repentance and Faith in the blood of Christ.

- 1 O GOD of mercy ! hear my call,
My load of guilt remove,
Break down the separating wall
Which bars me from thy love.
2 Give me the presence of thy grace,
Then my rejoicing tongue
Shall speak aloud thy righteousness,
And make thy praise my song.
3 No blood of goats nor heifers slain
For sin could e'er atone ;
The death of Christ shall still remain
Sufficient and alone.
4 A soul oppress'd with sin's desert
My God will ne'er despise ;
A humble groan, a broken heart
Is our best sacrifice.

P S A L M LIII. Common metre.

Victory and deliverance from persecution.

- 1 A RE all the foes of Zion fools
Who thus devour her saints ?
Do they not know her Saviour rules,
And pities her complaints ?
2 They shall be seiz'd with sad surprise ;
For, God's revenging arm

Scatters the bones of those who rise
To do his children harm.

3 In vain, the sons of satan boast
Of armies in array :

When God has first despis'd their host
They fall an easy prey.

4 O for a word from Sion's King
Her captives to restore !

Jacob, with all his tribes, shall sing,
And Judah weep no more.

P S A L M LV. Common metre.

Support for the afflicted and tempted soul.

O GOD ! my refuge, hear my cries,
Behold my flowing tears !
For earth and hell my hurt devise.
An triumph in my tears.

2 Their rage is level'd at my life,
My soul with guilt they load,
And fill my thoughts with inward strife
To shake my hope in God.

3 With inward pain my heart-strings sound ;
I groan with ev'ry breath ;
Horror and fear beset me round
Among the shades of death,

4 O were I like a feather'd dove !
And innocence had wings ;
I'd fly and make a long remove
From all these restless things.

5 Let me to some wild desert go,
And find a peaceful home ;
Where storms of malice never blow,
Temptations never come.

6 Vain hopes and vain inventions all,
To 'scape the rage of hell !

The Mighty God, on whom I call,
Can save me here as well.

7 By morning light I'll seek his face,
At noon repeat my cry ;
The night shall hear me ask his grace,
Nor will he long deny.

8 God shall preserve my soul from fear,
Or shield me when a'raid :
Ten thousand angels must appear,
If he commands their aid.

9 I cast my burdens on the Lord,
The Lord sustains them all :
My courage rests upon his word,
That saints shall never fall.

10 My highest hopes shall not be vain,
My lips shall spread his praise ;
While cruel and deceitful men,
Scarce live out half their days.

P S A L M LV. Short metre.

Dangerous prosperity ; or, daily devotion encouraged

LET sinners take their course,
And choose the road to death ;
But, in the worship of my God
I'll spend my daily breath.

2 My thoughts address his throne
When morning brings the light ;
I seek his blessing ev'ry noon,
And pay my vows at night.

3 Thou wilt regard my cries,
O my Eternal God !
While sinners perish, in surprise,
Beneath thine angry rod.

4 Because they dwell at ease,
And no sad changes feel,
They neither fear nor trust thy Name,
Nor learn to do thy will.

5 But I, with all my cares,
Will lean upon the Lord :
I'll cast my burdens on his arm,
And rest upon his Word.

6 His arm shall well sustain
The children of his love ;
The ground on which their safety stands
No earthly pow'r can move.

P S A L M LVI.

*Deliverance from oppression and falsehood ; or,
God's care of his people, in answer to faith and prayer.*

O THOU ! whose justice reigns on high,
And makes th' oppressor cease,
Behold how env'ous sinners try
To vex and break my peace.

2 The sons of violence and lies
Join to devour me, Lord :
But, as my hourly dangers rise,
My refuge is thy word.

3 In God, most holy just and true,
I have repos'd my trust ;
Nor will I fear what flesh can do,
The off-spring of the dust.

4 They wrest my words to mischief still,
Charge me with unknown faults ;
Mischief doth all their councils fill,
And malice all their thoughts.

5 Shall they escape, without thy frown ?
Must their devices stand ?
Or cast the haughty sinner down,
And let him know thy hand !

P A U S E.

6 God counts the sorrows of his saints,
Their groans affect his ears :

- Thou hast a book for my complaints,
A bottle for my tears
- 7 When to thy throne I raise my cry,
The wicked fear and flee ;
So swift is pray'r to reach the sky
So near is God to me.
- 8 In Thee, Most Holy, just and true,
I have repos'd my trust ;
Nor will I fear what man can do,
The offspring of the dust.
- 9 Thy solemn vows are on me, Lord :
Thou shalt receive my praise ;
I'll sing. *How faithful is thy word ;
How righteous all thy ways !*
- 10 Thou hast secur'd my soul from death ;
O set thy prisoner free !
Thy heart and hand and life and breath,
May be employ'd for thee.

P S A L M LVII. Long metre.

Praise for protection, grace and truth

- MY God, in whom are all the springs
Of boundless love and grace unknown ;
Hide me beneath thy spreading wings,
'Till the dark cloud is overblown.
- 2 Up to the heav'ns I send my cry ;
The Lord will my desires perform ;
He sends his angels from the sky,
And saves me from the threat'ning storm.
- 3 Be thou exalted, O my God !
Above the heav'ns, where angels dwell ;
Thy pow'r on earth be known abroad,
And land to land thy wonders tell.
- 4 My heart 'is fix'd ; my song shall raise
Immortal honors to thy name ;

Awake, my tongue, to sound his praise;
My tongue, the glory of my frame.

5 High o'er the earth, his mercy reigns,
And reaches to the utmost sky;
His truth to endless years remains,
When lower worlds dissolve and die.

6 Be thou exalted, O my God!
Above the heav'ns where angels dwell;
Thy pow'r on earth be known abroad,
And land to land thy wonders tell.

P S A L M LVIII,

Warning to Magistrates.

JUDGES, who rule the world by laws,
Will ye despise the righteous cause,
When th' injur'd poor before you stands?
Dare ye condemn the righteous poor,
And let rich sinners' scape secure,
While gold and greatness bribe your hands?

2 Have ye forgot, or never knew,
That God will judge the Judges too?
High in the heav'ns his justice reigns;
Yet, you invade the rights of God,
And send your bold decrees abroad,
To bind the conscience in your chains.

3 A poison'd arrow is your tongue,
The arrow sharp, the poison strong,
And death attends where e'er it wounds;
You hear no counsels cries or tears:
So the deaf adder stops her ears
Against the pow'r of charming sounds.

4 Break out their teeth, Eternal God,
Those teeth of lions, dy'd in blood;
And crush the serpents in the dust:
As empty chaff, when whirlwind's rise,
Before the sweepings tempest flies,
So let their hopes and names be lost:

5 Th' Almighty thunders from the sky !
 Their grandeur melts, their title die :
 As hills of snow dissolve and run,
 Or snails which perish in their slime !
 Or births which come before their time,
 Vain births, that never see the sun !

6 Thus shall the vengeance of the Lord
 Safety and joy to saints afford ;
 And all, who hear, shall join and say
 "Sure there's a God who rules on high ;
 "A God who hears his children cry,
 "And will their suff'rings well repay."

PSALM LX. Common metre.

On a day of humiliation for disappointments in War.

LORD, hast thou cast New England off ?
 Must we forever mourn ?
 Wilt thou indulge immortal wrath ?
 Shall mercy ne'er return ?

2 The terror of one frown of thine
 Melts all our strength away ;
 Like men who totter, drunk with wine,
 We tremble in dismay.

3 New England shakes beneath thy stroke,
 And dreads thy threat'ning hand ;
 O heal the people thou hast broke,
 Restore the trembling land.

4 Lift up a banner in the field,
 For those who fear thy name :
 Save thy beloved, with thy shield,
 And put our foes to shame.

5 Go with our armies to the fight,
 Like a confed'rate God :
 In vain, confed'rate powers unite
 Against thy lifted rod.

6 Our troops shall gain a wide renown,
 By thine assisting hand ;
 'Tis God who treads the mighty down,
 And makes the feeble stand.

P S A L M LXI. Short metre.

Safety in God.

WHEN overwhelm'd with grief,
 My heart within me dies,
 Helpless, and far from all relief,
 To heav'n I lift my eyes.

2 O lead me to the Rock
 That's high above my head ;
 And make the covert of thy wings
 My shelter and my shade.

3 Within thy presence, Lord,
 For ever I'll abide ;
 Thou art the Tower of my defence,
 The refuge where I hide.

4 Thou givest me the lot
 Of those who fear thy name ;
 If endless life be their reward,
 I shall possess the same.

P S A L M LXII. Long metre.

*No trust in the creatures ; or Faith in Divine
 Grace and Power.*

MY spirit looks to God alone ;
 My only refuge is his throne ;
 In all my fears, in all my straits,
 My soul on his salvation waits.

2 Trust him, ye saints, in all your ways,
 Pour out your hearts before his face :
 When helpers fail, and foes invade,
 God is our all-sufficient aid.

Falſe are the men of high degree,
The baſer ſort are vanity ;
Laid in a balance, both appear
Light as a puff of empty air.

Make not increaſing gold your truſt.
Nor ſet your heart on glitt'ring duſt ;
Why will you graſp the fleeting ſmoke,
And not believe what God has ſpoke ?

Once has His awful voice declar'd,
Once and again my ears have heard,
“ All pow'r is his eternal due ;
“ He muſt be fear'd and truſted too.”

6 For ſov'reign pow'r reigns not alone,
Grace is a partner of the throae :
Thy grace and juſtice, mighty Lord,
Shall well divide our laſt reward.

P S A L M LXIII. Fiſt part. Com. metre.

The morning of a Lord's day.

EARLY, my God, without delay,
Haſte to ſeek thy face :
My thirſty ſpirit faints away,
Without thy cheering grace.

2 So pilgrims, on the ſcorching ſand,
Beneath a burning ſky,
Long for a cooling ſtream at hand,
And they muſt creak or die.

3 I've ſeen thy glory and thy pow'r,
Through all thy temple ſhine ;
My God, repeat that heav'nly hour,
That viſion ſo divine.

4 Not all the bleſſings of a feaſt
Can pleaſe my ſoul ſo well,
As when thy richer grace I taſte,
And in thy preſence dwell,

- 5 Not life itself, with all her joys,
 Can my best passions move,
 Or raise to high my cheerful voice
 As thy forgiving love.
- 6 Thus, 'till my last expiring day,
 I'll bless my God and King,
 Thus will I lift my hands to pray,
 And tune my lips to sing.

P S A L M LXIII. Second part. Com. metre.

Midnight thoughts recollected

- TWAS in the watches of the night
 I thought upon thy pow'r ;
 I kept thy lovely face in sight
 Amidst the darkest hour.
- 1 My flesh lay resting on my bed,
 My soul arose on high ;
 My God ! my Life ! my Hope ! I said,
 Bring thy salvation nigh.
- 2 My spirit labors up thine hill,
 And climbs the heav'nly road :
 But thy right hand upholds me still,
 While I pursue my God.
- 3 Thy mercy stretches o'er my head
 The shadow of thy wings :
 My heart rejoices in thine aid,
 My tongue awakes, and sings.
- 4 But the destroyers of my peace
 Shall fret and rage in vain :
 The tempter shall forever cease,
 And all my sins be slain.
- 5 Thy sword shall give my foes to death,
 And send them down to dwell
 In the dark caverns of the earth,
 Or to the depths of hell.

PSALM LXIII. Long metre.

Longing after God ; or, The Love of God better than Life. —

GREAT God ! indulge my humble claim ;
 Thou art my Hope, my Joy, my Rest ;
 The glories which compose thy name
 Stand all engag'd to make me blest.

2 Thou Great and Good, thou Just and Wise,
 Thou art my Father and my God ;
 And I am thine, by sacred ties ;
 Thy son, thy servant, bought with blood !

3 With heart, and eyes, and lifted hands,
 For thee I long, to thee I look,
 As travellers, in thirsty lands,
 Pant for the cooling water-brook.

4 With early feet I love to appear
 Among thy saints, and seek thy face ;
 Oft have I seen thy glory there,
 And felt the pow'r of sov'reign grace.

5 Not fruits, nor wines which tempt our taste,
 Nor all the joys our senses know,
 Could make me so divinely blest,
 Or raise my cheerful passion so.

6 My life itself, without thy love,
 No taste of pleasure could afford ;
 'Twould but a tiresome burden prove,
 If I were banish'd from the Lord.

7 Amidst the wakeful hours of night,
 When busy cares afflict my head,
 One thought of thee gives new delight,
 And adds refreshment to my bed.

8 I'll lift my hands, I'll raise my voice
 While I have breath to pray or praise ;
 This work shall make my heart rejoice,
 And spend the remnant of my days.

P S A L M LXIII. Short metre.

Seeking God.

MY God, permit my tongue,
 This joy, to call thee mine ;
 And let my early cries prevail
 To taste thy love divine.

2 My thirsty fainting soul
 Thy mercy does implore :
 Not travellers, in desert lands,
 Can pant for water more.

3 Within thy churches, Lord,
 I long to find my place,
 Thy pow'r and glory to behold,
 And feel thy quick'ning grace.

4 For, life, without thy love,
 No bliss can afford ;
 No joy can be compar'd with this,
 To serve and please the Lord.

5 To thee I'll lift my hands,
 And praise thee, while I live ;
 Not all the dainties of a feast
 Such food or pleasure give.

6 In wakeful hours of night
 I call my God to mind ;
 I think how wise thy counsels are,
 And all thy dealings kind.

7 Since thou hast been my help,
 To thee my spirit flies,
 And on thy watchful providence
 My cheerful hope relies.

8 The shadow of thy wings
 My soul in safety keeps !
 I follow where my Father leads,
 And he supports my steps.

P S A L M L X V . First part. Long metre.Public prayer and praise.

THE praise of Sion waits for thee,
 My God ; and praise becomes thy house ;
 There shall thy saints thy glory see,
 And there perform their public vows.

2 O thou ! whose mercy bends the skies,
 To save, when humble sinners pray,
 All lands to thee shall lift their eyes,
 And islands of the Northern sea.

3 Against my will my sins prevail.
 But grace shall purge away their stain ;
 The blood of Christ will never fail
 To wash my garments white again.

4 Blest is the man whom thou shalt choose,
 And give him kind access to thee :
 Give him a place within thine house,
 To taste thy love, divinely free.

P A U S E .

5 Let Babel fear when Sion prays ;
Babel prepare for long distress,
 When Sion's God himself arrays
 In terror and in righteousness.

6 With dreadful glory God fulfils
 What his afflicted saints request ;
 And with Almighty wrath reveals
 His love, to give his churches rest.

7 Then shall the flocking nations run
 To Sion's hill and own their Lord ;
 The rising and the setting sun
 Shall see the Saviour's name ador'd.

P S A L M L X V . Second part. Long metre.

Divine Providence, in air, earth and sea ; or, The God of Nature and Grace.

THE God of our salvation hears
 The groans of Sion mix'd with tears ;

Yet when he comes, with kind designs,
Through all the way his terror shines.

2 On him the race of man depends,
Far as the earth's remotest ends,
Where the Creator's name is known
By Nature's feeble light alone.

3 Sailors, who travel o'er the flood,
Address their frightened souls to God,
When tempests rage, and billows roar,
At dreadful distance from the shore.

4 He bids the noisy tempest cease,
He calms the raging crowd to peace,
When a tumult'ous nation raves,
Wild as the wind, and loud as waves.

5 Whole kingdoms, shaken by the storm,
He settles, in a peaceful form;
Mountains, establish'd by his hand,
Firm on their old foundations stand.

6 Behold, his ensigns sweep the sky,
New comets blaze, and lightnings fly;
The Heathen lands, with sad surprise,
From the bright horrors turn their eyes.

7 At his command the morning ray
Smiles in the east and leads the day;
He guides the sun's declining wheels
Over the tops of Western hills.

8 Seasons and times obey his voice;
The ev'ning and the morn rejoice
To see the earth made soft with show'rs,
Laden with fruit and drest with flow'rs.

9 'Tis from his watry stores on high
He gives the thirsty ground supply;
He walks upon the clouds, and thence
Doth his enriching drops dispense.

10 The desert grows a fruitful field,
Abundant fruit the vallies yield;

The vallies shout with cheerful voice,
And neighb'ring hills repeat their joys.

11 The pastures smile, in green array,
There, lambs and larger cattle play;
The larger cattle and the lamb,
Each in his language speaks Thy Name.

12 Thy works pronounce thy pow'r divine;
O'er ev'ry field thy glories shine;
Through ev'ry month thy gifts appear;
Great God! thy goodness crowns the year.

P S A L M LXV. First part. Common metre.

A prayer-bearing God, and the Gentiles called.

PRAISE waits in Sion, Lord, for thee,
There shall our vows be paid:
Thou hast an ear when sinners pray,
All flesh shall seek thine aid.

2 Lord, our iniquities prevail;
But pard'ning grace is thine,
And thou wilt grant us power and skill
To conquer ev'ry sin.

3 Bless'd are the men whom thou shalt choose
To bring them near thy face,
Give them a dwelling in thine house
To feast upon thy grace.

4 In ans'ring what thy church requests,
Thy truth and terror shine,
And works of dreadful righteousness
Fulfil thy kind design.

5 Thus shall the wond'ring nations see
The Lord is good and just;
And distant islands fly to thee,
And make Thy Name their trust.

6 They dread thy glitt'ring tokens, Lord,
When signs in heav'n appear;

But they shall learn thy holy word,
And love, as well as fear.

P S A L M LXV. Second part. Com. metre.

*The Providence of God, in air, earth and sea; or,
The blessing of rain.*

'TIS by thy strength the mountains stand,
God of eternal pow'r!

The sea grows calm at thy command,
And tempests cease to roar.

2 The morning light and ev'ning-shade
Successive comforts bring;

Thy plent'ous fruits make harvest glad,
Thy flow'rs adorn the spring.

3 Seasons and times, and moons and hours,
Heav'n, earth and air are thine;

When clouds distil their fruitful show'rs,
The Author is Divine.

4 Those wand'ring cisterns in the sky,
Borne by the winds around,

With wat'ry treasures well supply
The furrows of the ground.

5 The thirsty ridges drink their fill,
And ranks of corn appear:

Thy ways abound with blessings still;
Thy goodness crowns the year.

P S A L M LXV. Third part. Com. metre.

The Blessing of the Spring; or, God gives rain.

A Psalm for the husbandman.

GOOD is the Lord, the heav'nly King,
Who makes the earth his care;

Visits the pastures ev'ry spring,
And bids the grass appear.

2 The clouds, like rivers, rais'd on high,
Pour out at thy command,

Their wat'ry blessings from the sky,
To cheer the thirsty land.

3 The soften'd ridges of the field
Permit the corn to spring ;
The vallies rich provision yield,
And the poor lab'ers sing.

4 The little hills, on ev'ry side
Rejoice at falling show'rs ;
The meadows, drest in all their pride,
Perfume the air with flow'rs.

5 The barren clods refresh'd with rain,
Promise a joyful crop ;
The parched grounds look green again
And raise the reaper's hope.

6 The various months thy goodness crowns ;
How bount'ous are thy ways !
The bleating flocks spread o'er the downs,
And shepherds shout thy praise.

P A S A L M LXVI. First part. Com. metre.

Governing Power and goodness ; or our Grac^e tried by Afflictions .

SING all ye nation, to the Lord,
Sing, with a joyful noise ;
With melody of sound, record
His honors, and your joys.

2 Say to the pow'r which shakes the sky
" How terrible art thou !
" Sinners before thy presence fly,
" Or, at thy feet they bow."

[3 Come see the wonders of our God,
How glo'ous are his ways !
In Moses' hand he puts the rod,
And cleaves the frighted seas,

- 4 He made the ebbing channel dry
 While I'r'el pass'd the flood ;
 There did the Church begin their joy,
 And triumph in their God.]
- 5 He rules by his resistless might :
 What rebel mortals dare
 Provoke th' Eternal to the fight,
 And tempt that dreadful war !
- 6 O Bless our God, and never cease !
 Ye saints, ye fit his praise :
 He keeps our life, maintains our peace,
 And guides our doubtful ways,
- 7 Lord, thou hast prov'd our suffering souls,
 To make our graces shine ;
 So silver bears the burning coals,
 The mettle to refine.
- 8 Through wat'ry deeps and fiery ways,
 We march at thy command,
 Led to possess the promis'd place,
 By thine unerring hand.

P S A L M LXVI. Second part.Praise to God for hearing prayer.

NOW shall my solemn vows be paid
 To that Almighty Pow'r
 Which heard the long requests I made
 In my distressful hour.

2 My lips and cheerful heart prepare
 To make his mercies known ;
 Come, ye who fear my God, and hear
 The wonders he has done.

3 When on my head huge sorrows fell,
 I sought his heav'nly aid :
 He sav'd my sinking soul from hell,
 And death's eternal shade,

- 4 If sin lay cover'd in my heart,
 While pray'r employ'd my tongue,
 The Lord had shewn me no regard,
 Nor I his praises sung.
- 5 But God (his name be ever blest)
 Has set my spirit free ;
 Nor turn'd from him my poor request,
 Nor turn'd his heart from me.

PSALM LXVII. Common metre.

The Nation's prosperity, and the Church's increase.

- SHINE, mighty God, on all the land,
 With beams of heavenly grace ;
 Reveal thy pow'r through all our coasts.
 And shew thy smiling face,
- [2 Amidst our States, exalted high,
 Do thou our Glory stand,
 And, like a wall of guard'ed fire,
 Surround the fav'rite land.]
- 3 When shall thy name, from shore to shore,
 Sound all the earth abroad ;
 And distant nations know and love
 Their Saviour and their God ?
- 4 Sing to the Lord ye rescu'd States,
 Sing loud, with solemn voice ?
 While thankful tongues exalt his praise,
 And grateful hearts rejoice.
- 5 He, the Great Lord, the Sov'reign Judge,
 Who sits enthron'd above,
 Wisely commands the worlds he made
 In justice and in love,
- 6 Earth shall obey her Maker's will,
 And yield a full increase :
 Our God will crown this cho'sen clime,
 With fruitfulness and peace.

7 God, the Redeemer, scatters round
His choicest favors here,
While the creation's utmost bound
Shall see, adore, and fear.

P S A L M LXVIII. First Part. Long metre*The Vengeance and Compassion of God.*

GOD will arise in all his might,
And put the troops of bell to flight,
As smoke, which sought to cloud the skies,
Before the rising tempest flies;

2 He comes, array'd in burning flames;
Justice and Vengeance are his names:
Behold his fainting foes expire
Like melting wax before the fire.]

3 He rides and thunders through the sky;
His name, Jehovah, sounds on high!
Sing to his name, ye sons of grace;
Ye faints, rejoice before his face!

4 The widow and the fatherless
Fly to his aid in sharp distress:
In him the poor and helpless find
A Judge, most just; a Father, kind.

5 He breaks the captiv's heavy chain,
And pris'ners see the light again;
But rebels who dispute his will,
Shall dwell in chains and darkness still.

P A U S E.

6 Kingdoms and thrones to God belong;
Crown him, ye nations, in your song;
His wond'rous name and pow'rs rehearse;
His honors shall enrich your verse.

7 He shakes the heav'ns with loud alarms;
How terrible is God, in arms!

Israel are his mercies known,
Sion is his peculiar throne.

Proclaim him King, pronounce him blest !
 He's your Defence, your Joy, your Rest ;
 When terrors rise, and nations faint,
 God is the strength of ev'ry saint.

S A L MLXVIII. Second part. Long metre.

Christ's Ascension, and the gift of the Spirit.

THE LORD when thou didst ascend on high,
 Ten thousand angels fill'd the sky :
 Those heav'nly guards around thee wait,
 Like chariots to attend thy state.

Not Sinai's mountain could appear
 So glorious when the Lord was there ;
 While he pronounc'd his dreadful law,
 And struck the chosen tribes with awe.

How bright the triumph none can tell,
 When the rebell'ous pow'rs of hell,
 (Which thousand souls had captive made)
 Were all in chains like captives led !

Rais'd, by his Father to the throne,
 He sent the promis'd Spirit down
 With gifts and grace for rebel men.
 That God might dwell on earth again.

S A L M LXVIII. Third part. Long metre.

Praise for Temporal blessings ; or, Common and Spiritual mercies

WE bless the Lord, the just and good,
 Who fills our hearts with joy and food :
 Who pours his blessings from the skies,
 And loads our days with rich supplies.

He sends the sun his circuit round
 To cheer the fruits to war'm the ground ;

He bids the clouds with pleat'us rain
Refresh the thirsty earth again.

3 'Tis to his care we owe our breath,
And all our near escapes from death;
Safety and health to God belong;
He heals the weak and guards the strong.

4 He makes the faint and sinner prove
The common blessings of his love;
But the wide distance which remains,
Is endless joys, or endless pains.

5 The Lord, who bruif'd the serpent's head,
On all the serpent's seed shall tread:
The stubborn sinner's hope confound,
And smite him with a lasting wound.

6 But his right-hand his saints shall raise,
From the deep earth or deeper seas,
And bring them to his Courts above;
There shall they taste his special love.

P S A L M LXIX. First Part. Com. Metre.

The sufferings of Christ for our salvation.

- SAVE me O God the swelling floods
Break in upon my soul!
" I sink, and sorrows o'er my head
" Like mighty waters roll.
- 2 " I cry 'till all my voice be gone;
" In tears I waste the day:
" My God! behold my longing eyes!
" And shorten thy delay.
- 3 " They hate my soul, without a cause,
" And still their number grows
" More than the hairs around my head,
" And mighty are my foes.
- 4 " 'Twas then I paid that dreadful debt
" Which men could never pay,

- “ And gave those honors to thy law,
 “ Which Sinners took away.”
- 5 Thus, in the great Messiah's name,
 The Royal Prophet mourns ;
 Thus he awakes our hearts to grief,
 And gives us joy by turns.
- 6 “ Now shall the faint's rejoice, and find “ Salvation in my name ;
 “ For I have borne their heavy load
 “ Of sorrow, pain, and shame.
- 7 “ Grief like a garment cloth'd me round,
 “ And sackcloth was my dress,
 “ While I procur'd for naked souls
 “ A robe of righteousness.
- 8 “ Among my brethren, and the Jews,
 “ I, like a stranger stood,
 “ And bore their vile reproach, to bring
 “ The Gentiles near to God.
- 9 “ I came, in sinful mortals' stead,
 “ To do my Father's will ;
 “ Yet, when I cleans'd my Father's house,
 “ They scandalis'd my zeal.
- 10 “ My fasting and my holy groans
 “ Were made the drunkard's song,
 “ But God from his celestial throne
 “ Heard my complaining tongue.
- 11 “ He sav'd me from the dreadful deep,
 “ Nor let my soul be drown'd ;
 “ He rais'd and fix'd my sinking feet
 “ On well establish'd ground.
- 12 “ Twas in a most accepted hour
 “ My pray'r arose on high,
 “ And for my sake, my God shall hear
 “ The dying sinners cry.”

P S A L M LXIX. Second part. Com. metre.

The Passion and exaltation of Christ.

NO W let our lips with holy fear
And mournful pleasure sing
The Sufferings of our great High Priest.
The sorrows of our King.

2 He sinks in floods of deep distress ;
How high the waters rise !

While to his heav'nly Father's ear
He sends perpetual cries !

3 "Hear me O Lord and save thy Son,
" Nor hide thy shining face ;

" Why should thy fav'rite look like one
" Forsaken of thy grace ?

4 " With rage they persecute the MAN
" Who groans beneath thy wound,

" While for a sacrifice I pour
" My life upon the ground,

5 " They tread my honor to the dust,
" And laugh when I complain ;

" Their sharp insulting slanders add
" Fresh anguish to my pain.

6 " All my reproach is known to thee ;
" The Scandal and the shame ;

" Reproach has broke my bleeding heart,
" And lies defil'd my name.

7 " I look'd for pity, but in vain ;
" My kindred are my grief ;

" I ask my friends for comfort round,
" But meet with no relief.

8 " With vinegar they mock my thirst ;
" They give me gall for food ;

" And, sporting with my dying groans,
" They triumph in my blood."

- 9 " Shine into my distressed soul ;
 " Let thy compassion save ;
 " And, tho' my flesh sink down to death,
 " Redeem it from the grave.
- 10 " I shall arise to praise thy name,
 " Shall reign in worlds unknown,
 " And thy salvation, O my God !
 " Shall seat me on thy Throne."

PSALM LXIX. Third part. Com. metre.

Christ's Obedience and Death ; or, God glorified and sinners saved

FATHER, I sing thy wond'rous grace ;
 I bless my Saviour's name ;
 He bought salvation for the poor,
 And bore the sinner's shame.

2 His deep distress has rais'd us high ;
 His duty and his zeal

Fulfil'd the law which mortals broke,
 And finish'd all thy will.

3 His dying groans, his living songs
 Shall better please my God,
 Than harp or trumpet's solemn sound,
 Than goat's or bullocks' blood.

4 This shall his humble fol'wers see,
 And set their hearts at rest ;
 They by his death draw near to thee,
 And live for ever blest.

5 Let heav'n and all who dwell on high,
 To God their voices raise,

While lands and seas assist the sky,
 And join t' advance his praise.

6 Sion is thine, Most Holy God
 Thy Son shall bless her gates ;
 And glory, purchas'd by his blood,
 For thine own Isr'el waits.

PSALM LXIX. First part. Long metre*Christ's passion, and sinner's salvation.*

DEEP in our hearts let us record
The deeper sorrows of our Lord :
Behold the rising billows roll
To overwhelm his righteous soul !

2 In long complaints he spends his breath,
While hosts of hell, and pow'rs of death,
And all the sons of malice join
To execute their curst design.

3 Yet, gracious God, thy pow'r and love
Have made the curse a blessing prove ;
Those dreadful sufferings of thy Son
Aton'd for sins which we have done.

4 The pangs of our expiring Lord,
The honor of thy law restor'd :
His sorrows made thy justice known,
And paid for follies not his own.

5 O, for his sake, our guilt forgive,
And let the mourning sinner live !
The Lord will hear us in his name,
Nor shall our hope be turn'd to shame.

P S A L M LXIX. Second part. Long metre.Christ's sufferings and zeal.

IT WAS for thy sake, Eternal God,
Thy Son sustain'd that heavy load
Of base reproach, and sore disgrace,
And shame defil'd His sacred face.

2 The Jews, his brethren and his kin,
Abus'd the MAN who check'd their sin ;
While he fulfill'd thy holy laws,
They hate him but without a cause.

¶ My Father's house (said he) was made
A place for worship, not for trade :

Then, scatt'ring all their gold and brass,
He scourg'd the merchants from the place.]

[4 Zeal for the temple of his God
Consum'd his life expos'd his blood ;
Reproaches at Thy Glory thrown,
He felt, and mourn'd them as his own]

5 His friends forsook his fol'wers fled,
While foes and arms surround his head ;
They curse him with a slanderous tongue,
The Judge, unjust, maintains the wrong.

6 His life they load with hateful lies,
And charge his lips with blasphemies ;
They nail him to the shameful tree ;
There hung the MAN who dy'd for me !

7 Wretches, with hearts as hard as stones,
Insult his piety and groans ;
Gall was the food they gave him there,
And mock'd His thirst with vinegar.]

8 But, God beheld and from his throne
Marks out the men who hate his Son :
The hand which rais'd him from the dead,
Shall pour the vengeance on their head.

P S A L M LXXI. First part. Com. metres

The aged saint's reflection and hope.

MY God, My everlasting hope,
I live upon thy truth :
Thine hands have held my childhood up,
And strengthen'd all my youth.

2 My flesh was fashion'd by thy pow'r,
With all these limbs of mine ;
And from my mother's painful hour,
I've been entirely thine.

3 Still has my life new wonders seen
Repeated ev'ry year ;

Behold ! my days which yet remain,
I trust them to thy care.

4 Cast me not off, when strength declines,
When hoary hairs arise ;
And round me let thy glory shine,
When e'er thy servant dies.

5 Then in the hist'ry of my age,
When men review my days,
They'll read thy love in ev'ry page,
In ev'ry line, thy praise.

P S A L M LXXI. Second part. Com. metre.

Christ our strength and righteousness.

MY Saviour, my Almighty Friend,
When I begin thy praise,
Where will the growing numbers end,
The numbers of thy grace ?

2 Thou art my Everlasting Trust,
Thy goodness I adore ;
And, since I knew thy graces first,
I speak thy glories more.

3 My feet shall travel all the length
Of the celestial road,
And march with courage in thy strength,
To see my Father God,

4 When I am fill'd with sore distress
For some surprising sin.
I'll plead Thy perfect righteousness,
And mention none but Thine.

5 How will my lips reioice to tell
The vict'ries of my King !
My soul redeem'd from sin and hell,
Shall thy salvation sing.

6 My tongue shall all the day proclaim
My saviour and my God ;

His death has brought my foes to shame,
And drown'd them in his blood.

7 Awake, awake, my tuneful pow'rs :
With this delightful song
I'll entertain the darkest hours,
Nor think the season long]

P S A L M LXXI. Third part. com. metre.

*The aged Christian's prayer and song ; or. Old age,
Death and the Resurrection.*

GOD of my childhood and my youth,
Thou guide of all my days,
I have declar'd thy heav'nly truths,
And told thy wond'rous ways.

2 Wilt thou forsake my hoary hairs ;
And leave my tainting heart ?
Who shall sustain my sinking years,
If God, my strength, depart ?

3 Let me thy pow'r and truth proclaim
To the surviving age,
And leave a favor of thy name
When I shall quit the stage.

4 The land of silence, and of death,
Attends my next remove ;
O may these poor remains of breath
Teach the wide world thy love !

P A U S E.

5 Thy righteousness is deep and high
Unsearchable thy deeds ;
Thy glory spreads beyond the sky,
And all my praise exceeds.

6 Oft have I heard thy threat'nings roar,
And oft endur'd the grief ;
But when thy hand has press'd me sore,
Thy grace was my relief.

P S A L M LXXIII. First part. Com. metre.

Afflicted Saints happy, and prosperous Sinners cur'd.

NOW I'm convinc'd the Lord is kind
To men of heart sincere ;
Yet once my foolish thoughts repin'd,
And border'd on despair.

2 I griev'd to see the wicked thrive,
And spoke with angry breath ;

"How pleasant and profane they live!
"How peaceful is their death !

3 "With well fed flesh, and haughty eyes,
"They lay their fears to sleep ;

"Against the heav'ns their slanders rise ;
"While faints in silence, weep.

4 "In vain I lift my hands to pray,
"And cleanse my heart in vain ;

"For I am chasten'd all the day,
"The night renews my pain."

5 Yet, while my tongue indulg'd complaints,
I felt my heart reprove ;

"Sure I shall thus offend thy faints,
"And grieve the men I love."

6 But still I found my doubts too hard ;
The conflict too severe ;

"Till I retir'd to search thy word.
And learn the secret there.

7 There, as in some prophetic glass,
I saw the sinner's feet,

High mounted on a slipp'ry place,
Above a fiery pit.

8 I heard the wretch profanely boast,
'Till, at thy frown, he fell ;

His honors in a dream were lost,
And he awoke in hell.

9 Lord, what an envious fool I was !
How like a thoughtless beast !

Thus to suspect thy promis'd grace,
And think the wicked blest.

10 Yet I was kept from fall despair,
Upheld by pow'r unknown:
That blessed hand which broke the snare,
Shall guide me to thy throne.

P S A L M LXXIII. Second part. Com. metre.

God, our portion here and hereafter.

GOD, my supporter and my hope,
My help forever near,
Thine arm of mercy held me up
When sinking in despair

2 Thy counsels, Lord, shall guide my feet
Through this dark wilderness!
Thine hand conduct me near thy seat,
To dwell before thy face.

3 Were I in heav'n, without my God,
'T would be no joy to me;
And whilst this earth is my abode,
I long for none but thee.

4 What if the springs of life were broke,
And flesh and heart should faint?
God is my soul's Eternal Rock,
The strength of ev'ry saint.

5 Behold! the sinners who remove
Far from thy presence die;
Not all the idol gods they love,
Can save them, when they cry.

6 But, to draw near to thee, my God,
Shall be my sweet employ;
My tongue shall sound thy works abroad,
And tell the world my joy.

P S A L M LXXIII. Long metre.

The prosperity of sinners cursed.

LORD, what a thoughtless wretch was I
To mourn and murmur, and repine,

To see the wicked, plac'd on high,
In pride, and robes of honor shine !

2 But Oh ! their end, their dreadful end !
Thy sanctuary taught me so :
On slipp'ry rocks I see them stand,
And fiery billows roll below !

3 Now, let them boast how tall they rise !
I'll never envy them again :
There they may stand with haughty eyes,
'Till they plunge deep in endless pain.

4 Their fancy'd joys how fast they flee !
Just like a dream when man awakes ;
Their songs of softest harmony
Are but a preface to their plagues.

5 Now I esteem their mirth and wine
Too dear to purchase with my blood ;
Lord, 'tis enough that thou art mine,
My life, my portion, and my God !

PSALM LXXIII. Short. metre

The mystery of Providence unfolded.

SURE there's a righteous God,
Nor is religion vain :
Though men of vice may boast aloud,
And men of grace complain.

2 I saw the wicked rise,
And felt my heart repine,
While haughty fools with scornful eyes
In robes of honor shine.

[3 Pamper'd with wanton ease
Their flesh looks full and fair ;
Their wealth rolls in, like flowing seas,
And grows without their care.

4 Free from the plagues and pains
Which pious souls endure,
Through all their life oppression reigns,
And racks the humble poor.

- 5 Their imp'ous tongues blaspheme
The everlasting God ;
Their malice blasts the good man's name
And spreads its lies abroad.
- 6 But I, with flowing tears,
Indulg'd my doubts 'o rise ;
" Is there a God who sees or hears
" The things below the skies ?"]
- 7 The tumults of my thoughts
Held me in hard suspense,
"Till to thy house my feet were brought
To learn thy justice thence.
- 8 Thy word, with light and pow'r
Did my mistakes amend ;
I view'd the sinner's life before,
But here I learnt their end.
- 9 On what a slipp'ry sleep
The thoughtless wretches go !
And Oh ! that dreadful fire deep
Which waits their fall below !
- 10 Lord, at thy feet I bow,
My thoughts no more repine ;
I call my God my portion now,
And all my pow'rs are thine.

P S A L M LXXIV.

The Church pleading with God under sore persecution.

- WILL God forever cast us off ?
His wrath forever smother
Against the people of his love
His little chosen flock ?
- 2 Think of the tribes so dearly bought
With their Redeemer's blood ;
Nor let thy Zion be forgot,
Where once thy glory stood.
- 3 Lift up thy feet and march in haste,
Aloud our ruin calls ;

- See what a wide and fearful waste
Is made within thy walls!
- 4 Where once thy churches pray'd and sang
Thy foes profanely roar;
Over thy gates their ensigns hang,
Sad tokens of their pow'r.
- 5 How are the seats of worship broke!
They tear thy buildings down;
And he who deals the heav'est stroke,
Procures the chief renown.
- 6 With flames they threaten to destroy,
Thy children in their nest;
Come, let us burn at once (they cry)
The temple and the priest.
- 7 And still to heighten our distress,
Thy presence is withdrawn;
Thy wonted signs of pow'r and grace,
Thy pow'r and grace are gone.
- 8 No prophet speaks to calm our woes,
But all the Seers mourn;
There's not a soul among us knows
The time of thy return.

P A U S E.

- 9 How long, Eternal God, how long,
Shall men of pride blaspheme?
Shall saints be made their endless song,
And bear immortal shame.
- 10 Canst thou forever sit and hear
Thine holy name profan'd?
And still thy jealousy forbear,
And still withhold thine hand?
- 11 What strange deliv'rance hast thou shown
In ages long before?
And, now, no other God we own;
No other God adore.

- 12 Thou didst divide the raging sea,
By thy resistless might,
To make thy tribes a wond'rous way,
And then secure their flight.
- 13 Is not the world of nature thine?
The darkness and the day?
Didst not thou bid the morning shine,
And mark the sun his way?
- 14 Hath not thy pow'r form'd ev'ry coast,
And set the earth its bounds,
With summer's heat and winter's frost,
In their perpet'ual rounds?
- 15 And shall the sons of earth and dust
That Sacred Pow'r blaspheme?
Will not thy hand which form'd them first,
Avenge thy injur'd name?
- 16 Think on the cov'nant thou hast made,
And all thy words of love;
Nor let the birds of prey invade,
And vex thy mourning dove.
- 17 Our foes would triumph in our blood,
And make our hope their jest;
Plead thine own cause, Almighty God,
And give thy children rest.

PSALM LXXV.

Power and government from God alone.

*Applied to the glorious revolution in America,
July 4th, 1776.*

TO thee, Most Holy, and Most High,
To thee we bring our thankful praise
Thy works declare thy hand is nigh,
Thy works of wonder and of grace.

2 America was doom'd a slave,
Her frame dissolv'd, her fears were great
When God a righteous Council gave,
To bear the pillars of the State.

P S A L M LXXVI.

1 Thy pow'r receiv'd their own,
 And made them free by wholesome laws ;
 The haughty great oppressors down,
 Thy might brought to the righteous cause.
 4 Let them that sinners sink their pride,
 And all that glory in their scornful head :
 Let all their vain thoughts aside,
 And see the wonders which God hath made,
 6 His mercies never come by chance,
 Nor do the winds promotion blow ;
 7 The Lord the Judge doth one advance,
 And doth another who has another low.

8 No vain pretence to royal birth
 Shall chain us to a tyrant's throne ;
 God the Great Sov'reign of the earth,
 Shall crush usurpers with his frown.

[7 His hand holds out the dreadful cup
 Of vengeance, mix'd with various plagues,
 And makes the wicked drink them up,
 Wring out, and taste the bitter dregs.

8 Now shall the Lord exalt the just,
 And, while he tramples on the proud,
 And lays their glory in the dust,
 Our lips shall sing his praise aloud.]

P S A L M LXXVI.

*Israel saved, and the Assyrians destroyed ; or,
 God's vengeance against his enemies proceeds from his Church.*

IN Judah God of old was known ;
 His name in Isr'el great ;
 In Salem stood his holy throne,
 And Zion was his seat.

12 Among the praises of his saints,
 His dwelling there he chose ;
 There he receiv'd their just complaints,
 Against their haughty foes.

- 3 From Zion went his dreadful word
And broke the threat'ning spear,
The bow, the arrows and the sword,
And crush'd th' Affyr'an war;
- 4 What are the earths wide kingdoms else
But mighty hills of prey?
The hill on which JEROVAH dwells
Is glorious more than they.
- 5 'Twas, Zion's king who stopp'd the breath
Of captains and their bands :
The men of might slept fast in death,
And never found their hands.
- 6 At thy rebuke, O Jacob's God,
Both horse and char'ot fell :
Who knows the terrors of thy rod?
Thy vengeance who can tell?
- 7 What pow'r can stand before thy sight
When once thy wrath appears?
Then heav'n thines round with dreadful light ;
While earth lies still and fears.
- 8 When God, in his own sov'reign ways,
Comes down to save th' oppress'd,
The wrath of man shall work his praise,
And he'll restrain the rest.
- [9 Vow to the Lord, and tribute bring,
Ye princes, fearless frown :
His terror shakes the proudest king,
And cuts an army down.
- 10 The thunder of his sharp rebuke
Our haughty foes shall feel :
For Jacob's God hath not forsook,
But dwells in Zion still.]

P S A L M LXXVII. First part.

M-lancholy assaulting, and Hope prevailing.

TO GOD I cry'd with mounful voice ;
I sought his gracious ear,

- In the sad day, when troubles rose,
And fill'd the night with fear.
- 2 Sad were my days, and dark my nights,
My soul refus'd relief;
- I thought on God, the just and wise,
But thoughts increas'd my grief.
- 3 Still I complain'd, and still oppress'd,
My heart began to break;
My God, thy wrath forbade my rest,
And kept mine eyes awake.
- 4 My overwhelming sorrows grew
'Till I could speak no more;
Then I within myself withdrew,
And call'd thy judgments o'er.
- 5 I call'd back years and ancient times,
When I beheld thy face;
My spirit search'd for secret crimes
Which might withhold thy grace.
- 6 I call'd thy mercies to my mind
Which I enjoy'd before:
And will the Lord no more be kind?
His face appear no more?
- 7 Will he forever cast me off?
His promise ever fail?
Has He forgot his tender love?
Shall anger still prevail?
- 8 But I forbid this hopeless thought,
This dark despairing frame,
Rememb'ring what thy hand hath wrought;
Thy hand is still the same.
- 9 I'll think again of all my ways;
And talk thy wonders o'er;
Thy wonders of recov'ring grace,
When flesh could help no more.
- 10 Grace dwells with justice on the throne,
And men who love thy word

Have in thy sanctuary known
The counsels of the Lord.

*Comfort derived from ancient providences; or,
Israel delivered from Egypt, and brought to Canaan.*

“ HOW awful is thy chast’ning rod !”
(May thy own children say)

“ The great, the wise, the dreadful God,
“ How holy is his way !”

2 I’ll meditate his works of old :
The king who reigns above,
I’ll hear his ancient wonders told,
And learn to trust his love.

3 Long did the house of Joseph lie
With Egypt’s yoke oppress’d ;
Long he delay’d to hear their cry,
Nor gave his people rest.

4 The sons of good old Jacob seem’d
Abandon’d to their foes :
But his Almighty Arm redeem’d
The nation which he chose.

5 Isr’el, his people and his sheep,
Must follow where he calls ;
He bade them venture through the deep,
And made the waves their walls.

6 The waters saw thee, Mighty God !
The waters saw thee come !
Backward they fled, and frighted stood,
To make thine armies room.

7 Strange was thy journey through the sea ;
Thy footsteps Lord, unknown !
Terrors attend the wond’rous way
Which brings thy mercy down.

- 8 Thy voice, with terror in the sound,
Through clouds and darkness broke;
All heav'n in light'ning shone around,
And earth with thunder shook,
- 9 Thine arrows through the sky were hurl'd;
How glorious is the Lord!
Surprise and trembling seiz'd the world,
And humbled saints ador'd.
- 10 He gave them water from the rock;
And safe, by Moses' hand
Through a dry desert led his flock
Home to the promis'd land.]

Providences of God recorded; or, Pious education and instruction of Children.

LET children hear the mighty deeds
Which God perform'd of old;
Which in our younger years we saw,
And which our fathers told.

2 He bids us make his glories known,
His works of pow'r and grace:
And we'll convey his wonders down
Through ev'ry rising race.

3 Our lips shall tell them to our sons,
And they again to their's,
That generations yet unborn
May teach them to their heirs.

4 Thus shall they learn, in God alone
Their hope securely stands,
That they may ne'er forget his works
But practise his commands.

PSALM LXXVIII. Second part Com. metre.

Israel's rebellion and punishments; or, the sins and chastisements of God's people.

O WHAT a stiff rebellious house
Was Jacob's ancient race!

- False to their own most solemn vows,
And to their Maker's grace.
- 2 They broke the cov'nant of his love,
And did his laws despise ;
Forgot the works he wrought to prove
His pow'r before their eyes
- 3 They saw the plagues on Egypt light
From his revenging hand :
What dreadful tokens of his might
Spread o'er the stubborn land !
- 4 They saw him cleave the mighty sea,
And march'd in safety through,
With wat'ry walls to guard their way,
'Till they had 'scap'd the foe.
- 5 A wond'rous pillar mark'd the road,
Compos'd of shade and light ;
By day it prov'd a shelt'ring cloud,
A leading fire by night,
- 6 He from the rock their thirst suppli'd
The gu'ning waters fell ;
And ran in rivers by their side,
A constant miracle !
- 7 Yet they provok'd the Lord Most High,
And dar'd distrust his hand ;
*Can he with bread our host supply,
Amidst this de art land ?*
- 8 The Lord with indignation heard,
And caus'd his wrath to flame ;
His terrors ever stand prepar'd
To vindicate His Name.

P S A L M LXXVIII, Third Part. Com. metre.

The punishment of luxury and intemperance ; or Chastisement and Salvation

WHEN Ir'el sins, the Lord reproves,
And fills their hearts with dread,

Yet, he forgives the men he loves,
And sends them heav'nly bread.

2 He fed them with a lib'ral hand,
And made his treasures known ;
He gave the midnight-clouds command
To pour provision down.

3 The manna, like a morning show'r,
Lay thick around their feet ;
The corn of heav'n, so light, so pure,
As though 'twere angels, meat.

4 But they, in murm'ring language, said,
" Manna is all our feast ;
" We loath this light this airy bread ;
" We must have flesh to taste,"

5 "Ye shall have flesh to plea'e your lust,"
The Lord, in wrath reply'd ;
And sent them quails like sand or dust,
Heap'd up from side to side.

6 He gave them all their own desire ;
And greedy as they fed,
His vengeance burnt with secret fire,
And smote the rebels dead.

7 When some where slain the rest return'd,
And sought the Lord with tears :
Under the rod they fear'd and mourn'd,
But soon forgot their fears.

8 Oft he chastis'd and still forgave,
'Till by his gracious hand,
The nation he resolv'd to save,
Possess'd the promis'd land.

P S A L M LXXVIII. Fourth Part Long metre.

Backsliding and forgiveness ; or. Sin punished, and Saints saved

GREAT God ! how oft did Isr'el prove
By turns, thine anger and thy love ?

There in a glass our hearts may see
How sickle and how false they be.

2 How soon the faithless Jews forgot
The dreadful wonders God had wrought!
Then they provoke him to his face,
Nor fear his pow'r nor trust his grace.

3 The Lord consum'd their years in pain,
And made their travels long and vain;
A tedious march, through unknown ways,
Wore out their strength and spent their days.

4 Oft when they saw their brethren slain,
They mourn'd and fought the Lord again;
Call'd him the Rock of their abode,
Their High Redeemer, and their God.

5 Their pray'rs and vows before him rise
As flatt'ring words, or solemn lies;
While their rebellious tempers prove
False to his cov'nant and his love.

6 Yet did his sov'reign grace forgive
The men who not deserv'd to live;
His anger oft away he turn'd
Or else with gentle flame it burn'd.

7 He saw their flesh was weak and frail;
He saw temptations still prevail:
The God of Abra'm lov'd them still,
And led them to his holy hill.

GREAT Sepherd of thine Israel;
Who did'st between the cherubs dwell
And led the tribes thy chosen sheep,
Sate through the desert and the deep,

2 Thy Church is in the desert now :
Shine from on high and guide us through ;
Turn us to thee thy love restore,
We shall be sav'd and sigh no more !

3 Great God ! whom heav'nly hosts obey,
How long shall we lament and pray !
And wait, in vain thy kind return !
How long shall thy fierce anger burn ?

4 Instead of wine and chearful bread,
Thy saints with their own tears are fed !

A lovely vine in Heathen lands ?
Did not thy pow'r defend it round
And heav'nly dews enrich the ground ?

6 How did the spreading branches shoot ;
And bless the nations with the fruit !
But now dear Lord look down and see
That mourning, vine that lovely tree !

7 Why is its beauty thus defac'd ?
Why hast thou laid her fences waste !
Strangers and foes against her join ;
And ev'ry beast devours the vine.

8 Return Almighty God return ;
Nor let the bleeding vineyard mourn ;
Turn us to thee ; thy love restore ;
We shall be sav'd and sigh no more !

Till the fair BRANCH OF PROMISE rose.

From David's stock, from Jacob's root,
Himself a noble vine, and we
'The lesser branches of the tree.

11 'Tis THY OWN SON! and He shall stand
Girt with thy strength, at thy right hand :
THY FIRST-BORN SON, adoin'd and best
With pow'r and grace above the rest

12 Oh ! for his sake, attend our cry ;
Shine on thy churches, lest they die ;
Turn us to thee, thy love restore,
We shall be sav'd and sigh no more !

"But, if you will refuse your God,
"If Isr'el will rebel.

4 "I'll leave them, saith the Lord
"To their own lusts a prey,
"And let them run the dang'rous road ;

 When will you once defend the poor

A complaint against Persecutors.

A ND will the God of Grace
 Perpet' al silence keep ?
 The God of Justice hold his peace
 And let his vengeance sleep ?

2 Behold ! what cursed snares
 The men of mischief spread !
 The men who hate Thy saints and THEE
 Lift up their threat' ning head.

3 Against thy hidden ones
 Their counsels they employ,

And malice, with her watchful eye,
Pursues them, to destroy.

4 The noble and the base
Into thy pastures leap :
The lion and the stupid ass
Conspire to vex thy sheep.

5 "Come, let us join, they cry,
"To root them from the ground ;
"Till not the name of saints remain,
"Nor mem'ry shall be found."

6 Almighty God awakes,
And calis his wrath to mind ;
Gives them, like forests to the fire,
Or stubble to the wind.

7 Convince their madness, Lord,
And make them seek Thy name ;
Or else, their stubborn rage confound,
That they may die in shame.

8 Then shall the nations know
(That glor'ous dreadful word)
JEHOVAH is thy name, alone,
And thou the sov'reign Lord.

P S A L M LXXXIV First part.

The pleasure of Public Worship.

HOW pleasant, how divinely fair,
O Lord of hosts, thy dwellings are !
With long desire my spirit faints
To meet th' assemblies of thy saints.

2 My flesh would rest in thine abode ;
My panting heart cries out for God ;
My God ! my king ! why should I be
So far from all my joys, and Thee ?

3 The sparrow chooses where to rest,
And for her young provides a nest ;

But, will my God to sparrows grant
Tha pleasure, which his children want !

4 Blest are the saints who sit on high
Around thy Throne of Majesty ;
Thy brightest glories shine above,
And all their work is praise and love.

5 Blest are the souls who find a place
Within the Temple of thy Grace ;
There they behold thy gentler rays,
And seek thy face, and learn thy praise.

6 Blest are the men whose hearts are set
To find the way to Zion's gate ;
God is their strength : and, through the road,
They lean upon their helper, God.

7 Cheerful they walk with growing strength ;
'Till all shall meet in heav'n at length ;
'Till all before thy face appear,
And join in nobler worship there.

P S A L M LXXXIV. Second part. Long metre.

God and his Church ; or, Grace and Glory.

GREAT God ! attend, while Zion sings
The joy which from thy presence springs ;
To spend one day with thee, on earth,
Exceeds a thousand days of mirth.

2 Might I enjoy the meanest place
Within Thy House, O God of grace !
Not tents of ease, nor thrones of pow'r,
Should tempt my feet to leave thy door.

3 God is our Sun, he makes our day ;
God is our shield ! he guards our way
From all th' assaults of hell and sin ;
From foes without, and foes within.

4 All needful grace will God bestow,
And crown that grace with glory too ;

He gives us all things and with-holds
No real good from upright souls.

5 O God, our King whose sov'reign sway,
The glorious hosts of heav'n obey,
And devils at thy presence flee ;
Blest is the man who trusts in thee.

P S A L M LXXXIV. Paraphrased.

Delight in Ordinances of Worship ; or, God present in His Churches.

MY soul how lovely is the place
To which thy God resorts !
'Tis heav'n to see his smiling face,
Though in his earthly courts.

2 There the Great Monarch of the skies
His saving pow'r displays,
*And light breaks in upon our eyes
With kind and quick'ning rays.*

3 With his rich gifts the Heav'nly Dove
Descends and fills the place,
While Christ reveals his wond'rous love,
And sheds abroad his grace.

4 There Mighty God, thy words declare
The secrets of thy will ;
Still we will seek thy mercy there,
And sing thy praises still.

P A U S E.

5 My heart and flesh cry out for thee,
While far from thine abode ;
When shall I tread thy courts and see
My Saviour and my God ?

6 The sparrow builds herself a nest,
And suffers no remove ;
O make me like the the sparrow blest,
To dwell but where I love !

- 7 *T*o sit one day beneath thine eye,
 And hear thy gracious voice,
 Exceeds a whole eternity
 Employ'd in carnal joys.
- 8 *L*ord, at thy threshold I would wait,
 While Jesus is within,
 Rather than fill a throne of state,
 Or live in tents of sin !
- 9 *C*ould I command the spacious land,
 And the more boundless sea,
 For one blest hour at Thy Right Hand,
 I'd give them both away.

P S A L M LXXXIV.

Longing for the House of God

LORD of the worlds above,
 How pleasant and how fair
 The dwellings of thy love
 Thy earthly temples are !

To thine abode
 My heart aspires,
 With warm desires,
 To see my God.

2 *T*he sparrow for her young
 With pleasure seeks a nest,
 And wand'ring swallows long
 To find their wonted rest.

My spirit faints,
 With equal zeal,
 To rise, and dwell
 Among thy saints.

3 O happy souls ! who pray
 Where God appoints to hear !
 O happy men ! who pay
 Their constant service there !
 They praise thee still ;
 And happy they

Who love the way,
To Zion's hill.

4 They go from strength to strength
Through this dark vale of tears,
'Till each arrives at length,
'Till each in heav'n appears :
O glor'ous feat,
When God our King
Shall thither bring
Our willing feet !

P A U S E .

5 To spend one sacred day
Where God and saints abide,
Affords diviner joy
Than thousand days beside :
Where God resorts,
I love it more
To keep the door,
Than shine in courts.

6 God is our Sun and Shield,
Our Light and our Defence :
With gifts his hands are fill'd,
We draw our blessings thence :
He shall bestow,
On Jacob's race
Peculiar grace,
And glory too.

7 The Lord his people loves ;
His hand no good withholds
From those his heart approves ;
From pure and pious souls ;
Thrice happy he,
O God of hosts,
Whose spirit trusts,
Alone, in thee.

P S A L M LXXXV. First part Long metre.
Waiting for an answer to prayer; or, Deliverance begun and completed.

LORD, thou hast call'd thy grace to mind ;
 Thou hast revers'd our heavy doom :
 So God forgave, when Isr'el sinn'd
 And brought his wand'ring captives home.

2 Thou hast begun to set us free,
 And maké thy fiercest wrath abate :
 Now, let our hearts be turn'd to thee,
 And thy salvation be complete.

3 Revive our dying graces Lord,
 And let thy saints in thee rejoice ;
 Make known thy truth fulfil thy word ;
 We wait for praise to tune our voice.

4 We wait to hear what God will say ;
 He'll speak and give his people peace ;
 But let them run no more astray,
 Lest his returning wrath increase.

P S A L M LXXXV, Second part Long metre.
Salvation by Christ.

SALVATION is forever nigh
 The souls who fear and trust the Lord ;
 And grace descending from on high,
 Fieth hopes of glory shall afford,

2 Mercy and truth on earth are met,
 Since Christ the Lord came down from heav'n
 By his obed'ence so complete,
 Justice is pleas'd, and peace is giv'n.

3 Now truth and honor shall abound,
 Religion dwell on earth again,
 And heav'nly infl'ence bless the ground
 In our Redeemer's gentle reign.

4 His righteousness is gone before,
 To give us free access to God ;

Our wand'ring feet shall stray no more,
But mark his steps, and keep the road.

PSALM LXXXVI.

A general song of praise to God.

AMONN: the princes, earthly gods,
There's none hath pow'r divine;
Nor is their nature, mighty Lord,
Nor are their works like thine.

2 The nations, Thou hast made, shall bring
Their off'rings round Thy Throne;
For thou alone dost wondrous things,
For thou art God alone.

3 Lord, I would walk with holy feet;
Teach me thine heavenly ways,
And my poor scatter'd thoughts unite
In God my Father's praise.

4 Great is thy mercy, and my song
Shall those sweet wonders tell,
How, by thy grace, my sinking soul
Rose from the deeps of hell.

PSALM LXXXVII.

The Church the birth-place of the saints; or, Jews and Gentiles united in the Christian Church.

GOD, in his earthly temple, says
Foundations for his heavenly praise;
He likes the tents of Jacob well,
But, still in Zion loves to dwell.

2 His mercy visits ev'ry house
That pays its night and morning-vows;
But makes a more delightful stay
Where churches meet to praise and pray.

3 What glories were describ'd of old!
What wonders are of Zion told!
Thou city of our God be'ow,
Thy fame shall Tyre and Egypt know,

4 Egypt and Tyre and Greek and Jew,
 Shall there begin their lives anew :
 Angels and men shall join, to sing
 The Hill where Living Waters spring.

5 When God makes up his last account
 Of natives, in his holy mount,
 'Twill be an honor to appear
 As one new-born or nourish'd there.

P S A L M LXXXIX. First part: Long. met.
The Covenant made with Christ; or, The trust
David.

FOR ever shall my song record
 The truth and mercy of the Lord :
 Mercy and truth forever stand,
 Like heav'n, establish'd by his hand.

2. Thus, to His Son, he sware, and said;
 " With thee my cov'nant first is made :
 " In thee shall dying sinners live :
 " Glory and grace are thine to give.

3. " Be thou my Prophet, thou my priest;
 " Thy children shall be ever blest :
 " Thou art my chosen King ; thy throne
 " Shall stand eternal, like my own.

4. " There's none of all my sons above
 " So much my image or my love ;
 " Celestial pow'rs thy subjects are,
 " Then what can earth to thee compare ?

5. " David, my servant, whom I chose
 To guard my flock, to crush my foes,
 " (And rais'd him to the Jewish throne)
 " Was but a shadow of My Son."

6 Now let the Church rejoice and sing,
 Jesus her Saviour, and her King !
 Angels his heavn'ly wonders show !
 And saints declare his works below !

P S A L M LXXXIX. First part, Com metre.The faithfulness of God.

MY never ceasing songs shall show
The mercies of the Lord ;
And make succeeding ages know
How faithful is his word.

2 The sacred truths his lips pronounce
Shall firm as heav'n endure :

And if he speak a promise once,
Th' eternal grace is sure.

3 How long the race of David held
The promis'd Jewish throne !
But there's a nobler cov'nant seal'd
To David's Greater Son.

4 This seed forever shall possess
The throne above the skies ;
The meanest subject of his grace
Shall to that glory rise.

5 Lord God of Hosts thy wond'rous ways
Are sung by saints above,
And saints on earth their honors raise
To thy unchanging love.

P S A L M LXXXIX. Second part.. Com. metre.The power and majesty of God ; or, Reverential worship.

WITH rev'ence, let the saints appear
And bow before the Lord :

His high commands with rev'ence hear,
And tremble at his word.

2 How terrible thy glories be !
How bright thine armies shine !

Where is the pow'r which vies with thee ?
Or truth compar'd to thine ?

3 The Northern pole, and Southern rest
On thy supporting hand ;

Darkness and day, from East to West,
Move round at thy command.

4 Thy words the raging winds controul,
And rule the boist'rous deep !

Thou mak'st the sleeping billows roll,
The rolling billows sleep.

5 Heav'n earth and air and sea are thine,
And the dark world of hell !

How did thine arm in vengeance shine
When Egypt durst rebel !

6 Justice and judgment are thy throne ;
Yet wond'rous is thy grace ;

While truth and mercy join'd in one,
Invite us near thy face.

P S A L M LXXXIX. Third part.

The blessed Gospel.

BLEST are the souls who hear and know
The gospel's joyful sound ;
Peace shall attend the paths they go,
And light their steps around.

2 Their joy shall bear their spirits up,
Through their Redeemer's name ;

His righteousness exalts their hope,
Nor Satan e'er can condemn.

3 The Lord, our glory and defence,
Strength and salvation gives :

Ir'el thy King forever reigns,
Thy God forever lives !

P S A L M LXXXIX. Fourth Part Com. metre.

Christ's mediatorial Kingdom ! or, His Divine and Human nature.

HEAR what the Lord in vision said,
And made his mercy known .

" Sinners, behold ! your help is laid

" On my Almighty Son. "

- 2 Behold THE MAN my wisdom chose
Among your mortal race !
His head my holy oil o'erflows,
The Spirit of my grace.
- 3 High shall he reign on David's throne.
My people's better King ;
My arm shall beat his rivals down,
And still new subjects bring.
- 4 My truth shall guard him in his way,
With mercy by his side ;
While in my name through earth and sea,
He shall in triumph ride.
- 5 Me for his Father and his God,
He shall forever own ;
Call me his Rock, his High Abode,
And I'll support My Son.
- 6 MY FIRST BORN SON array'd in grace,
At my right hand shall sit ;
Beneath him angels know their place,
And Monarchs, at his feet.
- 7 My covenant stands forever fast ;
My promises are strong ;
Firm as the heav'ns His Throne shall last,
His seed endure as long.

P S A L M LXXXIX. Fifth part Com. metre.
The Covenant of Grace unchangeable ; or, Afflic-tion without Rejection.

YET (saith the Lord) if David's race,
The children of my Son,
Should break my laws abuse my grace,
And tempt my anger down.

- 2 Their sins I'll visit with the rod,
And make their folly smart ;
But I'll not cease to be their God ;
Nor from my truth depart.

- 3 My cov'nant I will ne'er revoke,
 But keep my grace a mind;
 And what Eternal Love hath spoke,
 Eternal Truth shall bind.
- 4 Once have I sworn (I need no more)
 And pledg'd my holiness
 To seal the sacred promise sure
 To David and his race.
- 5 The Sun shall see his offspring rise,
 And spread from sea to sea;
 Long as he travels round the skies
 To give the nations day.
- 6 Sure as the moon which rules the night,
 His kingdom shall endure;
 'Till the fix'd laws of shade and light
 Shall be observ'd no more.

P S A L M LXXXIX. Sixth part Long met.

Mortality and Hope.

A Funeral Psalm.

- REMEMBER, Lord our mortal state.
 How frail our life how short the date!
 Where is the man who draws his breath
 Safe from disease, secure from death?
- 2 Lord while we see whole nations die.
 Our flesh and sense repine and cry,
 "Must death forever rage and reign"
 "Or hast thou made mankind in vain?"
- 3 Where is thy promise to the just?
 Are not thy servants turn'd to dust?
 But faith forbids these mournful signs,
 And sees the sleeping dust arise.
- 4 That glor'ous hour, that dreadful day
 Wipes the reproach of sinners away,
 And clears the honor of thy word!
 Awake our souls, and bless the Lord.

P S A L M LXXXIX. XC, 165
P S A L M LXXXIX. Last part.

Life, Death and the Resurrection.

THINK mighty God, on feeble man,
How few his hours! how short his span
Short from the cradle to the grave!
Who can secure his vital breath,
Against the bold demands of death;
With skill to fly, or pow'r to save?

2 Lord, shall it be forever said,
"The race of man was only made
"For sickness, sorrow and the dust?"
Are not thy servants day by day,
Sent to their graves and turn'd to clay?
Lord where's thy kindness to the just?

3 Hast thou not promisd to thy Son,
And all his seed a heavenly crown?
But flesh and sense indulge despair:
Forever blessed be the Lord!
That faith can read his Holy Word,
And find a resurrection there.

4 Forever blessed be the Lord!
Who gives his saints a long reward
For all their toil, reproach and pain:
Let all below, and all above,
Join to proclaim thy wondrous love,
And each repeat aloud Amen.

P S A L M XC. Long metre,

Man mortal. God, eternal.

A mournful song at a funeral.

THROUGH ev'ry age, Eternal God,
Thou art our rest, our safe abode;
High was thy throne e'er heav'n was made.
Or earth thy humble footstool laid.

2 Long hadst thou reign'd e'er time began,
Or dust was fashion'd to a man;

And long thy kingdom shall endure
When earth and time shall be no more.

3 But man, weak man is born to die ;
Made up of guilt and vanity :
Thy dreadful sentence Lord was just,
Return, ye sinners to your dust.

4 [A thousand of our years amount
Scarce to a day in thine account ;
Like yesterday's departed light,
Or the last watch of ending night.]

P A U S E.

5 Death like an overflowing stream,
Sweeps us away : our life's a dream :
An empty tale ; a morning flow'r,
Cut down and wither'd in an hour :

6 [Our age to sev'nty years is set:
How short the term ! how frail the state !
And if to eighty we arrive,
We rather sigh and groan than live.

7 But Oh ! how oft thy wrath appears,
And cuts off our expect'd years !
Thy wrath awakes our humble dread ;
We fear that pow'r which strikes us dead .]

8 Teach us O Lord how frail is man !
And kindly lengthen out our span,
'Till a wise care of piety
Fit us to die and dwell with thee.

P S A L M XC. First Part. Com. metes
Man, frail. God, eternal.

O UR God, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come,
Our shelter from the stormy blast,
And our eternal home !

2 Under the shadow of thy throne,
Thy saints have dwelt secure :

- Sufficient is thine arm alone,
And our defence is sure.
- 3 Before the hills in order stood,
Or earth receiv'd her frame,
From everlasting thou art God,
To endless years the same.
- 4 Thy word commands our flesh to dust,
Return ye Sons of men ;
All nations rose from earth at first,
And turn to earth again.
- 5 A thousand ages in Thy fight
Are like an ev'ning gone ;
Short as the watch which ends the night
Before the Rising sun.
- 6 The busy tribes of flesh and blood,
With all their lives and cares,
Are carry'd downwards by the flood,
And lost in foll'wing years.
- 7 Time, like an ever-rolling stream,
Bears all its sons away ;
They fly, forgotten, as a dream
Dies at the op'ning day.
- 8 Like flow'ry fields the nations stand,
Pleas'd with the morning light ;
The flow'rs beneath the mower's hand,
Lie with'ring e'er 'tis night.]
- 9 Our God, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come !
Be thou our guard while troubles last,
And our eternal home.

PSALM XC. Second part.

*Infirmities and mortality the effect of sin ; or, Life,
old age, and preparation for Death.*

LORD, if thine eyes survey our faults,
And justice grow severe,

Thy dreadful wrath exceeds our thoughts
And burns beyond our fear.

2 Thine anger turns our frame to dust :
By one offence to thee,
Adam, with all his sons, have lost
Their immortality.

3 Life, like a vain amusement, flies,
A fable or a song :

By swift degrees our nature dies,
Nor can our joys be long.

4 'Tis but a few whose days amount
To threescore years and ten ;
And all beyond that short account
Is sorrow, toil, and pain.

3 [Our vitals, with labor'ous strife,
Bear up the crazy load :
And drag those poor remains of life
Along the tiresome road.]

6 Almighty God, reveal thy love.
And not thy wrath alone :
O let our sweet exper'ence prove
The mercies of thy throne !

7 Our souls would learn the heav'nly art
T' improve the hours we have ;
That we may act the wiser part,
And live beyond the grave.

P S A L M X C. Third Part.

Breathing after Heaven.

RETURN, O God of love, return !
Earth is a tiresome place ;
How long shall we, thy children mourn
Our absence from thy face ?

2 Let heav'n succeed our painful years :
Let sin and sorrow cease :
Let mercy wipe away our tears,
And make our joys increase.

PSALM XC. XCI.

169

- 3 Thy wonders to thy servants show ;
 Make Thy own work complete ;
 Then shall our souls thy glory know,
 And own thy love was great.
- 4 Then shall we shine, before thy throne,
 In all thy beauty, Lord ;
 And the poor service we have done
 Meet undeserv'd reward.

PSALM XC. Short metre.

The frailty and shortness of Life.

- LORD, what a feeble piece
 Is this our mortal frame !
 Our life, how poor a trifle 'tis,
 Which scarce deserves the name !
- 2 Alas the brittle clay
 Which built our body first !
 And ev'ry month, and ev'ry day
 'Tis mould'ring back to dust.
- 3 Our moments fly a pace,
 Nor will our minutes stay ;
 Just like a flood, our hasty days
 Are sweeping us away.
- 4 Well, if our days must fly,
 We'll keep their end in sight :
 We'll spend them all in wisdom's way,
 And let them speed their flight.
- 5 They'll waft us sooner o'er
 This life's tempest'ous sea :
 Soon we shall reach the peaceful shore
 Of blest eternity.

PSALM XCI. First part. Long metre.

Safety in public dilectes and dangers.

- HE who hath made his refuge, God,
 Shall find a most secure abode ;

Shall walk all day beneath his shade,
And there at night, shall rest his head:

2 Then will I say, " My God, thy pow'r
" Shall be my fortress and my tow'r:
" I, who am form'd of feeble dust,
" Make thine Almighty arm my trust."

3 Thrice happy man ! thy Maker's care
Shall keep me from the fowler's snare !
Satan, the fowler, who betrays
Unguarded souls, a thousand ways.

4 Just as a hen protects her brood
(From birds of prey which seek their blood)
Under her feathers ; so, the Lord
Makes his Own Arm his people's guard.

5 If burning beams of noon conspire
To dart a pestilential fire,
God is their life ; His Wings are spread
To shield them with a healthful shade.

6 If vapours, with malignant breath,
Rise thick, and scatter midnight death,
Isr'el is safe : the poison'd air
Grows pure, if Isr'el's God be there.

P A U S E.

7 What though a thousand at thy side,
At thy right hand ten thousand dy'd ?
Thy God his chosen people saves
Among the dead, amidst the graves !

8 So when he sent his angel down
To make his wrath in Egypt known,
And slew their sons, his careful eye
Pass'd all the doors of Jacob by.

9 But, if the fire, or plague or sword,
Receive commission from the Lord,
To strike his saints, among the rest,
Their very pains and deaths are blest.

18 The sword, the pestilence or fire,
 Shall but fulfil their best desire ;
 From sins and sorrow set them free,
 And bring thy children, Lord, to thee.

PSALM XCI. Second part. Com. metre.

Protection from Death, guard of Angels, Victory and Deliverance.

YE sons of men, a feeble race,
 Expos'd to ev'ry snare ;
 Come, make the Lord your dwelling-place,
 And try, and trust his care.

2 No ill shall enter where you dwell :
 Or, if the plague come nigh,
 And sweep the wicked down to hell,
 'Twill raise his saints on high.

3 He'll give his angels charge to keep
 Your feet in all their ways,
 To watch your pillow, while you sleep,
 And guard your happy days.

4 Their hands shall bear you, lest you fall
 And dash against the stones ;
 Are they not servants, at His call,
 And sent t' attend His sons ?

5 Adders and lions ye shall tread ;
 The tempter's wiles defeat ;
 He who hath broke the serpents head,
 Puts him beneath your feet.

6 " Because on me they set their love,
 " I'll save them (saith the Lord)
 " I'll bear their joyful souls above
 " Destruction, and the sword.

7 " My Grace shall answer, when they call ;
 " In trouble I'll be nigh ;
 " My pow'r shall help them, when they fall ;
 " And raise them, when they die.

8 "Those who on earth my name have known
 "I'll honor them in heav'n,
 "There my salvation shall be shown,
 "And endless life be giv'n"

P S A L M XCII. First part. Long metre.

A Psalm for the Lord's day.

SWEET is the work my God, my King !
 To praise thy name, give thanks and sing ;
 To shew thy love by morning-light,
 And talk of all thy truth at night !

2 Sweet is the day of sacred rest ;
 No mortal cares shall seize my breast ;
 O may my heart in tune be found,
 Like David's harp of solemn sound.

3 My heart shall triumph in my Lord,
 And bless his works, and bless his Word :
 Thy works of grace, how bright they shine !
 How deep thy counsels ! how divine !

4 Fools never raise their thoughts so high ;
 Like brutes they live ! like brutes they die !
 Like grass they flourish, 'till thy breath
 B'asts them in everlasting death :

5 But I shall share a glor'ous part,
 When grace hath well refin'd my heart,
 And fresh supplies of joy are shed,
 Like holy oil, to cheer my head.

6 Sin (my worst enemy before)
 Shall vex my eyes and ears no more ;
 My inward foes shall all be slain,
 Nor Satan break my peace again.

7 Then shall I see, and hear, and know
 All I desir'd, or wish'd below :
 And ev'ry pow'r find sweet employ
 In that eternal world of joy

P S A L M XCII. Second part. Long metre.The Church is the Garden of God.

LORD, 'tis a pleasant thing to stand
 In gardens planted by thine hand :
 Let me within thy courts be seen
 Like a young Cedar, fresh and green.

2 There grow thy saints, in faith and love,
 Blest with thy inf'ence from above ;
 Not Lebanon, with all its trees,
 Yields such a comely sight as these.

3 The plants of grace shall ever live :
 (Nature decays, but grace must thrive)
 Time, which doth all things else impair,
 Still makes them flourish strong and fair.

4 Laden with fruits of age, they shew
 The Lord is holy just and true :
 None, who attend His gates, shall find
 A God unfaithful, or unkind.

P S A L M XCII. Long metre.

The Eternal and Sovereign God.

JEHOVAH reigns ! he dwells in light ;
 Girded with majesty and might :
 The world, created by his hand,
 Still on its first foundation stands.

2 But, e'er this spacious world was made,
 Or had its first foundations laid,
 Thy Throne eternal ages stood ;
 Thy Self, the Ever-Living God.

3 Like floods, the angry nations rise,
 And aim their rage against the skies ;
 Vain floods, which aim their rage so high ;
 At thy rebuke the billows die.

4 For ever shall Thy Throne endure :
 Thy promise stands forever sure ;
 And everlasting holiness
 Becomes the dwelling of thy grace.

PSALM XCIII. 2d Metre.

THE Lord of glory reigns ; he reigns on high :
 His robes of state are Strength and Majesty !
 This wide creation rose at his command ;
 Built by his word, and 'stablish'd by his hand :
 Long stood his throne, e'er he began creation,
 And his own Godhead is the firm foundation.

2 God is th' Eternal King : Thy foes, in vain,
 Raise their rebellion to confound thy reign :
 In vain the storms, in vain the floods arise,
 And roar and toss their waves against the skies ;
 Foaming at heav'n, they rage with wild com-
 motion,
 But heav'n's high arches scorn the swelling ocean.

3 Ye tempests, rage no more ! ye floods, be still !
 And the mad world submissive to his will :
 Built on his truth, his Church must ever stand :
 Firm are his promises, and strong his hand :
 See ! his own sons, when they appear before him
 Bow at his foot-stool, and, with tear, adore him !

P S A L M XCIII.

3d Metre.

THE LORD JEHOVAH reigns,
 And royal state maintains :
 His head with awful glories crown'd :
 Array'd in robes of light ;
 Begirt with sov'reign might,
 And rays of majesty around.

2 Upheld by thy commands
 The world securely stands ;
 And skies and stars obey thy word :
 Thy throne was fix'd on high,
 Before the starry sky :
 Eternal is thy kingdom, Lord !

3 In vain the noisy crowd,
 Like billows fierce and loud,
 Against thine empire rage and roar ;

In vain, with angry spite,
The furling nations fight,
And dash, like waves, against the shore.

4 Let floods and nations rage,
And all their pow'rs engage ;
Let swelling tides assault the sky ;
The terrors of thy frown
Shall beat their madness down :
Thy throne forever stands on high !

5 Thy promises are true ;
Thy grace is ever new :
There fix'd, Thy Church shall ne'er remove :
Thy saints, with holy fear
Shall in thy courts appear,
And sing thine everlasting love.

P S A L M XCIV. First part.

Saints chastized, and Sinners destroyed ; or, Instructive Afflictions.

THE God, to whom revenge belongs,
Proclaims his wrath aloud :

His sov'reign pow'rs redress our wrongs ;
His justice smites the proud.

2 They say, " The Lord nor sees nor hears !"
When will the fool's be wise ?
Can he be deaf, who form'd their ears ?
Or blind, who made their eyes ?

3 He knows their impious thoughts are vain,
And they shall feel his pow'r ;
His wrath shall pierce their souls with pain,
In some surprising hour.

4 But, when thy saints deserve rebuke,
Thou hast a gentler rod ;
Thy Providences, and Thy Book,
Shall make them know their God.

5 Bless is the man thy hands chastise,
And to his duty draw ;

Thy scourges make thy children wise,
When they forget thy law.

- 6 But, God will ne'er cast of his faints,
Nor his own promise break ;
He pardons his inheritance,
For their Redeemer's sake.

P S A L M XCIV. Second part.

God, our Support and Comfort ; or, Deliverance from Temptation and Persecution.

- WHO will arise and plead my right
Against my numerous foes,
While earth and hell their force unite,
And all my hopes oppose ?
- 2 Had not the Lord, my Rock, my help,
Sustain'd my fainting head,
My life had now in silence dwelt,
My soul among the dead.
- 3 Alas, my sliding feet ! I cry'd,
Thy promise was my prop :
Thy grace stood constant by my side,
Thy Spirit bore me up.
- 4 While multitudes of mournful thoughts
Within my bosom roil,
Thy boundless love forgives my faults :
Thy comforts cheer my soul.
- 5 Pow'rs of iniquity may rise,
And frame pernicious laws ;
But, God, my Refuge, rules the skies ;
He will defend my cause.
- 6 Let malice vent her rage aloud ;
Let bold b'aphemers scoff ;
The Lord, our God, will judge the proud,
And cut the sinners off.

P S A L M XCV. Common metre.

A Psalm before Prayer.

SING to the Lord Jehovah's name,
 And in his strength rejoice ;
 When his salvation is our theme,
 Exalted be your voice.

2 With thanks, approach his awful seat,
 And psalms of honor sing ;
 The Lord's a God of boundless might,
 The whole creation's King.

3 Let princes hear, let angels know
 How mean their natures seem :
 Those gods on high, and gods below,
 When once compar'd with him,

4 Earth, with its caverns, dark and deep,
 Lies in his spacious hand ;
 He fix'd the seas what bounds to keep,
 And where the hills must stand.

5 Come, and with humble souls adore ;
 Come, kneel before his face :

O may the creatures of his pow'r
 Be children of his grace !

6 Now is the time ! he bends his ear ;
 And waits for your request ;
 Come, lest he rouse his wrath and swear
 " Ye shall not see my rest."

P S A L M XCV. Short metre.

A Psalm before Sermon.

COME, sound his praise abroad ;
 And hymns of glory sing :
 Jehovah is the sov'reign God,
 The Universal King.

2 He form'd the deeps unknown ;
 He gave the seas their bound ;
 The wat'ry worlds are all his own,
 And all the solid ground.

- 3 Come, worship at his throne;
Come, bow before the Lord;
We are his works, and not our own:
He form'd us by his word.
- 4 To-day attend his voice:
Nor dare provoke his rod:
Come, like the people of his choice,
And own your gracious God.
- 5 But if your ears refuse
The language of his grace,
And hearts grow hard, like stubborn Jews;
That unbelieving race.
- 6 The Lord, in vengeance dress'd,
Will lift his hand, and swear,
"You who despise my promis'd rest,
"Shall have no portion there."

P S A L M XCV. Long metre.

Canaan lost through Unbelief; or, A warning to delaying Sinners.

- COME, let our voices join to raise
A sacred song, of solemn praise;
God is a sov'ign King; rehearse
His honors, in exalted verse.
- 2 Come, let our souls address the Lord,
Who fram'd our natures with his word;
He is our Shepherd; we, the sheep
His mercy choose, his pastures keep.
- 3 Come, let us hear his voice, to day,
The counsels of his love obey;
Nor let our harden'd hearts renew
The sins and plagues which Isr'el knew.
- 4 Isr'el, who saw his works of grace,
Yet tempt their Maker to his face;
A faithless unbelieving breed,
That try'd the patience of their God.

5 Thus saith the Lord, "How false they prove !
 " Forget my pow'r abuse my love ;
 " Since they despise my rest I swear,
 " Their feet shall never enter there."

6 [Look back my soul with holy dread,
 And view those ancient rebels dead !
 Attend the offer'd grace to-day,
 Nor lose the blessing by delay.

7 Seize the kind promise while it waits,
 And march to Zion's heav'nly gates ;
 Believe and take the promis'd rest ;
 Obey, and be forever blest.]

P S A L M XCVI. Com. Metre.

Christ's first and second Coming.

SING to the Lord ye distant lands,
 Ye tribes of av'ry tongue ;
 His new discover'd grace demands
 A new and nobler song.

2 Say to the nations, Jesus reigns ?
 God's own Almighty Son ;
 His pow'r the sinking worlds sustains,
 And grace surrounds his throne.

3 Let heav'n proclaim the joyful day ;
 Joy through the earth be seen ;
 Let cities shine in bright array,
 And fie'ds in cheerful green.

4 Let an unusual joy surprise
 The Islands of the sea ;
 Ye mountains sink ; ye vallies rise ;
 Prepare the Lord his way.

5 Behold he comes ! He comes to bless
 The nations as their God ;
 To shew the world his righteousness,
 And send his truth abroad.

6 But when his voice shall raise the dead,
 And bid the world draw near,

How will the guilty nations dread
To see their Judge appear!

P S A L M XCVI.

The God of the Gentiles.

LET all the earth their voices raise
To sing the choicest psalm of praise
To sing and bless Jehovah's name:
His glory let the heathen know,
His wonders to the nations show,
And all his saving works proclaim.

2 The heathens know thy glory Lord;
The wond'ring nations read thy word:
These deserts have Jehovah known:
Our worship shall no more be paid
To gods which mortal hands have made:
Our Maker is our God alone.

3 He fram'd the globe he built the sky,
He made the shining worlds on high;
And reigns complete in glory, there:
His beams are majesty and light;
His beauties how divinely bright;
His temple how divinely fair!

4 Come the great day, the glor'ous hour?
When earth shall feel his saving pow'r,
And barb'rous nations fear his name:
Then shall the race of man confess
The beauty of his holiness;
And in his courts his grace proclaim.

P S A L M XCVII. First Part. Long metre.

Christ reigning in Heaven and coming to Judgment.

HE reigns; the Lord the Saviour reigns.
Praise him in evangelic strains:
Let the whole earth in songs rejoice,
And distant island join their voice.

2 Deep are his councils and unknown ;
But, grace and truth support his throne :
Though gloomy clouds his ways surround,
Justice is their eternal ground.

3 In robes of judgment, lo ! He comes ;
Shakes the wide earth, and cleaves the tombs :
Before him burns devouring fire ;
The mountains melt, the seas retire.

4 His enemies, with sore dismay,
Flee from the sight, and shun the day :
Then lift your heads, ye faints, on high,
And sing ; for your redemption's nigh !

PSALM XCVII. Second part. Long metre
Christ's incarnation.

THE Lord is come, the heav'ns proclaim
His birth ; the nations learn his name ;
An unknown star directs the road
Of Eastern sages, to their God.

2 All ye bright armies of the skies
Go, worship where the Saviour lies ;
Angels and kings before him bow,
Those gods on high and gods below.

3 Let Idols totter to the ground,
And their own worshippers confound :
But Judah shout, but Zion sing,
And earth confess her Sov'reign King.

PSALM XCVII. Third part. Long metre.
Grace and glory.

TH' Almighty reigns ! exalted high
O'er all the earth, o'er all the sky :
Though clouds and darkness veil his feet,
His dwelling is the mercy-seat.

2 O ye who love His Holy Name,
Hate ev'ry work of sin and shame.

He guards the souls of all his Friends,
And from the snares of hell defends.

3 Immortal light and joys unknown,
Are for the faints in darkness sown ;
'Those glor'ous seeds shall spring and rise,
And the bright harvest bless our eyes.

4 Rejoice ye righteous and record
The sacred honors of the Lord ;
None but the souls that feel His race,
Can triumph in his Holiness.

P S A L M XCVII. Common metre.

Christ's Incarnation and the last Judgment.

YE islands of the Northern sea,
Rejoice the Saviour reigns ;
His word, like fire, prepares his way,
And mountains melt to plains.

2 His presence sinks the proudest hills,
And makes the vallies rise ;
The humble soul enjoys his smiles,
The haughty sinner dies.

3 The heav'ns his rightful pow'r proclaim :
The idōl gods around
Fill their own worshippers with shame,
And totter to the ground.

4 Adoring angels, at his birth,
Made the Redeemer known :
Thus shall He come to judge the earth,
And angels guard his throne.

5 His foes shall tremble at his sight,
And hills and seas retire :
His children take their unknown flight ;
And leave the world on fire.

6 The seeds of joy and glory sown
For saints, in darkness here,
Shall rise and spring in worlds unknown,
And a rich harvest bear.

A plain translation.Praise to our Creator.

YE nations round the earth rejoice
 Before the Lord your Sov'reign King !
 Serve him with chearful heart and voice,
 With all your tongues his glory sing.

2 The Lord is God, 'tis he alone
 Doth life and breath, and being give !
 We are his works and not our own ;
 The sheep which on his pastures live.

3 Enter his gates with songs of joy,
 With praises to his courts repair ;
 And make it your divine employ,
 To pay your thankful honors there.

4 The Lord is good ; the Lord is kind ;
 Great is his grace his mercy sure ;
 And the whole race of man shall find
 His truth from age to age endure.

P S A L M C. Long metre. A Paraphrase.

SING to the Lord with joyful voice ;
 Let ev'ry land his name adore ;
America shall send the noise
 Across the ocean to the shore.

2 Nations attend before his Throne
 With solemn fear with sacred joy !
 Know that the Lord is God alone ;
 He can create, and He destroy !

3 His sov'reign pow'r without our aid,
 Made us of clay and form'd us men ;
 And when, like wand'ring sheep, we stray'd,
 He brought us to his fold again.

4 We are his people we his care,
 Our souls, and ail our mortal frame ;
 What lasting honors shall we rear,
 Almighty Maker, to thy Name ?

5 We'll crowd Thy gates with thankful songs,
 High as the Heav'ns our voices raise ;
 And earth, with her ten thousand tongues,
 Shall fill thy courts with sounding praise !

Wide as the world is thy command !
 Vast, as eternity thy Love !
 Firm as a rock thy truth must stand,
 When rolling years shall cease to move !

The Magistrates' Psalm.

MERCY and judgements are my song !
 And since they both to thee belong,
 My gracious God my righteous King,
 To thee my songs and vows I bring.

2 If I am rais'd to bear the sword ;
 I'll take my counsels from thy word ;
 Thy justice and thy heav'nly grace
 Shall be the pattern of my ways.

3 Let wisdom all my actions guide,
 And let my God with me reside :
 No wicked thing shall dwell with me,
 Which may provoke thy jealousy.

4 No sons of slander rage and strife,
 Shall be companions of my life ;
 The haughty look the heart of pride,
 Within my doors shall ne'er abide.

5 [I'll search the land and raise the just
 To posts of honor wealth and trust :
 The men who work thy holy will,
 Shall be my friends and fav'rites still.]

6 In vain shall sinners hope to rise
 By flatt'ring or malicious lies :
 And while the innocent I guard,
 The bold offender shan't be spar'd.

7 The impious crew that factious band,
 Shall hide their heads or quit the land ;

And all who break the public rest,
Where I have pow'r shall be suppress'd.

PSALM CI. Common Metre.

A Psalm for a Master of a Family.

OF justice and of grace I sing,
And pay my God my vows;
Let grace and justice heav'nly King,
Teach me to rule my house.

2 Now to my tent, O God repair,
And make thy servant wise;
To suffer nothing near me there,
Which shall offend thine eyes.

3 The man who doth his neighbor wrong,
By falsehood or by force,
The scornful eye the slanderous tongue,
I'll thrust them from my doors.

4 I'll seek the faithful and the just,
And will their help enjoy:
These are the friends whom I shall trust,
The servants I'll employ.

5 The wretch who deals in sly deceit,
I'll not endure a night:
The liar's tongue I'll ever hate,
And banish from my sight.

6 I'll purge my family around,
And make the wicked flee;
So shall my house be ever found
A dwelling fit for thee.

P S A L M CII. First part. Com metre

A Prayer of the Afflicted,

HEAR me, O God, nor hide thy face,
But answer lest I die:

Hast thou not built a throne of grace,
To hear when sinners cry?

2 My days are wasted like the smoke,
Disolving in the air;

My strength is dry'd my heart is broke,
And sinking in despair.

3 My spirits flag like with'ring grass,
Burnt with excessive heat:
In secret groans my minutes pass,
And I forget to eat.

4 As on some lonely building's top,
The sparrow tells her moan,
Far from the tents of joy, and hope,
I sit and grieve alone.

5 My soul is like a wilderness,
Where beasts, of midnight howl;
There the sad raven finds her place,
And there the screaming owl.

6 Dark dismal thoughts and boding fears
Dwell in my troubled breast;
While sharp reproaches wound my ears,
Nor give my spirit rest.

7 My cup is mingled with my woes,
And tears are my repast;
My daily bread like ashes grows
Unpleasant to my taste.

8 Sense can afford no real joy
To souls who feel thy frown;
Lord, 'twas thy hand advanc'd me high;
Thy hand hath cast me down.

9 My locks like wither'd leaves appear;
And life's declining light
Grows faint as ev'ning shadows are,
Which vanish into night.

10 But Thou forever art the same,
O my Eternal God!
Ages to come shall know thy Name,
And spread Thy works abroad.

11 Thou wilt arise and shew thy Face,
Nor will my Lord delay,

Beyond th' appointed hour of grace,
That long-expected day.

12 He hears his saints, he knows their cry ;
And by myster'ous ways,
Redeems the pris'ners doom'd to die,
And fills their tongues with praise.

P S A L M CII. *Second part. Com. metre.
Prayer heard and Zion restored.*

LET Zion and her Sons rejoice ;
Behold the promis'd hour !
Her God hath heard her mourning voice,
And comes t'exalt his pow'r.

2 Her dust and ruins which remain,
Are precious in our eyes :
Those ruins shall be built again,
And all that dust shall rise.

3 The Lord will raise Jerusalem,
And stand in glory there ;
Nations shall bow before his name,
And kings attend with fear.

4 He sits a Sov'reign on his Throne,
With pity in his eyes ;
He hears the dying pris'ners groan,
And sees their sighs arise.

5 He frees the souls condemn'd to death ;
And when his saints complain,
It shan't be said " that praying breath
Was ever spent in vain."

6 This shall be known when we are dead,
And left on long record,
That ages yet unborn may read,
And trust and praise the Lord.

P S A L M CII. *Third part. Long metre.
Man's mortality and Christ's Eternity ; or, Saint's die, but Christ and the Church, live.*

IT is the Lord our Saviour's hand
Weakens our strength amidst the race ;

Disease and death, at his command,
Arrest us, and cut short our days.

2 Spare us, O Lord ! aloud we pray,
Nor let our Sun go down at noon :
Thy years are one Eternal day !
And must thy children die so soon ?

3 Yet in the midst of death and grief,
This thought our sorrow will assuage :
“ Our Father and our Saviour live ;
“ Christ is the same through ev'ry age.”

4 'Twas He this earth's foundations laid ;
Heav'n is the building of his hand ;
This earth grows old these heav'ns shall fade,
And all be chang'd at thy command.

5 The starry curtains of the sky,
Like garments, shall be laid aside ;
But still Thy Throne stands firm and high ;
Thy Church forever must abide.

6 Before thy face thy church shall live,
And on thy throne thy children reign :
This dying world shall they survive,
And the dead saints be rais'd again.

P S A L M CIII. First Part. Long metre.
Blessing God, for his goodness to Soul and Body.

BLESS, O my soul ! the living God ;
Call home thy thoughts which rove abroad ;
Let all the pow'rs within me join,
In work and worship so divine.

2 Bless, O my soul ! the God of grace,
His favors claim thy highest praise ;
Why should the wonders he hath wrought
Be lost in silence and forgot ?

3 'Tis he, my soul who sent his Son
To die for crimes which thou hast done ;
He owns the ransom and forgives
The hourly follies of our lives.

4 The vices of the mind he heals,
And cures the pains which Nature feels,
Redeems the soul from hell, and saves
Our wasting lives from threat'ning graves.

5 Our youth decay'd his pow'r repairs ;
His mercy crowns our growing years :
He satisfies our mouths with good,
And fills our hopes with heav'nly food.

6 He sees th' oppressors and th' oppress'd,
And often gives the suff'ers rest :
But will his justice more display
In the last great rewarding day.

7 [His pow'r he shew'd by Mo'es hands,
And gave to Ir'el his commands ;
But sent His Truth and Mercy down
To all the nations, by his Son.]

8 Let the whole earth his pow'r confess,
Let the whole earth adore his grace ;
The Gentile, with the Jew, shall join
In work and worship so divine.]

P S A L M CIII. Second Part. Long metre.

God's gentle chastisement ; or His tender mercy to His People.

THE Lord how wond'rous are his ways ;
How firm his truth ; how large his grace
He takes his mercy for his throne.
And thence he makes his glories known.

2 Not half so high his pow'r hath spread
The starry heav'ns above our head,
As his rich love exceeds our praise,
Exceeds the highest hopes we raise.

3 Not half so far hath Nature plac'd
The rising morning from the West,
As his forgiving grace removes
The daily guilt of those he loves.

4 How slowly doth his wrath arise !
On swifter wing salvation flies :
And, if he lets his anger burn,
How soon his frowns to pity turn !

5 Amidst his wrath, compassion shines ;
His strokes are lighter than our sins ;
And while his rod corrects his saints,
His ear indulges their complaints.

6 So fathers their young sons chastise
With gentle hands and melting eyes :
The children weep beneath the smart,
And move the pity of their heart.

P A U S E .

7 The Mighty God the Wise and Just,
Knows that our frame is feeble dust ;
And will no heavy loads impose
Beyond the strength which he bestows .

8 He knows how soon our nature dies,
Blasted by ev'ry wind that flies :
Like grass we spring, and die as soon,
As morning flow'rs which fade at noon.

9 But His Eternal Love is sure
To all the saints and shall endure ;
From age to age his Truth shall reign,
Nor children's children hope in vain .

P S A L M CIII. First part. Short metre.

Praise for Spiritual and Temporal mercies.

O BLESS the Lord, my soul !
Let all within me join,
And aid my tongues to bless his name,
Whose favors are divine.

2 O bless the Lord, my soul !
Nor let his mercies lie
Forgotten, in unthankfulness,
And without praises die.

- 3 'Tis he forgives thy sins ;
 'Tis he relieves thy pain ;
 'Tis he who heals thy sicknesſes,
 And makes thee young again.
- 4 He crowns thy life with love.
 When rantom'd from the grave ;
 He who redeem'd my ſoul from hell
 Hath Sov'reign Pow'r to ſave.
- 3 He fills the poor with good ;
 He gives the ſuff'rers reſt ;
 The Lord hath judgments for the proud,
 And juſtice for th' oppreſt.
- 6 His wond'rous works and ways
 He made by Mofes known ;
 But ſent the world his truth and grace
 By His beloved Son.

P S A L M CIII. Second part.

Abounding Compaſſion of God ; or, Mercy in the miſt of Judgment.

- MY ſoul, repeat His praiſe
 Whoſe mercies are ſo great ;
 Whoſe anger is ſo ſlow to riſe,
 So ready to abate.
- 2 God will not always chide ;
 And when his ſtrokes are felt,
 His ſtrokes are fewer than our crimes,
 And lighter than our guilt.
- 3 High as the Heav'ns are rais'd
 Above the ground we tread,
 So far the riches of his grace
 Our higheſt thoughts exceed.
- 4 His pow'r ſubdues our ſins ;
 And his forgiving love,
 Far as the East is from the West,
 Doth all our guilt remove.

- 5 The pity of the Lord,
To those who fear his name,
Is such, as tender parents feel;
He knows our feeble frame.
- 6 He knows we are but dust,
Scatter'd with ev'ry breath:
His anger, like a rising wind,
Can send us swift to death.
- 7 Our days are as the grass,
Or like the morning-flow'r;
If one sharp blast sweep o'er the field,
It withers in an hour.
- 8 But thy compassions Lord,
To endless years endure;
And children's children ever find
Thy words of promise sure.

God's Universal Dominion; or Angels praise the Lord.

THE Lord, the Sov'reign King,
Hath fix'd his throne on high;
O'er all the heav'nly world he rules
And all beneath the sky.

2 Ye angels great in might,
And swift to do his will,
Bless ye the Lord whose voice you hear:
Whose pleasure ye fulfil.

3 Let the bright hosts who wait
The orders of their King,
And guard his churches when they pray,
Join in the praise they sing.

4 While all his wond'rous works
Through his vast kingdom shew
Their Makers glory thou my soul,
Shalt sing his graces too.

P S A L M CIV.

The Glory of God in Creation and Providence.

MY Soul thy Great Creator praise ;
When cloth'd in his celestial rays,
He in full majesty appears,
And like a robe his glory wears.

Note, This psalm may be sung to St. Helen's tune by adding the following lines to each Stanza, viz.

Great is the Lord, what tongue can frame
An equal honor to his name ?

(Otherwise it may be sung to any Long metre tune.)

2 The heav'ns are for his curtains spread ;
Th' unfasten'd deep he makes his bed ;
Clouds are his char'ot, when he flies
On winged storms across the skies.

3 Angels (whom his own breath inspires)
His ministers are flaming fires ;
And, swift as thought, their armies move,
To bear his vengeance or his love.

4 The world's foundations, by his hand,
Are pois'd, and shall forever stand ;
He binds the ocean in his chain
Lest it should drown the world again.

5 When earth was cover'd with the flood,
Which high above the mountains stood,
He thunder'd and the ocean fled,
Confin'd to its appointed bed.

6 The swelling billows know their bound,
And in their channels walk their round ;
Yet, thence convey'd by secret veins,
They spring on hills, and drench the plains.

7 He bids the chrystal fountains flow ;
And cheer the vallies as they go :
Tame heifers there their thirst allay,
And for the stream, wild asses bray.

8 From pleasant trees, which shade the brink,
The lark and linnet light to drink ;
Their songs the lark and linnet raise,
And chide our silence in his praise.

P A U S E . I.

9 God, from his cloudy cistern, pours
On the parch'd earth enriching showers ;
The grove, the garden, and the field,
A thousand joyful blessings yield.

10 He makes the grassy food arise,
And gives the cattle large supplies :
With herbs for man, of various pow'r,
To nourish nature, or to cure.

11 What noble fruit the vines produce !
The olive yields a shining juice ;
Our hearts are cheer'd with gen'rous wine,
With inward joy our faces shine.

12 O bless his name ye nations fed
With nature's chief supporter bread ;
While bread your vital strength imparts,
Serve him with vigor in your hearts.

P A U S E II.

13 Behold ! the stately cedar stands,
Rais'd in the forest by his hands ;
Birds to the boughs for shelter fly,
And build their nests secure on high.

14 To craggy hills ascends the goat ;
And at the airy mountain's foot,
The feebler creatures make their cell ;
He gives them wisdom where to dwell.

15 He sets the Sun his circling race,
Appoints the Moon to change her face ;
And when thick darkness veils the day,
Calls out wild beasts to hunt their prey.

16 Fierce lions lead their young abroad,
And, roaring, ask their meat from God ;

But, when the morning-beams arise,
The savage beast to covert flies.

17 Then man to daily labor goes :
The night was made for his repose ;
Sleep is thy gift, that sweet relief
From tiresome toil and waiting grief.

18 How strange thy works ! how great thy skill !
And ev'ry land thy riches fill :
Thy wisdom round the world we see ;
This spacious earth is full of thee.

19 Nor less thy glories in the deep,
Where fish, in millions, swim and creep,
With wond'rous motions, swift or slow,
Still wand'ring in the paths below.

20 There ships divide their wat'ry way,
And flocks of scaly monsters play ;
There dwells the huge Levithan,
And foams and sports in spite of man.

P A U S E . III.

21 Vast are thy works, Almighty Lord !
All nature rests upon thy word,
And the whole race of creatures stand
Waiting their portion from thy Hand

22 While each receives his diff'rent food,
Their cheerful looks pronounce it good :
Eagles and bears, and whales and worms,
Rejoice and praise, in diff'rent forms

23 But when thy face is hid, they mourn ;
And dying, to their dust return :
Both man and beast their souls resign ;
Life, breath and spirit, all are thine.

24 Yet thou canst breathe on earth again,
And fill the world with beasts and men ;
A word of thy creating breath
Repairs the wastes of Time and Death.

25 His works, the wonders of his might,
Are honor'd with his own delight :
How awful are his glor'ous ways !
The Lord is dreadful in his praise.

26 The earth itas is trembling at thy stroke,
And, at thy touch, the mountains smoke ;
Yet humble souls may see thy face,
And tell their wants to Sov'reign Grace.

27 In Thee my hopes and wishes meet,
And make my meditations sweet :
Thy praises shall my breath employ,
Till it expires in endless joy.

28 While haughty sinners die accurst,
Their glory bury'd with their dust,
I to my God, my heav'nly King,
Immortal hallelujahs sing.

P S A L M CV. Abridged.

God's Conduct to Israel and the Plagues of Egypt.

GIVE thanks to God, invoke his name,
And tell the world his grace :
Sound through the earth his deeds of fame,
That all may seek his face.

2 His cov'nant which he kept in mind
For num'rous ages past,
To num'rous ages yet behind,
In equal force shall last.

3 He swore to Abr'am and his seed,
And made the blessing sure :
Gentiles the ancient promise read,
And find his truth endure.

4 "Thy seed shall make all nations blest,
(Said the Almighty Voice)
"And Canaan's land shall be their rest,
"The type of heav'nly joys."

15 How large the grant ! how rich the grace !
To give them Canaan's land,

When they were strangers in the place.
A little feeble band!

6 Like pi'grims, through the countries round
Securely they remov'd,
And haughty kings who on them frown'd
Severely he reprov'd.

7 " Touch Mine Anointed, and My Arm
" Shall soon revenge the wrong;
" The man who does my prophets harm,
" Shall know their God is strong."

8 *Then let the world forbear its rage,
Nor put the Church in fear:
Ifr'el must live through ev'ry age,
And be th' Almighty's care.*

P A U S E I.

9 When Pharaoh dar'd to vex the saints,
And thus provok'd their God:
Moses was sent at their complaints,
Arm'd with his dreadful rod.

10 He call'd for darkness; darkness came,
Like an o'erwhelming flood;
He turn'd each lake, and ev'ry stream,
To lakes and streams of blood.

11 He gave the sign, and noisome flies
Through the whole country spread;
And frogs, in croaking armies rise
About the monarch's bed.

12 Through fields and towns, and palaces,
The ten-fold vengeance flew;
Locusts, in swarms, devour'd their trees,
And hail their cattle flew:

13 Then by an angel's midnight stroke
The flow'r of Egypt dy'd:
The strength of ev'ry house was broke,
Their glory and their pride.

14 *Now let the world forbear its rage,
Nor put the Church in fear:*

*Iſr'el muſt live through ev'ry age,
And be th' Almighty's care.*

P A U S E II.

15 Thus were the tribes from bondage brought
And left the hated ground ;
Each ſome Egyptian ſpoils had got,
And not one feeble found.

16 The Lord himſelf choſe out their way,
And mark'd their journeys right ;
Gave them a leading-cloud by day,
A fiery guide by night.

17 They thirſt ; and waters from the rock
In rich abundance flow,
And foll'wing ſtill the courſe they took,
Ran all the deſart through.

18 O wond'rous Stream ! O bleſſed Type
Of ever-flowing grace !
So Chriſt, our Rock, maintains our life
Through all this wilderneſs.

19 Thus guarded by th' Almighty Hand,
The choſen tribes poſſeſt
Canaan, the rich, the promiſ'd land ;
And there enjoy'd their reſt.

20 *Then let the world forbear its rage,
The Church renounce her fear ;
Iſr'el muſt live through ev'ry age,
And be th' Almighty's care.*

P S A L M CVI. Fiſt part. Long metre.

Praise to God ; or, Communion with Saints.

TO God the Great, the Ever Bleſt,
Let ſongs of honor be addreſt ;
His mercy firm forever ſtands ;
Give him the thanks his love demands.

2 Who knows the wonders of Thy ways !
Who ſhall fulfil thy boundleſs praiſe ?

Blest are the souls who fear thee still,
And pay their duty to thy will.

3 Remember what thy mercy did
For Jacob's race, thy chosen seed :
And, with the same salvation, blest
The meanest suppliant of thy grace.

4 O may I see thy tribes rejoice,
And aid their triumphs with my voice!
This is my glory, Lord, to be
Join'd to thy saints, and near to thee.

P S A L M C V I. Second part.

Israel Punished and Pardoned; or, God's Unchangeable Love.

GOD of Eternal Love,
How fickle are our ways !
And yet, how oft did Isr'el prove
Thy constancy of grace ?

2 They saw thy wonders wrought,
And then thy praise they sung ;
But soon thy works of pow'r forgot,
And murmur'd with their tongue.

3 Now they believe his word,
While rocks with rivers flow ;
Now with their lusts provoke the Lord,
And he reduc'd them low.

4 Yet, when they mourn'd their faults,
He harken'd to their groans,
Brought his own cov'nant to his thoughts,
And call'd them still his sons.

5 Their names were in his book,
He sav'd them from their foes :
Oft he chastis'd, but ne'er forsook
The people whom he chose.

6 Let Isr'el blest the Lord,
Who lov'd their ancient race :

And Christians join the solemn word,
Amen, to all the praise.

P S A L M CVII. First part. Long metre.

Israel led to Canaan, and Christians to Heaven.

GIVE thanks to God ; he reigns above ;
Kind are his thoughts his name is Love ;
His mercy ages past have known,
And ages long to come shall own.

2 Let the redeemed of the Lord
The wonders of his grace record ;
Isr'el, the nation whom he chose,
And rescu'd from their mighty foes.

[3 When God's Almighty Arm had broke
Their fetters, and th' Egyptian yoke,
They trac'd the desert, wand'ring round
A wild and solitary ground !

4 There they could find no leading road,
Nor city for a fix'd abode ;
Nor food, nor fountain to assuage
Their burning thirst, or hunger's rage]

5 In their distress to God they cry'd :
God was their Saviour and their guide :
He led their march far wand'ring round :
'Twas the right path to Canaan's ground,

6 Thus when our first release we gain
From sin's old yoke, and satan's chain,
We have this desert world to pass,
A dang'rous and a tiresome place

7 He feeds and clothes us all the way ;
He guides our footsteps, lest we stray ;
He guards us with a pow'rful hand,
And brings us to the heav'nly land.

8 O let the saints with joy record
The truth and goodness of the Lord !
How great his works ! how kind his ways !
Let ev'ry tongue pronounce his praise.

P S A L M CVII. Second part.
Correction for Sin, and Release by Prayer.

FROM age to age exalt his Name ;
 God and his grace are still the same :
 He fills the hungry soul with food,
 And feeds the poor with ev'ry good.

2 But if their hearts rebel and rise
 Against the God who rules the skies ;
 If they reject his heav'nly word,
 And slight the counsels of the Lord ;

3 He'll bring their spirits to the ground,
 And no deliv'rer shall be found :
 Laden with grief they waste their breath
 In darkness, and the shades of death.

4 Then to the Lord they raise their cries,
 He makes their dawning light arise,
 And scatters all the dismal shade
 Which hung so heavy round their head.

5 He cuts the bars of brass in two,
 And lets the smiling pris'ners through ;
 Takes off the load of guilt and grief ;
 And gives the lab'ring soul relief.

6 O may the sons of men record
 The wond'rous goodness of the Lord !
 How great his works ! how kind his ways !
 Let ev'ry tongue pronounce his praise,

Intemperance Punished and Pardoned ; or, A
Psalm for the Glutton and the Drunkard.

VAIN man on foolish pleasures bent,
 Prepares for his own punishment ;
 What pains what loathsome maladies
 From luxury and lust arise !

2 The drunkard feels his vitals waste :
 Yet drowns his health to please his taste :
 'Till all his active pow'rs are lost,
 And fainting life draws near the dust.

3 The glutton groans and loathes to eat ;
His soul abhors delicious meat ;
Nature with heavy loads oppress'd,
Would yield to death to be releas'd.

4 Then how the frightened sinners fly
To God for help with earnest cry !
He hears their greans prolongs their breath
And saves them from approaching death.

5 No med'cine could effect the cure
So quick so easy or so sure :
The deadly sentence God repeals,
He sends his sov'reign word and heals.

6 O may the sons of men record
The wond'rous goodness of the Lord,
And let their thankful off'rings prove
How they adore their Maker's love.

P S A L M CVII. Fourth Part. Long metre.
Deliverance from Storms and Shipwreck ; or the Seaman's song.

WOULD you behold the works of God,
His wonders in the world abroad
Go with the mariners and trace
The unknown regions of the seas.

2 They leave their native shores behind,
And seize the favor of the wind ;
Till God commands and tempests rise,
Which heave the ocean to the skies.

3 Now to the heav'ns they mount amain ;
Now sink to dreadful deeps again ;
What strange affrights young sailors feel,
And like a stag'ring drunkard reel !

4 When land is far and death is nigh,
Loft to all hope to God they cry :
His mercy hears their loud address,
And sends salvation in distress.

5 He bids the winds their wrath assuage,
 The furious waves forget their rage;
 'Tis calm; and sailors smile to see
 The haven where they wish'd to be,
 6 O may the sons of men record
 The wond'rous goodness of the Lord!
 Let them their private off'rings bring,
 And in the Church His Glory sing.

P S A L M CVII. Fourth Part Com. metres.

The Mariner's Psalm.

THY works of glory mighty Lord,
 Thy wonders in the deep,
 The sons of courage shall record;
 Where rolling oceans sleep.

2 ~~At~~ thy command the winds arise,
 And swell the tow'ring waves:
 The men astonish'd mount the skies;
 And sink in gaping graves.

3 Again they climb the watry hills,
 And plunge in deeps again:
 Each, like a tott'ring drunkard recls,
 And finds his courage vain.

4 Frighted to hear the tempest roar,
 They pant with flutt'ring breath:
 And, hopeless of the distant shore,
 Expect immediate death.]

5 Then to the Lord they raise their cries;
 He hears the loud request:
 And orders silence through the skies.
 And lays the floods to rest.

6 Sailors rejoice to loose their fears,
 And see the storm allay'd;
 Now to their eyes the port appears,
 There let their vows be paid

7 'Tis God who brings them safe to land;
 Let stupid-mortals know,

That waves are under his command,
And all the winds which blow.

8 O that the sons of men would praise
The goodness of the Lord !
And those who see thy wond'rous ways
Thy wond'rous love record !

P S A L M CVII. Last part. Long metre.
Colonies Planted ; or Nations Bless'd and Punish'd.

A Psalm for New-England.

WHEN God provok'd with daring crimes,
Scourges the madness of the times,
He turns their fields to barren land
And dries the rivers from the land.

2 His word can raise the springs again,
And make the wither'd mountains green ;
Send show'ry blessings from the skies,
And harvests in the deserts rise.

[3 Where nothing dwelt but beasts of prey,
Or men as fierce and wild as they,
He bids th' oppress'd and poor, repair
And build them towns and cities there.

4 They sow the fields and trees they plant,
Whose yearly fruit supplies their want :
Their race grows up from fruitful stocks.
Their wealth increases with their flocks.

5 Thus they are blest ; but if they sin,
He lets the heathen nations in ;
A savage crew invades their lands,
Their children die by barb'rous hands.

6 Their captive sons expos'd to scorn,
Wander un pity'd and forlorn :
The country lies unenc'rd untill'd,
And desolation spreads the field.

7 Yet, if the humble'd nation mourns,
Again his dreadful hand he turns ;

Again he makes their cities thrive,
 And bids their dying churches live.]
 8 The righteous, with a joyful sense,
 Admire the works of Providence ;
 And tongues of atheists shall no more,
 Blaspheme the God whom saints adore.
 9 How few, with pious care, record
 The wond'rous dealings of the Lord !
 But, wise observers still shall find,
 The Lord is holy, just and kind.

P S A L M CIX. Common metre.

Love to Enemies, from the Example of Christ.

GOD of my mercy and my praise,
 Thy glory is my song ;
 Though sinners speak against thy grace
 With a blaspheming tongue.
 2 When in the form of mortal man
 Thy Son on earth was found,
 With cruel slanders, false and vain
 They compass'd him around.
 3 Their mis'ries his compassion move ;
 Their peace he still pursu'd ;
 They render hatred for his love,
 And evil for his good.
 4 Their malice rag'd, without a cause ;
 He, with his dying breath,
 Pray'd for his murd'ers on the cross,
 And blest his foes in death.
 5 Lord shall thy bright example shine
 In vain before my eyes ;
 Give me a soul a-kin to thine,
 To love my enemies !
 6 The Lord shall on my side engage,
 And in my Saviour's name ;
 I shall defeat their pride and rage
 Who slander and condemn.

Christ exalted, and multitudes converted; or, The Success of the Gospel.

THUS the Eternal Father spake
 To Christ the Son; "Ascend and sit
 "At my right-hand, 'till I shall make
 "Thy foes submissive at thy feet.
 2 "From Zion shall thy Word proceed,
 "Thy word, the sceptre in thy hand,
 "Shall make the hearts of rebels bleed,
 "And bow their wills to thy command.
 3 "That day shall shew thy pow'r is great.
 "When saints shall flock with willing minds,
 "And sinners crow'd thy temple-gate,
 "Where holiness in beauty shines."

 What a large vict'ry shall ensue!
 And converts, who thy grace obey,
 Exceed the drops of morning dew.

The Kingdom and priesthood of Christ.

THUS the Great Lord of earth and sea
 Spake to his Son, and thus he swore;
 "Eternal shall thy priesthood be,
 "And change from hand to hand no more.
 2 "Aaron and all his sons must die:
 "But everlasting life is Thine,
 "To save forever those who fly
 "For refuge from the wrath divine.
 3 "By Me Melchizedeck was made
 "On earth a king and priest at once;
 "And thou, my heav'nly Priest, shalt plead:
 "And thou, my King, shalt rule my sons,"
 4 Jesus the Priest, ascends his throne,
 While counsels of eternal peace

Between the Father and the Son,
Proceed with honor and success.

5 Through the whole earth his reign shall spread,
And crush the pow'rs which dare rebel :
Then shall he judge the rising dead,
And send the guilty world to hell.

6 Though while he treads his glor'ous way,
He drinks the cup of tears and blood,
The suff'rings of that dreadful day
Shall but advance him near to God.

P S A L M CX. Common metre.

Christ's Kingdom and Priesthood.

JESUS, our Lord, ascend thy throne,
And near thy Father sit ;
In Zion shall thy pow'r be known,
And make thy foes submit.

2 What wonders shall thy gospel do !
Thy converts shall surpass
The num'rous drops of morning-dew,
And own thy Sov'reign Grace.

3 God hath pronounc'd a firm decree,
Nor changes what he swore ;
" Eternal shall Thy Priesthood be
" When Aaron is no more.

4 " Melchizedeck, that wond'rous priest ;
" That King of high degree ;
" That holy man, who Abr'am blest,
" Was but a type of thee.

5 Jesus our Priest forever lives
To plead for us above ;
Jesus our King forever gives
The blessings of his love.

6 God shall exalt his glor'ous head,
And his high throne maintain,

Shall strike the pow'rs and princes dead
Who dare oppose his reign.

The Wisdom of God in his Works.

SONGS of immortal praise belong
To my Almighty God.
He has my heart, and he my tongue,
To spread his name abroad.

2 How great the works his hand has wrought :
How glor'ous in our sight !
Good men in ev'ry age have sought
His wonders with delight.

3 How most exact is Nature's frame !
How wise th' Eternal Mind !
His counsels never change the scheme
Which his first thoughts design'd.

4 When he redeem'd his chosen sons,
He fix'd his cov'nant sure :
The orders which his lips pronounce,
To endless years endure.

5 Nature and time, and earth and skies,
Thy heav'nly skill proclaim :
What shall we do to make us wise,
But learn to read Thy Name ?

6 To fear thy pow'r, to trust thy grace,
Is our divinest skill :
And he's the wisest of our race
Who best obeys thy will.

P S A L M CXI. Second part. Com. metre.
The perfections of God.

GREAT is the Lord : his works of might
Demand our noblest songs ;
Let his assembled saints unite,
Their harmony of tongues.

2 Great is the mercy of the Lord :
He gives his children food ;
And, evermindful of his word,
He makes his promise good.

3 His Son, the Great Redeemer, came
To seal his cov'nant sure :
Holy and rev'rend is His Name,
His ways are just and pure.

Those who would grow divinely wise,
Must with his fear begin :
Our fairest proof of knowledge, lies
In hating ev'ry sin.

P S A L M CXII. Particular metre.

The blessings of the liberal man.

THAT man is blest who stands in awe
Of God, and loves his sacred law ;
His seed on earth shall be renown'd ;
His house the seat of wealth shall be,
An inexhausted treasury
And with successive honors crown'd.

2 His lib'ral favors he extends.
To some he gives, to others lends :
A gen'rous pity fills his mind :
Yet what his charity impairs,
He saves, by prudence in affairs,
And thus he's just to all mankind.

3 His hands, while they his aims bestow'd,
His glory's future harvest sow'd,
The sweet remembrance of the just,
Like a green root, revives, and bears
A train of blessings for his heirs,
When dying nature sleeps in dust.

4 Beset with threatening dangers round,
Unmov'd shall he maintain his ground !
His conscience holds his courage up :
The soul that's fix'd with virtue's light

Shines brightest in affliction's night,
And sees, in darkness, beams of hope.

P A U S E.

5 [Ill tidings never can surprise
The heart which fix'd on God relies,
Though waves and tempests roar around:
Sate on the rock he sits, and sees
The shipwreck of his enemies,
And all their hope and glory drown'd.]

6 The wicked shall his triumph see,
And gnash their teeth in agony,
To find their expectations cross'd;
They and their envy, pride and spite,
Sink down to everlasting night,
And all their names in darkness lost.]

PSALM CXII. Long metre.

The Blessings of the Pious and Charitable.

THREE happy man who fears the Lord,
Loves his commands, and trusts his word:
Honor and peace his ways attend,
And blessings to his seed descend.

2 Compassion dwells upon his mind,
To works of mercy still inclin'd.
He lends the poor some present aid,
Or gives them, not to be repaid.

3 When times grow dark and tidings spread
Which fill his neighbors round with dread,
His heart is arm'd against the fear,
For God, with all his pow'r, is there.

4 His soul well fix'd upon the Lord,
Draws heav'nly courage from his word:
Amidst the darkness, light shall rise,
To cheer his heart and bless his eyes,

5 He hath dispos'd his aims aright,
His works are still before his God!

His name on earth shall long remain,
While envious sinners fret in vain.

P S A L M CXII. Common metre.

Liberality rewarded.

HAPPY is he who fears the Lord,
And follows his commands,
Who leads the poor without reward,
Or gives with lib'ral hands.

2 As pity dwells within his breast
To all the sons of need ;
So God shall answer his request
With blessings on his seed.

3 No evil tidings shall surprize
His well establish'd mind ;
His soul to God, his Refuge, flies,
And leaves his fears behind.

4 In times of general distress
Some beams of light shall shine,
To shew the world his righteouness,
And give him peace divine.

5 His works of piety and love,
Remain before the Lord ;
Honor on earth, and joys above,
Shall be his true reward.

P S A L M CXIII. Particular metre.

The Majesty and Condescension of God.

YE who delight to serve the Lord,
The honors of his name record ;
His Sacred Name forever bless'd
Where e'er the circling sun displays
His rising beams, or setting rays,
Let lands and seas his pow'r confess.

2 Not time nor nature's narrow round
Can give his vast dominions bounds ;
The heav'ns are far below his height

Let no created greatness dare
 With our eternal God compare.
 Arm'd with his Uncreated might.

2 He bows his glor'ous head to view
 What the bright hosts of angels do,
 And bends his care to mortal things :
 His sov'reign hand exalts the poor ;
 He takes the needy from the door,
 And makes them company for kings.

4 When childless families despair,
 He sends the blessing of an heir,
 To rescue their expiring name ;
 The mother with a thankful voice
 Proclaims his praises and her joys ;
 Let ev'ry age advance his fame.

P S A L M CXIII. Long metre.

God, Sovereign and Gracious.

YE servants of th' Almighty King,
 In ev'ry age his praises sing :
 Where e'er the sun shall rise or set,
 The nations shall his praise repeat,
 2 Above the earth, beyond the sky,
 Stand His High Throne of majesty ;
 Nor time, nor place his pow'r restrain,
 Nor bounds his universal reign.

3 Which of the sons of Adam dare,
 Or angels, with their God compare !
 His glories, how divinely bright,
 Who dwells in Uncreated Light !

4 Behold his love ! he stoops to view
 What satans above and angels do ;
 And condescends yet more to know
 The mean affairs of men below.

5 From dirt and cottages obscure,
 His grace exalts the humble poor ;

Gives them the honor of his sons,
And fits them for his heavn'ly thrones.

6 A word of His creating voice
Can make the barren house rejoice :
Though Sarah's ninety years were past,
The promis'd seed is born at last.

7 With joy the mother views her son,
And tells the wonders God has done :
Faith may grow strong, when sense despairs :
If nature fails, the promise bears.]

P S A L M CXIV. Long metre.

Miracles attending Israel's Journey.

WHEN Isr'el, freed from Pharaoh's hand,
Left the proud tyrant and his land,
The tribes, with cheerful homage, own
Their King ; and Judah was his throne.

2 Across the deep their journey lay ;
The deep divides to make them way ;
Jordan beheld their march, and fled,
With backward current to his head.

3 The mountains shook like frightened sheep ;
Like lambs the little hillocks leap ;
Not Sinai on her base could stand.
Conscious of Sov'reign Pow'r at hand.

4 What pow'r could make the deep divide ?
Make Jordan backward roll his tide ?
Why did ye leap, ye little hills ?
And whence the fright which Sinai feels ?

5 Let ev'ry mountain, ev'ry flood,
Retire and know th' approaching God,
The King of Isr'el ! see him here !
Tremble thou earth, adore and fear !

6 He thunders, and all nature mourns ;
The rock to standing pools he turns ;
Founts spring with fountains at his word,
And fires and seas confess the Lord.

P S A L M CXV. Long metre.

The true God our Refuge; or, Idolatry reprov'd.

NOT to ourselves, who are but dust,
 Not to ourselves is glory due!
 Eternal God! thou only just!
 Thou only gracious, wise and true.

2 Shine forth in all thy dreadful name:
 Why should a heathen's haughty tongue
 Insult us, and to raise our shame,
 Say, Where is the God you've serv'd so long?

3 The God we serve maintains his throne
 Above the clouds beyond the skies;
 Through all the earth his will is done,
 He knows our groans he hears our cries.

4 But the vain idols they adore
 Are senseless shapes of stone and wood;
 At best a mass of glitt'ring ore,
 A silver faint, or golden god!

5 With eyes and ears they carve their head
 Deaf are their ears their eyes are blind;
 In vain are costly offerings made,
 And vows are scatter'd in the wind.

6 Their feet were never made to move,
 Nor hands to save, when mortals pray,
 Mortals who pay them fear or love,
 Seem to be blind and deaf as they.]

7 O Is'el, make the Lord thy hope,
 Thy Help, thy Refuge and thy Rest;
 The Lord shall build thy ruins up,
 And bless the people and the priest.

8 The dead no more can speak thy praise;
 They lie in silence in the grave;
 But we shall live to sing thy grace,
 And tell the world thy pow'rs to save.

P S A L M CXV. Particular Metre.

Popish Idolatry reprov'd.

NOT to our names, Thou only just and true,
 Not to our worthless names is glory due :
 Thy pow'r and grace, thy truth and justice, claim
 Immortal honors to thy sov'reign Name

Shine thro' the earth from heav'n thy bliss abode,
 Nor let the heathens say And where's your God ?

2 Heav'n is thine higher court : there stands thy (throne ;

And through the lower worlds thy will is done ;
 Our God fram'd all this earth, these heav'ns he (spread,

But fools adore the gods their hands have made :
 The kneeling crowd, with looks devout behold
 Their siver favours, and their saints of gold.

3 Vain are those artful shapes of eyes and ears ;
 The molten image neither sees nor hears :

Their hands are helpeless, nor their feet can move ;
 They have no speech, nor thought, nor pow'r nor (ove ;

Yet foolish mortals make their long complaints
 To their deaf idols, and their moveable saints.

4 The rich have statues well adorn'd with gold.
 The poor, consent with gods of coarser mould ;
 With tools of iron, carve the senseless flock
 Lopt from a tree, or broken from a rock :
 People and priest drive on the sole main trade,
 And trust the gods that saws and hammers made :

5 Be heav'n and earth amaz'd ! 'tis hard to say,
 Which is more stupid, or their gods, or they :

O Ir'el, trust the Lord ! he hears and sees :
 He knows thy sorrows, and restores thy peace :
 His worship does a thousand comforts yield ;
 He is thy help, and He thine heav'nly shield :

6 Columbia, trust the Lord : thy foes, in vain,
 Attempt thy ruin, and enforce their reign ;

Had they prevail'd, darkness had clos'd our days,
 And death and silence had forbid his praise :
 But we are sav'd, and live ; let songs arise,
Columbia, bleis the God who built the skies.

P S A L M CXVI. First part.

Recovery from Sickness.

I LOVE the Lord ; he heard my cries,

I And pitt'y'd ev'ry groan :

Long as I live, when troubles rise,

I'll hasten to his throne.

2 I love the Lord ; he bow'd his ear,

And chas'd my griefs away :

O let my heart no more despair,

While I have breath to pray !

3 My flesh declin'd, my spirits fell,

And I drew near the dead ,

While inward pangs, and fears of hell

Perplex'd my wakeful head.

4 " My God, I cry'd, thy servant save,

" Thou ever good and just :

" Thy pow'r can rescue from the grave :

" Thy pow'r is all my trust."

5 The Lord believ'd me sore distress ;

He bid my pains remove :

Return, my soul to God, thy Rest,

For thou hast known his love.

6 My God hath sav'd my soul from death,

And dry'd my falling tears :

Now to his praise I'll spend my breath,

And my remaining years.

P S A L M CXVI. Second part.

Vows made in Trouble paid in the Church ; or ; Public thanks for Private Deliverance.

WHAT shall I render to my God

For all his kindness shown ?

My feet shall sit thine abode,

My songs address thy throne.

2 Among the saints who fill thine house
My off'ings shall be paid ;
There shall my zeal perform the vows
My soul in anguish made.

3 How much is mercy thy delight,
Thou Ever-Blessed God !
How dear thy servants in thy sight !
How precious is their blood !

4 How happy all thy servants are !
How great thy grace to me !
My life which thou hast made thy care,
Lord I devote to thee.

5 Now I am thine for ever thine,
Nor shall my purpose move ;
Thy hand hath loosed my bonds of pain,
And bound me with thy love.

6 Hear in Thy Courts I leave my vow,
And thy rich grace record ;
Witness ye saints who hear me now,
If I forsake the Lord.

P S A L M C X V I I . Common Metre.

Praise to God from all Nations.

O ALL ye nations, praise the Lord,
Each with a different tongue ;
In ev'ry language learn his word,
And let his name be sung.

2 His mercy reigns through ev'ry land ;
Proclaim his grace abroad :
For ever firm his truth shall stand ;
Praise ye the faithful God.

P S A L M C X V I I . Long Metre.

FROM all who dwell below the skies
Let the Creator's praise arise ;
Let the Redeemer's Name be sung
Through ev'ry land by ev'ry tongue.

U

226 P S A L M CXVII, CXVIII.

2 Eternal are thy mercies, Lord
Eternal truth attends thy word ;
Thy praise shall sound from shore to shore,
,Till suns shall rise and set no more.

P S A L M CXVII. Short metre.

THY name Almighty Lord,
Shall sound through distant lands ;
Great is thy grace and sure thy word :
Thy truth forever stands.

2 Far be thine honor spread,
And long thy praise endure ;
'Till morning light and evening shade
Shall be exchange'd no more.

P S A L M CXVIII. First part.

Deliverance from a Tumult.

THE Lord appears my helper now,
Nor is my faith afraid
What all the sons of earth can do,
Since heaven affords its aid.

2 'Tis safer Lord to hope in thee,
And have my God my friend,
Than trust in men of high degree,
And on their truth depend.

3 Like bees my foes beset me round
A large and angry swarm ;
But I shall all their rage confound,
By thine Almighty Arm.

4 'Tis through the Lord my heart is strong ;
In him my lips rejoice ;
While his salvation is my song.
How cheerful is my voice !

5 Like angry bees they get me round ;
When God appears they fly :

6 Burning thorns with crackling sound,
Make a fire blaze and die.

6 Joy to the faints and peace belongs ;
 The Lord protects their ways :
 Let Israel tune immortal songs
 To his Almighty Grace.

P S A L M CXVIII. Second Part.

Public Prayer for Deliverance from Death.

LORD, thou hast heard thy servant cry,
 And rescue'd him on the grave :
 Now shall he live, (and none can die,
 If God resolve to save)

2 Thy praise more constant than before,
 Shall fill his daily breath ;

Thy hand which stretch'd him from the grave,
 Deliver him from death

3 Open the gates of Zion now,
 For we shall worship there ;

The house where all the righteous go
 Thy mercy to declare.

4 Among th' assemblies of thy faints
 Our thankful voice we raise ;

There we have told thee our complaints,
 And there we speak thy praise.

P S A L M CXVIII. Third Part. Com. metre.

Christ the Foundation of the Church.

BEHOLD the sure Foundation-Stone
 Which God in Zion lays:
 To build our heav'nly hopes upon,
 And his eternal praise.

2 Chosen of God, to sinners dear,
 And faints adore his name ;

They trust their whole salvation here,
 Nor shall they suffer shame.

3 The foolish builders scribe and priest,
 Reject it with disdain ;

Yet on this Rock the church shall rest,
And envy rage in vain.

4 What though the gates of hell withstood !
Yet must this building rise ;
Tis thy own work, A mighty God,
And wond'rous in our eyes.

P S A L M CXVIII. Fourth Part. Com. metre

Hosanna ; the Lord's day ; or Christ's Resurrection, and our Salvation.

THIS is the day the Lord hath made ;
He calls the hours his own ;
Let heav'n rejoice let earth be glad,
And praise surround thy throne.

2 To day he rose and left the dead ;
And satan's empire fell ;
To day the saints his triumph spread,
And all his wonders tell.

3 Hosanna to th' anointed King,
To David's holy Son :
Help us, O Lord ; descend and bring
Salvation from thy throne.

4 Blest be the Lord who comes to men
With messages of grace ;
Who comes in God his Father's name,
To save our sinful race.

5 Hosanna in the highest strains
The Church on earth can raise :
The highest heav'ns in which he reigns,
Shall give him nobler praise.

P S A L M CXVIII. Short metre.

*An Hosanna for the Lord's-day ; or, A new song
of Salvation by Christ.*

SEE what a Living Stone
The builders did refuse !

Yet God hath built his church thereon
In spite of env'ous Jews.

2 The scribe an' angry priest
Reject thine only Son :
Yet on this Rock shall Zion rest,
As the chief corner stone.

3 The work O Lord is thine,
And wond'rous in our eyes;
This day declares it All-Divine,
This day did Jesus rise !

4 This is the glor'ous day
Which our redeemer made ;
Let us rejoice and sing and pray ;
Let all the church be glad.

5 Hosanna to the King ;
Of David's royal blood :
Bless him ye saints he comes to bring
Salvation from your God,

6 We bless thine holy word
Which all this grace displays ;
And offer on thine altar, Lord,
Our sacrifice of praise.

P S A L M CXVIII. Long metre

*An Hosanna for the Lord's-day ; or, A new Song
of Salvation by Christ.*

LO, what a glor'ous Corner-Stone
The Jewish builders did refuse !
But God hath built his church thereon,
In spite of envy and the Jews.

2 Great God the work is all divine,
The joy and wonder of our eyes ;
This is the day which proves it thine,
The day which saw our Saviour rise.

3 Sinners rejoice and saints be glad,
Hosanna, let his name be blest !

A thousand honors on his head,
With peace and light and glory rest !

4 In God's own name he comes to bring
Salvation to our dying race ;
Let the whole church address their King
With hearts of joy and songs of praise.

P S A L M CXIX.

[I have collected and disposed the most useful verses of this psalm under eighteen different heads, and formed a Divine Song upon each of them ; but the verses are too much transposed to attain any degree of connection.

In some places among the words, law, commands, judgments, testimonies, I have used, gospel, word, grace, truth promises, &c a more agreeable to the New-Testament and the common language of Christians ; and it equally answers the design of the Psalmist, which was to recommend the Holy Scriptures.

P S A L M CXIX. First Part.

Blessedness of Saints and the Misery of Sinners.

Ver. 1. 2, 3.

BLEST are the undefil'd in heart,
Whose ways are right and clean ;
Who never from thy law depart,
But fly from ev'ry sin.

2 Blest are the men who keep thy word,
And practise thy commands ;
With their whole heart they seek the Lord,
And serve thee with their hands.

Ver. 165.

3 Great is their peace who love thy law ;
How firm their souls abide !
Nor can a bold temptation draw
Their steady feet aside.

Ver. 6.

4 Then shall my heart have inward joy,
 And keep my face from shame,
 When all thy statutes I obey,
 And honor all thy name.

Ver. 21, 118.

5 But haughty sinners God will hate,
 The proud shall die accurst;
 The sons of falshood and deceit
 Are trodden to the dust.

Ver. 199, 155.

6 Vile as the dross the wicked are;
 And those who leave thy ways
 Shall see salvation from afar,
 But never taste thy grace.

P S A L M CXIX. Second Part.

Secret Devotions and Spiritual Meditations; or, constant Converse with God.

Ver. 147, 55.

TO Thee, before the dawning light,
 My gracious God I pray;
 I meditate thy name by night,
 And keep thy law by day.

Ver. 81.

2 My spirit faints to see thy grace;
 Thy promise bears me up!
 And while salvation long delays,
 Thy word supports my hope.

Ver. 164.

3 Sev'n times a day I lift my hands,
 And pay my thanks to thee;
 Thy righteous Providence demands
 Repeated praise from me.

Ver. 62.

4 When midnight darkness veils the skies,
 I call thy works to mind;
 My thoughts in warm devotion rise,
 And sweet acceptance find.

P S A L M CXIX. Third Part.Professions of Sincerity, Repentance, and Obedience.

Ver. 57, 60.

THOU art my portion, O my God;
 Soon as I know thy way,
 My heart makes haste t' obey thy word,
 And suffers no delay.

Ver. 30, 14.

2 I choose the path of heav'ny truth,
 And glory in my choice;
 Not all the riches of the earth
 Could make me fore-joyce.

3 The testimonies of thy grace
 I set before my eyes;
 Thence I deriv'd my daily strength,
 And there my comfort lies.

Ver. 59.

4 If once I wander from thy paths,
 I think upon my ways;
 Then turn my feet to thy commands
 And trust thy pard'ning grace.

Ver. 94, 114.

5 Now I am thine for ever thine!
 O save thy servant Lord!
 Thou art my Shield, my Hiding-Place;
 My hope is in thy word.

Ver. 112.

6 Thou hast inclin'd this heart of mine
 Thy statutes to fulfil;
 And thus, 'till mortal life shall end,
 Would I perform thy will.

P S A L M CXIX. Fourth part.Instruction from Scripture.

Ver. 9

HOW shall the young secure their hearts,
 And guard their lives from sin?
 Thy word the choicest rule imparts
 To keep the conscience clean.

Ver. 130.

When once it enters to the mind
It spreads such light abroad
The meanest souls instruction find,
And raise their thoughts to God,

Ver. 105.

3 'Tis like the Sun a heav'nly light,
Which guides us all the day ;
And through the dangers of the night,
A lamp to lead our way.

Ver. 94, 100.

4 The men who keep thy law with care,
And meditate thy word,
Grow wiser than their teachers are,
And better know the Lord.

Ver. 104, 113.

5 Thy precepts make me truly wise ;
I hate the sinner's road ;
I hate my own vain thoughts which rise,
But love thy law, my God.

Ver. 89, 90, 91.

6 The starry heav'ns thy rule obey ;
The earth maintains her place ;
And these thy servants night and day
Thy skill and pow'r express.

7 But still thy law and gospel Lord
Have lessons more divine ;
Not earth stands firmer than thy word,
Nor stars so nobly shine.]

Ver. 160, 140, 9, 116.

8 Thy word is everlasting truth ;
How pure is ev'ry page !
That holy book shall guide our youth,
And well support our age.

P S A L M CXIX. Fifth part

Delight in Scripture ; or, the Word of God dwelling in us.

Ver. 97.

O HOW I love thy holy law ;
'Tis daily my delight ;

And thence my meditations draw
Divine advice by night.

Ver. 148.

2 My waking eyes prevent the day,
To meditate thy word ;
My soul with longing melts away
To hear thy gospel Lord.

Ver. 3, 13, 54.

3 How doth thy word my heart engage ;
How well employ my tongue !
And is my tiresome pilgrimage
Yields me a heav'ny song.

Ver. 19, 103.

4 Am I a stranger or at home,
'Tis my perpet' al feast !
Not honey dropping from the comb,
So much allures the taste.

Ver. 72, 127.

5 No treasures so enrich the mind ;
Nor shall thy word be sold,
For loads of silver well refin'd,
Nor heaps of choicest gold.

Ver. 28, 49, 175.

6 When nature sinks and spirits droop,
Thy promises of grace
Are pillars to support my hope,
And there I write thy praise.

PSALM CXIX. Sixth part.
Holiness and Comfort from the Word.

Ver. 128.

LORD, I esteem thy judgments right,
And all thy statutes just,
Thence I maintain a constant fight,
With ev'ry flatt'ring lust.

Ver. 97, 9.

2 Thy precepts often I survey :
I keep thy law in sight,
Through all the bus'ness of the day,
To form my actions right.

Ver. 62.

3 My heart in midnight silence, cries,
 "How sweet thy comforts be!"
 My thoughts in holy wonder, rise,
 And bring their thanks to Thee.

Ver. 162.

4 And when my spirit drinks her fill,
 At some good word of thine,
 Not mighty men, who share the spoil,
 Have joys; compar'd to mine.

P S A L M CXIX. Seventh part.Imperfection of Nature and perfection of Scripture

Ver. 96. Paraphrased.

LET all the heathen writers join
 To form one perfect book;
 Great God if once compar'd with Thine,
 How mean their writings look!

2 Not the most perfect rules they gave
 Could shew one sin forgiv'n;
 Nor lead a step beyond the grave;
 But Thine conduct to heav'n.

3 I've seen an end of what we call
 Perfection here below;
 How short the row'rs of nature fall,
 And can no further go!

4 Yet men would fain be just with God,
 By works their hands have wrought;
 But thy commands exceeding broad,
 Extend to ev'ry thought.

5 In vain we boast perfection here,
 While sin defiles our frame;
 And sinks our virtues down so far,
 They scarce deserve the name.

6 Our faith and love and ev'ry grace
 Fall far below thy word;

But perfect truth and righteouens
Dwell only with the Lord.

P S A L M CXIX. Eighth part

The Word of God is the Saint's Portion ; or, The Excellency and Variety of Scripture.

LORD, I have made thy word my choice,
My lasting heritage :

Thou shalt my noblest powers rejoice,
My warmest thoughts engage.

2 I'd read the histories of thy love
And keep thy laws in sight ;
While through thy promises I rove
With ever fresh delight.

3 'Tis a broad land of wealth unknown,
Where springs of life arise ;
Seed of immortal bliss are sown,
And hidden glory lies.

4 The best relief which mourners have,
It makes our sorrows best ;
Our fairest hope beyond the grave,
And our eternal rest.

P S A L M CXIX. Ninth Part.

Desire of knowledge ; or the teachings of the Spirit with the Word.

Ver 64. 68. 18.

THY mercies fill the earth, O Lord ;
How good thy works appear
Open mine eyes to read thy word,
And see thy wonders there.

Ver. 73. 125,

2 My heart was fashion'd by thine hand :
My service is thy due ;
O make thy servant understand
The duties he must do ;

Ver. 19.

3 Since I'm a stranger here below,
Let not thy path be hid ;
But mark the road my feet should go,
And be my constant guide.

Ver. 26.

4 When I confess'd my wand'ring ways ;
Thou heard'st my soul complain ;
Grant me the teachings of thy grace,
Or I shall stray again.

Ver. 33, 34.

5 If God to me his statutes shew,
And heav'nly truth impart,
His works forever I'll pursue ;
His law shall rule my heart.

Ver. 50, 51.

6 This was my comfort, when I bore
Variety of grief ;
It made me learn thy word the more,
And fly to that relief.

Ver. 51.

[7 In vain the proud deride me, now :
I'll ne'er forget thy law,
Nor let that blessed gospel go,
Whence all my hopes I draw.

Ver. 27, 171.

8 When I have learn'd my Father's will,
I'll teach the word his ways !
My thankful lips, inspir'd with zeal,
Shall loud pronounce his praise.]

PSALM CXIX. Tenth Part.Phrasing the Promises.

Ver. 38, 49.

BEHOLD thy waiting servant, Lord,
Devoted to thy fear !
Remember, and confirm thy word,
For all my hopes are there.

W

Ver. 41, 58, 107.

- 2 Hast thou not writ salvation down,
And promis'd quick'ning grace?
Doth not my heart address thy throne?
And yet thy love delays.

Ver. 123, 42.

- 3 Mine eyes for thy salvation fail;
O bear thy servant up;
Nor let the scoffing lips prevail,
Which dare reproach my hope.

Ver. 49, 74.

- 4 Didst thou not raise my faith, O Lord;
Then let thy truth appear:
Saints shall rejoice in my reward,
And trust, as well as fear.

P S A L M CXIX. Eleventh part.Breathing after Holiness

Ver. 5, 33.

- O THAT the Lord would guide my ways,
To keep his statutes still!
O that my God would grant me grace,
To know and do his will!

Ver. 29.

- 2 O send Thy Spirit down, to write
Thy law upon my heart;
Nor let my tongue indulge deceit,
Nor act the liar's part.

Ver. 36, 37.

- 3 From vanity turn off my eyes;
Let no corrupt design,
Nor covetous desires arise
Within this soul of mine.

Ver. 133.

- Order my footsteps by thy word,
And make my heart sincere;
Let sin have no dominion Lord,
But keep my conscience clear.

Ver. 176

5 My soul hath gone too far astray ;
 My feet too often slip ;
 Yet, since I've not forgot thy way,
 Restore thy wand'ring sheep.

Ver. 35.

6 Make me to walk in thy commands ;
 'Tis a delightful road :
 Nor let my head, or heart, or hands,
 Offend against my God.

P S A L M CXIX. Tweifib part.Breathing after Comfort and Deliverance.

Ver. 153.

MY God consider my distress :
 Let mercy plead my cause ;
 Though I have sinn'd against thy grace,
 I can't forget thy laws.

Ver. 39. 116.

2 Forbid, forbid the sharp reproach,
 Which I so justly fear ;
 Uphold my life, uphold my hopes,
 Nor let my shame appear.

Ver. 122. 135.

3 Be thou a surety, Lord, for me,
 Nor let the proud oppress :
 But make thy waiting servant see
 The shinings of thy face.

Ver. 82.

4 Mine eyes with expectation fail ;
 My heart within me cries.
*When will the Lord his truth fulfil,
 And make my comforts rise ?*

Ver. 132.

5 Look down upon my sorrows, Lord,
 And shew thy grace the same,
 As thou art ever won't t' afford,
 To those who love thy name.

P S A L M CXIX. Thirteenth Part.Holy fear, and Tenderness of Conscience.

Ver. 10.

WITH my whole heart I've sought thy face ;
 O let me never stray
 From thy commands, O God of grace,
 Nor tread the sinners way

Ver. 11.

2 Thy word I've hid within my heart:
 To keep my conscience clean,
 And be an everlasting guard
 From ev'ry rising sin.

Ver. 63, 53, 158.

3 I'm a companion of the saints,
 Who fear and love the Lord ;
 My sorrows rise my nature faints,
 When men transgress thy word.

Ver. 161, 163.

4 While sinners do thy gospel wrong,
 My spirit stands in awe ;
 My soul abhors the lying tongue,
 But loves thy righteous law.

Ver. 161 120.

5 My heart, with sacred rev'rence hears,
 The threa'sings of thy word :
 My flesh, with holy trembling, fears,
 The judgments of the Lord.

Ver. 166 174.

6 My God, I long, I hope, I wait
 For thy salvation, still ;
 While thy whole law is my delight,
 And I obey thy will.

P S A L M CXIX. Fourteenth part.Benefit of Afflictions, and support under them.

Ver. 163 81 82.

CONSIDER all my sorrows Lord,
 And thy deliverance send ;
 My soul for thy salvation faints :
 When will my troubles end ?

Ver. 71.

2 Yet I have found tis good for me,
To bear my Father's rod ;
Afflictions make me learn thy law,
And live upon my God.

Ver. 50.

3 This is the comfort I enjoy,
When new distress begins :
I read thy word, I run thy way,
And hate my former sins.

Ver. 92.

4 Had not thy word been my delight,
When earthly joys were fled,
My soul, oppress'd with sorrow's weight,
Had sunk among the dead.

Ver. 75

5 I know thy judgments, Lord, are right,
Tho' they may seem severe ;
The sharpest sufferings I endure
Flow from thy faithful care.

Ver. 67.

6 Before I knew thy chast'ning rod,
My feet were apt to stray ;
But now I learn to keep thy word,
Nor wander from thy way.

P S A L M CXIX Fifteenth Part.Holy Resolutions.

Ver. 93

O THAT thy statutes, ev'ry hour,
Might dwell upon my mind !
Thence I derive a quick'ning pow'r,
And daily peace I find.

Ver. 15, 16.

2 To meditate thy precepts, Lord,
Shall be my sweet employ ;
My soul shall ne'er forget thy word ;
Thy word is all my joy.

Ver. 32.

3 How would I run in thy commands,
If thou my heart discharge
From sin and and satan's hateful chains,
And set my feet at large!

Ver. 13. 46.

4 My lips, with courage, shall declare
Thy statutes and thy name;
I'll speak thy word, though kings should hear.
Nor yield to sinful shame.

Ver. 61, 69, 70.

5 Let bands of persecutors rise
To rob me of my right;
Let pride and malice forge their lies,
Thy law is my delight.

Ver. 115.

6 Depart from me, ye wicked race,
Whose hands and hearts are ill!
I love my God I love his ways,
And must obey his will.

P S A L M CX X. Sixteenth part.Prayer for Quickening Grace,

Ver. 25. 37.

MY soul lies cleaving to the dust;
Lord give me life divine;
From vain desires and every lust
Turn off these eyes of mine.

2 I need the influence of thy grace
To speed me in my way,
Lest I should loiter in my race,
Or turn my feet astray.

Ver. 107.

3 When sore afflictions press me down,
I need thy quickning pow'rs:
Thy word, which I have rested on,
Shall help my heav'est hours.

Ver. 156. 40.

4 Are not thy mercies sov'reign still,
And thou a faithful God?

Wilt thou not grant me warmer zeal
To run the heav'nly road ?

Ver. 159, 40.

5 Does not my heart thy precepts love,
And long to see thy face ?

And yet how slow my spirits move,
Without eniv'ning grace ;

Ver. 93

6 Then shall I love thy gospel more,
And ne'er forget thy word,

When I have felt its quick'ning pow'r,
To draw me near the Lord.

P S A L M CXIX. Seventeenth part.

Courage and Perseverance under Persecution ; or Grace Shining in difficulties and Trials.

Ver. 143, 28.

WHEN pain and anguish seize me, Lord,
All my support is from thy word :

My soul dissolves for heaviness ;

Uphold me with thy strength'ning grace.

Ver. 51, 69, 110.

2 The proud have fram'd their scoffs and lies :

They watch my feet with env'ous eyes,

And tempt my soul to snares and sin ;

Yet thy commands I ne'er decline.

Ver. 161, 78.

3 They hate me, Lord, without a cause ;

They hate to see me love thy laws ;

But I will trust and fear thy name,

'Till pride and malice die with shame.

P S A L M CXIX. Last part.

Sanctified Afflictions ; or, Delight in the Word of God.

Ver. 67, 59.

FURTHER, I bless thy gentle hand ;

How kind was thy chastizing rod,

Which forc'd my conscience to a stand,

And brought my wand'ring soul to God !

2 Foolish and vain I went astray,
 E'er I had felt thy scourges, Lord,
 I lost my guide, and lost my way,
 But now I love and keep Thy word.

Ver. 71.

3 'Tis good for me to wear the yoke,
 For pride is apt to rise and swell;
 'Tis good to bear my Father's stroke,
 That I might learn his statutes well.

Ver. 72.

4 The law which issues from thy mouth
 Shall raise my cheerful passions more
 Than all the treasures of the South,
 Or Western hills of golden ore.

Ver. 73.

5 Thy hands have made my mortal frame,
 Thy Spirit form'd my soul within:
 Teach me to know thy wondrous name,
 And guard me safe from death and sin.

Ver. 74.

6 Then all who love and fear the Lord,
 At my salvation shall rejoice:
 For I have hop'd in thy word,
 And made thy grace my only choice.

P S A L M CXX.

Complaint of Quarrelsome Neighbours; or, A devout wish for Peace.

THOU God of love, thou ever-blest,
 I pray my bustling state:
 When wilt thou set my soul at rest
 From lips which teach me deceit?

2 Hard lot of mine! my days are cast
 Among the fogs of strife.

Whose never ceasing hearings waste
 My golden hours of life.

3 O! might I sit to change my place,
 How would I choose to dwell

In some wild lonesome wilderness,
And leave these gates of Hell!

4 Peace is the blessing that I seek;
How lovely are its charms!

I am for peace; but when I speak,
They all declare for arms.

5 New passions still their souls engage,
And keep their malice strong:

What shall be done to curb thy rage,
O thou devouring tongue?

6 Should burning arrows smite thee through,
Strict justice would approve;

But I would rather spare my foe,
And melt his heart with love.

PSALM CXXI. Long metre.

Divine Protection.

UP to the hills I lift mine eyes,
Th' eternal hills beyond the skies!
Thence all her help my soul derives:
There my almighty Refuge lives.

2 He lives, the Everlasting God,
Who built the world, who spread the flood,
The heav'ns, with all their hosts, he made,
And the dark regions of the dead.

3 He guides our feet, he guards our way;
His morning smiles bless all the day;
He spreads the ev'ning veil and keeps
The silent hours, while Isr'el sleeps.

4 Isr'el a name divinely blest,
May rise secure, secure y rest;
Thy holy Guardian's wakeful eyes
Admit no slumber nor surprize.

5 No sun shall smite thy head, by day,
Nor the pale moon, with sickly ray
Shall blast thy couch: no baleful star
Dart his malignant fire so far.

6 Should earth and hell with malice burn,
Still thou shalt go, and still return,
Safe in the Lord; his heav'nly care
Defends thy life from ev'ry inare.

7 On thee foul spirits have no pow'r;
And in thy last departing hour,
Ang'ls who trace the airy road,
Shall bear thee homeward to thy God.

P S A L M CXXI. Common metre.

Pre-eraction by day and night.

TO heav'n I lift my waiting eyes:
There all my hopes are laid.
The Lord who built the earth and skies,
Is my perpetual aid.

2 Their feet shall never slide, to fall,
Whom he designs to keep;
His ear attends the softest call;
His eyes can never sleep.

3 He will sustain our weakest pow'rs,
With his Almighty arm;
And watch our most unguarded hours
Against surprizing harm.

4 Tir'el rejoice, and rest secure;
Thy keeper is the Lord;
His wakeful eyes employ his pow'r
For thine eternal guard.

5 Nor scorching sun, nor sickly moon,
Shall have his leave to smite;
He shields thy head from burning noon,
From blasting damps at night.

6 He guards thy soul, he keeps thy breath,
Where thickest dangers come;
Go, and return secure from death,
Till God commands thee home.

P S A L M CXXI.

God our preserver.

UPWARD I lift mine eyes ;
 From God is all my aid ;
 The God who built the skies,
 And earth and nature made ;
 God is the Tow'r
 To which I fly ;
 His grace is nigh
 In ev'ry hour.

My feet shall never slide,
 And fall in fatal snares,
 Since God, my Guard and Guide,
 Defends me from my fears.
 Those wakeful eyes
 Which never sleep,
 Shall Isr'el keep
 When dangers rife.

No burning heats by day,
 Nor blasts of ev'ning air
 Shall take my health away,
 If God be with me there,
 Thou art my Sun,
 And thou my shade,
 To guard my head
 By night or noon.

Hast thou not giv'n thy word
 To save my soul from death ;
 And I can trust my Lord
 To keep my mortal breath.
 I'll go and come,
 Nor fear to die,
 'Till, from on high,
 Thou call me home.

P S A L M CXXII. Com. metre.

Going to Church.

HOW did my heart rejoice, to hear,
 My friends, devoutly say,

*In Zion let us all appear,
And keep the solemn day!*

2 I love her gates, I love the road:
The church, adorn'd with grace,
Stands like a palace, built for God,
To shew his milder face.

3 Up to her courts with joys unknown,
The holy tribes prepare:
The son of David holds his throne,
And sits in judgment there.

4 He hears our praises and complaints:
And, while his awful voice
Divides the sinners from the saints,
We tremble and rejoice.

5 Peace be within this sacred place,
And joy a constant guest!
With holy gifts, and heav'nly grace
Be her attendants blest!

6 My soul shall pray for Zion still,
While life or breath remains:
There my best friends, my kindred dwell:
There God, my saviour, reigns.

P S A L M CXXII.

Going to Church.

HOW pleas'd and blest was I
To hear the people cry,
Come, let us seek our God, to-day;
Yes, with a cheerful zeal,
We haste to Zion's hill,
And there our vows and honors pay.

2 Zion, thrice happy place!
Adorn'd with wondrous grace,
And walls of strength embrace thee round:
In thee our tribes appear,
To pray and praise, and hear
The sacred gospel's joyful sound,

- 3 There David's Greater Son
 Has fix'd his Royal Throne ;
 He sits for grace and judgment there ;
 He bids the saints be glad,
 And makes the sinners sad,
 And humble souls rejoice with fear.
- 4 May peace attend thy gate,
 And joy within thee wait
 To bless the soul of ev'ry guest :
 The man who seeks thy peace,
 And wishes thine increase,
 A thousand blessings on him rest !
- 5 My tongue repeats her vows,
Peace to this sacred house !
 For there my friends and kindred dwell ;
 And since my glor'ous God
 Makes thee his blest abode,
 My soul shall ever love thee well.

P S A L M CXXIII.

Pleading, with Submission.

- O THOU whose grace and justice reign
 Enthron'd above the skies,
 To thee our hearts would tell their pain,
 To thee we lift our eyes !
- 2 As servants watch their master's hand,
 And fear the angry stroke ;
 Or maids before their mistress stand,
 And wait a peaceful look :
- 3 So for our sins we justly feel
 Thy discipline O God ;
 Yet wait the gracious moment still,
 'Till thou remove thy rod.
- 4 Those who in wealth and pleasure live,
 Our daily groans deride ;
 And thy delays of mercy give
 Fresh courage to their pride.

5 Our foes insult us, but our hope
 In thy compassion lies;
 This thought shall bear our spirits up,
 That God will not despise.

PSALM CXXVI.

A Song for Public Deliverance.

HAD not the Lord, may Isr'el say,
 Had not the Lord maintain'd our side,
 When men to make our lives a prey,
 Rose like the swelling of the tide:

2 The swelling tide had stopt our breath,
 So fiercely did the waters roll,
 We had been swallow'd deep in death:
 Proud waters had o'erwhelm'd our soul.

3 We leap for joy we shout and sing,
 Who just escap'd the fatal stroke;
 So flies the bird with chearful wing,
 When once the fowler's snare is broke.

4 For ever blessed be the Lord,
 Who broke the fowler's cursed snare,
 Who sav'd us from the murd'ring sword,
 And made our lives and souls his care.

5 Our help is in Jehovah's name,
 Who form'd the earth and built the skies;
 He who upholds that wond'rous frame,
 Guards his own Church with watchful eyes.

PSALM CXXV. Common metre.

The Saints' Trial and safety.

UNSHAKEN as the sacred hill,
 And firm as mountains be,
 Firm as a rock, the soul shall rest,
 That leans, O Lord, on Thee.

2 Not walls nor hills could guard so well
 Old Salem's happy ground,

- As those eternal arms of love,
Which ev'ry faint surround.
- 3 While tyrants are a smarting scourge
To drive them near to God,
Divine compassion does away,
The fury of the rod.
- 4 Deal gently, Lord with souls sincere,
And lead them safely on
To the bright gates of Paradise,
Where Christ, their Lord is gone.
- 5 But if we trace those wicked ways
Which the old serpent drew,
The wrath that drove him first to hell
Shall smite his foll'wers too.

P S A L M CXXV. Short metre.

The Saints' Trial & Safety; or, Moderated afflictions

FIRM and unmov'd are they
Who rest their souls on God;
Firm as the mount where David dwelt,
Or where the ark abode.

- 2 As mountains stood to guard
The city's sacred ground,
So God and his Almighty Love,
Embrace his saints around,
- 3 What though the Father's rod
Drop a chastising stroke
Yet lest it wound their souls too deep,
Its fury shall be broke.
- 4 Deal gently, Lord, with those
Whose faith and pious fear,
Whose hope and love, and ev'ry grace
Proclaim their hearts sincere.
- 5 Nor shall the tyrant's rage
Too long oppress the saint;

The God of Isr'el will support
His children, lest they faint.

6 But if our slavish fear
Will choose the road to hell,
We must expect our portion there,
Where bolder sinners dwell.

P S A L M CXXVI. Long metre.

Surprising Deliverance,

WHEN God restor'd our captive state,
Joy was our song, and grace our theme ;
The grace beyond our hopes so great,
That joy appear'd a painted dream.

2 The scoffer owns thy hand, and pays
Unwilling honors to thy name ;
While we, with pleasure, shout thy praise,
With cheerful notes thy love proclaim.

3 When we review our dismal fears,
Twas hard to think they'd vanish so ;
With God we left our flowing tears,
He makes our joys like rivers flow.

4 The man who in his furrow'd field,
His scatter'd seed with sadness leaves,
Will shout to see the harvest yield
A welcome load of joyful sheaves.

P S A L M CXXVI. Common Metre.

The Joy of a Remarkable Conversion ; or, Melancholy Removed.

WHEN God reveal'd his gracious name
And chang'd my mournful state,
My rapture seem'd a pleasing dream,
The grace appear'd so great.

2 The world beheld the glorious change,
And did thy hand confess :
My tongue broke out in unknown strains,
And sang surprising grace.

*Great is the work, my neighbors cry'd,
And own'd thy pow'r divine ;
Great is the work, my heart reply'd,
And be the glory thine.*

4 The Lord can clear the darkeſt ſkies,
Can give us day for night,
Make drops of ſacred ſorrow riſe
To rivers of delight.

5 Let thoſe who ſow in ſadneſs, wait
'Till the fair harveſt come :
They ſhall confeſs their ſheaves are great,
And ſhout the bleſſings home.

6 Though ſeed lie bury'd long in duſt,
It ſhan't deceive their hope !
The precious grain can ne'er be loſt.
For grace ſecures the crop.

PSALM CXXVII. Long metre.

The bleſſing of God on the Buſineſs and Comforts of Life.

IF God ſucceed not, all the coſt
And pains, to build the houſe, are loſt :
If God the city will not keep,
The watchful guards as well may ſleep.

2 What if you riſe before the ſun,
And work and toil when day is done,
Careful and ſeeking eat your bread,
To ſhun that poverty you dread ?

3 'Tis all in vain, 'till God hath bleſt :
He can make rich, yet give us reſt :
Children and friends are bleſſings too,
If God, our Sov'reign, makes them ſo.

4 Happy the man to whom he ſends
Obed'ent children, faithful friends ;
How ſweet our daily comforts prove
When they are ſeaſon'd with His love.

PSALM CXXVII. Com. metre.

God, All in All.

- IF God to build the house deny,
 The builders work in vain :
 And towns, without his wakeful eye,
 A useful watch maintain.
- 2 Before the morning-beams arise,
 Your painful work renew ;
 And, till the stars ascend the skies,
 Your tiresome toil pursue.
- 3 Short be your sleep, and coarse your fare,
 In vain, 'till God has blest ;
 But, if his smiles attend your care,
 You shall have food and rest.
- 4 Nor children, relatives nor friends
 Shall real blessings prove,
 Nor all the earthly joys he sends,
 If sent without his love.

PSALM CXXVIII. Com. metre.

Family Blessings.

- O HAPPY man whose soul is fill'd
 With zeal and rev'rend awe !
 His lips to God, their honors yield,
 His life adorns the law.
- 2 A careful Providence shall stand
 And ever guard thy head,
 Shall on the labors of thy hand
 Its kindly blessings shed.
- 3 Thy wife shall be a fruitful vine ;
 Thy children, round thy board,
 Each, like a plant of honor, shine,
 And learn to fear the Lord,
- 4 The Lord shall thy best hopes fulfil,
 For months and years to come ;

The Lord, who dwells on Zion's hill,
Shall send thee blessings home.

6 This is the man whose happy eyes
Shall see his house increase ;
Shall see the sinking church arise,
Then leave the world in peace.

P S A L M CXXIX.

Persecutors Punished.

UP from my youth, may Isr'el say,
Have I been nurs'd in tears ;
My griefs were constant as the day,
And tedious as the years

2 Up from my youth I bore the rage
Of all the sons of strife :
Oft they assail'd my riper age,
But not destroy'd my life.

3 Their cruel plough had torn my flesh.
With furrows long and deep,
Hourly they vex'd my wounds afresh,
Nor let my sorrows sleep.

4 The Lord grew angry on his Throne,
And with impartial eye,
Measur'd the mischiefs they had done,
And let his arrows fly.

5 How was their inscience surpris'd
To hear his thunders roll ;
And all the foes of Zion seiz'd
With horror to the soul !

6 Thus shall the men who hate the saints
Be blasted from the sky ;
Their glory fade their courage faint,
And all their projects die.

7 What though they flourish tall and fair ?
They have no root beneath ;

Their growth shall perish in despair,
And lie despis'd in death.]

8 So, corn which on the house-top stands,
No hope of harvest gives ;
The reaper ne'er shall fill his hands,
Nor binder fold the sheaves.

9 It springs and withers on the place ;
No traveller bestows

A word of blessing on the grass,
Nor minds it as he goes.

P S A L M CXXX. Common metre.

Pardoning Grace.

OUT of the deeps of long distress,
The borders of despair,
I lent my cries to seek thy grace,
My groans, to move thine ear.

2 Great God, should thy severer eye,
And thine impartial hand
Mark and revenge iniquity,
No mortal flesh could stand.

3 But there are pardons with my God
For crimes of high degree ;
Thy Son has bought them with his blood
To draw us near to thee.

4 [I wait for thy salvation, Lord,
With strong desires I wait ;
My soul, invited by thy word,
Stands watching at thy gate.]

5 [Just as the guards, who keep the night,
Long for the morning skies,
Watch the first beams of breaking light,
And meet them with their eyes ;

6 So waits my soul to see thy grace,
And, more intent than they,
Meets the first op'nings of thy face,
And finds a brighter day.]

- 7 Then in the Lord let Isr'el trust,
 Let Isr'el seek his face,
 The Lord is good as well as just,
 And plent'ous is his grace.
- 8 There's full redemption at his Throne,
 For sinners i. ag enslav'd ;
 The great Redeemer is his Son ;
 And Isr'el shall be fav'd.

P S A L M CXXX. Long metre.

Pardoning Grace.

FROM deep distress and troubled thoughts,
 To thee, my God, I raise my cries :
 If thou severely mark our faults.
 No flesh can stand before thine eyes.

2 But thou hast built thy Throne of grace,
 Free to dispense thy pardons there ;
 That sinners may approach thy face,
 And hope, and love, as well as fear.

3 As the benighted pilgrims wait,
 And long and wish for breaking day,
 So waits my soul, be fore thy gate :
 When will my God his face display ?

4 My trust is fix'd upon thy word,
 Nor shall I trust thy word, in vain :
 Let mourning souls address the Lord,
 And find relief from all their pain.

5 Great is his love, and large his grace,
 Through the redemption of his Son ;
 He turns our feet from sinful ways,
 And pardons what our hands have done.

P S A L M CXXXI.

Humility and Submission.

IS there ambition in my heart ?
 I Search, gracious God, and see :
 Or, do I act a haughty part ?
 Lord I appeal to thee.

2 I charge my thoughts, be humble still,
And all my carriage mild.

Content, my Father, with thy will.
And quiet as a child.

3 The patient soul, the lowly mind
Shall have a large reward ;

Let faints in sorrow lie resign'd,
And trust a faithful Lord.

P S A L M CXXXII. Long metre.

At the settlement of a church ; or, The ordination of a Minister.

WHERE shall we go to seek and find
A habitation for our God,
A dwelling for th' eternal mind
Among the sons of flesh and blood ?

2 The God of Jacob chose the hill
Of Zion for his ancient rest :
And Zion is his dwelling still,
His church is with his presence blest.

3 " Here will I fix my gracious throne,
" And reign forever," saith the Lord ;
" Here shall my pow'r and love be known,
" And blessings shall attend my word.

4 " Here I will meet a hungry poor,
" And fill their souls with living bread ;
" Sinners who wait before my door,
" With sweet provision shall be fed.

5 " Girded with truth, and cloth'd with grace,
" My priests, my ministers shall shine ;
" Not Aaron in his costly dress,
" Made an appearance so divine.

6 " The faints, unable to contain
" Their inward joys, shall shout and sing,
" The Son of David here shall reign,
" And Zion triumph in her King.

7 [" My Son shall see a num'rous seed
 8 Born here, t' uphold his glor'ous name :
 9 His crown shall flourish on his head,
 10 While all his foes are cloth'd with shame."]

P S A L M CXXXII. Com. metre.

A Church Established.

N O sleep nor slumber to his eyes
 Good David would afford,
 Till he had found below the skies,
 A dwelling for the Lord.

2 The Lord in Zion plac'd his name
 His ark was settled there ;
 To Zion the whole nation came,
 To worship thrice a year.

3 But we have no such lengths to go,
 Nor wander far abroad ;
 Where e'er thy saints assemble now,
 There is a house for God.

P A U S E .

4 Arise, O King of grace, arise !
 And enter to thy rest,
 Lo ! thy church waits, with longing eyes,
 Thus to be own'd and blest.

5 Enter, with all thy glor'ous train,
 Thy spirit and thy word ;
 All which the ark did once contain
 Could no such grace afford.

6 Here mighty God, accept our vows ;
 Here let thy praise be spread ;
 Bleis the provisions of thy house,
 And fill thy poor with bread,

7 Here let the Son of David reign :
 Let God's anointed shine ;

2 Lift up your hands by morning-light,
And send your souls on high ;
Raise your admiring thoughts by night,
Above the starry sky.

3 The God of Zion cheers your hearts
With rays of quick'ning grace ;
The God who spread the heav'ns abroad,
And rules the swelling seas.

PSALM CXXXV. First part. Long Metre.

The Church is God's House and Care.

PRAISE ye the Lord ; exalt his name,
While in his holy courts ye wait,
Ye saints who to his house belong,
Or stand attending at his gate.

2 Praise ye the Lord ; the Lord is good ;

4 Through ev'ry age the Lord declares

God's wonders of Creation, Providence, Redemption of Israel and Salvation of his People.

He bids the moon direct the night ;
*His mercies ever shall endure,
When suns and moons shall shine no more.*

5 The Jews he freed from Pharaoh's hand,
And brought them to the promis'd land !
*Wonders of grace to God belong ;
Repeat his mercies in your song.*

6 He saw the Gentiles dead in sin,
And felt his pity work within :
*His mercies ever shall endure,
When Death and sin shall reign no more,*

7 He sent his Son, with pow'r to save
From guilt and darkness and the grave ;
*Wonders of grace to God belong ;
Repeat his mercies in your song.*

8 Through this vain world he guides our feet
And leads us to his heav'nly seat :
*His mercies ever shall endure,
When this vain world shall be no more.*

P S A L M CXXXVIII. Long metre.

Restoring and preserving grace.

WITH all my pow'rs of heart and tongue,
I'll praise my Maker in my song ;
Angels shall hear the notes I raise,
Approve the song, and join the praise.

[2 Angels who make thy church their care,
Shall witness my devotion there,
While holy zeal directs my eyes
To thy fair temple, in the skies.]

3 I'll sing thy truth and mercy, Lord,
I'll sing the wonders of thy word ;
Not all the works and names below
So much thy pow'r and glory show.

4 To God I cry'd when troubles rose ;
He heard me, and subdu'd my foes ;
He did my rasing fears controul,
And strength diffus'd through all my soul.

5 The God of heav'n maintains his state.
Frowns on the proud, and scorns the great,
But from his throne descends to see
The sons of humble poverty.

6 Amidst a thousand snares I stand
Upheld and guarded by thy hand ?
Thy words my fainting soul revive,
And keep my dying faith alive.

7 Grace will complete what grace begins,
To save from sorrows or from sins :
The work which Wisdom undertakes
Eternal mercy ne'er forsakes.

P S A L M CXXXIX First part. Long metre.
The All-Seeing God.

LORD, thou hast search'd and seen me thro'
Thine eye commands with piercing view,
My rising and my resting hours,
My heart and flesh, with all their pow'rs.

2 My thoughts before they are my own,
Are to my God, distinctly known ;
He knows the words I mean to speak,
E'er from my op'ning lips they break.

3 Within thy circling pow'r I stand ;
On ev'ry side I find thy hand :
Awake asleep at home, abroad,
I am surrounded still with God.

4 Amazing knowledge, vast and great !
What large extent ; what lofty height ;

My soul with all the pow'rs I boast,
Is in the boundless prospect lost.

*5 O may these thoughts possess my breast
Where e'er I rove, where e'er I rest!
Nor let my meaner passions, dare
Consent to sin, for God is there.*

P A U S E I.

6 Could I so false, so faithless prove
'To quit thy service and thy love,
Where, Lord, could I thy presence shun,
Or from thy dreadful glory run?

7 If up to heav'n I take my flight,
'Tis there thou dwell'st Enthron'd in Light;
Or dive to hell, there vengeance reigns,
And Satan groans beneath his chains.

8 If, mounted on a morning-ray,
I fly beyond the Western sea,
Thy swifter hand would first arrive,
And there arrest thy fugitive.

9 Or should I try to shun thy sight
Beneath the spreading veil of night,
One glance of thine, own piercing ray
Would kindle darkness into day.

*10 O may these thoughts possess my breast
Where e'er I rove where e'er I rest!
Nor let my meaner passions dare
Consent to sin, for God is there.*

P A U S E II.

11 The veil of night is no disguise,
Nor screen from thy all-searching eyes:
Thy hand can seize thy foes as soon
Through midnight-shades as blazing noon.

12 Midnight and noon, in this agree,
Great God they're both alike to thee;
Nor death can hide what God will spy,
And heq lies naked to his eye,

11 O may these thoughts possess my breast
 Where e'er I rove where e'er I rest;
 Nor let my meaner passions dare
 Consent to sin, for God is there.

P S A L M CXXXIX. Second part.

The wonderful formation of man.

1 T WAS from thy hand, my God, I came
 A work of such a curious frame;
 In me thy fearful wonders shine,
 And each proclaim thy w^{ill} divine.

2 Thine eyes did all my limbs survey,
 Which yet in dark confusion lay:
 Thou saw'st the daily growth they took,
 Form'd by the model of thy book.

3 By thee my growing parts were nam'd,
 And what thy sov'reign counsels fram'd
 (The breathing lungs, the beating heart)
 Were copy'd, with unerring art.

4 At last, to shew my Maker's name,
 God stamp'd his image on my frame,
 And, in some unknown moment, join'd
 The finish'd members to the mind.

5 There the young seeds of thought began,
 And all the passions of the man:
 Great God, our infant nature pays
 Immortal tribute to thy praise.

P A U S E.

6 Lord, since in my advancing age
 I've acted on life's buzy stage,
 Thy thoughts of love to me surmount
 The pow'r of numbers to recount.

7 I could survey the ocean o'er,
 And count each sand which makes the shore,
 Before my swiftest thoughts could trace
 The num'rous wonders of thy grace.

8 These on my heart are still impress'd ;
 With these I give my eyes to rest :
 And, at my waking hour I find
 God and his love possess my mind.

P S A L M CXXXIX. Third part.

*Sincerity profess, and grace tried ; or, The heart-
 searching God,*

MY God, what inward grief I feel
 When imp'ous men transgress thy will ?
 I mourn to hear their lips profane,
 Take thy tremendous name in vain,
 2 Does not my soul detest and hate
 The sons of malice and deceit ?
 These who oppose thy laws and Thee,
 I count them enemies to me.

8 Lord, search my soul, try ev'ry thought ;
 Though my own heart accuse me not
 Of walking in a false disguise,
 I beg the trial of thine eyes.

4 Doth secret mischief lurk within ?
 Do I indulge some unknown sin ?
 O turn my feet, when'er I stray,
 And lead me in thy perfect way.

P S A L M CXXXIX. First part. Com. metre
God is every where.

IN all my vast concerns with Thee,
 In vain my soul would try
 To shun thy presence Lord, or flee
 The notice of thine eye.

2 Thy all-surrounding sight surveys
 My rising and my rest.

My public walks, my private ways,
 And secrets of my breast

3 My thoughts lie open to the Lord
 Before they're form'd within ;

And e'er my lips pronounce the word,
He knows the sense I mean.

4 O wond'rous knowledge, deep and high!
Where can a creature hide?
Within thy circling arms I lie,
Beset on ev'ry side.

5 So let thy grace surround me still,
And like a bulwark prove,
To guard my soul from ev'ry ill,
Secur'd by Sov'reign love.

P A U S E.

6 Lord, where shall guilty souls retire:
Forgotten and unknown:
In hell they meet thy dreadful fire,
In heav'n thy glorious throne.

7 Should I suppress my vital breath,
To 'scape the wrath divine,
Thy voice would break the bars of death,
And make the grave resign.

8 If, wing'd with beams of morning light,
I fly beyond the West,
Thy hand, which must support my flight,
Would soon betray my rest.

9 If o'er my sins I think to draw
The curtains of the night,
Those flaming eyes, which guard thy law,
Would turn the shades to light.

10 The beams of noon, the midnight hour,
Are both alike to thee:

11 May I ne'er provoke that pow'r
From which I cannot flee!

P A S L M CXXXIX. Second part.

The wisdom of God, in the formation of man.

WHEN I with pleasing wonder stand,
And all my frame survey,

Lord, 'tis thy work ; I own thy Hand
Thus built my humble clay.

2 Thy Hand my heart and reins possess
Where unborn nature grew ;

Thy wisdom all my features trac'd,
And all my members drew.

3 Thine eye with nicest care survey'd
The growth of ev'ry part :

'Till the whole scheme, thy thoughts had laid,
Was copy'd by thy art.

4 Heav'n, earth and sea, and fire and wind,
Shew me thy wond'rous skill ;

But I review myself, and find
Diviner wonders still.

5 Thy awful glories round me shine ;
My flesh proclaims thy praise ;

Lord, to thy works of nature, join
Thy miracles of grace.

P S A L M CXXXIX. Third Part.

The mercies of God innumerable.

An Evening Psalm.

LORD, when I count thy mercies o'er,
They strike me with surprise ;

Not all the sands which spread the shore
To equal numbers rise.

2 My flesh with fear and wonder stands
The product of thy skill ;

And hourly blessings, from thy hands,
Thy thoughts of love reveal.

3 These on my heart by night I keep ;
How kind, how dear to me ;

O may the hour which ends my sleep
Still find my thoughts with Thee.

P S A L M C X L I.

Watchfulness and brotherly reproof.

A morning or evening Psalm.

MY God, accept my early vows,
 Like morning incense in thine house,
 And let my nightly worship rise,
 Sweet as the ev'ning sacrifice.

2 Watch o'er my lips, and guard them, Lord,
 From ev'ry rash and heedless word ;
 Nor let my feet incline to tread
 The guilty path where sinners lead.

3 O may the righteous, when I stray,
 Smite and reprove my wandring way !
 Their gentle words, like ointment shed,
 Shall never bruise, but cheer my head.

4 When I behold them prest with grief,
 I'll cry to heav'n for their relief ;
 And by my warm petitions prove
 How much I prize their faithful love.

P S A L M C X L I I.

God is the hope of the helpless.

TO God I made my sorrows known ;
 From God I sought relief ;
 In long complaints before his throue,
 I pour'd out all my grief.

2 My soul was overwhelm'd with woes ;
 My heart began to break ;
 My God, who all my burden knows,
 He knows the way I take.

3 On ev'ry side I cast mine eye,
 And found my helpers gone,
 While friends and strangers pass'd me by,
 Neglected or unknown.

4 Then did I raise a louder cry,
 And call'd thy mercy near ;
 " Thou art my portion when I die,
 Be thou my Refuge here."

- 5 Lord, I am brought exceeding low ;
 Now let thine ear attend ;
 And make my foes, who vex me, know
 I've an Almighty friend.
- 6 From my sad prison set me free,
 Then shall I praise thy name ;
 And holy men shall join with me
 Thy kindness to proclaim.

P S A L M CXLIII.

Complaint of heavy afflictions in mind and body.

MY righteous Judge, my gracious God,
 Hear when I spread my hands abroad,
 And cry for succour from thy throne,
 O make thy truth and mercy known !

2 Let judgment not against me pass.
 Behold thy servant pleads thy grace !
 Should justice call us to thy bar,
 No man alive is guiltless there.

3 Look down in pity, Lord and see
 The mighty woes which burden me !
 Down to the dust my life is brought,
 Like one long bury'd and forgot.

4 I dwell in darkness, and unseen ;
 My heart is desolate within :
 My thoughts in musing silence trace
 The ancient wonders of thy grace.

5 Thence I derive a glimpse of hope,
 To bear my sinking spirits up :
 I stretch my hands to God again,
 And thirst, like parched lands, for rain.

6 For Thee I thirst, I pray, I mourn ;
 When will thy smiling face return ?
 Shall all my joys on earth remove,
 And God forever hide his love ?

7 My God thy long delay to save,
 Will sink thy pris'ner to the grave ;

My heart grows faint, and dim mine eye ;
Make haste to help before I die.

8 The night is witness to my tears,
Distressing pains, distressing fears
O might I hear thy morning voice,
How would my weary'd pow'rs rejoice !

9 In Thee I trust, to Thee I sigh,
And lift my heavy soul on high ;
For Thee sit waiting all the day,
And wear the tiresome hours away.

10 Break off my fetters, Lord, and show
Which is the path my feet should go ;
If snares and foes beset the road,
I fly to hide me, near my God.

11 Teach me to do thy holy will,
And lead me to thy heav'nly hill ;
Let the good Spirit of thy love
Conduct me to thy courts above.

12 Then shall my soul no more complain,
The tempter then shall rage in vain ;
And flesh, which was my foe before,
Shall never vex my spirit more.

P S A L M CXLIV. First part.

Assistance and victory in the spiritual warfare.

FOR ever blessed be the Lord,
My saviour and my shield ;
He sends his spirit, with his word,
To arm me for the field.

2 When sin and hell their force unite,
He makes my soul his care,
Instructs me to the heav'nly fight,
And guards me through the war.

3 A Friend and Helper so divine
Doth my weak courage raise,
He makes the glorious vict'ry mine,
And His shall be the praise.

P S A L M CXLIV. Second part.The vanity of man, and condescension of God.

LORD, what is man, poor feeble man,
Born of the earth at first!
His life a shadow, light and vain,
Still hast'ning to the dust.

2 O what is feeble dying man,
Or any of his race,
That God should make it his concern
To visit him with grace!

3 That God, who darts his light'nings down;
Who shakes the world above,
And mountains tremble, at his frown.
How wond'rous is his love!

P S A L M CXLIV. Third part.Grace above riches; or The happy nation.

HAPPY the city, where their sons,
Like pillars, round a palace set,
And daughters, bright as polish'd stones,
Give strength and beauty to the state.

2 Happy the country, where the sheep,
Cattle and corn, have large increase;
Where men securely work or sleep,
Nor sons of plunder break their peace.

3 Happy the nation thus endow'd,
But more divinely blest are those,
On whom the all-sufficient God
Himself, with all his grace, bestows.

P S A L M CXLV. Long metre.The greatness of God.

MY God, my King thy various praise
Shall fill the remnant of my days.
Thy grace employ my humble tongue,
Till death and glory raise the song.

2 The wings of ev'ry hour shall bear
Some thankful tribute to thine ear;

And ev'ry setting sun shall see
New works of duty done for Thee.

3 Thy truth and justice I'll proclaim ;
Thy bounty flows, an endless stream ;
Thy mercy swift : thine anger slow,
But dreadful to the stubborn foe.

4 Thy works with sov'reign glory shine,
And speak thy Majesty divine ;
All nations round their shores proclaim
The sound and honor of thy name.

5 Let distant times and nations raise
The long succession of thy praise ;
And unborn ages make my song
The joy and labor of their tongue.

6 But who can speak thy wond'rous deeds !
Thy greatness all our thoughts exceeds ;
Vast and unsearchable thy ways ;
Vast and immortal be thy praise.

P S A L M CXLV. First Part.The greatness of God.

LONG as I live, I'll bless thy name,
My King, my God of love ;
My work and joy shall be the same
In the bright world above.

2 Great is the Lord, his pow'r unknown,
And let his praise be great ;
I'll sing the honors of thy throne,
Thy works of grace repeat.

3 Thy grace shall dwell upon my tongue,
And, while my lips rejoice,
The men who hear my sacred song
Shall join their cheerful voice.

4 Fathers to sons shall teach thy name.
And children learn thy ways ;
Ages to come thy truth proclaim,
And nations sound thy praise.

- 5 Thy glorious deeds of ancient date
 Shall through the world be known ;
 Thine arm of pow'r thy heav'nly state,
 With public splendor shown.
- 6 The world is manag'd by thy hands ;
 Thy saints are rul'd by love :
 And thine eternal kingdom stands,
 Though rocks and hills remove.

P S A L M CXLV. Second Part.The goodness of God.

- SWEET is the mem'ry of thy grace,
 My God, my heav'nly King ;
 Let aze to aze thy righteousness
 In songs of glory sing.
- 2 God reigns on high, but not confines
 His goodness to the skies ;
 Through the whole earth his bounty shines,
 And ev'ry want supplies.
- 3 With longing eyes, thy creatures wait
 On Thee for dai y food :
 Thy lib'ral hand provides their meat,
 And fills their mouths with good.
- 4 How kind are thy compassions, Lord !
 How slow thine anger moves !
 How soon he sends his pard'ning word
 To cheer the souls he loves.
- 5 Creatures, with all their en liefs race,
 Thy pow'r and praise proclaim ;
 But saints, who taste thy richer grace,
 Delight to bless thy name.

P S A L M CXLV. Third Part.Mercy to sufferers, or, God hearing prayer.

- LET ev'ry tongue thy goodness speak,
 Thou sov'reign Lord of all ;

Thy strength'ning hands uphold the weak,
And raise the poor, who fall.

2 When sorrow bows the spirit down,
Or virtue lies distressed
Beneath some proud oppressor's frown,
Thou giv'st the mourners rest.

3 The Lord supports our tott'ring days,
And guides our giddy youth;
Holy and just are all thy ways,
And all thy words are truth.

4 He knows the pain his servants feel;
He hears his children cry,
And their best wishes to fulfil,
His grace is ever nigh.

5 His mercy never shall remove
From men of heart sincere;
He saves the souls, whose humble love
Is join'd with holy fear.

6 His stubborn foes his sword shall slay,
And pierce their hearts with pain;
But none who serve the Lord, shall say,
"They sought his aid, in vain."

7 My lips shall dwell upon his praise,
And spread his fame abroad;
Let all the sons of Adam raise
The honors of their God.]

P S A L M CXLVI. Long Metre.

Praise to God for his goodness and truth.

PRAISE ye the Lord; my heart shall join
In works so pleasant, so divine;
Now while the flesh is mine abode,
And when my soul ascends to God.

2 Praise shall employ my noblest pow'rs,
While immortality endures:
My days of praise shall ne'er be past,
While life and thought and being last.

3 Why should I make a man my trust?
Princes must die, and turn to dust;
Their breath depart, their pomp and pow'r
And thoughts all vanish in an hour.

4 Happy the man whose hopes rely
On Ir'el's God! he made the sky,
And earth and seas, with all their train;
And none shall find his promise vain.

5 His truth forever stands secure;
He saves th' oppress'd, he feeds the poor;
He sends the lab'ring conscience peace,
And grants the pris'ner sweet release.

6 The Lord hath eyes to give the blind;
The Lord supports the sinking mind;
He helps the stranger in distress,
The widow and the fatherless.

7 He loves his saints he knows them well,
But turns the wicked down to hell:
Thy God, O Zion! ever reigns;
Praise Him in everlasting strains.

P S A L M CXLVI.

Praise to God for his goodness and truth.

I'LL praise my Maker with my breath:
And, when my voice is lost in death,
Praise shall employ my nobler pow'rs:
My days of praise shall ne'er be past
While life and thought and being last,
Or immortality endures

2 Why should I make a man my trust?
Princes must die, and turn to dust;
Vain is the help of flesh and blood;
Their breath departs their pomp and pow'r,
And thoughts all vanish in an hour,
Nor can they make their promise good.

3 Happy the man, whose hopes rely
On Ir'el's God: he made the sky,

And earth and seas, with all their train ;
 His truth forever stands secure ;
 He saves th' oppress'd, he feeds the poor,
 And none shall find his promise vain.

3 The Lord hath eyes, to give the blind ;
 The Lord supports the sinking mind ;
 He sends the lab'ring conscience peace ;
 He helps the stranger in distress,
 The widow and the fatherless,
 And grants the pris'ner sweet release.

4 He loves his saints : he knows them well,
 But turns the wicked down to hell :

Thy God, O Zion ! ever reigns :

Let ev'ry tongue, let ev'ry age,

In this exalted work engage :

Praise him in everlasting strains.

5 I'll praise him, while he lends me breath,

And when my voice is lost in death,

Praise shall employ my nobler pow'rs :

My days of praise shall ne'er be past,

While life and thought, and being last.

Or immortality endures.

PSALM CXLVII. First Part.

The Divine Nature, Providence and Grace.

1 PRAISE ye the Lord ; 'tis good to raise

Our hearts and voices in his praise ;

His nature and his works invite

To make this duty our delight.

2 The Lord builds up Jerusalem,

And gathers nations to his name :

His mercy melts the stubborn soul,

And makes the broken spirit whole.

3 He form'd the stars, those heav'nly flames :

He counts their numbers calls their names :

His wisdom's vast, and knows no bound ;

A deep where all our thoughts are drown'd,

4 Great is our Lord, and great his might ;
 And all his glories infinite :
 He crowns the meek, rewards the just,
 And treads the wicked to the dust.

P A U S E.

5 Sing to the Lord, exalt him high,
 Who spreads his clouds all round the sky ;
 There he prepares the fruitful rain,
 Nor lets the drops descend, in vain.

He makes the grass the hills adorn,
 And clothes the smiling fields with corn ;
 The beasts with food his hands supply,
 And the young ravens, when they cry.

7 What is the creatures' skill or force,
 The sprightly man, the warlike horse ?
 The nimble wit, the active limb,
 All are too mean delights for him.

8 But saints are lovely in his sight ;
 He views his children with delight ;
 He sees their hope, he knows their fear ;
 And looks and loves his image there.

P S A L M CXLVII. Second Part.

Summer and Winter.

A Song for America.

COLUMBIA ! praise thy mighty God,
 And make his honors known abroad ;
 He bids the ocean round thee flow :
 Not bars of brass could guard thee so.

2 Thy children are secure and blest ;
 Thy shores have peace, thy cities rest ;
 He feeds thy sons with finest wheat,
 And adds his blessing to their meat.

3 Thy changing seasons he ordains,
 Thine early and thy latter rains ;
 His flakes of snow, like wool, he sends,
 And thus the springing corn defends.

4 With hoary frost he strews the ground
 His hail descends with clatt'ring sound;
 Where is the man, so vainly bold,
 Who dares defy his dreadful cold?

5 He bids the Southern breezes blow;
 The ice dissolves, the waters flow:
 But he hath nobler works and ways,
 America! to draw thy praise.

6 In all thy climes his laws are shown:
 His gospel through the nation known:
 He hath not thus reveal'd his word
 To ev'ry land: praise ye the Lord!

P S A L M CXLVII. Com. metre.

The Seasons of the Year.

WITH songs and honors founding loud,
 Address the Lord on high;
 Over the heav'ns he spread his cloud,
 And waters veil the sky.

2 He sends his show'rs of blessings down
 To cheer the plains below;
 He makes the grass the mountains crown,
 And corn in vallies grow.

3 He gives the grazing ox his meat;
 He hears the ravens' cry:
 But man who tastes the finest wheat,
 Should raise his honors high.

4 His steady counsels change the face
 Of the declining year;
 He bids the sun cut short his race,
 And wint'ry days appear.

5 His hoary frost, his fleecy snow,
 Descend, and clothe the ground
 The liquid streams forbear to flow,
 In icy fetters bound.

- 6 When from his dreadful stores on high,
 He pours the ratt'ling hail,
 The wretch, who dares this God defy,
 Shall find his courage fail.
- 7 He sends his word and melts the snow ;
 'The fields no longer mourn ;
 He calls the warmer gales to blow,
 And bids the spring return.
- 8 The changing wind, the flying cloud,
 Obey his mighty word :
 With songs and honors, sounding loud.
 Praise ye the sov'reign Lord.

P S A L M CXLVIII.

Praise to God from all Creatures.

- YE tribes of Adam, join
 With heav'n and earth and seas,
 And offer notes divine
 To your Creator's praise.
 Ye holy throng
 Of angels bright,
 In worlds of light
 Begin the song.
- 2 Thou sun, with dazzling rays,
 And moon which rul'st the night,
 Shine to your Maker's praise,
 With stars of twinkling light.
 His pow'r declare,
 Ye floods, on high,
 And clouds, which fly
 In empty air,
- 3 The shining worlds above
 In glorious order stand,
 Or in swift courses move
 By his supreme command :
 He spake the word,
 And all their frame,
 From nothing came,
 To praise the Lord.

- 4 He mov'd their mighty wheels
 In unknown ages past,
 And each his word fulfill'd
 While time and nature last.
 In diff'rent ways
 His works proclaim
 His wond'rous name,
 And speak his praise.

P A U S E.

- 5 Let all the earth-born race,
 And monsters of the deep,
 The fish, which cleave the seas,
 Or in their bosom sleep,
 From sea and shore
 Their tribute pay,
 And still display
 Their Maker's pow'r.
- 6 Ye vapours, hail and snow,
 Praise ye the th' Almighty Lord,
 And stormy winds which blow :
 To execute his word :
 When light'nings shine,
 Or thunders roar,
 Let earth adore
 His Hand divine.
- 7 Ye mountains, near the skies,
 With lofty cedars there,
 And trees of humbler size,
 Which fruit in plenty bear.
 Beasts, wild and tame,
 Birds, flies and worms,
 In various forms,
 Exalt his name.
- 8 Ye kings and judges, fear
 The Lord, the sov'reign King :
 And while you rule us here,
 His heav'ny honors sing :

Nor let the dream
Of pow'r and state
Make you forget
His pow'r supreme.

9 Virgins and youth engage
To sound His praise divine,
While infancy and age
Their feebler voices join:
Wide as He reigns
His name be sung,
By ev'ry tongue,
In endless strains.

10 Let all the nations fear
The God, who rules above,
He brings his people near
And makes them taste his love:
While earth and sky
Attempt his praise,
His saints shall raise
His honors high.

P S A L M CXLVIII. Paraphrased.

Universal praise to God.

L OUD hallelujahs to the Lord
From distant worlds where creatures dwell;
Let heav'n begin the solemn word,
And sound it dreadful down to hell,

Note. This psalm may be sung as the 113th psalm if the two following lines are added to every stanza, viz.

Each of his works his name displays,
But they can ne'er fulfil his praise.

2 The Lord ! how absolute he reigns !
Let ev'ry angel bend the knee !
Sing of his love in heav'nly strains,
And speak how fierce his terrors be.

3 High on a throne his glories dwell,
An awful throne of shining bliss :

Fly through the world, O sun, and tell
How dark thy beams, compar'd to His.

4 Awake, ye tempests, and his fame
In sounds of dreadful praise declare :
And the sweet whisper of his name
Fill ev'ry gentler breeze of air.

5 Let clouds, and winds, and waves agree
To join their praise with blazing fire :
Let the firm earth and rolling sea,
In this eternal song conspire.

6 Ye flow'ry plains, proclaim his skill ;
Vallies, lie low before his eye !
And let his praise from ev'ry hill
Rise tuneful to the neighb'ring sky.

7 Ye stubborn oaks and stately pines,
Bend your high branches, and adore ;
Praise him ye beasts, in diff'rent strains ;
The lamb must bleat, the lion roar.

8 Birds, ye must make his praise your theme ;
Nature demands a song from you :
While the dumb fish which cut the stream
Leap up and mean his praises too.

9 Mortals, can you refrain your tongue,
When nature all around you sings ?
O for a shout from old and young,
From humble swains, and lofty kings ?

10 Wide as his vast dominion lies
Make the Creator's name be known ;
Loud as his thunder shout his praise,
And sound it lofty to his throne.

11 JEHOVAH ! 'tis a glorious word ;
O may it dwell on ev'ry tongue !
But saints who best have known the Lord
Are bound to raise the noblest song.

12 Speak of the wonders of that love
Which Gabriel plays on ev'ry chord:

From all below and all above,
Loud hallalujahs, to the Lord.

P S A L M CXLVIII. Short metre.

Universal praise.

- LET ev'ry creature join
To praise th' eternal God;
Ye heavn'ly hosts, the song begin,
And sound his name abroad.
- 2 Thou sun with golden beams,
And moon, with paler rays,
Ye starry lights, ye twinkling flames,
Shine to your maker's praise.
- 3 He built those world's above,
And fix'd their wond'rous frame:
By His command they stand or move,
And ever speak his name.
- 4 Ye vapors, when ye rise,
Or fall in show'rs of snow,
Ye thunders, murm'ring round the skies,
His pow'r and glory show.
- 5 Wind, Hail and flashing fire,
Agree to praise the Lord,
When ye, in dreadful storms, conspire
To execute his word.
- 6 By all his works above
His honors be exprest:
But saints, who taste his saving love,
Should sing his praises best.

P A U S E I.

- 7 Let earth and ocean know
They owe their Maker praise;
Praise him, ye watry worlds below,
And monsters of the seas.
- 8 From mountains near the sky
Let his high praise resound,

From humble shrubs and cedars high,
And vales and fields around.

9 Ye lions of the wood,
And tamer beasts, which graze,
Ye live upon his daily food,
And he expects your praise.

10 Ye birds of lofty wing,
On high his praises bear,
Or sit on flow'ry boughs and sing
Your Maker's glory there.

11 Ye creeping ants and worms,
His var'ous wisdom show ;
And flies in all your shining swarms,
Praise Him who dress'd you so.

12 By all the earth-born race,
His honors be express'd ;
But, saints, who know his heav'nly grace,
Should learn to praise him best.

P A U S E II.

13 Monarchs of wide command,
Praise ye th' eternal King ;
Judges, adore that Sov'reign hand
Whence all your honors spring.

14 Let vig'rous youth engage
To sound his praises high ;
While growing babes and with'ring age
Their feeble voices try.

15 United zeal be shown
His wond'rous fame to raise ;
God is the Lord ; his name alone
Deserves our endless praise.

16 Let nature join with art,
And all pronounce him blest,
But saints, who dwell so near his heart,
Should sing his praises best.

P S A L M CXLIX.

Praise God all his Saints ; or, The Saints Judging the World.

ALL ye who love the Lord, rejoice,
And let your songs be new ;
Amidst the church, with cheerful voice,
His later wonders shew.

2 The Jews, the people of his grace,
Shall their Redeemer sing ;
And Gentile nations join the praise,
While Zion owns her King.

3 The Lord takes pleasure in the just,
Whom sinners treat with scorn :
The meek, who lie despis'd in dust,
Salvation shall adorn.

4 Saints shall be joyful in their King,
E'en on a dying bed ;
And, like the souls in glory, sing,
For God shall raise the dead.

5 Then his high praise shall fill their tongues,
Their hands shall wield the sword :
And vengeance shall attend their songs,
The vengeance of the Lord.

6 When Christ his judgment-seat ascends,
And bids the world appear,
Thrones are prepar'd for all his friends
Who humbly lov'd him here.

7 Then shall they rule with iron rod
Nations that dar'd rebel :
And join the sentence of their God
On tyrants doom'd to hell.

8 The royal sinners, bound in chains,
New triumphs shall afford ;
Such honor for the saint remains ;
Praise ye, and love the Lord.

PSALM CL.

A Song of Praise.

IN God's own house pronounce his praise;
 His grace he there reveals:
 To heav'n your joy and wonder raise,
 For there his glory dwells.

2 Let all your sacred passions move,
 While you rehearse his deeds:
 But the great work of saving love
 Your highest praise exceeds.

3 All who have motion, life and breath,
 Proclaim your Maker blest;
 Yet when my voice expires in death,
 My soul shall praise him best.

The CHRISTIAN DOXOLOGY.

Long Metre.

TO God the Father, God the Son,
 And God the Spirit, Three in One,
 Be honor, praise, and glory giv'n
 By all on earth, and all in heav'n.

Common Metre.

LET God the Father and the Son,
 And Spirit be ador'd,
 Where there are works to make him known,
 Or saints to love the Lord.

Common metre, where the tune includes two stanzas

I.

THE God of mercy be ador'd
Who calls our souls from death,
Who saves by his redeeming word,
And new-creating breath.

II.

To praise the Father, and the Son,
And Spirit, all divine,
The One in Three, and Three in One,
Let saints and angels join.

Short Metre.

YE angels, round the Throne,
And saints who dwell below,
Worship the Father, praise the Son.
And bless the Spirit too.

As the 113th Psalm.

NOW to the great and sacred Three,
The Father, Son and Spirit, be
Eternal praise and glory giv'n,
Through all the worlds where God is known,
By all the angels near the Throne,
And all the saints in earth and heav'n.

As the 148th Psalm.

TO God the Father's Throne
Perpet'al honors raise;
Glory to God the Son,
To God the Spirit, praise;
With all our pow'rs,
Eternal King,
Thy name we sing,
While faith adore.

H Y M N S

AND

SPIRITUAL SONGS.

BOOK I.

COLLECTED FROM THE HOLY SCRIPTURES.

1. A new song to the Lamb that was slain; Rev. i.

BEHOLD the glories of the Lamb,
Amidst his Father's throne :
Prepare new honors for his name,
And songs, before unknown

2 Let elders worship at his feet,
The church adore around

With vials full of odours sweet,
And harps of sweetest sound.

3 Those are the prayers of the saints,
And these the hymns they raise :

Jesus is kind to our complaints,
He loves to hear our praise.

4 Eternal Father, who shall look
Into thy secret will ?

Who but the Son shall take that book,
And open ev'ry seal ?

5 He shall fulfil thy great decrees;
The Son deserves it well;

Lo ! in his hand the sov'reign keys
Of heav'n and death, and hell !

6 Now to the Lamb that once was slain,
Be endless blessings paid ;
Salvation, glory, joy, remain
For ever on thy head.

7 Thou hast redeem'd our souls with blood ;
Hast set the pris'ners free ;
Hast made us kings and priests to God,
And we shall reign with thee.

8 The worlds of nature and of grace
Are put beneath thy pow'r :
Then shorten these delaying days,
And bring the promis'd hour.

II. The Deity and Humanity of Christ. John, i.
1, 3, 14. Col. i. 16. Eph. iii. 9, 10.

E'ER the blue heav'ns were stretch'd abroad :
From everlasting was the Word ;
With God he was, the Word was God,
And must divinely be ador'd.

2 By his own pow'r were all things made :
By him supported all things stand :
He is the whole creation's head,
And angels fly, at his command.

3 E'er sin was born, or satan fell,
He led the host of morning stars ;
(Thy generation who can tell,
Or count the number of thy years!)

4 But lo, he leaves those heav'nly forms ;
The word descends and dwells in clay,
That he may hold converse with worms,
Dress'd in such feeble flesh as they.

5 Mortals with joy, behold his face,
Th' Eternal Father's only Son ;
How full of truth ! How full of grace !
When through his flesh the godhead shone.

6 Archangels leave their high abode,
To learn new myst'ries here, and tell

B. I. SPIRITUAL SONGS.

The love of our descending God,
The glories of Emanuel.

III. The Nativity of Christ, Lu. i. 30, & ii. 10.

BEHOLD, the grace appears !

The promise is fulfil'd :

*Mary, the wond'rous virgin, bears,
And Jesus is the child !*

2 [The Lord the highest God,
Calls him his only Son :

He bids him rule the lands abroad,
And gives him David's throne.

3 O'er Jacob shall he reign
With a peculiar sway ;

The nations shall his grace obtain,
His kingdom ne'er decay.

4 To bring the glorious news
A heav'nly form appears ;

He tells the Shepherds of their joys.
And banishes their fears.

5 Go bumble swains, (said he)
To David's city fly ;

*The promis'd Infant born to-day,
Doth in a manger lie.*

6 *With looks and hearts serene,
Go, visit Christ, your King ;*

And straight a flaming troop was seen ;
The shepherds heard them sing—

7 Glory to God on high !

And heav'nly peace on earth :

*Good will to men, to angels joy,
At the Redeemer's birth !*

8 In worship so divine,

Let Saints employ their tongues ;

With the celestial host we join,

And loud repeat their songs ;

 9 Glory to God on high!
And heav'nly peace on earth,
Good will to men, to angels joy,
At our Redeemer's birth,

IV. HYMN, referred to II. PSALM.

V. Submission to Afflictive Providence, Job, i. 21.

NAKED, as from the earth we came,
 And crept to life at first,
 We to the earth return again,
 And mingle with our dust.

2 The dear delights we here enjoy,
 And fondly call our own,
 Are but short favors borrow'd now,
 To be repaid anon.

3 'Tis God who lifts our comforts high,
 Or sinks them in the grave;
 He gives, and (blessed be his name!)
 He takes but what he gave.

4 Peace all our angry passions then;
 Let each rebellious sigh
 Be silent at his sov'reign will,
 And ev'ry murmur die.

5 If smiling mercy crown our lives,
 Its praises shall be spread,
 And we'll adore the justice too,
 Which strikes our comforts dead.

VI. Triumph over Death, Job, xix. 25, 26, 27.

GREAT God, I own thy sentence just,
 And nature must decay;
 I yield my body to the dust,
 To dwell with fellow clay.

2 Yet faith can triumph o'er the grave,
 And trample on the tombs:
 My Jesus, My Redeemer lives!
 My God, my Saviour comes,

B. I. SPIRITUAL SONGS

- 3 The mighty Conqu'ror shall appear
High on a royal seat,
And death the last of all his foes,
Lie vanquish'd at his feet.
- 4 Though greedy worms devour my skin,
And gnaw my wasting flesh.
When God shall build my bones again.
He'll clothe them all afresh.
- 5 Then shall I see thy lovely face,
With strong immortal eyes,
And feast upon thy unknown grace
With pleasure and surprize.

VII. The Invitatin of the Gospel, &c, Isa. Iv. 12,

- LET ev'ry mortal ear attend,
And ev'ry heart rejoice ;
The trumpet of the gospel sounds
With an inviting voice.
- 2 Lo ! all ye hungry starving souls,
Who feed upon the wind.
And vainly strive with earthly toys
To fill an empty mind ;
- 3 Eternal Wisdom has prepar'd
A soul-reviving feast,
And bids your longing appetites,
The rich provision taste.
- 4 Lo ! ye who pant for living streams,
And pine away and die ;
Here you may quench your raging thirst
With springs that never dry.
- 5 Rivers of love and mercy here
In a rich ocean join ;
Salvation in abundance flows,
Like floods of milk and wine.
- 6 Ye perishing and naked poor,
Who work with mighty pain,

- To weave a garment of your own,
Which will not hide your stain :
- 7 Come naked and adorn your souls
With robes prepar'd by God,
Wrought by the labors of his Son,
And dy'd in his own blood.
- 8 Dear God, the treasures of thy love
Are everlasting mines,
Deep as our helpless mis'ries are,
And boundless as our sins !
- 9 The happy gates of gospel-grace
Stand open night and day ;
Lord we are come to seek supplies,
And drive our wants away.

VIII. Protection of the Church, II. xxvi. 1, &c.

- HOW honorable is the place,
Where we adoring stand !
Zion the glory of the earth,
And beauty of the land !
- 2 Bulwarks of mighty grace defend
The city where we dwell :
The walls of strong salvation made,
Defy th' assaults of hell.
- 3 Lift up the everlasting gates,
The doors wide open fling ;
Enter ye nations and obey
The statutes of our King.
- 4 Here shall you taste unmingled joys,
And live in perfect peace ;
You who have known Jehovah's name,
And ventur'd on his grace,
- 5 Trust in the Lord, forever trust,
And banish all your fears :
Strength in the Lord Jehovah dwells,
Eternal as his years.

- 6 What though the rebels dwell on high ?
 His arm shall bring them low ;
 Low as the caverns of the grave
 Their lofty heads shall bow.
- 7 On Babylon our feet shall tread,
 In that rejoicing hour :
 The ruins of her walls shall spread
 A pavement for the poor.

IX. The promises of the Covenant of Grace, Isa
 lv, 1. 2. Zech. xiii, 1. Mic. vii. 19. Eze. xxxvi, 25.

- IN vain we lavish out our lives,
 To gather empty wind ;
 The choicest blessings earth can yield
 Will starve a hungry mind.
- 2 Come and the Lord will feed our souls,
 With more substantial meat,
 With such as saints in glory love,
 With such as angels eat.
- 3 Our God will ev'ry want supply,
 And fill our hearts with peace ;
 He gives by cov'nant and by oath,
 The riches of his grace.
- 4 Come and he'll cleanse our spotted souls,
 And wash away our stains ;
 In the dear fountain that his Son
 Pour'd from his dying veins.
- 5 Our guilt shall vanish all away,
 Though black as hell before ;
 Our sins shall sink beneath the sea,
 And shall be found no more.
- 6 And, lest pollution should o'er spread
 Our inward pow'rs again,
 His spirit shall bedew our souls,
 With purifying rain.

- 7 Our heart that flinty stubborn thing,
Which terrors cannot move,
That fears no threat'nings of his wrath.
Shall be dissolv'd by love :
- 8 Or he will take the flint away
That would not be refin'd,
And from the treasures of his grace
Bestow a softer mind.
- 9 There shall his sacred spirit dwell,
And deep engrave his law,
And ev'ry motion of our souls
To sweet obedience draw.
- 10 Thus will he pour salvation down,
And we shall render praise ;
We, the dear people of his love,
And he our God of grace.

X. Blessedne's of Gospel Time, Isa. v. 2. 7, &c.

- HOW beauteous are their feet
Who stand on Zion's hill !
Who bring salvation on their tongues
And words of peace reveal !
- 2 How charming is their voice !
How sweet the tidings are !
" Zion behold thy Saviour King ;
" He reigns and triumphs here."
- 3 How happy are our ears,
That hear this joyful sound,
Which kings and prophets waited for,
And sought but never found !
- 4 How blessed are our eyes,
That see this heav'nly light ;
Prophets and kings desir'd it long,
But dy'd without the sight ;
- 5 The watchmen, join their voice,
And tuneful notes employ,

Jerusalem breaks forth in songs,
And desarts learn the joy.

6 The Lord makes bare his arm
Through all the earth abroad ;
Let ev'ry nation now behold
Their Saviour and their God.

XI. The Soureignty of Grace, Luke. x. 21. 22.

THERE was an hour when Christ rejoic'd
And spoke his joy in words of praise ;
" Father I thank thee, mighty God,
" Lord of the earth and heav'ns and seas.
2 " I thank thy sov'reign pow'r and love,
" Which crowns my doctrine with success ;
" And makes the babes in knowledge learn
3 The heights and breadths and lengths of grace.
3 " But all this glory lies conceal'd
" From men of prudence and of wit ;
" The prince of darkness blinds their eyes,
" And their own pride resists the light.
4 Father, 'tis thus, because thy will
" Chose and ordain'd it should be so ;
" 'Tis thy delight t'abase the proud,
And lay the haughty scorner low.
5 " There's none can know the Father right,
" But those who learn it from the Son ;
" Nor can the Son be well receiv'd
" But where the Father makes him known."
6 Then let our souls adore our God,
Who deals his graces as he please !
Nor gives to mortals an account
Or of his actions or decrees.

XII. Free Grace reveal'd in Christ, Luke, x. 12.

JESUS, the man of constant grief,
A mourner all his days ;

His spirit once rejoic'd aloud,
And turn'd his joy to praise.

2 *Father I thank thy wond'rous love,
Which hath reveal'd thy Son
To men unlearned; and to babes
Has made thy go'pel known.*

4 *The myst'ries of redeeming grace
Are hidden from the wise,
While pride and carnal reasonings join
To swell and blind their eyes.*

4 Thus doth the Lord of heav'n and earth
His great decrees fulfil,
And orders all his works of grace
By his own sov'reign will.

XIII. The Titles and Kingdom of Christ, H. xi. 2, 6, 7.

THE lands which long in darkness lay,
Now have behold a heav'nly light;
Nations which sat in death's cold shade
Are blest with beams divinely bright.

2 The virgin's promis'd Son is born;
Behold th' expected child appear!
What shall his names or titles be?
The Wonderful the Counsellor.

3 This infant is the Mighty God,
Come to be suckled and ador'd;
Th' Eternal Father, Prince of Peace,
The Son of David, and his Lord.

4 The government of earth and seas
Upon his shoulders shall be laid;
His wide dominions shall increase;
And honors to his name be paid.

5 Jesus the holy child shall sit
High on his Father David's throne,
Shall crush his foes beneath his feet,
And reign to ages yet unknown.

XIV. The Triumph of Faith, Rom. viii. 33.

WHO shall the Lord's elect condemn ?
 'Tis God who justifies their souls,
 And mercy like a mighty stream,
 O'er all their sins divinely rolls.

2 Who shall adjudge the saints to hell ?
 'Tis Christ that suffer'd in their stead ;
 And the salvation to fulfil,
 Behold Him rising from the dead !

3 He lives ! He lives ! and sits above,
 Forever interceding there !
 Who shall divide us from his love,
 Or what shall tempt us to despair ?

4 Shall persecution or distress,
 Famine or sword or nakedness,
 He who hath lov'd us, bears us through,
 And makes us more than conquerors too.

5 Faith has an overcoming pow'r ;
 It triumphs in the dying hour :
Christ is our life our joy our hope,
 Nor can we sink with such a prop.

6 Not all that men on earth can do,
 Nor pow'rs on high nor pow'rs below,
 Shall cause his mercy to remove,
 Or wean our hearts from Christ our love.

XV. Our own Weakness and Christ our Strength.

2 Cor. xii. 7, 9, 10.

LET me but hear my Saviour say,
 Strength shall be equal to the day,
 Then I'll rejoice in deep distress,
 Leaning on All-sufficient grace.

2 I'll glory in infirmity,
 That Christ's own pow'r may rest on me ;
 When I am weak then am I strong,
 Grace is my shield and Christ my song.

3 I can do all things or can bear
All suff'rings while my Lord be there,
Sweet pleasures mingle with the pains,
While his left hand my head sustains.

4 But if the Lord be once withdrawn,
And we attempt the work alone,
When new temptations spring and rise,
We find how great our weakness is.

5 So Sampson when his hair was lost,
Met the Philistines to his cost,
Shook his vain limbs with sad surprise,
Made feeble fight and lost his eyes.

XVI. Hosanna to Christ, Mat. xxi. 9. Lu. xix. 38.

HOSANNA to the Royal Son.
Of David's ancient line,
His natures two, his person one,
Mysterious and divine.

2 The root of David here we find
And offspring is the same;
Eternity and time are join'd
In our Emman'el's name.

3 Blest He who comes to wretched men
With peaceful news from heav'n!
Hosannas of the highest strain
To Christ the Lord, be giv'n!

4 Let mortals ne'er refuse to take
Th' Hosanna on their tongues,
Lest rocks and stones should rise and break
Their silence into songs.

XVII. Victory over Death, 1 Cor. xv. 55, &c.

O FOR an overcoming faith
To cheer my dying hours,
To triumph o'er the monster death,
And all his frightful pow'rs.

B. I. SPIRITUAL SONGS.

- 2 Joyful, with all the strength I have,
My quiv'ring lips should sing,
*Where is thy boasted vict'ry, grace?
And where the monster's sting?*
- 3 If sin be pardon'd, I'm secure;
Death has no sting beside;
The law gave sin its damning pow'r;
But Christ, my ransom, dy'd.
- 4 Now to the God of Victory,
Immortal thanks be paid,
Who makes us conqu'rous while we die,
Through Christ, our living Head.

XVIII. Blessed are the Dead, that Die in the Lord,
Rev. xiv. 13.

- HEAR! what the voice from heav'n proclaims:
For all the pious dead;
Sweet is the favor of their names,
And soft their sleeping bed.
- 2 They die in Jesus, and are blest;
How kind their slumbers are!
From suff'rings and from sins releas'd,
And freed from ev'ry snare.
- 3 Far from this world of toil and strife,
They're present with the Lord;
The labors of their mortal life
End in a large reward.

XIX. The Song of Simeon, Luke i. 27; &c.

- LORD, at thy temple we appear,
As happy Simeon came,
And hope to meet our Saviour here;
O make our joys the same!
- 2 With what divine and vast delight
The good old man was fill'd,
When, fondly, in his wither'd arms,
He clasp'd the Holy Child!

- 3 *Now I can leave this world, he cry'd ;
Behold thy servant dies ;
I've seen thy great salvation, Lord,
And close my peaceful eyes.*
- 4 *This is the Light prepar'd to shine
Upon the gentile lands,
Thine Israel's Glory and their Hope,
To break their slavish bands.*
- 5 [*Jesus ! the vision of thy face,
Hath over-pow'ring charms !
Scarce shall I feel death's cold embrace,
If Christ be in my arms.*
- 6 *Then while ye hear my heart-strings break,
How sweet my minutes roll !
A mortal paleness on my cheek,
And glory in my soul.]*

XX. Spiritual Apparel, viz. the robe of Righteousness, and garments of Salvation, Isa. lxi. 10.

- A WAKE, my heart, arise, my tongue,
Prepare a tuneful voice ;
In God, the life of all my joys,
Aloud will I rejoice.
- 2 'Tis He adorn'd my naked soul,
And made salvation mine ;
Upon a poor polluted worm
He made his grace to shine.
- 3 And lest the shadow of a spot
Should on my soul be found,
He took the robe the Saviour wrought,
And cast it all around.
- 4 How far the heav'nly robe exceeds,
What earthly princes wear !
These ornaments, how bright they shine
How white the garments are !
- 5 The Spirit wrought my faith and love,
And hope, and ev'ry grace ;

But, Je'us spent his life to work
The robe of righteousness.

6. Strangely, my soul, art thou array'd
By the great Sacred three!
In sweetest harmony of praise
Let all thy pow'rs agree,

XXI. A Vision of the Kingdom of Christ among men, Rev. xxi. 1, 2, 3, 4.

LO! what a glor'ous sight appears
To our believing eyes;
The earth and seas are pass'd away,
And the old rolling skies.

2 From the third heav'n, where God resides,
(That holy, happy place)
The New Jerusalem comes down,
Adorn'd with shining grace.

3 Attending angels shout for joy,
And the bright armies sing,
Mortals, behold the sacred seat
Of your descending King!

4 The God of Glory down to men
Removes his blest abode!
Men, the dear objects of his grace,
And He, the loving God.

5 His own soft hand shall wipe the tears
From ev'ry weeping eye
And pains, and groans, and griefs, and fears,
And death it self shall die!

6 How long, dear Saviour! O, how long
Shall this bright hour delay?
Fly swifter round, ye wheels of time,
And bring the welcome day.

XXII. & XXIII. Referred to the 125th. Psalm.

XXIV. The Rich Sinner dying, Psal. xlix. 6, 9.
Ecc. viii. 8. Job iii. 14, 15.

IN vain these wealthy mortals toil,
And heap their shining dust in vain,

Look down and scorn the humble poor,
And boast their lofty hills of gain.

2 Their golden cordials cannot ease
Their pained hearts or aching heads,
Nor fright, nor bribe approaching death
From glitt'ring roofs, and downy beds.

3 Their ling'ring, their unwilling souls
The dismal summons must obey;
And bid a long, a sad farewell,
To the pale lump of lifeless clay,

4 Thence they are huddled to the grave,
Where Kings and slaves have equal thrones:
Their bones without distinction lie
Among the heap of meaner bones.

The rest referred to the 49th Psalm.

XXV. A vision of the Lamb, Rev. v. 6, 7, 8, 9

ALL mortal vanities be gone,
Nor tempt my eyes, nor tire my ears:
Behold! amidst th' Eternal Throne
A vision of the Lamb appears.

2 [Glory his fleecy robe adorns,
Mark'd with the bloody death he bore;
Sev'n are his eyes, and sev'n his horns,
His wisdom perfect as his pow'r.

3 Lo, he receives a sealed book
From Him who sits upon the throne:
Jesus, my Lord, prevails to look
On dark decrees, and things unknown.]

4 All the assembled saints around
Fall worshipping before the Lamb,
And, in new songs of gospel-sound
Address their honors to his name

5 [The joy, the shout, the harmony
Flies o'er the everlasting hills:
Worthy art thou alone (they cry)
To read the book, to loose the seals.]

6 Our voices join the heav'nly strain,
And with transporting pleasure sing,
Worthy the Lamb who once was slain,
To be our teacher and our King!

7 His words of prophecy reveal
Eternal counsels, deep designs:
His grace and vengeance shall fulfil
The peaceful and the dreadful lines.

8 Thou hast redeem'd our souls from hell,
With thine invaluable blood;
And wretches who did once rebel,
Are now made fav'rites of their God.

9 Worthy forever is the Lord,
Who dy'd for treasons, not his own,
By ev'ry tongue to be ador'd,
And dwell upon his Father's throne!

XXVI. Hope of Heaven, by the resurrection of Christ, 1 Pet. i. 3, 4, 5.

BLEST be the everlasting God,
The Father of our Lord:
Be his abounding mercy prais'd,
His majesty ador'd.

1 When from the dead He rais'd his Son,
And call'd him to the sky,
He gave our souls a lively hope
That they should never die.

2 What though our in-bred sins require
Our flesh to see the dust!
Yet, as the Lord our Saviour rose,
So all his foll'wers must.

3 There's an Inheritance Divine
Reserv'd against that day,
'Tis uncorrupted, undefil'd,
And cannot waste away.

5 Saints, by the pow'r of God, are kept,
 'Till the salvation come ;
 We walk by faith, as strangers here,
 'Till Christ shall call us home.

XXVII. Affurance of Heaven, 2. Tim. iv. 6. &c.

DEATH may dissolve my body now,
 And bear my spirit home ;
 Why do my minutes move so slow,
 Nor my salvation come ?

2 With heav'nly weapons I have fought
 The battles of the Lord,
 Finish'd my course, and kept the faith,
 And wait the sure reward,

3 God has laid up in heav'n for me
 A crown which cannot fade ;
 The gracious Judge at that great day
 Will place it on my head.

4 Nor hath the King of Grace decreed
 This prize for me alone :

— But all who love, and long to see
 Th' appearance of his Son.

5 Jesus, the Lord, shall guard me safe
 From ev'ry ill design ;
 And to his heav'nly kingdom lead
 This feeble soul of mine,

6 God is my everlasting aid.
 And hell shall rage in vain :
 To him be highest glory paid,
 And endless praise ; Amen.

XXVIII. The triumph of Christ over the enemies of his Church, Isa. xlii. 1, 2, 3. &c.

WHAT mighty man, or mighty God,
 Comes traveling in state,
 Along the Idumean road,
 Away from Bozrah's gate ?

- 2 The glory of his robes proclaim
 'Tis some victor'ous King :
- “ 'Tis I, the Just, th' Almighty One,
 “ That your salvation bring.”
- 3 Why, mighty Lord, thy saints enquire,
 Why thine apparel red ?
 Why all thy vesture stain'd like those
 Who in the wine-press tread ?
- 4 “ I by myself have trod the press,
 “ And crush'd my foes alone :
 “ My wrath has struck the rebels dead,
 “ My fury stamp'd them down.
- 5 'Tis Edom's blood which dyes my robes
 “ With joyful scarlet-stains :
 “ The triumph that my raiment wears
 “ Sprung from their bleeding veins.
- 6 “ Thus shall the nations be destroy'd,
 “ That dare insult my saints ;
 “ I have an arm t'avenge their wrongs,
 “ An ear for their complaints.”

XXIX. Second Part : or, the Ruin of Antichrist.

ver. 4, 5, 6, 7.

- “ I LIFT my banner, saith the Lord,
 “ Where Antichrist has stood ;
 “ The city of my gospel's foes
 “ Shall be a field of blood.
- 2 “ My heart has study'd just revenge,
 “ And now the day appears ;
 “ The year of my redeem'd is come,
 “ To wipe away their tears.
- 3 Quite weary is my patience grown,
 “ And bids my fury go :
 “ Swift as the light'ning it shall move,
 “ And be as fatal too.
- 4 “ I call for helpers, but in vain ;
 “ Then has my gospel none ?

“ Well, mine own arm has might enough
 “ To crush my foes alone.

5 “ Slaughter and my devouring sword,
 “ Shall waik the streets around.

“ Babel shall reel beneath my stroke,
 “ And stagger to the ground.”

6 Thy honors, O victor'ous King
 Thine own right hand shall raise,
 While we thy awful vengeance sing,
 And our deliv'rer praise.

XXX. Prayer for Deliverance answered, Isa. xxvi.
 2—20.

IN thine own ways, O God of Love,
 We wait the visits of Thy Grace;
 Our souls desire is to thy name,
 And the remembrance of thy face.

2 My thoughts are searching, Lord, for thee,
 'Mongst the black shades of lonesome night;
 My earnest cries salute the skies
 Before the dawn restore the night.

3 Look how rebell'ous men deride
 The tender patience of my God;
 But they shall see thy lifted hand,
 And feel the scourges of thy rod.

4 Hark! the Eternal rends the sky,
 A mighty voice before him goes,
 A voice of music to his friends,
 But threat'ning thunder to his foes.

5 Come, children, to your Father's arms,
 Hide in the chambers of my grace
 'Till the fierce storms be overblown,
 And my revenging fury cease.

6 My sword shall boast its thousands slain,
 And drink the blood of haughty kings,

While heav'nly peace around my flock
Stretches its soft and shady wings.

XXXI. Referred to the First Psalm.

XXXII. Strength from Heaven, Isa. xl. 27, &c.

WHENCE do our mournful thoughts arise!
And where's our courage fled?
Have restless sin and raging hell
Struck all our comforts dead?

2 Have we forgot th' Almighty Name
Which form'd the earth and sea?
And can an all-creating arm
Grow weary or decay?

3 Treasures of everlasting might
In our Jehovah dwell;
He gives the conquest to the weak,
And treads their foes to hell.

4 Mere mortal pow'r shall fade and die,
And youthful vigour cease;
But we, who wait upon the Lord,
Shall feel our strength increase

5 The saints shall mount on eagle's wings,
And taste the promis'd bliss,
Till their vnweary'd feet arrive
Where perfect pleasure is.

The XXXIII, XXXIV, XXXV, XXXVI,
XXXVII, XXXVIII, referred to Psal. cxxxii.
cxxxiv, lxxvii, lxxiii, xc, and lxxxiv.

XXXIX. God's tender care of his Church, Isa.
xliv. 13, 14, &c.

NOW shall my inward joys arise,
And burst into a song;
Almighty love inspires my heart,
And pleasure tunes my tongue.

- 2 God on his thirſty Sion hill
Some mercy-drops has thrown,
And ſolemn oaths have bound his love
To ſhow'r ſalvation down.
- 3 Why do we then indulge our fears,
Suspicious and complaints?
Is he a God, and ſhall his grace
Grow weary of his ſaints?
- 4 Can a kind woman e'er forget
The infant of her womb,
And 'mongſt a thouſand tender thoughts,
Her ſuckling have no room?
- 5 Yet, ſaith the Lord, ſhall nature change,
And mothers maſters prove,
Sion ſtill dwells upon the heart
Of everlaſting love.
- 6 Deep on the palms of both my hands
I have engrav'd her name;
My hands ſhall raiſe her ruin'd walls,
And build her broken frame.

XL. The buſineſs and bleſſedneſs of glorified Saints.

Rev. vii. 13, 14, 15, &c.

WHAT happy men, or angels the e,
That all their robes are ſpotleſs white?
Whence did this gloriouſ troop arrive
At the pure realms of heav'nly light?

2 From tort'ring racks, and burning fires,
And ſeas of their own blood they came:
But nobler blood has waſh'd their robes,
Flowing from Chriſt the dying Lamb.

3 Now they approach'd th' Almighty Throne
With loud Joſannas night and day:
Sweet anthems to the great Three-One
Measure their bleſ'd eternity

4 No more shall hunger pain their souls ;
 He bids their parching thirst be gone,
 And spreads the shadow of his wings,
 To screen them from the scorching sun.

5 The Lamb who fills the middle throne,
 Shall shed around his milder beams :
 There shall they feast on his rich love,
 And drink full joys from living streams.

6 Thus shall their mighty bliss renew
 Through the vast round of endless years,
 While the soft hand of Sov'reign Grace
 Heals all their wounds and wipes their tears.

XLI. The Martyrs Glorified, Rev. vii. 13, &c.

THREE glor'ous minds how bright they shine !
 Whence all their white array ?
 How came they to the happy seats
 Of everlasting day ?

1 From tort'ring pains to endless joys
 On fiery wheels they rode,
 And strangely wash'd their raiment white
 In Je su's dying blood.

2 Now they approach a spotless God,
 And bow before his throne ;
 Their warbling harps and sacred songs
 Adore the Holy One.

3 The unren'd glories of his face
 Among his saints reside,
 While the rich treasure of His grace
 Sees all their wants supply'd.

4 Tormenting thirst shall leave their souls,
 And hunger flee as fast ;
 The fruit of Life's immortal tree
 Shall be their sweet repast.

5 The Lamb shall lead His heav'nly flock
 Where living fountains rise,

And love Divine shall wipe away
The sorrows of their eyes.

XLII. Divine Wrath and Mercy. Na. i. 1, 2, 3. Ex-

ADORE and tremble for our God
Isa* consuming fire! (Heb. xii. 25.*)
His jealous eyes his wrath inflame,
And raise his vengeance high'r.

2 Almighty vengeance, how it burns!
How bright its fury glows!
Vast magazines of plagues and storms
Lie treasur'd for his foes.

3 Those heaps of wrath by slow degrees
Are forc'd into a flame;
But kindled, oh! how fierce they blaze!
And rend all nature's frame!

4 At his approach the mountains flee,
And seek a wat'ry grave;
The frighted sea makes haste away,
And shrinks up ev'ry wave.

5 Through the wide air the weighty rocks
Are swift as hail-stones hurl'd;
Who dares engage the fiery rage
Which shakes the solid world?

6 Yet mighty God! thy Sov'reign Grace
Sits Regent on the throne,
The refuge of thy chosen race
When wrath comes rushing down.

7 Thy hand shall on rebellious kings
A fiery tempest pour,
While we beneath thy shelt'ring wings
Thy just revenge adore.

XLIII. Referred to Psalm C, and XLIV, to Psalm CXXXIII.

XLV. The Last Judgement, Rev. xxi. 5, 6, 7, 8.

SEE where the great incarnate God
Sills a majestic throne!

While from the skies his awful voice
Bears the last judgment down,

2[“ I am the FIRST, and I the LAST,

“ Through endless years the same ;

“ I AM, is my memorial still,

“ And my Eternal Name.

3 “ Such favors as a God can give,

“ My royal grace bestows :

“ Ye thirsty souls, come, taste the streams

“ Where life and pleasure flows.]

4[“ The saint, who triumphs o’er his sins,

“ I’ll own him for a son ;

“ The whole creation shall reward

“ The conquests he has won.

5 “ But, bloody hands, and hearts unclean,

“ And all the lying race,

“ The faithless, and the scoffing crew,

“ Who spurn at offer’d grace ;

6 “ They shall be taken from my sight,

“ Bound with an iron chain,

“ And headlong plung’d into the lake

“ Where fire and darkness reign.”

7 O may I stand before the Lamb,

When earth and seas are fled !

And hear the Judge pronounce my name

With blessings on my head !

8 May I with those forever dwell.

Who here were my delight ;

While sinners, banish’d down to hell,

No more offend my sight.

XLVI, XLVII. Referred to Psalm cxlviii, and iii.

XLVIII. Christian Race, II. xl. 28, 29, &c.

A WAKE our souls (away our fears,
Let ev’ry trembling thought be gone)

Awake, and run the heav'nly race,
And put a cheerful courage on.

2 True, 'tis a straight and thorny road,
And mortal spirits tire and faint ;
But they forget the mighty God,
Who feeds the strength of ev'ry saint.

3 The mighty God, whose matchless pow'r
Is ever new and ever young,
And firm endures, while endless years
Their everlasting circles run.

4 From Thee, the overflowing spring,
Our souls shall drink a fresh supply ;
While such as trust their native strength
Shall melt away, and drop, and die.

5 Swift as an eagle cuts the air,
We'll mount aloft to Thine Abode ;
On wings of love our souls shall fly,
Nor tire amidst the heav'nly road.

XLIX. Works of Moses and the Lamb, Re. xv. 3.

HOW strong thine arm is, mighty God!
Who would not fear Thy Name ?
Jesus, how sweet thy graces are !
Who would not love the Lamb ?

2 He has done more than Moses did,
Our Prophet and our King :
From bonds of hell he freed our souls,
And taught our lips to sing.

3 In the red sea, by Moses' hand
Th' Egyptian host was drown'd ;
But his own blood hides all our sins.
And guilt no more is found.

4 When through the desert Isr'el went,
With manna they were fed :
Our Lord invites us to his flesh,
And calls it living bread.

5 Moses beheld the promis'd land.
 Yet never reach'd the place ;
But Christ shall bring his foll'wers home
To see his Father's face.

6 Then shall our love and joy be full,
 And feel a warmer flame,
 And sweeter voices tune the song
 Of Moses and the Lamb.

L. Light and Salvation by JESUS CHRIST Luke
 i. 68, &c. John i. 29, 32.

NOW be the God of Ir'el blest,
 Who makes his truth appear ;
 His mighty hand fulfil's his word,
 And all the oaths he sware.

2 Now he bedews old David's root
 With blessings from the skies :
 He makes the branch of promise shoot,
 The promis'd horn arise.

3 [John was the prophet of the Lord,
 To go before his face,
 The herald that our Saviour-God
 Sent to prepare his ways.

4 He makes the great Salvation known ;
 He speaks of pardon'd sins :
 While Grace Divine, with heav'nly love,
 In its own glory shines.

5 " Behold the Lamb of God," he cries,
 " Who takes our guilt away ;
 " I saw the Spirit o'er His head,
 " On his baptizing day.]

6 " Be ev'ry vale exalted high ;
 " Sink ev'ry mountain low ;
 " The proud must stoop, and humble souls
 " Shall his salvation know.

- 7 "The heathen realms with Isr'el's land,
 " Shall join in sweet accord ;
 " And all that's born of man, shall see
 " The glory of the Lord.
- 8 "Behold the Morning Star arise,
 " Ye who in darkness sit ;
 " He marks the path which leads to peace.
 " And guides our doubtful feet."

LI. Preserving Grace, Jude, 24, 25.

- TO GOD, the Only wise.
 Our Saviour and our King.
 Let all the saints, below the skies,
 Their humble praises bring.
- 2 'Tis his Almighty love,
 His counsel, and his care,
 Preserv'd us safe from sin and death,
 And ev'ry hurtful snare.
- 3 He will present our souls,
 Unblemish'd and compleat,
 Before the glory of his face,
 With joys divinely great.
- 4 Then all the chosen seed
 Shall meet around the throne,
 Shall bless the conduct of his grace,
 And make his wonders known.
- 5 To our Redeemer-God,
 Wisdom and pow'r belongs,
 Immortal crowns of majesty,
 And everlasting songs.

LII. Baptism, Matt. xxviii. 19, Acts ii. 38

- TWAS the commission of the Lord,
 Go teach the nations and baptize .
 The nations have receiv'd the word
 Since he ascended to the skies.

2 He sits upon the eternal hills,
With grace and pardon in his hands,
And sends his cov'nant with the seals,
To bless the darksome Gentile lands.

3 Repent, and be baptiz'd, he saith,
For the remission of your sins ;
And thus our sense afflicts our faith
And shows us what his gospel means.

4 Our souls he washes in his blood,
As water makes the body clean ;
And the good Spirit from our God
Descends like purifying rain.

5 Thus we engage ourselves to thee,
And seal our cov'nant with the Lord ;
O may the great Eternal three
In heav'n our solemn vows record.

LIII. The Holy Scriptures, Heb. i. 1. 2 Tim. iii.

15, 16. Psalm cxlvii. 19, 20.

GOD, who in various methods told
His mind and will to saints of old,
Sent his own Son with truth and grace,
To teach us in these latter days.

2 The nations read the written word,
That book of life, that sure record :
The bright inheritance of heav'n
Is by the sweet conveyance giv'n.

3 God's kindest thoughts are here express'd,
Able to make us wise and bless'd ;
The doctrines are divinely true,
Fit for reproof and comfort too.

4 Ye happy lands, who read his love
In long epistles, from above,
(He hath not sent his sacred word
To ev'ry land) praise ye the Lord.

LIV. Saints beloved in Christ, Eph. i. 3, &c.

JESUS, we bless thy father's name ;
Thy God and our's are both the same ;
What heav'nly blessings from his throne
Fall down to sinners through his Son !

2 Christ be my first elect, he said.

Then chose our souls, in Christ, our head,
Before he gave the mountains birth,
Or laid foundations for the earth.

3 Thus did Eternal love begin
To raise us up from death and sin ;
Our characters were then decreed,
Blameless in love, a holy seed.

4 Predestinated to be sons,
Born by degrees, but chose at once ;
A new regenerated race,
To praise the glory of his grace.

5 With Christ our Lord we share our part
In the affections of his heart ;
Nor shall our souls be thence remov'd,
'Till he forgets his first beloved.

LV. Sickness and Recovery, Isa. xxxviii. 9, &c.

WHEN we are rais'd from deep distress
Our God deserves a song ;
We take the pattern of our praise
From Hezekiah's tongue.

2 The gates of the devouring grave
Are open'd wide, in vain,
If he who holds the keys of death
Commands them fast again.

3 Pains of the flesh are wont t' abuse
Our minds with slavish fears :
Our days are past, and we shall lose
The remnant of our years.

4 We chatter with a swallow's voice,
Or like a dove we mourn,
With bitterness instead of joys,
Afflicted and forlorn.

5 Jehovah speaks the healing word,
And no disease withstands:
Fevers and plagues obey the Lord,
And fly at his commands.

6 If half the springs of life should break,
He can our frame restore;
He casts our sins behind his back,
And they are found no more.

LVI. Babylon Falling, Rev. xv. 3, xvi, 19. xvii. 6'

WE sing the glories of thy love;
We found thy dreadful name:
The christian church unites the songs
Of Moses and the Lamb.

2 Great God, how wond'rous are thy works
Of vengeance and of grace!
Thou King of saints, Almighty Lord,
How just and true thy ways;

3 Who dares refuse to fear thy name,
Or worship at thy Throne?
Thy judgments speak thy holiness
Through all the nations known.

4 Great Babylon, which rules the earth,
Drunk with the martyrs' blood,
Her crimes shall speedily awake
The fury of our God.

5 The cup of wrath is ready mix'd,
And she must drink the dregs;
Strong is the Lord, her Sov'reign Judge,
And shall fulfil her plagues.

LVII. Original Sin, Ro. v. 12. Pf. li. 3. Job xiv. 4.

BACKWARD with humble shame we look
On our original ;

How is our nature dash'd and broke
In our first Father's fall.

2 To all that's good, averse and blind,
But prone to all that's ill ;

What dreadful darkness veils our mind !
How obstinate our will !

3 [Conceiv'd in sin (O wretched state)
Before we draw our breath ;

The first young pulse begins to beat
Iniquity and death.

4 How strong in our degen'rate blood
The old corruption reigns,

And, mingling with the crooked flood,
Wanders through all our veins !]

5 Wild and unwholesome, as the root,
Will all the branches be ;

How can we hope for living fruit
From such a deadly tree !

6 What mortal pow'r from things unclean
Can pure productions bring ?

Who can command a vital stream
From an infected spring ?

7 Yet mighty God, thy wond'rous love
Can make our nature clean,

While Christ and grace prevail above
The tempter, death, and sin.

8 The Second Adam shall restore
The ruins of the first ;

Hofanna to that sov'reign pow'r,
Which new creates our dust !

LVIII. The Devil Vanquished, Rev. xii. 7.

ET mortal tongues attempt to sing

4 The wars of heav'n, when Michael stood

Chief gen'ral of th' Eternal King,
And fought the battles of our God.

2 Against the dragon and his host
The armies of the Lord prevail ;
In vain they rage, in vain they boast,
Their courage sinks, their weapons fail.

3 Down to the earth was satan thrown ;
Down to the earth his legions fell ;
Then was the tramp of triumph blown,
And shook the dreadful deeps of hell.

4 Now is the hour of darkness past,
Christ has assum'd his reigning pow'r ;
Behold the great accuser cast
Down from the skies, to rise no more !

5 'Twas by thy blood, immortal Lamb,
'Thine armies trod the tempter down :
'Twas by Thy Word and pow'rful name
They gain'd the battle and renown.

6 Rejoice, ye heav'ns ! let ev'ry star
Shine with new glories round the sky :
Saints, while ye sing the heav'nly war,
Raise your Deliv'ers name on high !

LIX. Babylon Fallen, Rev. xviii. 20, 21.

IN Gabriel's hand, a mighty stone,
Lies a fair type of Babylon :
Prophets, rejoice, and all ye saints,
God shall avenge your long complaints.

2 He said, and dreadful as he stood ;
He sunk the mill-stone in the flood :
Thus terribly shall Bab'lon fall—
Sink—and no more be found at all.

LX. The promised Messiah Born, Luk. i. 46, &c.

OUR souls shall magnify the Lord ;
In God, the Saviour, we rejoice :

While we repeat the Virgin's song,
May the same Spirit tune our voice.

2 [The Higheft ſaw her low eſtate,
And mighty things His hand hath done ;
His overſhad'wing pow'r and grace
Makes her the mother of a Son.

3 Let ev'ry nation call her bleſs'd,
And endleſs years prolong her fame :
But God alone muſt be ador'd :
Holy and Rev'rend is his Name.]

4 To thoſe who fear and truſt the Lord,
His mercy ſtands forever ſure :
From age to age his promiſe lives,
And the performance is ſecure

5 He ſpoke to Abra'm and his ſeed—
In thee ſhall all the earth be bleſs'd ?
The mem'ry of that ancient word
Lay long in His Eternal breaſt.

6 But now, no more ſhall Iſr'el wait ;
No more the Gentiles lie forlorn :
Lo, the Deſire of nations comes—
Behold, the promis'd ſeed is born !

LXI. Chriſt Coming to Judgment, Rev. i. 5, 6, 7.

NOW to the Lord, who makes us know
The wonders of his dying love,
Be humble honors paid below,
And ſtrains of nobler praiſe above.

2 'Twas he who cleans'd our fouleſt ſins,
And waſh'd us in his richeſt blood :
'Tis He who makes us prieſts and kings,
And brings us, rebels, near to God.

3 To Jeſus our atoning Prieſt,
To Jeſus, our ſuperior King,
Be everlaſting pow'r confeſs'd
And ev'ry tongue his glory ſing.

4 Behold ! on flying clouds he comes,
And ev'ry eye shall see him move !
Though with our sins we pierc'd him once,
Now he displays his pard'ning love.

5 The unbelieving world shall wail,
While we rejoice to see the day :
Come, Lord—nor let thy promise fail,
Nor let thy char'ots long delay.

LXII. *Christ Jesus, the Lamb of God, worshipped
by all the Creation, Rev. v. 11, 12, 13.*

COME let us join our chearful songs
With angels, round the throne :
Ten thousand thousand are their tongues,
But all their joys are one.

2 *Worthy the Lamb, that dy'd, they cry,
To be exalted thus ;*

Worthy the Lamb our lips reply,
For he was slain for us.

3 Jesus is worthy to receive
Honor and pow'r divine ;
And blessings, more than we can give,
Be, Lord, forever thine.

4 Let all who dwell above the sky,
And air, and earth, and seas,
Conspire to raise thy glories high,
And speak thine endless praise.

5 Let all creation join in one,
To bless the Sacred Name
Of him who sits upon the throne,
And to adore the Lamb.

LXIII. Christ's Humiliation, and Exaltation, Rev. v.

WHAT equal honors shall we bring,
To Thee, O Lord, our God, the Lamb;
When all the notes which angels sing,
Are far inferior to thy name ?

2 Worthy is he who once was slain,
The Prince of Life, who groan'd and dy'd ;
Worthy to rise, and live, and reign
At his Almighty Father's side.

3 Pow'r and dominion are his due,
Who stood condemn'd at Pilate's bar :
Wisdom belongs to Je us too,
Though he was charg'd with madness here.

4 All riches are his native right,
Yet he sustain'd amazing loss :
To him ascribe Eternal Might,
Who left his weakness on the cross.

5 Honor immortal must be paid,
Instead of scandal and of scorn :
While glory shines around his head,
And a bright crown, without a thorn.

6 Blessings for ever on the Lamb,
Who bore the curse for wretched men ;
Let angels sound his sacred name,
And ev'ry creature say—Amen.

LXIV. Adoption, 1 John, iii. 1, &c. Gal. vi. 6.

BEHOLD, what wond'rous grace
The Father has bestow'd
On sinners of a mortal race,
To call them sons of God !

2 'Tis no surprising thing
That we should be unknown :
The Jewish world knew not their King.
God's everlasting Son :—

3 Nor doth it yet appear
How great we must be made :
But when we see our Saviour near,
We shall be like our Head.

4 A hope, so much divine,
May trials well endure—

My purge our souls from sense and sin,
As Christ, the Lord is pure.

3 If in my Father's love
I share a filial part,

Send down thy spirit, like a dove,
To rest upon my heart.

6 We would no longer lie
Like slaves beneath the throne ;

Our faith shall Abba Father cry,
And thou the kindred own.

LXV. The day of Judgement. Rev: xi. 15.

LET th' sev'nth angel sound on high ;
Let thoughts be heard through all the sky:
Kings of the earth with glad accord,
Give up your kingdoms to the Lord.

2 Almighty God, thy pow'r assume,
Who wast, and art, and art to come ;
Jesus, the Lamb, who once wast slain,
Fo' ever live, forever reign !

3 The angry nations fret and roar
That they can slay the saints no more :
On wings of vengeance flies our God
To pay the long arrears of blood.

4 Now must the rising dead appear—
Now the decisive sentence hear ;
Now the dear martyrs of the Lord
Receive an infinite reward.

LXVI Christ at his Table, Sol. Song, i. 2, 3, &c.

LET him embrace my soul, and prove
Mine int'rest in his heav'nly love :
The voice which tells me—Thou art mine—
Exceeds the blessings of the vine.

2 On thee th' anointing Spirit came,
And spreads the savor of thy name ;

That oil of gladness and of grace
Draws virgin souls to meet thy face.

3 Jesus allure me by thy charms,
My soul shall fly into thine arms!
Our wand'ring feet thy favors bring
To the fair chambers of the King.

[4. Wonder and pleasure tune our voice,
To speak thy praises and our joys:
Our mem'ry keeps this love of thine
Beyond the taste of richest wine.]

5 Though in ourselves deform'd we are,
And black as Kedars tents appear;
Yet when we put thy beauties on,
Fair as the courts of Solomon.

[6 While at his table sits the King,
He loves to see us smile and sing:
Our graces are our best perfume,
And breathe like spikenard round the room.]

7 As myrrh, new bleeding from the tree,
Such is a dying Christ to me;
And while he makes my soul his guest,
My bosom, Lord, shall be thy rest.

[8 No beams of cedar or of fir,
Can with thy courts on earth compare;
And here we wait until thy love
Raise us to nobler seats above.]

EXVII. Seeking the pastures of Christ the Shepherd, Solomon's Song, i. 7.

THOU, whom my soul admires above
All earthly joy, and earthly love,
Tell me dear Shepherd let me know
Where do thy sweetest pastures grow?

2 Where is the shadow of that rock,
Which from the sun defends thy flock?

Fain would I feed among thy sheep,
Among them rest, among them sleep.

3 Why should thy bride appear like one
Who turns aside to paths unknown?
My constant feet would never rove,
Would never seek another love.

[4 The footsteps of thy flocks I see—
Thy sweetest pastures, here they be,
A wond'rous feast thy love prepares,
Bought with thy wounds, and groans and tears.

5 His dearest flesh he makes my food,
And bids me drink his richest blood,
Here to these hills my soul will come,
'Till my beloved lead me home.]

LXVIII. Banquet of love, Sol. Song ii. 1, 2, &c.

BEHOLD the Rose of Sharon here,
The Lily which the vallies bear!
Behold the Tree of Life, which gives
Refreshing fruit and healing leaves!

2 Among the thorns so lilies shine,
Among wild gourd's the noble vine;
So, in my eyes, my Saviour proves,
Amidst a thousand meaner loves.

3 Beneath his cooling shade I sit.
'To shield me from the burning heat;
Of heav'nly fruit he spread a feast,
To feed my eyes and please my taste.

4 Kindly he brought me to the place
Where stood the banquet of his grace;
He saw me faint and o'er my head
The banner of his love he spread.

5 With living bread and gen'rous wine,
He cheer'd this sinking heart of mine;
And op'ning his own heart to me,
He shew'd his thoughts, how kind they be.

6 O, Never let my Lord depart !
 Lie down, and rest upon my heart ;
 I charge my sins not once to move,
 Disturb, nor wake, nor grieve my love.

LXIX. Christ appearing to his Church and seeking her company, Sol. Song, ii. 1, 9, 10, 11, &c.

THE voice of my beloved sounds
 Over the rocks and rising grounds ;
 O'er hills of guilt, and seas of grief,
 He leaps, he flies to my relief !

2 Now through the veil of flesh I see,
 With eyes of love he looks on me ;
 Now in the gospel's clearest glass
 He shews the beauties of his face.

3 Gently he draws my heart along,
 Both with his beauties and his tongue ;
 Rise, saith my Lord, make haste away,
 No mortal joys are worth thy stay.

4 The Jewish wint'ry state is gone.
The mists are fled the Spring comes on,
The sacred Turtle Dove we hear
Proclaim the new, the joyful year.

5 Th' Immortal Vine of heav'nly root,
Blossoms and buds, and gives her fruit;
 Lo ! we are come to taste the wine ;
 Our souls rejoice and bless the Vine.

6 And when we hear our Je us say—
Rise up, my love and haste away !
 Our hearts would fain out-fly the wind,
 And leave all earthly loves behind.

LXX. Christ inviting and the Church answering the invitation, Sol. Song ii. 14, 16, 17.

HARK ! the redeemer from on high,
 Sweetly invites his fav'rites nigh ;

From caves of darkness and of doubt,
He gently speaks and calls us out.

2 My dove who hid'st in the rock,
Thine heart almost with sorrow broke,
Lift up thy face forget thy fear,
And let thy voice delight mine ear.

3 Thy voice to me sounds ever sweet;
My graces in thy countenance meet,
Though the vain world thy face despise,
'Tis bright and comely in mine eyes.

4 Dear Lord our thankful heart receives
The hope thine invitation gives:
To thee our joyful lips shall raise
The voice of prayer and of praise.]

[5 I am my Love's and he is mine;
Our hearts our hopes our passions join;
Nor let a motion nor a word,
Nor thought arise, to grieve my Lord.

6 My soul to pastures fair he leads,
Among the lilies where he feeds,
Among the saints, (whose robes are white
Wash'd in his blood) is his delight.

7 'Till the day break and shadows flee,
'Till the sweet dawning light I see,
Thine eyes to me-ward often turn,
Nor let my soul in darkness mourn.

8 Be like a hart on mountains green,
Leap o'er the hills of fear and sin;
Nor guilt, nor unbelief divide
My Love, my Saviour from my side.]

LXXI. Christ found in the street, and brought to the Church, Sol. Song, iii. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5.

OFTEN I seek my Lord by night.
Jesus, my love ray, soul's delight
E e a

With warm desire, and restless thought
I seek him oft, but find him not.

2 Then I arise and search the street,
'Till I my Lord, my Saviour meet !
I ask the watchmen of the night,
Where did you see my soul's delight ?

3 Sometimes I find him in my way,
Directed by a heav'nly ray ;
I leap for joy to see his face,
And hold him fast in mine embrace.

4 I bring him to my mother's home.
(Nor does my Lord refuse to come)
To Zion's sacred chambers where
My soul first drew the vital air.

5 He gives me there his bleeding heart,
Pierc'd for my sake with deadly smart ;
I give my soul to him, and there
Our loves their mutual tokens share.]

6 I charge you all, ye earthly toys,
Approach not to disturb my joys ;
Nor sin nor hell, come near my heart,
To cause my Saviour to depart.

LXXII. Coronation of Christ and Espousals of the Church, Sol. Song, iii. 2.

DAUGHTERS of Zion come behold
The crown of honor and of gold.
Which the glad church, with joy, unknown,
Plac'd on the head of Solomon.

2 Jesus thou everlasting King,
Accept the tribute which we bring ;
Accept the well-deserv'd renown,
And wear our praises as thy crown.

3 Let ev'ry act of worship be
Like our espousals, Lord to thee ;
Like the dear hour, when from above,
We first receiv'd thy pledge of love,

4 The gladness of that happy day,
Our hearts would wish it long to stay :
Nor let our faith forsake its hold.
Nor comfort sink nor love grow cold.

5 O! let each minute as it flies,
Increase thy praise, improve our joys,
'Till we are rais'd to sing thy name
At the great supper of the Lamb.

6 O that the months would roll away,
And bring that coronation-day !
The King of Grace, shall fill the throne,
With all his Father's glories on.

LXXIII. The Church's beauty in the eyes of Christ,
Sol. Song, iv. 1, 10, 11, 7, 8, 9.

KIND is the speech of Christ, our Lord,
Whose affection sounds in ev'ry word ;
Lo, thou art fair my love, he cries.
Not the young doves have sweeter eyes,

[2 Sweet are thy lips, thy pleasing voice
Salute mine ear with secret joys ;
No spice so much delights the smell,
Nor milk nor honey tastes so well.]

3 Thou art all fair, my bride to me ;
I will behold no spot in thee :
What mighty wonders love performs ;
And puts a comeliness on worms !

4 De fil'd and loathsome as we are,
He makes us white, and calls us fair ;
Adorns us with that heav'nly grace,
His graces and his righteousness.

5 My sister and my spouse he cries
Bound to my heart by various ties :
The power'ful love my heart retains
In strong delight and pleasing chains.

6 He calls me from the leopard's den
From the wide world of beasts and men,

To Zion where his glories are—
Not Lebanon is half so fair.

7 Nor dens of prey, nor flow'ry plains,
Nor earthly joys, nor earthly pains
Shall hold my feet, or force my stay,
When Christ invites my soul away.

LXXIV. The Church the garden of Christ, Solomon Song, iv. 12, 13, 15. and v. 1.

WE are a garden wall'd around,
Chosen and made peculiar ground;
A little spot, enclos'd by grace,
Out of the world's wide wilderness.

2 Like trees of myrrh and spice we stand,
Planted by God the Father's hand;
And all his springs in Zion flow,
To make the young plantation grow.

3 Awake, O heav'nly Wind, and come,
Blow on this garden of perfume!
Spirit Divine, descend and breathe,
A gracious gale on plants beneath.

4 Make our best spices flow abroad,
To entertain our Saviour-God;
And faith, and love, and joy appear,
And ev'ry grace be active here.

[5 Let my beloved come and taste
His pleasant fruits at his own feast:—
I come, my spouse. I come he cries,
With love and pleasure in his eyes.

6 Our Lord into his garden comes,
Well pleas'd to smell our poor perfumes;
And calls us to a feast divine,
Sweeter than honey milk or wine.

7 Eat of the Tree of Life my friends,
The blessings which my Father sends;
Your taste shall my dainties prove,
And drink abundance of my love.

8 Jesus, we will frequent thy board,
 And sing the bounties of our Lord -
 But the rich food, on which we live,
 Demands more praise than tongues can give.]

LXXV. The description of Christ the beloved,
 Sol. Song. v. 9, 10, 11, 12, 14, 15, 16

THE wond'ring world enquires to know,
 Why I should love my Jesus so:
What are his charms, say they, above
The objects of a mortal love?

2 Yes my Beloved, to my sight
 Shews a sweet mixture red and white;
 All human beauties, all divine,
 In my Beloved meet and shine.

3 White is his soul, from blemish free;
 Red with the blood he shed for me;
 The fairest of ten thousand fairs,
 A sun, among ten thousand stars.

4 His head the finest gold excels;
 There wisdom in perfection dwells,
 And gl'ry, like a crown adorns
 Those temples once beset with thorns!

5 Compassions in his heart are found,
 Hard by the signals of his wound:
 His sacred side no more shall bear
 The cruel scourge the piercing spear.]

6 His hands are fairer to behold,
 Than diamonds set in rings of gold;
 Those heavenly hands, which on the tree
 Were nail'd and torn, and bleed for me;

7 Though once he bow'd his feeble knees,
 Loaded with sins and agonies
 Now on the throne of his command
 His legs like marble pillars stand.]

8 His eyes are majesty and love—
 The eagle temper'd with the dove,

No more shall trickling sorrows roll
Through those dear windows of his soul.]

9 His mouth which pour'd out long complaints,
Now smiles and cheers his fainting faints :
His countenance more graceful is
Than Lebanon, with all its trees.

10 All over glor'ous is my Lord,
Must be belov'd and yet ador'd ;
His worth if all the nations knew,
Sure the whole earth would love him too.

LXXVI. Christ dwells in heaven but visits on Earth, Sol. Song, vi. 1, 2, 3, 12.

WHEN strangers stand and hear me tell
What beauties in my Saviour dwell ;
Where he is gone they fain would know,
That they may seek and love him too.

3 My best Beloved keeps his throne
On hills of light, in worlds unknown :
But he descends and shews his face
In the young gardens of his grace.

[3 In vineyards planted by his hand,
Where fruitful trees in order stand ;
He feeds among the spicy beds,
Where lilies show their spotted heads.

4 He has engross'd my warmest love,
No earthly charms my soul can move ;
I have a mansion in his heart,
Nor death nor hell shall make us part.]

[5 He takes my soul e'er I'am aware,
And shows me where his glories are ;
No char'ot. of Aminadib
The heav'nly rapture can describe.

6 O may my spirit daily rise
On wings of faith above the skies,
'Till death shall make my last remove,
To dwell forever with my love.

LXXVII. The love of Christ to the Church, Sol
Song, vii. 5. 6. 9. 12. 13.

NOW, in the gall'ries of his grace,
 Appears the King, and thus he says:
How fair my saints are in my sight,
My love, how pleasant for delight!

2 Kind is thy language, Sov'reign Lord,
 There's heav'nly grace in ev'ry word;
 From that dear mouth, a stream divine
 Flows sweeter than the choicest wine.

3 Such wond'rous love awakes the lip
 Of saints, who were almost asleep,
 To speak the praises of thy name.
 And makes our cold affections flame.

4 These are the joys he lets us know
 In fields and villages below;
 Gives us a relish of his love,
 But keeps his noblest feast above.

5 In paradise, within the gates,
 An higher entertainment waits;
 Fruits, new and old, laid up in store,
 There we shall feed—but thist no more.

LXXVIII. Strength of Christ's love, and the soul's
jealousy of her own, Sol. Song, viii. 5, &c.

WHO is this fair one, in distress,
 That travels from the wilderness?
 And, press'd with sorrows and with sins,
 On her beloved Lord she leans.

2 This is the spouse of Christ, our God,
 Bought with the treasures of his blood,
 And her request, and her complaint,
 Is but the voice of ev'ry saint.

3 "O let my name engraven stand,
 4 Both on thy heart and on thy hand;

- “ Seal me upon thine arm and wear
 “ That pledge of love forever there.
- 4 “ Stronger than death, my love is known,
 “ Which floods of wrath could never drown;
 “ And hell and earth, in vain combine,
 “ To quench a fire so much divine.
- 5 “ But I am jealous of my heart,
 “ Lest it should once from Thee depart;
 “ Then let thy name be well impress'd,
 “ As a fair signet on my breast.
- 6 “ Till thou hast brought me to thy home
 “ Where fears and doubts can never come;
 “ Thy count'nance let me often see,
 “ And often thou shalt hear from me.
- 7 “ Come, my beloved, haste away;
 “ Cut short the hours of thy delay;
 “ Fly, like a youthful hart or roe,
 “ Over the hills where spices grow.”

LXXIX. A morning Hymn, Psalm xix. 5, 8 and lxxiii. 24, 25.

GOD of the morning, at whose voice
 The cheartful sun makes haste to rise,
 And, like a giant, doth rejoice
 To run his journey through the skies.

2 From the fair chambers of the east,
 The circuit of his race begins—
 And, without weariness or rest,
 Round the whole earth he flies and shines.

3 Oh, like the Sun, may I fulfil
 Th' appointed duties of the day;
 With ready mind and active will,
 March on, and keep my heavenly way!

[4 But I shall rove, and lose the race,
 If God, my Sun, should disappear,
 And leave me in this world's wild maze,
 To follow ev'ry wand'ring star.

5 Lord, thy commands are clean and pure,
 Enough'ning our beclouded eyes ;
 Thy treat'nings just, thy promise sure,
 Thy gospel makes the simple wise.

6 Give me thy counsel for my guide,
 And then receive me to thy bliss ;
 All my desires and hopes beside,
 Are faint and cold, compar'd with this.

LXXX. *An evening Hymn, Psalm iv 8, and iiii.
 5, 6, and cxliiii. 8.*

THUS far the Lord has led me on :
 Thus far his pow'r prolongs my days,
 And ev'ry ev'ning shall make known
 Some fresh memor'al of his grace.

2 Much of my time has run to waste,
 And I, perhaps, am near my home ;
 But he forgives my follies past ;
 He gives me strength for days to come.

3 I lay my body down to sleep.
 Peace is the pillow for my head ;
 While well-appointed angels keep
 Their watchful stations, round my bed.

4 In vain the sons of earth or hell
 Tell me a thousand frightful things ;
 My God, in safety, makes me dwell
 Beneath the shadow of his wings.

[5 Faith, in His Name, forbids my fear
 O may thy presence ne'er depart !
 And, in the morning make me hear
 The love and kindness of thy heart.

6 Thus when the night of death shall come,
 My flesh shall rest beneath the ground,
 And wait Thy voice—to rouse my tomb—
 With sweet salvation in the sound.]

LXXXI. A Song for Morning or Evening, Lam.
iii 23. Ma. xiv. 7.

MY God, how endless is thy love ;
Thy gifts are ev'ry ev'ning new ;
And morning mercies, from above,
Gently distil, like early dew.

2 Thou spread'st the curtains of the night,
Great Guardian of my sleeping hours ;
Thy Sov reign Word restores the light,
And quickens all my drowzy pow'rs.

3 I yield my pow'rs to Thy command,
'To Thee, I consecrate my days,
Perpetual blessings from Thine hand
Demand perpetual songs of praise.

LXXXII. God far above creatures' Job, iv. 17, 21.

SHALL the vile race of flesh and blood
Contend with their Creator God ?
Shall mortal worms presume to be
More holy, wise, or just than He ?

2 Behold ! He puts his trust in none
Of all the spirits round his throne ;
Their natures, when compar'd with his,
Are neither holy, just, nor wise,

3 But how much meaner things are they,
Who spring from dust, and dwell in clay ?
Touch'd by the finger of thy wrath,
We faint and vanish, like the moth.

4 From night to day, from day to night,
We die by thousands in thy sight ;
Bury'd in dust, whole nations lie
Like a forgotten vanity.

5 Almighty Pow'r, to thee we bow ;
How frail are we ! how glor'ous thou !
No more the sons of earth shall dare
With an eternal God compare !

LXXXIII. Afflictions under Providence, Job, v. 6.

NOT from the dust affliction grows,
Nor troubles rise by chance ;
Yet we are born to cares and woes ;
A sad inheritance !

2 As sparks break out from burning coals,
And still are upwards borne ;
So grief is rooted in our souls,
And man grows up, to mourn.

3 Yet, with my God I leave my cause,
And trust his promis'd grace ;
He rules me by his well-known laws
Of love and righteousness.

4 Not all the pains which e'er I bore, shall spoil my future peace—
For death and hell, can do no more
Than what my Father please.

LXXXIV. Salvation, Righteousness, and Strength in Christ, Isa. xiv 21—25.

JEHOVAH speaks ! let Isr'el hear !
Let all the earth rejoice and fear,
While God's Eternal Son proclaims
His sovereign honors, and his names :

2 " I am the LAST, and I the FIRST.
" The Saviour-God, and God the just ;
" There's none beside pretends to shew
" Such justice and salvation too.

3 " Ye, who in shades of darkness dwell,
" Just on the verge of death and hell—
" Look up to me, from distant lands,
" Light, life, and heav'n, are in my hands.

4 " I by my Holy Name have sworn,
" Nor shall the word, in vain, return ;
" To Me, shall all things bend the knee,
" And ev'ry tongue shall swear to Me.

- 3 "In ME alone, than men confess
 6 Lies all th' in strength and righteousness ;
 6 But such as dare despise my name,
 6 I'll clothe them with eternal shame.
 6 "In me, the Lord shall all the seed
 " Of th'e, from their sins be freed ;
 " And by their shining graces prove,
 " Their int'rest in my pard'ning love."

LXXV The same.

- THE Lord on high proclaims
 His Godhead, from his throne ;
 " Mercy and justice are the names
 " By which I will be known.
 2 " Ye dying souls, who sit
 " In darkness and distress,
 " Look, from the borders of the pit,
 " To my receiving grace."
 3 Sinners shall hear the sound :
 Their thankful tongues shall own,
 Our righteousness and strength are found
 In Thee, the Lord, alone.
 4 In Thee, shall th'e trust,
 And see their guilt forgiv'n :
 God will pronounce the sinners just
 And take the saints to heav'n.

LXXXVI. God Holy, Just, and Sovereign Job ix. 2.

- HOW should the sons of Adam's race
 Be pure before their God ?
 If he contend in righteousness,
 We fall beneath his rod.
 2 To vindicate my words and thoughts
 I'll make no more pretence ?
 2 Not one of all my thousand faults,
 Can bear a just defence.

- 3 Strong is His arm, his heart is wise ;
 What vain presumers dare
 Against their Maker's hand to raise.
 Or tempt th' unequal war ?
- [4 Mountains, by his Almighty wrath,
 From their own seats are torn ?
 He shakes the earth from south to north,
 And all her pillars mourn.
- 5 He bids the Sun forbear to rise,
 Th' obed'ent Sun forbears !
 His hand, with sackcloth spreads the skies,
 And seals up all the stars.
- 6 He walks upon the stormy sea—
 Flies on the stormy wind ;
 There's none can trace his wond'rous way,
 Or his dark footsteps find.]

LXXXVII. God dwells with the Humble and Penitent, Isa. lvii. 15, 16.

- THUS saith the High and Lofty One,
 I " I sit upon my holy throne ;
 " My name is GOD, I dwell on high—
 " Dwell in mine own eternity.
- 2 " But I descend to worlds below—
 " On earth ! I have a mansion too :
 " The humble spirit and contrite,
 " Is an abode of my delight.
- 3 " The humble soul, my words revive,
 " I bid the mourning sinner live ;
 " Heal all the broken hearts I find,
 " And ease the sorrows of the mind.
- [4 " When I contend against their sin,
 " I make them know—how vile they've been ;
 " But should my wrath forever smokes,
 " Their soul's would sink beneath My stroke."

5 O may thy pard'ning grace be nigh,
 Left we should faint, despair and die !
 Thus shall our better thoughts approve
 The methods of thy chast'ning love.]

LXXXVIII. Life the day of grace and hope, Eccl. i.
 ix. 4, 5, 6, 10.

LIFE is the time to serve the Lord,
 The time t'insure the great reward,
 And while the lamp holds out to burn,
 The vilest sinner may return.

2 [Life is the hour which God has giv'n
 To 'scape from hell to fly to heav'n ;
 The day of grace, when mortals may
 Secure the blessings of the day.]

3 The living know that they must die,
 But all the dead forgotten lie ;
 Their m'ny and their fence are gone,
 Alike unknowing and unknown.

4 Their hatred and their love are lost,
 Their envy bury'd in the dust ;
 They have no share in all that's done ;
 Beneath the circuit of the sun.]

5 Then what my thoughts design to do,
 My hands with all your might pursue,
 Since no device nor work is found
 Nor faith nor hope beneath the ground.

6 There are no acts of pardon past
 In the cold grave to which we haste ;
 But darkness, death, and long despair,
 Reign in eternal silence there.

LXXXIX. Youth and Judgment, Eccl. xi. 9.

YE sons of Adam, vain and young,
 Indulge your eyes indulge your tongue,
 Taste the delights your souls desire,
 And give a loose to all your fire.

2 Pursue the pleasures you design,
And cheer your hearts with songs and wine;
Enjoy the day of mirth—but know—
There is a day of judgment too!

3 God from on high beholds your thoughts;
His book records your secret faults;
The works of darkness you have done,
Must all appear before the sun.

4 The vengeance to your follies due,
Should strike your hearts with terror through:
How will you stand before His face,
Or answer for his injur'd grace?

5 Almighty God, turn off their eyes
From the alluring vanities!
And let the thunder of thy word
Awake their souls to fear the Lord.

XC. The same.

LO, the young tribes of Adam rise,
And through all nature rove:
Fulfil the wishes of their eyes,
And taste the joys they love.

2 They give a loose to wild desires;
But let the sinners know,
The strict account, which God requires,
Of all the works they do.

3 The Judge prepares his throne on high;
The frighted earth and seas
Avoid the fury of his eye,
And flee before his face.

4 How shall I bear that dreadful day,
And stand the fiery test:
I give all mortal joys away
To be forever blest.

XCI. Advice to Youth, Eccl. xii. 1, 7.

NOW in the heat of youthful blood,
Remember your creator, God :
Behold the months come haſt'ning on.
When you ſhall ſay—my joys are gone !

2 Behold the aged ſinner goes,
Laden with guilt and heavy woes,
Down to the regions of the dead,
With endless curſes on his head.

3 The duſt returns to duſt again ;
The ſoul in agonies of pain,
Aſcends to God ; not there to dwell,
But hears her doom, and ſinks to hell.

4 Eternal King ! I fear Thy Name :
Teach me to know—how frail I am—
And, when my ſoul muſt lance remove,
Give me a manſion in thy love.

XCH. Chriſt, Wiſdom of God, Pro. viii. 1, 22, 30.

SHALL Wiſdom cry aloud,
And not her ſpeech be heard ?
The voice of God's ETERNAL WORD,
Deſerves it no regard ?

2 " I was his chief delight,
" His Everlaſting Son,
" Before the firſt of all his works,
" Creation was begun.

[3 " Before the flying clouds,
" Before the ſolid land,
" Before the fields, before the floods,
" I dwelt at his right hand.

4 " When He adorn'd the ſkies,
" And built them—I was there,
" To order when the ſun ſhould riſe,
" And marshal ev'ry ſtar.

- 5 " When He pour'd out the sea,
 " And spread the flowing deep,
 " I gave the flood a firm decree,
 " In its own bounds to keep—
- 6 " Upon the empty air,
 " The earth was balanc'd well ;
 " With joy I saw the mansion, where
 " The sons of men should dwell.
- 7 " My busy thoughts at first
 " On their salvation ran,
 " E'er sin was born, or Adam's dust
 " Was fashion'd to a man.
- 8 " Then come, receive my grace,
 " Ye children, and be wise ;
 " Happy the man who keeps my ways ;
 " The man who shuns them, dies."

XCIII. Wisdom obeyed or Resisted, Pro. viii. 34, 36.

- THUS saith the wisdom of the Lord—
 " Bless'd is the man who hears my word,
 " Keeps daily watch before my gates,
 " And, at my feet, for mercy waits.
- 2 " The soul that seeks me, shall obtain
 " Immortal wealth and heav'nly gain ;
 " Immortal life is his reward—
 " Life—and the favour of the Lord.
- 3 " But the vile wretch who flies from me,
 " Doth his own soul an injury ;
 " Fools, who against my grace rebel,
 " Seek death—and love the road to hell."

XCIV. Justification by Faith ; not by Works—
Rom. iii. 19—22.

- VAIN are the hopes, the sons of men
 On their own works have built ;
 Their hearts, by nature, all unclean,
 And all their actions guilt.

2 Let Jews and Gentiles stop their mouths,
Without a murmur'ing word,
And the whole race of Adam stand
Guilty, before the Lord.

3 In vain we ask God's righteous law
To justify us now;
Since—to convince, and to condemn—
Is all the law can do.

4 Jesus how glor'ous is thy grace,
When in Thy Name we trust;
Our faith receives a righteousness
Which makes the sinner just.

XCV. Regeneration, John i. 13, and iii. 3, &c.

NOT all the outward forms on earth,
Nor rites, which God has given,
Nor will of man, nor blood, nor birth,
Can raise a soul to heav'n.

2 The Sov'reign Will of God, alone,
Creates us heirs of grace;
Born in the image of his Son,
A new peculiar race.

3 The Spirit, like some heav'n'y wind,
Blows on the sons of flesh;
New models all the carnal mind,
And forms the man afresh.

4 Our quicken'd souls awake—and rise
From the long sleep of death,
On heav'nly things we fix our eyes
And praise employs our breath.

XCVI. Election excludes Boasting, 1 Cor. i 26, 27

BUT few among the carnal wise,
But few of noble race
Obtain the favor of thine eyes,
Almighty King of Grace.

- 2 He takes the men of meanest name,
For loss and heirs of God ;
And thus, he pours abundant shame
On honourable blood.
- 3 He calls the fool, and makes him know
The myst'ries of his grace,
To bring aspiring wisdom low,
And all its pride abase.
- 4 Nature has all its glory lost,
When brought before his throne ;
No flesh shall in his presence boast,
But in the Lord alone.

XCVII. Christ our righteousness, 1 Cor. i 32.

BURY'D in shadows of the night
We lie, 'till Christ restores the light ;
Wisdom descends to heal the blind,
And chase the darkness of the mind.

2 Our guilty souls are drown'd in tears,
'Till his atoning blood appears ;
Then we awake from deep distress,
And sing—the Lord our righteousness !

4 Our very frame is mix'd with sin ;
His Spirit makes our natures clean ;
Such virtues from his suff'rings flow,
At once to cleanse and pardon too.

4 Jesus beholds where satan reigns,
Binding his slaves in heavy chains :
He sets the pris'ners free, and breaks
The iron bondage from our necks.

5 Poor helpless worms in Thee possess
Grace, wisdom, pow'r and righteousness ;
Thou art our mighty ALL—and we
Give our whole selves, O Lord to Thee.

XCVIII. The same.

HOW heavy is the night
Which hangs upon our eyes,
Till Christ, with his reviving sight,
Over our souls arise!

2 Our guilty spirits dread
To meet the wrath of heav'n;
Till in his righteousness array'd.
We see our sins forgiv'n.

3 Unholy and impure
Are all our thoughts and ways—
His hands infected nature cure
With sanctifying grace.

4 The pow'rs of hell agree
To hold our souls, in vain;
He sets the sons of bondage free,
And breaks the curst chain.

5 Lord we adore thy ways
To bring us near to God—
Thy sov'reign pow'r, thy healing grace,
And thine atoning blood!

XCIX. Stones made children of Abraham, Mat. iii. 9.

VAIN are the hopes which rebels place
Upon their birth and blood,
Descended from a pious race—
(Their father's now with God.)

2 He, from the caves of earth and hell
Can take the hardest stones,
And fill the house of Abra'm well
With new created sons.

3 Such wond'rous pow'r he doth possess,
Who form'd our mortal frame,
Who call'd the world from emptiness—
The world obey'd, and came.

C. Believe and be Saved, John, iii. 16, 17, 18.

NOT to condemn the sons of men,
Did Christ, the Son of God appear;
No weapons in his hands are seen,
No flaming sword, nor thunder there.

2 Such was the pity of our God—
He lov'd the race of man so well,
He sent his son to bear our load
Of sins, and save our souls from hell.

3 Sinners, believe the Saviours word.
Trust in His Mighty Name, and live ;
A thousand joys his lips afford,
His hands a thousand blessings give.

4 But, vengeance and damnation lies
On rebels who refuse his grace :
Who God's Eternal Son despise,
The hottest hell shall be their place.

CI. Joy in Heaven for a repenting Sinner, Lu. xv.

WHO can describe the joys, which rise
Through all the courts of Paradise,
To see a prodigal return,
To see an heir of glory born ?

2 With joy, the Father doth approve
The Fruit of his Eternal Love ;
The Son, with joy, looks down and sees
The purchase of his agonies.

3 The Spirit takes delight to view
The holy soul he form'd anew ;
And saints and angels join, to sing
The growing empire of their King.

CII. The Beatitudes, Matt. v. 2———12.

BLEST are the humble souls, who see
Their emptiness and poverty ;
Treasures of grace to them are giv'n,
And crowns of joy laid up in heav'n,)

2 Blest are the men of broken heart,
Who mourn for sin, with inward smart !
The blood of Christ divinely flows
A healing balm for all their woes,

3 Blest are the meek, who stand afar
From rage and passion, noise and war ;
God will secure their happy state,
And plead their cause against the great.

4 Blest are the souls who thirst for grace ;
Hunger and long for righteousness ;
They shall be well supply'd and fed
With living streams, and living bread.

5 Blest are the men whose bowels move,
And melt with sympathy and love ;
From Christ the Lord, they shall obtain
Like sympathy and love again.

6 Blest are the pure, whose hearts are clean
From the defiling pow'r of sin ;
With endless pleasure they shall see
A God of spotless purity.

7 Blest are the men of peaceful life,
Who quench the coals of growing strife ;
They shall be call'd the heirs of bliss,
The sons of God—the God of peace.

8 Blest are the sufferers, who partake
Of pain and shame for Jesus' sake ;
Their souls shall triumph in the Lord ;
Glory and joy are their reward.]

CHII. Not ashamed of the Gospel, 2. Tim. 1, 12.

I'M not ashamed to own my Lord,
Or to defend his cause,
Maintain the honor of his word,
The glory of his cross.

2 Jesus, my God ! I know his name,
His name is all my trust ;
Nor will he put my soul to shame,
Nor let my hope be lost.

3 Firm as his Throne, his promise stands,
And he can well secure
What I've committed to his hands,
'Till the decisive hour.

4 Then will he own my worthless name
Before his Father's face ;
And, in the new Jerusalem,
Appoint my soul a place.

CIV. State of Nature & Grace, 1 Cor. vi. 10, 11.

NOT the malicious or profane,
The wanton, or the proud,
Nor thieves, nor stand'ers shall obtain
The kingdom of our God.

2 Surprising grace ! and such were we
By nature, and by sin ;
Heirs of immortal misery,
Unholy and unclean.

3 But we are wash'd in Jesus' blood,
We're pardon'd through his name ;
And the good Spirit of God
Has sanctify'd our frame.

4 O, for a persevering pow'r
To keep thy just commands !
We would defile our hearts no more,
No more pollute our hands.

CV. *Heaven invisible and Holy, 1 Cor. ii. 9, 10.
Rev. xxi. 27.*

NOR eye hath seen nor ear hath heard,
Nor sense, nor reason known,
What joys the Father has prepar'd
For those who love the Son.

2 But the good Spirit of the Lord
Reveals a heaven to come ;

The beams of glory, in his word,
Assure and guide us home

3 Pure are the joys above the sky,
And all the regions peace;

No wanton lips, nor envious eye,
Can see or taste the bliss,

4 Those holy gates forever bar
Pollution, sin, and shame;

None shall obtain admittance there,
But followers of the Lamb.

5 He keeps the Father's book of life;
There all their names are found;

The hypocrite, in vain, shall strive,
To tread the heav'nly ground.

CVI. Dead to Sin by the Cro's of Christ, Ro. vi. 1.

SHALL we go on to sin, -
Because thy grace abounds,
Or crucify the Lord again,
And open all his wounds?

2 Forbid it, mighty God!
Nor let it e'er be said,
That we, whose sins are crucify'd,
Should raise them from the dead.

3 We will be slaves no more,
Since Christ has made us free,
Has nail'd our tyrants to the cross,
And bought our liberty.

*CVIII. The fall and recovery of man, Or, Christ and Satan at Enmity, Gen. iii. 1, 15, 17. Gal.
iv. 4. Col. ii. 15.*

DECEIV'D by subtle snares of hell,
Adam, our head, our father fell;
When satan, in the serpent hid,
Propos'd the fruit which God forbid.

2 Death was the threat'ning : Death began
To take possession of the man ;
His unborn race receiv'd the wound,
And heavy curses smote the ground.

3 But Satan found a worse reward :
Thus saith the vengeance of the Lord—
“ Let everlasting hatred be,
“ Betwixt the woman's seed and thee.

“ 4 The woman's seed shall be My Son ;
“ He shall destroy what thou hast done—
“ Shall break thy head—and only feel
“ Thy malice raging at his heel.”

[5 He spake—and bid four thousand years
Roll on—at length his Son appears :
Angels, with joy, descend to earth,
And sing the young Redeemer's birth.

6 Lo, by the fons of hell he dies !
But, as he hung 'twixt earth and skies,
He gave their prince a fatal blow,
And triumph'd o'er the pow'rs below.]

CVIII. Christ Unseen and Beloved, 1 Pet. i. 8.

NOT with our mortal eyes
Have we beheld the Lord ;
Yet, we rejoice to hear his name,
And love him in his word.

2 On earth we want the sight
Of our Redeemer's face ;
Yet, Lord, our inmost thoughts delight
To dwell upon thy grace.

3 And when we taste thy love,
Our joys divinely grow
Unspeakable, like those above,
And heav'n begins below.

CIX. The value of Christ, and his Righteousness,
Phil. iii. 7, 8, 9.

NO more, my God, I boast no more
Of all the duties I have done :
I quit the hopes I held before,
To trust the merits of thy Son.

2 Now for the love I bear his Name,
What was my gain I count my loss ;
My former pride I call my shame,
And nail my glory to his cross.

3 Yes, and I must and will esteem
All things but loss, for Jesus' sake ;
O, may my soul be found in Him.
And of his righteousness partake !

4 The best obedience of my hands
Dares not appear before Thy Throne ;
But faith can answer Thy demands,
By pleading what my Lord has done.

CX. Death and immediate Glory. 2 Cor. v. 1, 5, 8.

THERE is a house not made with hands,
Eternal and on high ;
And here my spirit waiting stands,
'Till God shall bid it fly.

2 Shortly this prison of my clay
Must be dissolved and fall ;
Then, O my soul, with joy obey
Thy heav'nly Father's call.

3 'Tis he by his Almighty grace,
Who forms thee fit for heav'n ;
And, as an earnest of the place,
Has his own Spirit giv'n.

4 We walk by faith of joys to come—
Faith lives upon his word ;
But while the body is our home,
We're absent from the Lord.

5 'Tis pleasant to believe thy grace,
 But we would rather see ;
 We would be absent from the flesh.
 And present, Lord, with thee.

CXI. Salvation by Grace, Titus iii. 3—7.

LORD, we confess our num'rous faults—
 How great our guilt has been !
 Foolish and vain were all our thoughts,
 And all our lives were sin.

2 But, O my soul, forever praise,
 Forever love his name,
 Who turns thy feet from dang'rous ways
 Of folly, sin and shame.

[3 'Tis not by works of righteousness
 Which our own hands have done ;
 But we are sav'd by sov'reign grace,
 Abounding through His Son.]

4 'Tis from the mercy of our God
 That all our hopes begin ;

'Tis by the water and the blood
 Our souls are wash'd from sin.

5 'Tis through the purchase of his death
 Who hung upon the tree,
 The Spirit is sent down to breathe
 On such dry bones as we.

9 Rais'd from the dead we live anew ;
 And justify'd by grace,
 We shall appear in glory too,
 And see our Father's face.

CXII. Looking to Jesus, John iii. 14, 16.

SO did the Hebrew prophet raise
 The brazen Serpent high ;
 The wounded felt immediate ease,
 The camp forebore to die.

2 *Look upward, in the dying hour,
And live—the prophet cries ;*

But, Christ performs a nobler cure,
When faith lifts up her eyes.

3 High on the cross the Saviour hung ;
High o'er the heav'ns he reigns ;
Here sinners, by th' old serpent stung,
Look, and forget their pains.

4 When God's own Son is lifted up,
A dying world revives ;
The Jew behold's the glorious hope,
Th' expiring Gentile lives.

CXIII. Abraham's Blessing on the Gentiles.
Gen. xvii. 7. Rom. xv. 8. Mark x. 14.

HOW large the promise ! how divine !
To Abra'm, and his seed ;
"—I'll be a God to thee and thine,
"Supplying all their need."

2 The words of this extensive love
From age to age endure ;
The angel of the cov'nant proves,
And seals the blessing sure.

3 Jesus, the ancient faith confirms.
To our great fathers giv'n ;
He takes young children to his arms,
And calls them—heirs of heav'n.

4 Our God, how faithful are his ways !
His love endures the same ;
Nor from the promise of his grace
Blots out the children's name.

CXIV. The same, Romans, xi. 16, 17.

GENTILES by nature, we belong
To the wild olive wood ;
Grace takes us from the barren tree,
And grafts us in the good.

2 With the same blessings, grace endows
The Gentile and the Jew;

If pure and holy be the root,
Such are the branches too.

3 Then let the children of the saints
Be dedicate to God;

Pour out thy Spirit on them, Lord,
And wash them in thy blood.

4 Thus to the parents and their seed,
Shall thy salvation come,

And num'rous households meet at last
In one eternal home.

CXV. Conviction of Sin, by the Law, Ro. vii. 8, &c.

LORD, how secure my conscience was,
And felt no inward dead;

I was alive, without the law,
And thought my sins were dead.

2 My hopes of heav'n were firm and bright,
But since the precept came,

With a convincing pow'r and light,
I find how vile I am.

[3 My guilt appear'd but small before,
'Till, terribly, I saw

How perfect holy, just and pure,
Was thine Eternal Law.

4 Then felt my soul the heavy load;
My sins reviv'd again;

I had provok'd a dreadful God,
And all my hopes were slain.]

5 I'm like a helpless captive, sold,
Under the pow'r of sin;

I cannot do the good I would,
Nor keep my conscience clean.

6 My God, I'll cry with ev'ry breath,
For some kind pow'r to save,

To break the yoke of sin and death,
And thus redeem the slave.

CXVI. Love to God and our neighbour, Mat. xxii.

37—40.

THUS saith the first and great command,
“ Let all thy inward pow’rs unite
“ To love thy Maker, and thy God,
“ With utmost vigor and delight.

2 “ Then shall thy neighbour, next in place,
“ Share thine affections and esteem,
“ And let thy kindness to thyself
“ Measure and rule thy love to him.”

3 This is the sense which Moses spoke,
This did the prophets teach and prove :—
For want of this, the law is broke,
And the whole law’s fulfil’d by love.

4 But Oh ! how base our passions are !
How cold our charity and zeal ;
Lord, fill our souls with heav’nly fire,
Or we shall ne’er perform thy will.

CXVII. Election, sovereign and free, Ro. ix. 21.

BEHOLD the potter and the clay !
He forms his vessels as he please ;
Such is our God, and such are we,
The subjects of his high decrees.

2 Doth not the workman’s pow’r extend
O’er all the mass, which part to choose,
And mould it for a nobler end,
And which to leave for viler use ?

3 May not the sov’ reign Lord on high
Dispense his favors as he will,
Choose some to life, while others die,
And yet be just and gracious still ?

[4 What if, to make his terror known,
He lets his patience long endure,

Suff'ring vile rebels to go on,
And seal their own destruction sure ?

5 What if he means to shew his grace,
And his electing love employs
To mark out some of mortal race,
And form them fit for heav'nly joys ?

6 Shall man reply against the Lord,
And call his Maker's ways unjust,
'The thunder of whose dreadful word
Can crush a thousand worlds to dust ?

7 But, O my soul, if truth so bright
Should dazzle and confound thy sight,
Yet still his written will obey,
And wait the great decisive day.

8 Then shall he make his justice known,
And the whole world, before his throne,
With joy or terror, shall confess
The glory of his righteousness.

CXVIII. Moses & Christ ; or, Sins against the Law and Gospel. John, i. 17. Heb. iii. 3, 5, 6.
x. 28.

THE law by Moses came,
But peace, and truth and love.
Were brought by Christ (a nobler name)
Descending from above.

2 Amidst the house of God
Their diff'rent works were done !
Moses a faithful servant stood,
But Christ—a faithful Son.—

3 Then to his new commands
Be strict obed'ence paid :
O'er all his Father's houte he stands
The Sov'reign and the Head.

4 The man who durst despise
The law which Moses brought,

Behold ! how terribly he dies
For his presumpt'ous fault ;

5 But forer vengeance falls
On that rebellious race,
Who hate to hear when Jesus calls
And dare resist his grace.

CXIX. The different success of the Gospel, 1 Cor. i. 23, 24—2 Cor. ii. 15—1 Cor. iii. 6. 7.

CHRIST and his cross are all our theme ;
The myst'ries that we speak,
Are scandal in the Jews' esteem,
And folly to the Greek :

2 But souls enlight'ned from above,
With joy receive the word !
They see what wisdom, pow'r and love,
Shine in their dying Lord .

3 The vital savor of his name
Restores their fainting breath ;
But unbelief perverts the same
To guilt, despair and death.

4 'Till God diffuse his graces down,
Like show'rs of heav'nly rain,
In vain Apollos sows the ground.
And Paul may plant in vain.

CXX. Faith of things unseen, Heb. xi. 1, 3, &c.

FAITH is the brightest evidence
Of things beyond our sight,
Breaks through the clouds of flesh and sense,
And dwells in heav'nly light.

3 It sets time past in present view,
Brings distant prospects home,
Of things a thousand years ago,
Or thousand years to come.

3 By faith we know the worlds were made
By God's Almighty Word ;

Abra'm, to unknown countries led,
By faith obey'd the Lord.

4 He fought a city fair, and high,
Built by th' Eternal Hands;
And faith assures us, though we die,
That heav'nly building stands.

CXXI. *Children devoted to God, Gen. xvii. 7, 10.
Acts, xvi. 14, 15, 33.*

(For those who practice Infant Baptism.)

THUS saith the mercy of the Lord,
"I'll be a God to thee;
"I'll bless thy num'rous race—and they
"Shall be a seed for me."

2 Abra'm believ'd the promis'd grace,
And gave his sons to God;
But water seals the blessing now,
Which once was seal'd with blood.

3 Thus Lydia sanctify'd her house,
When she receiv'd the word;
Thus the believing jailor gave
His household to the Lord.

4 Thus later saints, Eternal King,
Thine ancient truth embrace;
'To Thee, their infant offspring' bring
And humbly claim thy grace.

CXXII. *Believers buried with Christ in Baptism:
Rom. vi. 3, 4. &c.*

DO we not know that solemn word—
That we are buri'd with the Lord;
Baptis'd into his death and then
Put off the body of our sin?

2 Our souls receive diviner breath,
Rais'd from corruption guilt and death:

H h

So from the grave did Christ arise,
And lives to God; above the skies.

3. No more let sin or Satan reign
Over our mortal flesh again;
The var'ous lusts we serv'd before
Shall have dominion now no more.

CXXIII. The Repenting Prodigal, Lu. xv. 13.

BEHOLD the wretch, whose lust and wine
Had wasted his estate;
He begs a share among the swine,
To taste the husks they eat.

2 "I die with hunger, here (he cries)
"I starve in foreign lands;
"My Father's house has large supplies,
"And bount'ous are his hands.

3 "I'll go, and with a mournful tongue,
"Fall down before his face;
"Father, I've done thy justice wrong,
"Nor can deserve thy grace."

4 He said—and hast'ned to his home,
To seek his Father's love;
The Father saw the rebel come—
And all his bowels move.

5 He ran—and fell upon his neck,
Embrac'd and kiss'd his son;
The rebel's heart with sorrow brake
For follies he had done.

6 "Take off his clothes of shame and sin,
(The Father gives command)
"Dress him in garments white and clean,
"With rings adorn his hand.

7 "A day of feasting I ordain;
"Let mirth and joy abound;
"My son was dead and lives again,
"Was lost, and now is found."

CXXIV. The first and the Second Adam, Ro. v. 12.

DEEP in the dust, before thy throne,
Our guilt and our disgrace we own;
Great God, we own th' unhappy name
Whence sprang our nature and our shame.

2 Adam, the sinner—At his fall,
Death, like a conqueror, seiz'd us all;
A thousand new-born babes are dead
By fatal union to their head.

3 But while our spirits fill'd with awe,
Behold the terrors of thy law,
We sing the honors of thy grace,
That sent to save our ruin'd race.

4 We sing thine everlasting Son,
Who join'd our nature to his own;
ADAM THE SECOND, from the dust
Raises the ruins of the first.

[5 By the rebellion of one man,
Through all his seed the mischief ran;
And by one man's obed'ence now
Are all his seed made righteous too.]

6 Where sin did reign and death abound.
There have the sons of Adam found
Abounding life—thus glorious grace
Reigns through the Lord, our righteouness.

CXXV. Christ's Compassion to the Weak and Tempted. Heb. iv. 15, 16, and v. 9. Mat. xii. 20.

WITH joy, we meditate the grace
Of our High-Priest, above;
His heart is made of tenderness,
His bowels melt with love.

2 Touch'd with a sympathy within,
He knows our feeble frame—

He knows what fore temptations mean,
For he has felt the same.

3 But spotless, innocent, and pure,
The great Redeemer stood :

While satan's fiery darts he bore,
And did resist to blood.

4 He, in the days of feeble flesh,
Pour'd out his cries and tears ;

And, in his measure, feels afresh
What ev'ry member bears.

[5 He'll never quench the smoking flax,
But raise it to a flame,

The bruised reed he never breaks,
Nor scorns the meanest name.]

6 Then let our humble faith address
His mercy and his pow'r ;

We shall obtain deliv'ring grace
In the distressing hour.

CXXVI. Charity and Uncharitableness, Rom. xiv.

17, 19. I Cor. x. 32.

NOT diff'rent food, nor diff'rent dress
Compose the kingdom of our Lord—
But peace and joy and righteousness,
Faith, and obed'ence to his word.

2 When weaker christians we despise,

We do the gospel mighty wrong ;

For God, the gracious and the wise,

Receives the feeble with the strong.

3 Let pride and wrath be banish'd hence ;

Meekness and love our souls pursue ;

Nor shall our practice give offence

To saints, the Gentile or the Jew.

CXXVII. Christ's invitation to sinners, Mat, xi.

“ COME hither, all ye weary souls,
“ Ye heavy-laden sinners, come ;

- 1 " I'll give you rest from all your toils,
 " And raise you to my heav'nly home,
 2 " They shall find rest who learn of me;
 3 " I'm of a meek and lowly mind;
 " But passion rages like the sea,
 " And pride is restless as the wind.
 3 " Blest is the man whose shoulders take
 " My yoke, and bear it with delight:
 " My yoke is easy to his neck:
 " My grace shall make the burden light.
 4 Jesus, we come at thy command;
 With faith, and hope, and humble zeal,
 Re-sign our spirits to thy Hand,
 To mould and guide us at thy will.

CXXVIII. The Apostles, Commission, Mark xvi. 15, &c. Mat. xxviii. 18, &c.

- " GO preach my gospel, saith the Lord;
 " Bid the whole earth my grace receive;
 " He shall be sav'd who trusts my word;
 " He shall be damn'd who won't believe.
 [2 " I'll make your great commission known,
 " And you shall prove my gospel true,
 " By all the works which I have done,
 " By all the wonders ye shall do.
 3 " Go heal the sick, go raise the dead,
 " Go, cast out devils in my name;
 " Nor let my prophets be afraid,
 " Though Greeks reproach and Jews blaspheme.
 4 " Teach all the nations my commands—
 " I'm with you 'till the world shall end;
 " All pow'r is trusted in my hands,
 " I can destroy and I defend."
 5 He spake—and light shone round his head;
 On a bright cloud to heav'n he rode
 H h e

They to the farthest nations spread
The grace of their ascended God.

CXXIX. Submission and Deliverance, Gen. xxii. 6.

SAINTS, at your heav'nly Father's word,
Give up your comforts to the Lord ;
He shall restore what you resign,
Or grant you blessings more divine.

2 So Abra'm, with obed'ent hand,
Led forth his son, at God's command ;
The wood, the fire, the knife he took,
His arm prepar'd the dreadful stroke.

3 " Abra'm, forbear, the angel cry'd,
" Thy faith is known, thy love is try'd ;
" Thy son shall live—and in thy seed
" Shall the whole earth be bless'd indeed."

4 just in the last distressing hour
The Lord displays deliv'ring pow'r :
The mount of danger is the place,
Where we shall see surprizing grace.

CXXX. Love and Hatred. Phi. ii. 2. Ep. iv. 30.

NOW by the bowels of my God,
His sharp distress his sore complaints ;
By his last groans, his dying blood,
I charge my soul to love the saints.

2 Clamor, and wrath, and war, be gone—
Envy and spite forever cease ;
Let bitter words no more be known
Among the saints, the sons of peace.

3 The Spirit, like a peaceful dove,
Flies from the realms of noise and strife ;
Why should we vex and grieve his love,
Who seals our souls to heav'ny life ?

4 Tender and kind be all our thoughts—
Through all our lives, let mercy run :

So God forgives our num'rous faults
For the dear sake of Christ, his Son.

CXXXI Pharisee and Publican, Lu. xviii. 10.

BEHOLD how sinners disagree—
The Publican and Pharisee!
One doth his righteousness proclaim;
The other owns his guilt and shame.

2 This man at humble distance stands,
And cries for grace, with lifted hands;
That boldly rises near the throne,
And talks of duties he has done.

3 The Lord their diff'rent language knows,
And diff'rent answers he bestows:
The humble soul with grace he crowns,
While on the proud his anger frowns.

4 Dear Father, let me never be
Join'd with the boasting Pharisee;
I have no merits of my own,
But plead the suff'rings of thy Son.

CXXXII. Holiness and Grace. Tit. ii. 10—13.

SO let our lips and lives express,
The holy Gospel we profess;
So let our works and virtues shine
To prove the doctrine ALL DIVINE.

2 Thus shall we best proclaim abroad
The honors of our Saviour-God;
When the Sa-*va*tion reigns within
And grace subdues the pow'r of sin.

3 our flesh and sense must be deny'd,
Passion and envy lust and pride;
While justice temp'rance, truth, and love,
Our inward piety approve.

4 Religion bears our spirits up,
While we expect that blessed hope,

The bright appearance of the Lord,
And faith stands leaning on his word.

CXXXIII. Love and Charity, 1 Cor. xiii. 2—7.

LET Pharisees of high esteem,
Their faith and zeal declare ;
All their religion is a dream,
If love be wanting there.

2 Love suffers long, with patient eye,
Nor is provok'd in haste ;
She lets the present inj'ry die,
And long forgets the past.

3 Malice and rage, those fires of hell,
She quenches with her tongue ;
Hopes, and believes, and thinks no ill,
Though she endures the wrong.

4 She nor desires, nor seeks to know
The scandals of the time ;
Nor looks with pride on those below,
Nor envies those who climb.

5 She lays her own advantage by
To seek her neighbor's good ;
So God's own Son came down to die,
And bought our lives with blood.]

6 Love is the grace which keeps her pow'r,
In realms of light above ;
Their faith and hope are known no more,
But saints forever love.

CXXXIV. Religion vain without Love, 1 Cor.
xiii. 1, 2, 3.

HAD I the tongues of Greeks and Jews,
And nobler speech than angels use,
If love be absent, I am found
Liketinkling brass, an empty sound.

2 Were I inspir'd to preach and tell
All that is done in heav'n and hell,

Or, could my fate the world remove,
Still I am nothing, without love.

3 Should I distribute all my store
To feed the bowels of the poor,
Or give my body to the flame:
To gain a martyr's glorious name—

4 If love to God, and love to men
Be absent—all my hopes are vain:
Nor tongues, nor gifts, nor fiery zeal,
The work of love can e'er fulfil.

CXXXV. The love of Christ shed abroad in the Heart, Eph. vi. 16, &c.

COME dear Lord, descend and dwell
By faith and love in ev'ry breast;
Then shall we know, and taste and feel
The joys which cannot be express'd.

2 Come, fill our hearts with inward strength,
Make our enlarged souls possess
And learn the height, and breadth, and length,
Of this unmeasurable grace.

3 Now to the God, whose pow'r can do
More than our thoughts or wishes know,
Be everlasting honors done
By all the church, through Christ his Son.

CXXXVI. Sincerity and Hypocrisy; or Formality in worship: Job. iv. 23. Ps. cxxix. 23.

GOD is a Spirit, just and wise;
He sees our inmost mind;
In vain to heav'n we raise our cries,
And leave our souls behind.

2 Nothing but truth, before his throne,
With honor can appear;
The painted hypocrites are known,
Through the disguise they wear.

- 3 Their lifted eyes salute the skies,
 Their bending knees, the ground ;
 But God abhors the sacrifice
 Where not the heart is found.
- 4 Lord, search my thoughts, and try my ways
 And make my soul sincere ;
 Then shall I stand before thy face,
 And find acceptance there.

CXXXVII. Salvation by Grace, 2 Tim. i. 9, 10.

NOW to the pow'r of God Supreme,
 Be everlasting honors giv'n ;
 He saves from hell—(we bless his name)
 He calls our wand'ring feet to heav'n.

2 Not for our duties or deserts,
 But of his own abounding grace,
 He works salvation in our hearts,
 And forms a people for His praise.

3 'Twas his mere pleasure which begun
 To rescue rebels doom'd to die :
 He gave us grace in Christ his Son,
 Before he spread the starry sky.

4 Jesus the Lord, appears at last,
 And makes his Father's counsels known
 Declares the great transactions past,
 And brings immortal blessings down.

5 He dies—and in that dreadful night,
 Did all the pow'rs of hell destroy ;
 Rising he brought our heav'n to light,
 And took possession of the joy.

CXXXVIII. Saints in the Hands of Christ, John.

x, 28, 29.

FIRM as the earth Thy gospe' stands,
 My Lord, my hope my trust ;
 If I am found in Jesus, hands
 My soul can ne'er be lost,

- 2 His honor is engag'd to save
The meanest of his sheep ;
All which his heav'nly Father gave
His hands securely keep.
- 3 Nor, death nor hell shall e'er remove
His fav'rites from his breast ;
In the dear bosom of his love
They must forever rest.

CXXXIX. Hope in the Covenant, Heb. vi 17, 19,

HOW oft have sin and satan strove
To rend my soul from Thee, my God !
But everlasting is thy love,
And Jesus seals it with his blood.

2 The oath and promise of the Lord
Join to confirm the wond'rous grace ;
Eternal Pow'r performs the word,
And fills all heav'n with endless praise.

3 Amidst temptation sharp and long,
My soul to this dear Refuge flies ;
Hope is my anchor firm and strong,
While tempests blow, and billows rise.

4 The gospel bears my spirit up ;
A faithful and unchanging God
Lays the foundation of my hope,
In oaths, and promises, and blood.

CXL. A living and a Dead Faith, collected from several Scriptures.

MISTAKEN souls ! who dream of heav'n,
And make their empty boast
Of inward joys, and sins forgiv'n,
While they are slaves to lust.

2 Vain are our fancies, airy flights,
If faith be cold and dead ;

None but a living pow'r unites
To Christ the living Head.

3 'Tis faith that changes all the heart,
'Tis faith which works by love ;
That bids all sinful joys depart,
And lifts the thoughts above.

4 'Tis faith which conquers earth and hell,
By a celestial pow'r :
This is the grace which shall prevail
In the decisive hour.

5 Faith must obey her Father's will,
As well as trust his grace ;
A pard'ning God is jealous still
For his own holiness.

6 When from the curse he sets us free,
He makes our natures clean :
Nor would he send his Son to be
The minister of sin.

7 His spirit purifies our frame,
And seals our peace with God ;
Jesus, and his salvation, came
By water and by blood.

CXLI. The Humiliation and Exaltation of Christ,
Isa. liii. 1---5, 10---12.

WHO has believ'd thy word,
Or thy Salvation known ?
Reveal thine arm Almighty Lord,
And glorify thy Son !

2 The Jews esteem'd him here
Too mean for their belief :
Sorrows his chief acquaintance were,
And his companion, grief.

3 They turn'd their eyes a way,
And treated him with scorn ;
But 'twas their griefs upon him lay,
Their sorrows he has borne.

- 4 'Twas for the stubborn Jews,
And Gentiles, then unknown.
The God of Justice pleas'd to bring
His best-beloved Son.
- 5 " But I'll prolong his days,
" And make his kingdom stand ;
" My pleasure, (saith the God of grace)
" Shall prosper in his hand.
- [6 " His joyful soul shall see
" The purchase of his pain ;
" And by his knowledge justify
" The guilty sons of men.
- 7 " Ten thousand captive slaves
" Releas'd from death and sin,
" Shall quit their prisons and their graves,
" And own His pow'r divine.
- 8 " Heav'n shall advance My Son
" To joys which earth deny'd ;
" He saw the follies men had done,
" And bore their sins, and dy'd."

CXLII. The same, Isa. liii. 6—9, 12.

- LIKE sheep we went astray,
And broke the fold of God ;
Each wand'ring in a different way,
But all—the downward road.
- 2 How dreadful was the hour,
When God our wand'rings laid—
And did at once his vengeance pour
Upon the Shepherd's head !
- 3 How glorious was the grace,
When Christ sustain'd the stroke
His life and blood the Shepherd pays
A ransom for the flock.
- 4 His honor and his breath
Were taken both away ;

Join'd with the wicked, in his death,
And made as vile as they.

5 But, God shall raise his head
O'er all the sons of men,

And make him see a num'rous seed
To recompense his pain.

6 " I'll give him, (saith the Lord)

" A portion with the strong ;

" He shall possess a large reward.

" And hold his honors long."

CXLIII. Characters of the Children of God.

AS new-born babes desire the breast,
To feed, and grow, and thrive ;
So saints, with joy, the gospel taste,
And by the gospel live.

[2 With inward gust their heart approves
All which the word relates ;
They love the men their Father loves,
And hate the works he hates.]

[3 Not all the flatt'ring baits on earth,
Can make them slaves to lust ;
They can't forget their heav'nly birth,
Nor grove in the dust.

4 Not all the chains which tyrants use,
Can bind their souls to vice
Faith, like a conqu'ror, can produce
A thousand victories.]

[5 Grace, like an uncorrupted seed,
Abides, and reigns within ;
Immortal principles forbid
The sons of God to sin.]

6 Not by the terrors of a slave
Do they perform his will ;
But with the noblest powers they have,
His sweet commands fulfil.]

- 7 They find access at ev'ry hour
To God, within the veil;
Hence they derive a quick'ning pow'r,
And joys, which never fail.
- 8 O happy souls! O glorious state
Of overflowing grace!
To dwell to hear their Father's seat,
And see his lovely face!
- 9 Lord, I address thy heav'nly throne—
Call me a child of Thine;
Send down the spirit of thy Son
To form my heart divine.
- 10 There shed thy choicest love abroad
And make my comforts strong;
Then shalt I say—My Father God,
With an unwar'ring tongue.

CXLIV. The Witnessing and sealing Spirit, Rom.
viii. 14, 16. Eph. i. 13, 14.

- WHY should the children of a king
Go mourning all their days?
Great Comforter, descend, and bring
Some tokens of thy grace!
- 1 Dost thou not dwell in all thy saints,
And seal the heirs of Heav'n?
When wilt thou banish my complaints,
And shew my sins forgiv'n?
- 2 Assure my conscience of her part
In the Redeemer's blood;
And bear thy witness with my heart
That I am born of God.
- 3 Thou art the earnest of his love,
The pledge of joys to come;
And thy soft wings, Celestial Dove!
Will safe convey me home.

CXLV. Christ and Aaron, taken from Heb. vii. 9

JESUS, in Thee, our eyes behold
 A thousand glories more
 Than the rich gems and polish'd gold
 The Sons of Aaron wore.

2 They first their own burnt-off'rings brought
 To purge themselves from sin;
*Thy life was pure without a spot,
 And all thy nature clean.*

3 Fresh blood, as constant as the day,
 Was on their altar spilt;
*But thy one off'ring takes away
 Forever, all our guilt.*

4 Their priesthood ran through sev'ral hands,
 For mortal was their race?
*Thy never-changing office stands
 Eternal as thy days.*

5 Once in the circuit of a year,
 With blood, but not his own,
 Aaron within the veil appear'd
 Before the golden throne.

6 *But Christ by his own pow'rful blood,
 Ascends above the skies:
 And, in the presence of our God,
 Shows his own sacrifice.*

7 Jesus, the King of glory, reigns
 On Zion's heav'nly hill;
 Looks like a Lamb that has been slain,
 And wears his priesthood still.

8 He ever lives to intercede
 Before his Father's face,
 Give him, my soul, thy cause to plead,
 Nor doubt thy Father's grace.

CXLVI. Characters of Christ.

GO, worship at Immanuel's feet,
 See, in his face what wonders meet;

Earth is too narrow to express
His worth, his glory, or his grace.

1 The whole creation can afford
But some faint shadows of my Lord ;
Nature to make his beauties known,
Must mingle colour, not her own.

2 Is he compar'd to Wine or Bread ?
Dear Lord our souls would thus be fed :
That flesh, that dying blood of thine
Is bread of life—is heav'nly wine

3 Is He a Tree ? The world receives
Salvation from his healing leaves :
The righteous branch, that fruitful bough
Is David's root and offspring too.

4 Is He a Rose ? Not Sharon yields
Such fragrancy in all her fields :
Or, if the Lily he assume,
The vallies bless the rich perfume.

5 Is He a Vine ? His heav'n'y root
Supplies the boughs with life and fruit :
O, let a lasting union join
My soul to Christ, the living Vine !

6 Is He the Head ? Each member lives,
And owns the vital pow'rs he gives ;
The faints below and faints above,
Join'd by his Spirit and his love.

7 Is He a fountain ? There I'll bathe,
And heal the plague of sin and death :
These waters all my soul renew,
And cleanse my spotted garments too.

8 Is He a Fire ? He'll purge my dross :
But the true gold sustains no loss :
Like a refiner shall he fit—
And tread the refuse with his feet.

9 Is He a Rock ? How firm he proves ;
The Rock of Ages never moves ;

Yet the sweet streams which from him flow,
Attend us all the desert through.

[11 Is He a Way? He leads to God—
The path is drawn in lines of blood;
There would I walk, with hope and zeal,
Till I arrive at Zion's hill.]

[12 Is He a Door? I'll enter in;
Behold the pastures large and green!
A paradise—divine'y fair;
None but the sheep have freedom there.]

[13 Is He design'd a Corner-Stone,
For men to build their heav'n upon?
I'll make him my foundation too;
Nor fear the plots of hell below.

14 Is He a temple? I adore
Th' indwelling majesty and pow'r;
And still, to his most holy place,
Whene'er I pray, I'll turn my face.

15 Is He a Star? He breaks the night:
Piercing the shades with dawning light:
I know his glories from afar,
I know the bright, the Morning Star.

16 Is He a Sun? His beams are grace;
His course is joy and righteousness;
Nations rejoice when he appears
To chase their clouds, and dry their tears.]

17 O let me climb those higher skies,
Where storms and darkness never rise:
There he displays his pow'rs abroad,
And shines, and reigns th' Incarnate God.

18 Nor earth nor seas, nor sun, nor stars,
Nor heav'n his full resemblance bears,
His beauties who can never trace,
Till we behold him face to face.

CXLVII.—The Names and Titles of Christ.

- TIS from the treasures of his word,
I borrow titles for my Lord ;
Nor art nor nature can supply
Sufficient forms of majesty.
- 2 Bright image of the Father's Face,
Shining with undiminish'd rays ;
Th' Eternal God's eternal Son—
The Heir and Partner of his throne.
- 3 The King of kings—the Lord most high
Writes his own name upon his thigh ;
He wears a garment dipp'd in blood,
And breaks the nation with his rod.
- 4 Where grace can neither melt nor move,
The Lambresents his injur'd love ;
Awakes his wrath, without deley,
And Judah's Lion tears the prey.
- 5 But when for works of peace he comes,
What winning titles he assumes !
Light of the world, and life of men ;
Nor bears those characters in vain.
- 6 With tender pity in his heart,
He acts the Mediators part ;
A friend and brother he appears,
And well fulfils the names he wears.
- 7 At length the Judge his throne ascends,
Divides the rebels from his friends ;
And saints in full fruition, prove
His rich variety of love.

CXLVIII. The same

WITH cheerful voice I sing
The titles of my Lord ;
And borrow all the names
Of honor, from his word ;

Nature and art
 Can ne'er supply
 Sufficient forms
 Of Majesty.

- 2 In Jesus we behold
 His Father's glorious face,
 Shining for ever bright
 With mild and lovely rays :

Th' Eternal God's
 Eternal Son,
 Inherits and
 Partakes the throne

- 3 The sov'reign King of kings.
 The Lord of lords, most high,
 Writes his own name upon
 His garment, and his thigh :

His name is call'd
 The word of God ;
 He rules the earth
 With iron rod.

- 4 Where promises and grace,
 Can neither melt nor move,
 The angry Lamb resents
 The inj'ries of his love ;
 Awakes his wrath
 Without delay,
 As lions roar
 And tear the prey.

- 5 But, when for works of peace
 The great Redeemer comes,
 What gentler characters,
 What titles he assumes !

Light of the world,
And life of men ;
 Nor will he bear
 Those names in vain.

- 6 Immense compassion reigns
 In our Immanuel's heart,
 When he descends to act
 A Mediator's part.
 He is a friend
 And brother too ;
 Divinely kind,
 Divinely true.
- 7 At length the Lord, the Judge,
 His awful throne ascends ;
 And drives the rebels far
 From favorites and friends.
 Then shall the saints
 Completely prove
 The heights and depths
 Of all his love.

CXLXI. Offices of Christ, from the Scriptures.

JOIN all the names of love and pow'r,
 Which ever men or angels bore ;
 All are too mean to speak his worth,
 Or set Immanuel's glory forth.

2 But O, what condescending ways
 He takes, to teach his heav'nly grace !
 My eyes, with joy and wonder, see
 What forms of love he bears for me.

3 The angel of the cov'nant stands
 With his commission in his hands ;
 Sent from his Father's milder throne
 To make the great salvation known.

4 Great Prophet, let me bless Thy name !
 By thee the joyful tidings came,
 Of wrath appeas'd, of sin forgiv'n,
 Of hell subdu'd, and peace with heav'n.

5 My bright example, and my guide,
 I would be walking near thy side ;
 O never let me run astray,
 Nor follow the forbidden way !

6 I love my Shepherd—he shall keep
My wand'ring soul among his sheep ;
He feeds his flock, he calls their names,
And in his bosom bears the lambs.

7 My Surety undertakes my cause,
Answ'ring his Father's broken laws ;
Behold, my soul at freedom set !
My Surety paid the dreadful debt.

8 Jesus, my great High-Priest, has dy'd—
I seek no sacrifice beside :
His blood did once for all atone.
And now it pleads before the throne.

9 My advocate appears on high—
The Father lays his thunder by ;
Not all that earth or hell can say
Shall turn my Father's heart away.

10 My Lord, my Conq'ror, and my King,
Thy sceptre, and thy sword I sing ;
Thine is the vict'ry, and I sit
A joyful subject at thy feet.

11 Aspire, my soul, to glorious deeds—
The Captain of Salvation leads—
March on—nor fear to win the day,
Though death and hell obstruct the way.

12 Should death and hell, and pow'rs unknown
Put all their forms of mischief on ;
I shall be safe—for Christ displays
Salvation in more sov'reign ways.

—CL—The same—

JOIN all the glorious names
Of wisdom, love and pow'r,
Which ever mortals knew,
Which angels ever bore :
All are too mean
To speak his worth,

Too mean to set
My Saviour forth.

- 2 But, O, what gentler terms!
What condescending ways
Doth our Redeemer use,
To teach his heav'nly grace!
Mine eyes, with joy
And wonder, see
What forms of love
He bears for me.
- 3 Array'd in mortal flesh,
He, like an angel, stands,
And holds the promises
And pardons in his hands:
Commission'd from,
His Father's throne,
To make his grace
To mortals known.
- 4 Great Prophet of my God,
My tongue would bless thy name;
By Thee the joyful news
Of our Salvation came;
The joyful news
Of sins forgiv'n,
Of hell subdu'd.
And peace with heav'n!
- 5 Be thou my Counsellor,
My pattern, and my guide
And through this desert land
Still keep me near thy side.
O let my feet
Ne'er run astray.
Nor rove, nor seek
The crooked way!
- 6 I love my Shepherd's voice;
His watchful eye shall keep

My wand'ring soul among
 The thousands of his sheep :
 He feeds his flock,
 He calls their names,
 His bosom bears
 The tender lambs.

7 To this dear Surety's Hand
 Will I commit my cause ;
 He answers and fulfils
 His Father's broken laws,
 Behold my soul
 At freedom set,
 My Surety paid
 The dreadful debt.

8 Jesus, my great High Priest,
 Offer'd his Blood, and dy'd—
 My guilty conscience seeks
 No sacrifice beside.
 His pow'ful Blood
 Did once atone ;
 And now it pleads
 Before the throne.

9 My advocate appears
 For my defence, on high ;
 The Father bows his ears,
 And lays his thunder by.
 Not all which hell
 Or sin can say,
 Shall turn his heart,
 His love away.

10 My dear almighty Lord,
 My Conqu'ror, and my King,
 Thy sceptre, and thy sword,
 Thy reigning grace I sing.
 Thine is the pow'r—
 Behold I sit
 In willing bonds
 Beneath thy feet.

B. I. SPIRITUAL SONGS.

11 Now let my soul arise,
And tread the tempter down ;
My captain leads me forth
To conquest and a crown.

A feeble faint
Shall win the day,
Though death and hell
Obstruct the way.

22 Should all the hosts of death
And pow'rs of hell, unknown,
Put their most dreadful forms
Of rage and mischief on ;

I shall be safe—
For Christ displays
Superior pow'r,
And guardian grace.

END OF THE FIRST BOOK.

BOOK II.

COMPOSED ON

DIVINE SUBJECTS.

I. A song of Praise to God from AMERICA.

NATURE, with all her pow'rs, shall sing
God the Creator, and the King:
Nor air, nor earth, nor skies, nor seas,
Deny the tribute of their praise.

2 Begin to make his glories known,
Ye Seraphs, who sit near his throne;
Tune your harps high, and spread the sound
To the creation's utmost bound.

3 All mortal things, of meaner frame,
Exert your force, and own his name;
Whilst, with our souls, and with our voice,
We sing his honors, and our joys,

4 To Him be sacred all we have,
From the young cradle to the grave;
Our lips shall his loud wonders tell,
And every word—a miracle.

5 This Western World, our native land,
Lies safe in the Almighty's hand;

Our foes of vict'ry dream in vain,
And shake the captivating chain.

6 He builds for liberty a throne,
And makes it gracious like his own ;
Makes our successive rulers kind,
And gives our dangers to the wind.

7 Raise monumental praises high
To him who thunders through the sky,
And, with an awful nod or frown,
Shakes an aspiring tyrant down.

8 Pillars of lasting brass proclaim
The triumph's of th' Eternal name ;
While trembling nations read from far
The honors of the God of war.

9 Thus let our flaming zeal employ
Our loftiest thoughts and loudest songs ;
Zion pronounce, with warmest joy,
Hosannas from ten thousand tongues.

10 Ye mighty God, our feeble frame
Attempts in vain to reach thy name :
The strongest notes which angels raise,
Faint in the worship and the praise.

II. — The death of a Sinner. —

MY thoughts on awful subjects roll,
Damnation and the dead ;
What horrors seize the guilty soul
Upon a dying bed !

2 Ling'ring about these mortal shores,
She makes a long delay
'Til like a flood with rapid force,
Death sweeps the wretch away !

3 Then swift and dreadful, she descends
Down to the fiery coast ;

Among abominable fiends,
Herself, a frightful ghost.

4 There endless crowds of sinners lie,
And darkness makes their chains,

Tortur'd with keen despair, they cry—
Yet wait for fiercer pains.

5 Not all their anguish, and their blood,
For their old guilt atones ;

Nor the compassion of a God
Shall hearken to their groans.

6 Amazing grace, which kept my breath,
Nor bid my soul remove.

'Till I had learn'd my Saviour's death,
And well inlar'd his love.

III. The death and burial of a Saint.

WHY do we mourn departing friends?
Or shake at death's alarms ?

'Tis but the voice which Jesus sends
To call them to his arms.

2 Are we not tending upward too,
As fast as time can move ?

Nor would we wish the hours more slow
To keep us from our Love.

3 Why should we tremble to convey,
Their bodies to the tomb ?

There the dear flesh of Jesus lay,
And left a long perfume

4 The graves of all his saints he bless'd,
And soften'd ev'ry bed :

Where should the dying members rest,
But with the dying Head ?

5 Thence he arose, ascending high,
And shew'd our feet the way :

Up to the Lord our souls shall fly,
At the great rising day.

6 Then let the last loud trumpet sound,
 And bid our kindred rise :
 Awake ye nations, under ground,
 Ye saints, ascend the skies.

IV. Salvation in the Cro's.

HERE, at thy cross, my dying God,
 I lay my soul beneath thy love ;
 Beneath the droppings of thy blood,
 Jesus, nor shall it e'er remove.

2 Not all which tyrants think or say,
 With rage and light'ning in their eyes—
 Nor hell should fright my soul away,
 Should hell with all its legions rise.

3 Should worlds conspire to drive me hence,
 Moveless and firm, this heart should lie ;
 Resolv'd, (for that's my last defence)
 If I must perish—here to die.

4 But speak my Lord, and calm my fears,
 Am I not safe beneath thy shade ?
 Thy vengeance will not strike me here,
 Nor satan dare my soul invade.

5 Yes—I'm secure beneath Thy blood,
 And all my foes shall lose their aim :
 Hosanna to my dying God !
 And my best honors to His name.

V. Longing to praise Christ better.

LORD, when my thoughts with wonder roll
 O'er the sharp sorrows of thy soul,
 And read my Maker's broken laws,
 Repair'd and honor'd by the cross :

2 When I behold death, hell, and sin,
 Vanquish'd by that dear blood of thine,
 And see the Man who groan'd and dy'd,
 Sit glorious by his Father's side—

3 My passions rise, and soar above—
I'm wing'd with faith, and fir'd with love ;
Pain would I reach eternal things,
And learn the notes which Gabriel sings.

4 But my heart fails, my tongue complains
For want of their immortal strains :
And, in such humble notes as these,
Falls far below thy victories.

5 Well the kind minute must appear,
When we shall leave these bodies here ;
These clogs of clay—and mount on high,
To join the songs above the sky.

VI. A Morning Song.

ONCE more, my soul, the rising day
Salutes thy waking eyes ;
Once more, my voice, thy tribute pay
To Him who rolls the skies.

2 Night unto night His name repeats ;
The day renews the sound,
Wide as the heav'n, on which he sits
To turn the seasons round.

3 'Tis he supports my mortal frame,
My tongue shall speak his praise ;
My sins would rouse his wrath to flame—
And yet his wrath delays!

4 On a poor worm thy pow'r might tread,
And I could ne'er withstand ;
Thy justice might have crush'd me dead,
But mercy held t'ine hand.

5 A thousand wretched souls are fled
Since the last setting sun,
And yet thou length'nest out my thread,
And yet my moments run !

6 Dear God, let all my hours be thine,
While I enjoy the light ;

Then shall my sun in smiles decline,
And bring a pleasant night.

VII. An Evening Song.

D READ Sov'reign, let my evening song,
Like holy incense rise;
Assist the offerings of my tongue
To reach the lofty skies.

2 Through all the dangers of the day
Thy hand was still my guard;
And still, to drive my wants away,
Thy mercy stood prepar'd.

3 Perpet'ual blessings from above
Encompass me around,
But O, how few returns of love
Hath my Creator found!

4 What have I done for him who dy'd
To save my wretched soul?
How are my follies multiply'd,
Fast as my minutes roll!

5 Lord, with this guilty heart of mine,
To thy dear cross I flee;
And to thy grace my soul resign,
To be renew'd by Thee.

6 Sprinkled afresh with pard'ning blood,
I'd lay me down to rest:
As in th' imbraces of my God,
Or on my Saviour's breast.

VIII. A Hymn for Morning or Evening.

HOSANNA, with a cheerful sound,
To God's upholding hand;
Ten thousand snares attend us round,
And yet secure we stand!

2 That was a most amazing pow'r,
Which rais'd us with a word;

And ev'ry day, and ev'ry hour,
We lean upon the Lord.

3 The ev'ning rests our weary head,
And angels guard the room ;
We wake—and we admire the bed
Which was not made our tomb.

4 The rising morning can't assure
That we shall end the day !
For death stands ready at the door
To snatch our lives away.

5 Our breath is forfeited by sin
To God's revenging law ;
We own thy grace, immortal King,
In ev'ry gasp we draw.

6 God is our Sun, whose daily light
Our joy and safety brings ;
Our feeble flesh lies safe at night
Beneath his shady wings.

IX. Godly Sorrow arising from Christ's Sufferings.

ALAS ! and did my Saviour bleed ?
And did my Sov'reign die ?
Would he devote that sacred Head
For such a worm as I ?

1a Thy Body slain, sweet Jesus, Thine—
And bath'd in it's own blood—
While, all expos'd to wrath divine,
The glor'ous Suff'rer stood !]

3 Was it for crimes which I had done
He groan'd upon the tree ?
Amazing pity ! grace unknown
And love, beyond degree !

4 Well might the Sun in darkness hide,
And shut his glories in.

When God, the mighty Maker, dy'd
For man, the creature's sin.

- 5 Thus might I hide my blushing face
While his dear cross appears,
Dissolve my heart in thankfulness,
And melt my eyes in tears.
- 6 But drops of grief can ne'er repay
The debt of Love I owe ;
Here, Lord, I give myself away,
'Tis all that I can do.

X. Parting with Carnal Joys.

- MY soul forsakes her vain delight,
And bids the world farewell ;
Bale as the dirt beneath my feet,
And mischievous as hell.
- 2 No longer will I ask your love,
Nor seek your friendship more ;
The happiness which I approve,
Lies not within your pow'r.
- 3 There's nothing round this spacious earth,
Which suits my large desire ;
To boundless joy, and solid mirth,
My nobler thoughts aspire.
- [4 Where pleasure rolls its living flood,
From sin and dross refin'd,
Still springing from the throne of God,
And fit to cheer the mind.
- 5 Th' Almighty Ruler of the sphere.
The Glorious and the Great
Brings his own all-sufficiency there,
To make our bliss compleat.]
- 6 Had I the pinions of a dove,
I'd climb the heav'nly road :
There sits my Saviour drest in love—
And there—my smiling God.

—XI.— The same. —

- I SEND the joys of earth away—
Away, ye tempters of the mind ;

False as the smooth deceitful sea,
And empty as the whist'ling wind.

2 Your streams were floating me along
Down to the gulph of black despair ;
And, while I listen'd to your song,
Your streams had e'en convey'd me there.

3 Lord I adore thy match'less grace,
Which warn'd me of that dark abyfs ;
Which drew me from those treach'rous seas,
And bade me seek superior blifs.

4 Now, to the shining realms above
I stretch mine hands, and glance mine eyes :
O for the pinions of a dove,
To bear me to the upper skies ;

5 There, from the bosom of my God,
Oceans of endless pleasures roll ;
There would I fix my last abode,
And drown the sorrows of my soul.

XII. Christ is the substance of the Levitical Priesthood.

THE true Messiah now appears ;
The types are all withdrawn :
So fly the shadows and the stars
Before the rising dawn.

2 No smoaking sweets, no bleeding lambs,
Nor kid nor bullocks slain :

Incense and spice, of costly names,
Would all be burnt in vain.

3 Aaron must lay his robes away,
His mitre and his vest,

When God himself comes down to be
The off'ring and the priest.

4 He took our mortal flesh, to show
The wonders of his love ;
For us he paid his life below,
And prays for us above.

3 Father, he cries, forgive their sins,
 For I, myself have dy'd ;
 And then he shews his open'd veins,
 And pleads his wounded side.

XIII. The creation, preservation, Dissolution, and Restoration of this World.

SING to the Lord, who built the skies,
 The Lord, who rear'd this stately frame ;
 Let all the nations sound his praise,
 And lands, unknown, repeat his name,

2 He form'd the seas and fram'd the hills,
 Made ev'ry drop, and ev'ry dust—
 Nature and time, with all their wheels,
 And push'd them into motion first.

3 Now from his high imper'al throne,
 He looks far down upon the spheres ?
 He bids the fainting orbs roil on,
 And round he turns the hasty years.

4 Thus shall this moving engine last
 'Till all his saints are gather'd in ;
 Then for the trumpet's dreadful blast
 To shake it all to dust again !

5 Yet when the sound shall tear the skies,
 And light'nings burn the globe below—
 Saints you may lift your joyful eyes.
 There's a new heav'n and earth for you.

XIV. Lord's Day ; or, Delight in Ordinances.

WELCOME, sweet day of rest,
 Which saw the Lord arise ;
 Welcome, to this reviving breast,
 And these rejoicing eyes !

2 The King himself comes near,
 And feasts his saints to-day

Here we may sit, and see him here,
And love, and praise and pray.

3 One day amidst the place
Where my dear God has been,
Is sweeter than ten thousand days
Of pleasurable sin.

4 My willing soul would stay
In such a frame as this;
And sit, and sing herself away
To everlasting bliss.

XV. The enjoyment of Christ.

FAR from my thoughts, vain world be gone;
Let my religious hours alone;
Fain would my eyes my Saviour see—
I wait a visit, Lord, from thee!

2 My heart grows warm with holy fire,
And kindles, with intense desire;
Come, my dear Jesus, from above,
And feed my soul with heav'nly love.

[3 The trees of life immortal stand
In blooming rows, at thy right hand;
And, in sweet murmurs, by their side,
Rivers of bliss perpetual glide.

4 Haste them, but with a smiling face,
And spread the table of thy grace:
Bring down a taste of truth divine,
And cheer my heart with sacred wine.]

5 Bless'd Jesus, what delicious fare,
How sweet thy entertainments are!
Never did angels taste above,
Redeeming grace, and dying love.

6 Hail, great Immanuel, all divine!
In thee thy Father's glories shine:
Thou brightest, sweetest, fairest One,
Whom eyes have seen, or angels know.

XVI. Part the second.

LORD, what a heav'n of saving grace
Shine through the beauties of thy face,
And lights our passions to a flame ;
Lord, how we love thy charming name !

2 When I can say—My God is mine ;
When I can feel thy glories shine,
I tread the world beneath my feet,
And all the earth calls good or great.

3 While such a scene of sacred joys
Our raptur'd eyes and souls employs,
Here we could sit, and gaze away,
A long, an everlasting day.

4 Well—we shall quickly pass the night
To the fair coast of perfect light ;
Then shall our joyful senses rove
O'er the dear object of our love.

[5 There shall we drink full draughts of bliss,
And pluck new life from heav'nly trees !
Yet now and then, dear Lord bestow
A drop of heav'n on worms below.

6 Send comforts down from thy right hand
While we pass through this barren land ;
And, in thy temple, let us see
A glimpse of love, a glimpse of Thee.]

XVII. God's Eternity.

RISE, rise, my soul and leave the ground,
Stretch all thy thoughts abroad !
And rouse up ev'ry tuneful sound
To praise th' eternal God.

2 Long, e'er the lofty skies were spread,
Jehovah fill'd his throne ;
E'er Adam form'd, or angels made,
The Maker liv'd alone.

- 3 His boundless years can ne'er decrease,
But still maintain their prime ;
ETERNITY'S his dwelling place —
And EVER is his time.
- 4 While, like a tide, our minutes flow,
The present and the past :
He sees his own immortal NOW,
And sees our ages waste.
- 5 The sea and sky must perish too,
And vast destruction come ;
The creatures look how old they grow,
And wait their fiery-doem.
- 6 Well—let the sea shrink all away,
And flame melt down the skies ;
My God shall live an endless day,
When th' old creation dies.

XV. II. The Ministry of Angels.

- HIGH on a hill of dazzling light
The King of glory spreads his seat,
And troops of angels, stretch'd for flight,
Stand waiting at his awful feet.
- 2 " Go, saith the Lord, my Gabriel, go—
" Salute the virgin's fruitful womb :
" Make haste, ye cherubs, down below,
" Sing and proclaim—the Saviour come."
- 3 Here a bright squadron leaves the skies,
And thick around Elisha stands ;
Anon, a heav'nly soldier flies,
And breaks the chains from Peter's hands :
- 4 Thy winged troops, O God of hosts,
Wait on thy wand'ring church below ;
Here, we are sailing to thy coasts,
Let angels be our convoy too.
- 5 Are they not all thy servants, Lord ?
At thy command they go and come ;

With cheerful haste obey thy word,
And guard thy children to their home.

XIX Our frail Bodies, and God our Preserver.

LET others boast how strong they be,
Nor death, nor danger fear;
But we'll confess, O Lord, to thee,
What feeble things we are.

2 Fresh as the grass, our bodies stand—
And flourish bright and gay:

3 A blasting wind sweeps o'er the land,
And fades the grass away:

4 Our life contains a thousand springs,
And dies, if one be gone:

5 Strange! what a harp, of thousand strings,
Should keep in tune so long.

6 But 'tis our God supports our frame—
The God who built us first;
Salvation to th' Almighty name
That rear'd us from the dust.

7 He spake—and straight our hearts and brains,
In all their motions rose;

8 Let blood, said he, flow round the veins,
And round the veins it flows.

9 While we have breath, or use our tongues,
Our Maker we'll adore:

10 His Spirit moves our heaving lungs,
Or they would breathe no more.

XX. Backsliding and Returns.

WHY is my heart so far from Thee,
My God, my chief delight?

Why are my thoughts no more by day
With thee, no more by night?

3 Why should my foolish passions rove?
Where can such sweetness be,

- As I have tasted in thy love,
As I have found in thee ?]
- 3 When my forgetful soul renews
The favor of thy grace,
My heart presumes I cannot lose
The relish, all my days.
- 4 But e'er one fleeting hour is past,
The flatt'ring world employs
Some sensual bait, to seize my taste,
And to pollute my joys.
- [5 Trifles of nature, or of art,
With fair deceitful charms,
Intrude into my thoughtless heart,
And thrust thee from my arms.
- 6 Then I repent, and vex my soul
That I should lose thee so ;
Where will those wild affections roll
Which let a Saviour go ?]
- [7 Sin a promis'd joys are turn'd to pain,
And I am drown'd in grief ;
But my dear Lord returns again ;
He flies to my relief !
- 8 Seizing my soul with sweet surprise,
He draws with loving bands ;
Divine compassion's in his eyes,
And pardon's in his hands.]
- [9 Wretch that I am, to wander thus,
In chase of false delight !
Let me be fasten'd to thy cross,
Rather than lose thy sight.
- 10 Make haste, my days, to reach the goal,
And bring my heart to rest
On the dear centre of my soul,
My God, my Saviour's breast !

XXI. A Song of Praise to God the Redeemer.

LET the old heathen tune their song
 Of great Diana, and of Jove ;
 But the sweet theme which moves my tongue,
 Is my Redeemer and his love.

2 Behold a God descends and dies,
 To save my soul from gaping hell !
 How the black gulph, where satan lies,
 Yawn'd to receive me, when I fell !

3 How justice frown'd, and Vengeance stood,
 To drive me down to endless pain ;
 But the great son propos'd his blood,
 And heav'nly wrath grew mild again.

4 Infinite Lover ! gracious Lord !
 To Thee be endless honors giv'n ;
 Thy wond'rous Name shall be ador'd,
 Round the wide earth, and wider heav'n.

XXII. With God is terrible Majesty.

TERRIBLE God, who reign'st on high,
 How awful is thy thund'ring hand !
 Thy fiery bolts, how fierce they fly !
 Nor can all earth, or hell withstand.

2 This the old rebel-angels knew,
 And satan fell beneath thy frown,
 Thine arrows struck the traitor through,
 And weighty vengeance sunk him down.

3 This Sodom felt—and feels it still—
 And roars beneath th' eternal load :
 With endless burning, who can dwell,
 Or bear the fury of a God ?

4 Tremble, ye sinners, and submit :
 Throw down your arms before his throne
 Bend your heads low beneath his feet,
 Or his strong hand shall crush you down :

5 And ye, blest'd faints, who love him too,
 With rev'rence bow before his name :
 Thus all his heav'nly servants do :
 God is a bright and burning flame.

XXIII. The Sight of God and Christ, in Heaven.

DESCEND from heav'n immortal Dove,
 Stoop down, and take us on thy wings ;
 And mount, and bear us far above
 The reach of these inferior things :

2 Beyond, beyond this lower sky,
 Up, where eternal ages roll ;
 Where solid pleasures never die,
 And fruits immortal feast the soul.

3 O for a sight, a pleasing sight,
 Of our Almighty Father's throne !
 There sits our Saviour, crown'd with light,
 Cloath'd in a body, like our own.

4 Adoring faints around him stand,
 And thrones and pow'r's before him fall ;
 The God shines gracious through the man,
 And sheds sweet glories on them all !

5 O what amazing joys they feel,
 While, to their golden harps, they sing ;
 And sit on ev'ry heav'nly hill,
 And spread the triumphs of their King !

6 When shall the day, dear Lord, appear—
 That I shall mount to dwell above !
 And stand, and bow before them there,
 And view thy face, and sing, and love ?

XXIV. The Buil of Sin visible, in the fall of Angels and Men.

WHEN the Great Builder arch'd the skies,
 And form'd all nature, with a word ;
 The joyful cherubs tun'd his praise,
 And ev'ry bending throne ador'd,

2 High, in the midst of all the throng,
Satan, a tall arch-angel sat ;
3 Among the morning stars he sung,
4 Till sin destroy'd his heav'nly state.

[3 'Twas sin that hurl'd him from his throne,
Gro'ling in fire, the rebel lies ;
4 *How art thou sunk in darkness down,
5 Son of the morning, from the skies !*

6 And thus our two first parents stood,
7 Pili sin defil'd the happy place ;
8 They lost their garden and their God,
9 And ruin'd all their unborn race.]

[5 So sprang the plague from Adam's bow'r,
6 And spread destruction all abroad :
7 Sin, the curs'd name, which in one hour,
8 Spoil'd six days labor of a God.

9 Tremble my soul, and mourn for grief,
10 That such a foe should seize thy breast ;
11 Fly to thy Lord for quick relief ;
12 Oh ! may he stay this treach'rous guest.

13 Then to thy throne, victor'ous King,
14 Then to thy throne our shouts shall rise ;
15 Thine everlasting arm we'll sing,
16 For sin, the monster, bleeds and dies.

*Job xxxviii, 7. †I/a. xiv. 13.

(XXV. Complaining of Spiritual Sloth.

MY drowfy pow'rs, why sleep ye so ?
Awake my sluggish soul !
Nothing has half thy work to do ;
Yet nothing's half so dull !

2 The little ants, for one poor grain,
Labor, and tug, and strive ;
Yet we who have a heav'n t' obtain,
How negligent we live !

3 We for whose sake all nature stands,
And stars their courses move ;

We, for whose guard, the angel bands
Come flying from above.

4 We for whom God the Son came down,
And labor'd for our good ;
How careless to secure that crown
He purchas'd with his blood !

5 Lord, shall we live so sluggish still,
And never act our parts ?
Come, holy dove, from th' heav'nly hill,
And sit and warm our hearts !

6 Then shall our active spirits move ;
Upward our souls shall rise ;
With hands of faith and wings of love,
We'll fly and take the prize.

XXVI. God invisible.

LORD, we are blind, poor mortals, blind,
We can't behold thy bright abode ;
O ! 'tis beyond a creature-mind
To glance a thought half way to God.

2 Infinite leagues beyond the sky,
The great ETERNAL reigns alone ;
Where neither wings nor souls can fly,
Nor angels climb the toplefs throne.

3 The Lord of glory builds his feat
Of gems, insufferably bright ;
And lays beneath his sacred feet
Substantial beams of gloomy night.

4 Yet, glor'ous Lord thy gracious eyes
Look through and cheer us from above ;
Beyond our praise thy grandeur flies,
Yet we adore, and yet we love.

XXVII. Praise ye Him, all His Angels, Psalm
cxviii. 2.

GOD ! the Eternal awful name,
That the whole heav'nly army fears,

Which shakes the wide creation's frame,
And satan trembles when he hears.

2 Like flames of fire his servants are,
And light surrounds his dwelling-place ;
But O, ye fiery flames declare
The brighter glories of his face.

3 'Tis not for such poor worms as we,
To speak so infinite a thing ;
But your immortal eyes survey
The beauties of your Sov'reign King.

4 Tell how he shews his smiling face,
And clothes all heav'n in bright array ;
Triumph and joy run through the place ;
And songs eternal as the day.

5 Speak—(for you feel his burning love)
What zeal it spreads through all your frame !
That sacred fire dwells all above,
For we, on earth, have lost the name.

[6 Sing of his pow'r and justice too ;
That infinite right hand of his,
Which vanquish'd satan and his crew,
When thunder drove them down from bliss.]

7 What mighty storms of poison'd darts
Were hurl'd upon the rebels there !
What deadly jav'lines nail'd their hearts
Fast to the rocks of long despair !

8 Shout to your King, ye heav'nly host :
You who beheld the sinking foe ;
Firmly ye stood when they were lost ;
Praise the rich grace that kept you so.

9 Proclaim his wonders from the skies ;
Let ev'ry distant nation hear :
And, while you sound his lofty praise,
Let humble mortals bow and fear.

XXVIII. Death and Eternity.

STOOP down, my thoughts, which use to rise;

Converse awhile with death;

Think how a gasping mortal lies,

And pants away his breath.

2 His quiv'ring lip hangs feeble down,

His pulses faint and few:

Then, speechless, with a doleful groan,

He bids the world adieu.

3 But oh! the soul, which never dies!

At once it leaves the clay!

Ye thoughts, pursue it where it flies,

And track its wond'rous way!

4 Up to the courts where angels dwell,

It mounts triumphing there:

Or devils plunge it down to hell,

In infinite despair.

5 And must my body faint and die?

And must this soul remove?

Oh, for some guardian-angel nigh,

To bear it safe above!

6 Jesus to thy dear faithful hand,

My naked soul I trust;

And my flesh waits for thy command,

To drop into my dust.

XXIX. Redemption by Price and Power.

JESUS, with all thy saints above,

My tongue would bear her part;

Would sound aloud thy saving love,

And sing thy bleeding heart.

2 Bless'd be the Lamb, my dearest Lord,

Who bought me with his blood,

And quench'd his Father's flaming sword,

In his own vital blood.

- 3 The Lamb that freed my captive soul
From satan's heavy chains,
And sent the lion down to howl,
Where hell and horror reigns.
- 4 All glory to the dying Lamb,
And never-ceasing praise,
While angels live to know his name,
Or saints to feel his grace.

XXX. Heavenly Joy on Earth.

COME, we who love the Lord,
And let our joys be known;
Join in a song with sweet accord;
And thus surround the throne:

2 Let sorrows of the mind,
Be banish'd from the place;
Religion never was design'd
To make our pleasures less.

3 Let those refuse to sing
Who never knew our God;
But fav'rites of the heav'nly king
Should speak their joys abroad.

4 The God who rules on high,
And thunders when he please,
Who rides upon the stormy sky,
And manages the seas.

5 This awful God is ours,
Our father and our love:
He will send down his heav'nly powers
To carry us above.

6 There we shall see his face,
And never, never sin;
There, from the rivers of his grace,
Drink endless pleasures in.

- 7 Yes and before we rise
To that immortal state,
The thoughts of such amazing bliss
Should constant joys create.
- 8 [The men of grave have found
Glory begun, below ;
Celestial fruits, on earthly ground,
From faith and hope, may grow.]
- 9 The hill of Zion yields
A thousand sacred sweets,
Before we reach the heav'nly fields ;
Or walk the golden streets.
- 10 Then let our songs abound,
And ev'ry tear be dry ;
We're marching through Immanuel's ground,
To fairer worlds on high.

XXXI. Christ's Presence makes Death ea'y.

WHY should we start, and fear to die ?
What tim'rous worms we mortals are !
Death is the gate of endless joy,
And yet we dread to enter there.

1 The pains, the groans, and dying strife,
Fright our approaching souls away ;
Still we shrink back again to life,
Fond of our prison, and our clay.

2 Oh ! if my Lord would come and meet,
My soul should stretch her wings in haste,
Fly fearless, through death's iron gate,
Nor feel the terrors as she pass'd.

3 Jesus can make a dying bed
Feel soft as downy pillows are,
While on his breast I lean my head,
And breathe my life out sweetly there.

XXXII. Frailty and Folly.

HOW short and hasty is our life !

How vast our soul's affairs !

Ye feeble mortals vainly strive

To hush out their years.

1 Our days run thoughtlessly along,

Without a moment's stay,

Just like a story or a song,

We pass our lives away.

2 God, from on high, invites us home,

But we march heedless on ;

And, ever hast'ning to the tomb,

Stoop downwards as we run.

3 How we deserve the deepest hell,

Who taste the joys above !

What chains of vengeance should we feel

Who break such cords of love !

4 Draw us, O God, with lov'reign grace,

And lift our thoughts on high,

That we may end this mortal state,

And see salvation nigh.

XXXIII. The Blessed Society in Heaven.

RAISE thee, my soul, fly up, and run

R Through every heav'n's direct.

And lo ! — there's nought below the sun,

That's worthy of thy feet.

[Thus will we mount on sacred wings,

And tread the courts above ;

None will, nor all her mightiest things,

Can tempt our meanest love.]

5 There, on a high majestic throne,

The Almighty Father reigns.

And doth his glorious goodness down

On all the blissful plains.

- 4 Bright, like a Sun, the Saviour sits,
And spreads eternal noon ;
No ev'nings there, nor gloomy nights
To want the feeble moon.
- 5 Amidst those ever-shining skies
Behold the Sacred Dove !
While banish'd sin, and sorrow flies
From all the realms of love.
- 6 The glorious tenants of the place
Stand bending round the throne ;
And saints, and seraphs, sing and praise
The infinite THREE-ONE.
- 7 But O, what beams of heav'nly grace,
Transport them all the while !
Ten thousand smiles from Jesus' face,
And love in ev'ry smile !
- 8 Jesus, and when shall that dear day,
That joyful hour appear,
When shall I leave this house of clay,
To dwell among them there?

XXXIV. Breathing after the Holy Spirit's

- COME, Holy Spirit, heav'nly Dove,
With all thy quick'ning pow'rs,
Kindle a flame of sacred love
In these cold hearts of ours.
- 2 Look, how we grovel here, below,
Fond of these trifling toys ;
Our souls can neither fly nor go,
To reach eternal joys.
- 3 In vain we tune our formal songs
In vain we strive to rise ;
Hosannas languish on our tongues,
And our devotion dies.
- 4 Dear Lord ! and shall we ever live
At this poor dying rate ?

Our love so faint, so cold to thee,
And thine to us so great?

5 Come, Holy Spirit, heav'nly Dove.
With all thy quick'ning pow'rs ;
Come, shed abroad a Saviour's love,
And that shall kindle ours.

XXXV. Praise to God for creation & redemption.

LET them neglect thy glory, Lord,
Who never knew thy grace ;
But our loud song shall still record
The wonders of thy praise.

2 We raise our shouts, O God, to Thee,
And send them to thy throne :
All glory to th' UNITED THREE,
The undivided ONE.

3 'Twas He, (and we'll adore his name)
Who form'd us by a word ;
'Tis He that rais'd our ruin'd frame :
Salvation to the Lord !

4 Hosanna ! let the earth and skies
Repeat the joyful sound :
Rocks, hills, and vales, reflect the voice
In one eternal round.

XXXVI. Christ's Intercession.

WELL, the Redeemer's gone
T' appear before a God,
To sprinkle o'er the flaming throne
With his attoning blood.

2 No fiery vengeance now :
No burning wrath comes down :
If justice calls for sinners blood,
The Saviour shews his own.

3 Before his Father's eye
Our humble suit he moves ;

The Father lays his thunder by,
And looks, and smiles, and loves,

4 Now may our joyful tongues
Our Maker's honour sing;

Jesus the Priest, receives our songs
And bears them to the King.

5 We bow before his face,
And sound his glory high;

6 "Hosanna to the God of Grace
"Who lays his thunder by.

6 "On earth thy mercy reigns,
"And triumphs all above;

6 "But Lord, how weak our mortal strains,
"To speak immortal love!

7 "How jarring and how low
"Are all the notes we sing!

6 "Sweet Saviour, tune our songs anew,
"And they shall please the King."

XXXVII. The same.

LIFT up your eyes to th' heav'nly seats,
Where your Redeemer stays:
Kind intercessor, there he sits,
And loves, and pleads, and prays,

2 'Twas well my soul, he dy'd for thee,
And shed his vital blood:

Appeas'd stern justice on the tree,
And then arose to God.

3 Petitions now, and praise may rise,
And saints their off'rings bring;

The Priest, with his own sacrifice,
Presents them to the King.

4 Let others trust what names they please
Their saints and angels boast:
We've no such advocates as these,
Nor pray to th' heav'nly hosts.

5 Jesus, alone, shall bear my cries
Up to his Father's throne ;
He (dearest Lord) perfumes my sighs,
And sweetens ev'ry groan.

6 Ten thousand praises to the King ;
Hosanna in the high'st ;
Ten thousand thanks our spirits bring
To God, and to his Christ.

XXXVIII. Love to God.

HAPPY the heart where graces reign,
Where love inspires the breast ;
Love is the brightest of the train,
And strengthens all the rest.

2 Knowledge, alas ! 'tis all in vain,
And all in vain our fear ;
Our stubborn sins will fight and reign,
If love be absent there.

3 'Tis love which makes our cheerful feet
In swift obed'ence move ;
The devils know—and tremble too ;
But Satan cannot love.

4 This is the grace which lives and sings,
When faith and hope shall cease ;
'Tis this shall strike our joyful strings,
In the sweet realms of bliss.

5 Before we quite forsake our clay,
Or leave this dark abode,
Let wings of love bear us away
To see our smiling God.

XXXIX. The Shortness and Misery of Life.

OUR days alas ! our mortal days,
Are short and wretched too !
Evil and few, the Patriarch says,
And well the patriarch knew,

- 2 'Tis but at best a narrow bound,
Which heav'n allows to men!
And pains, and sins run through the round
Of threescore years and ten.
- 3 Well—if ye must be sad and few,
Run on my days in haste;
Moments of sin, and months of woe,
Ye cannot fly too fast.
- 4 Let heav'nly love prepare my soul,
And call her to the skies,
Where years of long salvation roll,
And glory never dies.

XL. Our Comfort in the Covenant made with Christ.

- OUR God, how firm his promise stands,
Ev'n when he hides his face!
He trusts in our Redeemer's hands
His glory, and his grace.
- 2 Then why, my soul, these sad complaints,
Since Christ and we are one?
'Thy God is faithful to his saints,
Is faithful to his Son.
- 3 Beneath his smiles my heart has liv'd,
And part of heav'n possess'd;
I praise his name for grace receiv'd,
And trust him for the rest.

XLI. A sight of God mortifies us to the World.

- UP to the fields, where angels lie,
And living waters gently roll,
Fain would my thoughts leap out, and fly,
But sin hangs heavy on my soul.
- 2 Thy wond'rous blood, dear dying Christ,
Can make this world of guilt remove;
And thou can'st bear me where thou fly'st,
On thy kind wings, celestial Dove!

3 O might I once mount up and see
The glories of th' eternal skies ;
What little things these worlds would be !
How despicable to my eyes.

4 Had I a glance of Thee, my God,
Kingdoms and men would vanish soon ;
Vanish, as though I saw them not,
As a dim candle dies at noon.

5 Then they might sigh, and rage, and rave,
I shou'd perceive the noise no more
Than we can hear a shaking leaf
While rattling thunders round us roar.

6 Great ALL IN ALL, Eternal King,
Let me but view thy lovely face ;
And all my pow'rs shall bow, and sing
Thine endless grandeur, and thy grace.

XLII. Delight in God.

MY God, what endless pleasures dwell
Above, at thy right hand !
Thy courts below, how amiable,
Where all thy graces stand !

2 The swallow near thy temple lies,
And chirps a cheerful note :
The lark mounts up toward thy skies,
And tunes her warbling throat :

3 And we, when in thy presence, Lord,
Do shout with joyful tongues ;
Or sitting round our Father's board,
We crown the feast with songs.

4 While Jesus shines with quick'ning grace,
We sing, and mount on high ;
But, if a frown becloud his face,
We faint, and tire, and die.

5 Just as we see the lonesome dove
Bemoan her widow'd state,

Wand'ring, she flies through all the grove,
And mourns her loving mate ;

[6 Just so, our thoughts, from thing to thing,
In restless circles rove ;

Just so, we droop, and hang the wing,
When Jesus hides his love.]

XLIII Christ's Sufferings and Glory.

NOW for a tune of lofty praise
To great Jehovah's equal Son !
Awake, my voice, in heav'nly lays,
Tell loud the wonders he hath done.

2 Sing how he left the worlds of light,
And the bright robes he wore above ;
How swift and joyful was his flight,
On wings of everlasting love !

3 Down to this base, this sinful earth,
He came to raise our nature high ;
He came t' atone Almighty wrath—
Jesus, the God, was born to die.

4 Hell, and its lions, roar'd around ;
His precious blood the monsters spilt ;
While weighty sorrows press'd him down,
Large as the loads of all our guilt.]

5 Deep in the shades of gloomy death,
Th' Almighty captive pris'ner lay ;
Th' Almighty captive left the earth,
And rose to everlasting day.

6 Lift up your eyes, ye sons of light,
Up to his throne of shining grace ;
See what immortal glories sit
Round the sweet beauties of his face !

7 Among a thousand harps and songs,
Jesus, the God, exalted reigns ;
His sacred name fills all their tongues,
And echoes through the heav'nly plains !

XLIV, Hell ; or, the Vengeance of God.

WITH holy fear, and humble song,
The dreadful God our souls adore ;
Reverence and awe become the tongue
Which speaks the terrors of his pow'r.

2 Far, in the deep, where darkness dwells,
The land of horror and despair,
Justice has built a dismal hell,
And laid her stores of vengeance there.

3 Eternal plagues, and heavy chains,
Tormenting racks, and fiery coals,
And darts, t' inflict immortal pains,
Dy'd in the blood of damned souls.

4 There Satan, the first sinner, lies,
And roars, and bites his iron bands ;
In vain the rebel, strives to rise,
Crush'd with the weight of both thy hands.

5 There guilty ghosts, of Adam's race,
Shack out, and howl, beneath thy rod :
Once they could scorn a Saviour's grace,
And so incens'd a dreadful God.

6 Tremble my soul, and kiss the Son—
Sinner obey thy Saviour's call ;
Ere your damnation hastens on
And hell-gapes wide to wait your fall.

XLV God's Condescension to our Worship.

THY favors, Lord, surprise our souls ;
Will the Eternal dwell with us ?
What canst thou find beneath the poles,
To tempt thy chariot downward thus ?

2 Still might he fill his starry throne,
And please his ears with Gabriel's songs ;
But th' heav'nly majesty comes down,
And bows, to hearken to our tongues !

3 Great God! what poor returns we pay
 For love so infinite as thine!
 Words are but air, and tongues but clay,
 But thy compassion's all divine.

XLVI. God's condescension to Human affairs.

UP to the Lord, who reigns on high,
 And views the nations from afar,
 Let everlasting praises fly,
 And tell how large his bounties are.

1 He who can shake the worlds he made,
 Or with his sword, or with his rod;
 His goodness how amazing great!
 And what a condescending God!

2 God, who must stoop to view the skies,
 And bow to see what angels do,
 Down to our earth he casts his eyes,
 And bends his footsteps downward too.]

4 He overrules all mortal things,
 And manages our mean affairs;
 On humble souls the King of Kings
 Bestows his counsels, and his cares.

5 Our sorrows, and our tears we pour
 Into the bosom of our God;
 He hears us in the mournful hour,
 And helps to bear the heavy load.

6 In vain might lofty princes try
 Such condescension to perform:
 For worms were never rais'd so high,
 Above their meanest fellow-worm.

7 Oh! could our thankful heart devise
 A tribute equal to thy grace,
 To the third heav'n our songs should rise,
 And teach the golden harps thy praise.

XLVII. Glory and Grace in the person of Christ:

NOW to the Lord a noble song ;
 Awake, my soul ; awake my tongue ;
 Hosanna to th' Eternal Name !
 And all his boundless love proclaim.

1 See, where it shines in Jesus' face,
 The brightest image of his grace ;
 God, in the person of his Son,
 Has all his mightest works out-done.

2 The spacious earth, and spreading flood,
 Proclaim the wise and pow'rrful God ;
 And thy rich glories from afar,
 Sparkle in ev'ry rolling star.

3 But, in his looks, a glory stands,
 The noblest labour of thine hands ;
 The pleasing lustre of his eyes
 Outshines the wonders of the skies.

4 Grace ! 'tis a sweet, a charming theme ;
 My thoughts rejoice at Jesus' name ;
 Ye angels, dwell upon the sound ;
 Ye heav'ns, reflect it to the ground.

5 Oh, may I live to reach the place
 Where he unveils his lovely face—
 Where all his beauties you behold,
 And sing his name to harps of gold !

XLVIII. Love to the Creatures is dangerous.

HOW vain are all things here below !
 How false, and yet how fair !
 Each pleasure hath its poison too,
 And ev'ry sweet—a snare.

1 The brightest things below the sky
 Give but a flatt'ring light ;
 We should suspect some danger nigh,
 Where we possess delight.

- 3 Our dearest joys, and nearest friends,
The partners of our blood,
How they divide our wav'ring minds,
And leave but half for God !
- 4 The fondness of a creature's love,
How strong it strikes the sense !
Thither the warm affections move,
Nor can we call them thence.
- 5 Dear Saviour, let thy beauties be
My soul's eternal food ;
And grace command my heart away
From all created good.

XLIX. Moses dying in the Embraces of God.

DEATH cannot make our souls afraid,
If God be with us there ;
We may walk through the darkest shade,
And never yield to fear.

- 2 I could renounce my All below,
If my Creator bid ;
And run, if I were call'd to go,
And die, as Moses did.
- 3 Might I but climb to Pisgah's top,
And view the promis'd land,
My flesh itself should long to drop,
And pray for the command.
- 4 Clasp'd in my heav'nly Father's arms,
I would forget my breath ;
And lose my life among the charms
Of so divine a death.

L. Comforts under Sorrows and Pains.

NOW let the Lord, my Saviour, smile,
And shew my name upon his heart ;
I would forget my pains a while,
And in the pleasure, lose the smart.

- 2 But Oh ! it swells my sorrows high,
To see my blessed Jesus frown ;

My spirits sink my comforts die,
And all the springs of life are down.

3 Yet, Why? My soul, why these complaints?
Still, while he frowns his bowels move;
Still, on his heart, he bears his pains,
And feels his sorrows, and his love.

4 My name is printed on his breast;
His book of life contains my name:
I'd rather have it there impress'd,
Than in the bright records of fame.

5 When the last fire burns all things here,
Those letters shall securely stand;
And in the Lamb's fair book appear,
Writ by th' eternal Father's hand.

6 Now let my minutes smoothly run,
Whilst here I wait my Father's will;
My rising and my setting sun,
Roll gently up and down the hill.

LI. God the Son equal with the Father.

BRIGHT King of glory, dreadful God!
Our spirits bow before thy seat:
To thee we lift a humble thought,
And worship at thine awful feet.

[2 Thy pow'r hath form'd thy wisdom sways
All nature with a sov'reign word;
And the bright world of stars obeys
The will of their superior Lord.

3 Mercy and truth unite in one,
And, smiling sit at thy right hand:
Eternal justice guards thy throne,
And vengeance waits thy dread command.]

4 A thousand seraphs, strong and bright,
Stand round the glorious Deity;

But, who, amongst the sons of light,
Pretends comparison with Thee ?

5 Yet there is one of human frame,
Jesus array'd in flesh and blood,
Thinks it no robbery to claim
A full equality with God.

6 Their glory shines with equal beams ;
Their essence is forever one ;
Though they are known by diff'rent names,
The Father God, and God the Son.

7 Then let the name of Christ our King,
With equal honors be ador'd ;
His praise let ev'ry angel sing—
And all the nations own the Lord.

LII. Death, dreadful or delightful.

DEATH ! 'tis a melancholy day
To those who have no God.
When the poor soul is forc'd away
To seek her last abode.

2 In vain to heav'n she lifts her eyes ;
For guilt, a heavy chain.
Still drags her downward from the skies
To darkness, fire, and pain.

3 Awake, and mourn, ye heirs of hell
Let stubborn sinners fear ;
You must be driv'n from earth, and dwell
A long FOREVER there.

4 See how the pit gapes wide for you.
And flashes in your face :
And thou, my soul, look downwards too,
And sing recov'ring grace.

5 He is a God of sov'reign love,
Who promis'd heav'n to me,
And taught my thoughts to soar above,
Where happy spirits be.

6 Prepare me, Lord, for thy right-hand,
Then come the joyful day :
Come, death, and some celestial band,
To bear my soul away.

LIII. Saints' Pilgrimage, or Earth and Heaven.

LORD what a wretched land is this,
Which yields us no supply :
No cheering fruits, no wholesome trees,
No streams of Living joy !

2 But pricking thorns, through all the ground ;
And mortal poisons grow ;
And all the rivers which are found,
With dang'rous waters flow.

3 Yet the dear path to thine abode
Lies through this horrid land ;
Lord ! we would keep the heav'nly road,
And run at thy command.

4 Our souls shall tread the desert through
With undiverted feet :
And faith, and flaming zeal subdue
The terrors which we meet.

5 A thousand savage beasts of prey
Around the forest roam :
But Judah's Lion guards the way,
And guides the strangers home.

6 Long nights and darkness dwell below
With scarce a twinkling ray :
But the bright world, to which we go,
Is everlasting day.

7 By glim'ring hopes, and gloomy fears,
We trace the sacred road ;
Through dismal deeps, and dang'rous inares,
We make our way to God.

8 Our journey is a thorny maze,
But we march upward still ;

Forget these troubles of the way,
And reach at Zion's hill.

9 See the kind angels, at the gates,
Inviting us to come !

There Jesus, the Forerunner, waits
To welcome trav'lers home !

10 There, on a green and flow'ry mount,
Our weary souls shall sit

And, with transporting joys, recount
The labors of our feet.

11 No vain discourse shall fill our tongue,
Nor trifles vex our ear ;

Infinite grace shall fill our song,
And God delight to hear.

12 Eternal glories to the King

Who brought us safely through ;
Our tongues shall never cease to sing,
And endless praise renew.

LIV. God's presence is Light, in darkness.

MY God, the Spring of all my joys,
The life of my delights,
The glory of my brightest days,
And comfort of my nights !

2 In darkest shades, if he appear,
My dawning is begun !

He is my soul's sweet Morning Star,
And he—my rising Sun.

3 The op'ning heav'ns around me shine
With beams of sacred bliss,

While Jesus shews his heart is mine,
And whispers—I am his.

4 My soul would leave this heavy clay
At that transporting word ;

Run up, with joy, the shining way,
T' embrace my dearest Lord.

5 Fearless of hell, and ghastly death,
I'd break through ev'ry foe ;
The wings of love, and arms of faith,
Should bear me conqu'ror, through.

LV. Frail life and succeeding Eternity.

THEE, we adore, eternal Name—
And humbly own to Thee,
How feeble is our mortal frame ;
What dying worms are we !

2 Our wasting lives grow shorter still
As months and days increase ;
And ev'ry beating pulse we tell,
Leaves but the number less.

3 The year rolls round, and steals away
The breath which first it gave ;
White'er we do, where'er we be,
We're trav'ling to the grave.

4 Dangers stand thick through all the ground,
To push us to the tomb ;
And fierce diseases wait around,
To hurry mortals home.

5 Good God ! on what a slender thread
Hang everlasting things !
Th' eternal states of all the dead
Upon life's feeble strings !

6 Infinite joy, or endless woe,
Attends on ev'ry breath ;
And yet how unconcern'd we go
Upon the brink of death !

Waken. O Lord. our drowfy sense
To run this dang'rous road ;
And, 'if our souls are hurry'd hence,
May they be found with God.

LVI. Vain Prosperity.

NO ! I shall envy them no more
Who grow profanely great,

- Though they increafe their golden store,
And rife to wond'rous height.
- 2 They tafte of all the joys which grow
Upon this earthly clod !
Well they may fearch the creature through,
For they have ne'er a God.
- 3 Shake off the thoughts of dying too,
And think your life your own ;
But death comes haft'ning on to you,
To mow your glory down.
- 4 Yes—you must bow your ftately head ;
Away your fpirit flies ;
And no kind angel near your bed,
To bear it to the skies.
- 5 Go now and boast of all your ftore—
And tell how bright they fhine ;
Your heaps of glitt'ring duft are your's,
And my Redeemer's mine !

LVII. The pleaſure of a good Conſcience.

- LORD, how ſecure and bleſt are they
Who feel the joys of pardon'd ſin !
Should ſtorms of wrath ſhake earth and ſea,
Their minds have heav'n and peace within.
- 2 The day glides ſweetly o'er their heads,
Made up of innocence and love ;
And ſoft and ſilent as the ſhades,
Their nightly minutes gently move.
- 3 Quick as their thoughts their joys come on,
But fly not half ſo faſt away :
Their ſouls are ever bright as noon,
And calm as ſummer ev'nings be.
- 4 How oft they look to th' heav'nly hills,
Where groves of living pleaſure grow !
And longing hopes, and cheerful ſmiles
Sit, undiſturb'd, upon their brow.

5 They scorn to seek our golden toys ;
 But spend the day, and share the night
 In numb'ring o'er the richer joys
 Which heav'n prepares for their delight.

6 While wretched we, like worms and moles,
 Lie grov'ling in the dust below ;
 Almighty grace, renew our souls,
 And we'll aspire to glory too.

LVIII. Shortness of Life, and goodness of God.

TIME ! What an empty vapor 'tis !
 And days how swift they are !
 Swift, as an Indian arrow flies
 Or like a shooting star.

2 The present moments just appear,
 Then slide away, in haste ;
 That we can never say—they're here ;
 But only say—they're past.

3 Our life is ever on the wing,
 And death is ever nigh ;
 The moment when our lives begin,
 We all begin to die.

4 Yet, mighty God ! our fleeting days
 Thy lasting favours share ;
 Yet, with the bounties of thy grace,
 Thou load'st the rolling year.

5 'Tis sov'reign mercy finds us food,
 And we are cloth'd with love :
 While grace stands pointing out the road,
 Which leads our souls above.

6 His goodness runs an endless round—
 All glory to the Lord :
 His mercy never knows a bound—
 And be his name ador'd.

7 Thus we begin the lasting song ;
 And when we close our eyes ;

Let ages down thy praise prolong,
'Til time and nature dies.

LIX. Paradise on Earth.

GLORY to God, who walks the sky,
And sends his blessings through—
Who tells his saints of joys on high—
And gives a taste below.

2 Glory to God, who stoops his throne,
That dust and worms may see't,
And brings a glimpse of glory down
Around his sacred feet.

3 When Christ, with all his graces crown'd,
Sheds his kind beams abroad,
'Tis a young heav'n on earthly ground,
And glory in the bud.

4 A blooming paradise of joy
In this wild desert springs;
And ev'ry sense I straight employ
On sweet celestial things.

5 White lilies all around appear,
And each his glory shows!
The Rose of Sharon blossoms here,
The fairest flow'r which blows.

6 Cheerful I feast on heav'nly fruit,
And drink the pleasures down;
Pleasures which flow hard by the foot
Of the eternal throne!

7 But, ah! how soon my joys decay—
How soon my sins arise—
And snatch the heav'nly scence away
From these lamenting eyes!

8 When shall the time, dear Jesus, when
The shining day appear,
That I shall leave those clouds of sin,
And guilt and darkness here.

9 Up to the fields above the skies,
 My hasty feet would go—
 There everlasting flow'rs arise,
 And joys, unwith'ring, grow.

LX. The Truth of God, the Promiser.

PRAISE, everlasting praise, be paid
 To Him who earth's foundation laid;
 Praise to the God, whose strong decrees,
 Sway the creation as he please.

2 Praise to the goodness of the Lord,
 Who rules his people by his word;
 And there, as strong as his decrees,
 He sets his kindest promises.

[3 Firm are the words his prophets give—
 Sweet words, on which his children live;
 Each of them is the voice of God
 Who spake, and spread the skies abroad.

4 Each of them pow'rful as that sound
 Which bid the new-made heav'ns go round;
 And stronger than the solid poles
 On which the wheel of nature rolls.]

5 Whence then should doubts and fears arise?
 Why trick'ling sorrows drown our eyes?
 Slowly, alas! our mind receives
 The comforts which our Maker gives.

6 Oh, for a strong a lasting faith,
 To credit what th' Almighty saith!
 T' embrace the message of his Son,
 And call the joys of heav'n our own.

7 Then should the earth's old pillars shake,
 And all the wheels of nature break;
 Our steady souls shall fear no more
 Than solid rocks, when billows roar.

8 Our everlasting hopes arise
 Above the ruinable skies;

Where the eternal Builder reigns,
And his own courts his power sustains.

LXI. A thought of Death and Glory.

MY soul, come, meditate the day,
And think how near it stands,
When thou must quit this house of clay,
And fly to unknown lands.

2 And you, mine eyes, look down and view
The hollow gaping tomb;
This gloomy prison waits for you,
Whene'er the summons come.

3 Oh! could we die with those who die,
And place us in their stead;
Then would our spirits learn to fly,
And converse with the dead.

4 Then should we see the saints above,
In their own glor'ous forms,
And wonder why our souls should love
To dwell with mortal worms!

5 How we should scorn these clothes of flesh,
These fetters, and this load;
And long for ev'ning, to undress,
That we may rest with God.

6 We should almost forsake our clay
Before the summons come;
And pray, and wish our souls away
To their eternal home.

LXII. *God, the Thunder: or, the last Judgment and Hell.

SING to the Lord, ye heav'nly hosts,
And thou, O earth, adore:

* *Made in a great sudden Storm of Thunder,
August 20th, 1697.*

Let death and hell, through all their coasts,
Stand trembling at his pow'r.

2 His founding chariot shakes the sky ;
He makes the clouds his throne ;
There all his stores of light'ning lie,
Till vengeance darts them down.

3 His nostrils breathe out fiery streams—
And, from his awful tongue
A sov'reign voice divides the flames,
And thunder roars along !

4 Think, O my soul, the dreadful day,
When this incensed God
Shall rend the sky and burn the sea,
And fling his wrath abroad ;

5 What shall the wretch, the sinner do ?
He once confy'd the Lord :
But he shall dread the Thund'rer now,
And sink beneath his word.

6 Tempests of angry fire shall roll
To blast the rebel worm :
And beat upon his naked soul
In one eternal storm.

LXIII. A Funeral Thought

HARK ! from the tombs a dolcful sound ;

My ears, attend the cry—

“ Ye living men, come, view the ground

“ Where you must shortly lie.

2 “ Princes, this clay must be your bed,

“ In spite of all your tow'rs ;

“ The tall, the wise, the rev'rend head

“ Must lie as low as our's.”

3 Great God, is this our certain doom ?

And are we still secure !

Still walking downwards to our tomb,
And yet prepare no more ?

4. Grant us the pow'rs of quick'ning grace,
To fit our souls to fly ;
Then when we drop this dying flesh,
We'll rise above the sky.

LXIV. God the Glory and Defence of Zion.

HAPPY the church, thou sacred place,
The seat of thy Creator's grace ;
Thine holy courts are his abode :
Thou earthly palace of our God.

2 Thy walls are strength and at thy gates,
A guard of heav'nly warriors waits ;
Nor shall thy deep foundations move,
Fix'd on his counsels, and his love.

3 Thy foes in vain designs engage ;
Against his throne, in vain they rage !
Like rising waves with angry roar,
Which dash, and die upon the shore.

4 Then let our souls in Zion dwell,
Nor fear the wrath of Rome or hell ;
His arms embrace this happy ground,
Like brazen bulwarks built around.

5 God is our shield, and God our sun ;
Swift as the fleeting moments run,
On us he sheds new beams of grace,
And we reflect his brightest praise.

LXV. The Hopes of Heaven, or Support under Trials on Earth.

WHEN I can read my title clear
To mansions in the skies,
I bid farewell to ev'ry fear,
And wipe my weeping eyes.

2 Should earth against my soul engage,
And hellish darts be hurl'd,

Then I can smile at Satan's rage,
And face a frowning world.

3 Let cares, like a wild deluge, come,
And storms of sorrow fall;
May I but safely reach my home,
My God, my heav'n, my All.

4 There shall I bathe my weary soul
In seas of heav'nly rest
And not a wave of trouble roll
Across my peaceful breast.

LXVI. A prospect of Heaven makes death easy.

THERE is a land of pure delight,
Where saints immortal reign;
Infinite day excludes the night,
And pleasures banish pain.

2 There everlasting spring abides,
And never-with'ring flow'rs;
Death, like a narrow sea divides
This heav'nly land from ours.

[3 Sweet fields, beyond the swelling flood,
Stand drest in living green:
So, to the Jews, old Canaan stood,
While Jordan roll'd between.]

4 But tim'rous mortals start and shrink,
To cross this narrow sea,
And linger, shiv'ring on the brink,
Through fear to launch away.

5 Oh! could we make our doubts remove,
Those gloomy doubts that rise—
And see the Canaan, which we love,
With unobscured eyes.

6 Could we but climb where Moses stood,
And view the landscape o'er;

Not Jordan's streams, nor death's cold flood,
Should fright us from the shore.

LXVII. God's Eternal Dominion.

GREAT God! how infinite art thou!
What worthless worms are we!
Let the whole race of creatures bow,
And pay their praise to Thee.

2 Thy throne eternal ages stood,
E'er seas or stars were made!
Thou art the ever-living God,
Were all the nations dead.

3 Nature and time quite naked lie
To thine immense survey,
From the formation of the sky,
To the great burning-day.

4 Eternity with all its years,
Stands present in thy view,
To Thee, there's nothing old appears—
Great God! there's nothing new.

5 Our lives through various scenes are drawn,
And vex'd with trifling cares;
While thine eternal thought moves on
Thine undisturb'd affairs.

6 Great God! how infinite art Thou!
What worthless worms are we!
Let the whole race of creatures bow,
And pay their praise to Thee.

LXVIII. The humble Worship of Heavens.

FATHER, I long, I faint to see
The place of thine abode!
I'd leave thy earthly courts, and flee
Up to thy seat, my God!

2 Here I behold thy distant face,
And 'tis a pleasing sight.

But to abide in thine embrace,
Is infinite delight!

3 I'd part with all the joys of sense,
To gaze upon thy throne;
Pleasure springs fresh forever thence,
Unspeakable, unknown.

4 There all the heav'nly hosts are seen;
In shining ranks they move;
And drink immortal vigor in,
With wonder, and with love.

5 Then at thy feet with awful fear,
Th' adoring armies fall!
With joy they shrink to NOTHING there,
Before th' eternal ALL.

6 There I would vie with all the hosts
In duty and in bliss;
While le's than nothing I could boast,
*And vanity confess.

7 The more thy glories strike mine eyes,
The humbler I shall lie;
Thus, while I sing, my joys shall rise
Unmeasurably high.

LXIX. The Faithfulness of God in the Promises.

BEGIN, my tongue, some heav'nly theme
And speak some boundless thing;
The mighty works, or might'cr name
Of our eternal King,

2 Tell of his wond'rous faithfulness,
And sound his pow'r abroad;
Sing the sweet promise of his grace,
And the performing God.

3 Proclaim salvation from the Lord,
For wretched dying men;
* Ia. xi. 17.

His hand has writ the sacred word
With an immortal pen.

4 Engrav'd as in eternal brass,
The mighty promise shines ;
Nor can the pow'rs of darkness raise
Those everlasting lines.

5 He, who can dash whole worlds to death,
And make them, when he please ;
But speaks—and that Almighty breath
Fulfils his great decrees.

6 His very word of grace is strong
As that which built the skies ;
The voice, which rolls the stars along,
Speaks all the promises.

7 He said—Let the wide heav'n be spread ;
And heav'n was stretch'd abroad ;
Abra'm—I'll be thy God—he said—
And he was Abra'm's God.

8 Oh, might I hear thine heav'nly tongue
But whisper—thou art mine !
Those gentle words should raise my song
To notes almost divine.

9 How would my leaping heart rejoice,
And think my heav'n secure ?
I'd trust the All-creating voice,
And faith desires no more.]

LXX. God's Dominion over the Sea, Ps. cvii.

GOD of the seas, thy thund'ring voice
Makes all the roaring waves rejoice ;
And one soft word of thy command,
Can sink them, silent, in the sand.

2 If but a Moses wave thy rod,
The sea divides, and owns its God ;
The stormy floods their Maker knew,
And led his chosen armies through.

3 The scaly flocks, amidst the sea,
To Thee, their Lord, a tribute pay :
The meanest fish, which swims the flood,
Leaps up, and means a praise to God.

[4 The larger monsters of the deep,
On thy commands attendance keep :
By thy permission, sport and play,
And cleave along their foaming way.

5 If God his voice of tempest rears,
Leviathan lies still, and fears ;
Anon he lifts his nostrils high,
And spouts the ocean to the sky.]

6 How is thy glor'ous pow'r ador'd
Amidst these wat'ry nations, Lord !
Yet the bold men who trace the seas,
Bold men refuse their Maker's praise,

[7 What scenes of miracles they see,
And never tune a song to Thee !
While on the flood they safely ride,
They curse the hand which smoothes the tide.

8 Anon they plunge in wat'ry graves,
And some drink death among the waves ;
Yet the surviving crew blaspheme
Nor own the God who rescu'd them.]

9 Oh ! for some signal of thy hand !
Shake all the seas ; Lord shake the Land :
Great Judge descend ! lest men deny
That there's a God who rules the sky.

LXXI. Praise to God from all Creatures.

THE glories of my Maker, God,
My joyful voice shall sing,
And call the nations to adore
Their Former, and their King.

3 'Twas his right hand which shap'd our clay
And wrought this human frame ;

But from his own immediate breath
Our nobler spirits came.

3 We bring our mortal pow'rs to God,
And worship with our tongues :

We claim some kindred with the skies,
And join th' angelic songs.

4 Let grov'ling beasts, of ev'ry shape,
And fowls of ev'ry wing,
And rocks, and trees, and fires and seas
Their various tribute bring.

5 Ye planets, to his honor shine ;
And wheels of nature, roll ;
Praise him in your unweary'd course
Around the steady pole.

6 The brightness of our Maker's name
The wide creation fills,
And his unbounded grandeur lies
Beyond the heav'nly hills.

LXXII. The Lord's day ; or, the Resurrection of Christ.

BLEST morning, whose young dawning rays,
Beheld our rising God ;
Which saw him triumph o'er the dust,
And leave his last abode !

2 In the cold prison of a tomb
The dead Redeemer lay ;
Till the revolving skies had brought
The third, th' appointed day.

3 Hell, and the grave, unite their force
To hold our God, in vain ;
The sleeping Conqueror arose,
And burst their feeble chain.

4 To thy great name, Almighty Lord,
These sacred hours we pay
And loud Hosannas shall proclaim
The triumph of the day.

- 5 Salvation and immortal praise
 To our victor'ous King;
 Let heav'n, and earth, and rocks, and seas,
 With glad hosannas ring.

HENCE, from my soul, sad thoughts, be gone
 And leave me to my joys;
 My tongue shall triumph in my God;
 And make a joyful noise.

2 Darkness and doubts had veil'd my mind,
 And drown'd my head in tears;
 Till sov'reign grace, with shining rays,
 Dispel'd my gloomy fears.

3 Oh! what immortal joys I felt,
 And raptures, all divine—
 When Jesus told me—I was his,
And my Beloved mine!

4 In vain the tempter frights my soul,
 And breaks my peace, in vain;
 One glimpse dear Saviour, of thy face,
 Revives my joys again.

LXXIV. A Complaint of Ingratitude

IS this the kind return?
 And these the thanks we owe?
 Thus to abuse eternal love,
 Whence all our blessings flow!

2 To what a stubborn frame
 Has sin reduc'd our mind!
 What strange, rebellious, wretches we,
 And God—as strangely kind!

3 On us, he bids the sun
 Shed his reviving rays;
 For us the skies their circles run,
 To lengthen out our days.

- 4 The brutes obey their God,
 And bow their necks to men:
 But we, more base, more brutish things,
 Reject his easy reign.
- 5 Turn, turn us, mighty God;
 And mould our souls afresh;
 Break, Sov'reign Grace, these hearts of stone,
 And give us hearts of flesh.
- 6 Let old ingratitude
 Provoke our weeping eyes;
 And hourly, as new mercies fall,
 Let hourly thanks arise.

LXXV. The beatific sight of Christ.

- FROM Thee my God, my joys shall rise,
 And run eternal rounds;
 Beyond the limits of the skies,
 And all created bounds.
- 2 The holy triumphs of my soul
 Shall death itself outbrave
 Leave dull mortality behind,
 And fly beyond the grave.
- 3 There, where my blessed Jesus reigns,
 In heav'n's unmeasur'd space,
 I'll spend a long eternity
 In pleasure, and in praise.
- 4 Millions of years my wand'ring eyes
 Shall o'er thy beauties rove,
 And endless ages, I'll adore
 The glories of thy love.
- 5 Sweet Jesus! ev'ry smile of thine
 Shall fresh endearments bring,
 And thousand tastes of new delights
 From all thy graces spring.
- 6 Haste, my Beloved, fetch my soul
 Up to thy blest abode;

Fly, for my spirit longs to see
My Saviour and my God.

LXXVI. Resurrection and Ascension of Christ.

HOSANNA to the Prince of light,
Who cloth'd himself in clay ;
Heater'd the iron gates of death,
And tore the bars away.

2 Death is no more the king of dread,
Since our Immanuel rose ;
He took the tyrant's sling away,
And spoil'd our hellish foes.

3 See, how the Conqu'ror mounts aloft,
And to his Father flies !
With scars of honor in his flesh,
And triumph in his eyes.

4 There our exalted Saviour reigns,
And scatters blessings down ;
Our Jesus fills the middle seat
Of the celestial throne,

5 Raise your devotion, mortal tongues,
To reach this blest'd abode ;
Sweet be the accents of your songs
To our incarnate God.

6 Bright angels, strike your loudest strings,
Your sweetest voices raise ;
Let heav'n and all created things,
Sound our Immanuel's praise.

LXXVII. The christian Warfare.

STAND up, my soul, shake off thy fears,
And gird the gospel armour on ;
March to the gates of endless joy ;
Where thy great Captain-Saviour's gone.

2 Hell, and thy sins resist thy course ;
But hell and sin are vanquish'd foes ;

Thy Jesus nail'd them to the cross,
And sang the triumph, when he rose.

[3 What though the prince of darkness rage,

And waste the fury of his spite ?

Eternal chains confine him down
To fiery deeps, and endless night.

4 What though thine inward lusts rebel ?

'Tis but a struggling gasp for life ;

The weapons of victor'ous grace
Shall slay thy sins, and end the strife.]

5 Then let my soul march boldly on,

Press forward to the heav'nly gate ;

There peace and joy eternal reign,

And glitt'ring robes, for conquerors, wait.

6 Their shall I wear a starry crown,

And triumph in almighty grace ;

While all the armies of the skies

Join in my glor'ous Leader's praise.

LXXVIII. Redemption by Christ.

WHEN the first parents of our race

Rebell'd, and lost their God,

And the infection of their sin

Had tainted all our blood.

2 Infinite pity touch'd the heart

Of the eternal Son ;

Descending from the heav'nly court,

He left his Father's throne.

3 Aside the Prince of glory threw

His most divine array ;

And wrapp'd his God-head in a veil

Of our inferior clay.

4 His living pow'r, and dying love,

Redeem'd unhappy men ;

And rais'd the ruins of our race

To life, and God, again.

5 To thee, dear Lord, our flesh and soul
We joyfully resign ;
Blest Jesus, take us for thy own,
For we are doubly thine.

6 Thine honor shall forever be
The bus'ness of our days,
Forever shall our thankful tongues
Speak thy deserved praise.

LXXIX. Praise to the Redeemer.

PLUNG'D in a gulph of dark despair,
We, wretched sinners, lay ;
Without one cheerful beam of hope,
Or spark of glim'ring day.

2 With pitying eyes, the Prince of grace
Beheld our helpless grief ;
He saw—and (O ! amazing love !)
He ran to our relief.

3 Down from the shining seats above,
With joyful haste he fled,
Enter'd the grave, in mortal flesh,
And dwelt among the dead.

4 He spoil'd the pow'rs of darkness thus,
And brake our iron chains ;
Jesus has freed our captive souls,
From everlasting pains.

[5 In vain the baffled prince of hell,
His cursed projects tries ;
We, who were doom'd his endless slaves,
Are rais'd above the skies.]

6 Oh ! for this love, let rocks and hills
Their lasting silence break,
And all harmon'ous human tongues,
The Saviour's praises speak.

7 Yes—we will praise thee, dearest Lord,
Our souls are all on flame ;

Hofanna, round the spacious earth,
To thine adored name!

8 Angels, assist our mighty joys,
Strike all your harps of gold :
But when you raise your highest notes,
His love can ne'er be told.]

LXXX. God's awful power and Goodness.

OH ! the Almighty Lord !
How matchless is his pow'r !
Tremble, O earth, beneath his word,
While all the heav'ns adore.

2 Let proud imper'ous kings,
Bow low before his throne !
Crouch to his feet, ye haughty things,
Or he will tread you down.

3 Above the skies he reigns,
And with amazing blows,
He deals insufferable pains
On his rebell'ous foes.

4 Yet, everlasting God,
We love to speak thy praise ;
Thy sceptre's equal to thy rod,
The sceptre of thy grace.

5 The arms of mighty love
Defend our Zion well ;
And heav'nly mercy walls us round
From Babylon and hell.

6 Salvation to the King
Who sits enthron'd above :
Thus we adore the God of might,
And bless the God of love.

LXXXI. Our sin the Cause of Christ's death.

AND now the scales have left mine eyes ;
Now I begin to see :

- Oh, the curs'd deeds my sins have done !
 What murd'rous things they be !
- 2 Were these the traitors, dearest Lord,
 Which thy fair body tore ?
 Monsters, that stain'd those heav'nly limbs
 With floods of purple gore !
- 3 Was it for crimes which I had done,
 My dearest Lord was slain !
 When justice seiz'd God's only Son,
 And put his soul to pain ?
- 4 Forgive my guilt, O Prince of peace !
 I'll wound my God no more :
 Hence, from my heart, ye sins, be gone,
 For Jesus I adore
- 5 Furnish me, Lord, with heav'nly arms
 From grace's magazine ;
 And I'll proclaim eternal war
 With ev'ry darling sin.

LXXXII. Redemption and Protection from Spiritual Enemies.

- ARISE, my soul, my joyful pow'rs,
 And triumph in my God :
 Awake, my voice, and loud proclaim
 His glorious grace abroad.
- 2 He rais'd me from the deeps of sin,
 The gates of gaping hell ;
 And fix'd my standing more secure
 Than 'twas before I fell.
- 3 The arms of everlasting love
 Beneath my soul he plac'd,
 And, on the Rock of Ages, set
 My slipp'ry footsteps fast.
- 4 The city of my bless'd abode
 Is wall'd around with grace ;

Salvation for a bulwark, stands
To shield the sacred place.

5 Satan may vent his sharpest spite,
And all his legions roar ;

Almighty mercy guards my life,
And bounds his raging pow'r.

6 Arise, my soul, awake, my voice,
And tunes of pleasure sing ;

Loud hallelujahs shall address
My Saviour, and my King.

LXXXIII. The passion and Exaltation of Christ

THUS saith the Ruler of the skies—
“Awake, my dreadful sword ;

“Awake, my wrath, and smite the man,
“My fellow (saith the Lord,)”

1 Vengeance receiv'd the dread command,
And, armed, down she flies !

Jesus submitst' his Father's hand,
And bows his head, and dies.

2 But, oh ! the wisdom, and the grace
Which join with vengeance now !

He dies, to save our guilty race,
And yet he rises too.

3 A person, so divine, was he,
Who yielded to be slain,

That he could give his soul away,
And take his life again.

4 Live, glorious Lord, and reign on high ;
Let ev'ry nation sing,

And angels sound, with endless joy,
The Saviour and the King.

LXXXIV. The same.

COME, all harmon'ous tongues,
Your noblest music bring ;

'Tis Christ, the Everlasting God,
And Christ, the man we sing.

2 Tell how he took our flesh,
To take away our guilt;

Sing the dear drops of sacred blood,
Which hellish monsters spit.

[3 Alas ! the cruel spear
Went deep into his side ;

And the rich blood of purple gore,
Their murd'rous weapons dy'd.]

4 The waves of swelling grief
Did o'er his bosom roll :

And mountains of Almighty wrath
Lay heavy on his soul.

5 Down to the shades of death
He bow'd his awful head ;

Yet he arose to live and reign
When death itself is dead.

6 No more the bloody spear ;
The cross and nails no more ;

For hell, itself, shakes at his name,
And all the heav'ns adore.

7 There the Redeemer sits,
High on his Father's throne ;

The Father lays his vengeance by,
And smiles upon his Son.

8 There his full glories shine
With uncreated rays ;

And bless his saints' and angels' eyes,
To everlasting days.

LXXXV. Sufficiency of Pardon.

WHY does your face, ye humble souls,
Those mournful colours wear ?

What doubts are these which waste your faith,
And nourish your despair ?

2 What though your num'rous sins exceed
The stars which fill the skies

And aiming at th' eternal throne,
Like pointed mountains, rise !

3 What though your mighty guilt, beyond
The wide creation swell,

And has its curs'd foundations laid
Low as the depths of hell !

4 See here an endless ocean flows
Of never-failing grace !

Behold a dying Saviour's veins
The sacred flood increase !

5 It rises high, and drowns the hills,
Has neither shore nor bound !:

Now if we search to find our sins,
Our sins can ne'er be found.

6 Awake our hearts, adore the grace
That buries all our faults,

And pard'ning blood, which swells above
Our follies, and our thoughts.

LXXXVI. Freedom from sin and misery, in heav'n.

OUR sins, alas ! how strong they be !
And, like a vi'lent sea,

They break our duty, Lord, to thee,
And hurry us away.

2 The waves of trouble, how they rise !
How loud the tempests roar !

But death shall land our weary souls
Safe on the heav'nly shore.

3 There, to fulfil his sweet commands,
Our speedy feet shall move ;

No sin shall clog our winged zeal,
Or cool our burning love.

- 4 There shall we sit, and sing and tell
The wonders of his grace ;
'Till heav'nly raptures fire our hearts,
And smile in ev'ry face.
- 5 For ever, His dear sacred name
Shall dwell upon our tongue ;
And Je us and salvation be
The close of ev'ry song.

LXXXVII. Divine Glories above our Reason.

- HOW wond'rous great ! how glor'ous bright
Must our Creator be !
Who dwells amidst the dazzling light
Of vast infinity !
- 2 Our soaring spirits upward rise
Tow'rd the celestial throne :
Fain would we see the blessed THREE,
And the Almighty ONE.
- 3 Our reason stretches all its wings,
And climbs above the skies ;
But still how far beneath thy feet
Our grov'ling reason lies !
- [4 Lord, here we bend our humble souls,
And awfully adore :
For the weak pin'ons of our minds
Can stretch a thought no more.
- 5 Thy glories infinitely rise
Above our lab'ring tongue ;
In vain the highest seraph tries
To form an equal song.
- [6 In humble notes our faith adores
The great myster'ous King,
While angels strain their nob'ler pow'rs,
And sweep th' immortal string.]

LXXXVIII. Salvation,

SALVATION ! Oh, the joyful sound !
'Tis pleasure to our ears ;

A sov'reign balm for ev'ry wound,
A cordial for our fears.

2 Bury'd in sorrow, and in sin,
At hell's dark door we lay ;
But we arise, by Grace divine,
To see a heav'nly day.

3 Salvation ! let the echo fly
The spacious earth around.
While all the armies of the sky,
Conspire to raise the sound.

LXXXIX. Christ's Victory over Satan.

HOSANNA to our conqu'ring King !
The prince of darkness flies :
His troops rush head long down to hell,
Like light'ning from the skies.

2 There, bound in chains, the lions roar,
And fright the rescu'd sheep ;
But heavy bars confine their pow'r
And malice to the deep.

3 Hosanna to our conqu'ring King !
All hail incarnate love !
Ten thousand songs and glories wait
To crown thy head above.

4 Thy vict'ries, and thy deathless fame
Through the wide world shall run ;
And everlasting ages sing
The triumphs thou hast won.

XC. Faith in Christ for pardon and justification.

HOW sad our state, by nature, is !
Our sin, how deep it stains !
And satan binds our captive minds
Fast in his slavish chains.

2 But thers's a voice of sov'reign grace,
Sounds from the sacred word ;

*Ho ! ye despairing sinners, come,
And trust upon the Lord*

- 3 My soul obeys th' Almighty calls,
And runs to this relief ;
I would believe thy promise, Lord ;
Oh help my unbelief.
- [4 To the dear fountain of thy blood,
Incarnate God I fly ;
Here let me wash my spotted soul
From crimes of deepest die.
- 5 Stretch out thine arm victo'rous King ;
My reigning sins subdue ;
Drive the old dragon from his seat,
With all his hellish crew.
- 6 A guilty, weak, and helpless worm
On thy kind arms I fall ;
Be thou my strength, and righteousness.
My Jesus and my All !

XCI. The glory of Christ in Heaven.

OH, the delights, the heav'nly joys,
The glories of the place.
Where Jesus sheds the brightest beams
Of his o'erflowing grace !

- 5 Sweet majesty, and awful love
Sit smiling on his brow ;
And all the glorious ranks above
At humble distance bow.
- [3 Princes, to his imper'al name
Bend their bright sceptres down ;
Dominions, thrones, and pow'rs rejoice
To see him wear the crown.
- 4 Archangels sound his lofty praise
Through ev'ry heav'nly street ;
And lay their highest honors down
Submissive, at his feet.

- 5 Those soft, those blessed feet of his,
Which once rude iron tore,
High on a throne of light they stand
And all the saints adore.
- 6 His head, that dear majestic head,
Which cruel thorns did wound,
See what immortal glories shine,
And circle it around.
- 7 This is the Man, th' exalted Man,
Whom we unseen adore !
But when our eyes behold his face,
Our hearts shall love him more.
- 8 Lord ! how our souls are all on fire
To see thy blest abode :
Our tongues rejoice, in tunes of praise !
To our incarnate God !
- 9 And while our faith enjoys the sight,
We long to leave our clay ;
And wish thy fiery char'ots, Lord,
To fetch our souls away.

XCII. The Church saved, and her enemies disappointed ; or, deliverance from Treason

SHOUT to the Lord, and let your joys,
Through all the nations run ;
Ye Western skies, resound the noise
Beyond the rising sun.

- 4 Thee, Mighty God, our souls admire,
Thee, our glad voices sing :
And join with the celestial choir,
To praise th' eternal king.
- 2 Thy pow'r the whole creation rules,
And on the starry skies,
Sits smiling at the weak designs
Thine envious foes devise.
- 4 Thy scorn derides their feeble rage,
And, with an awful frown,

Flings vast confusion on their plots,
And shakes their Babel down.

5 Their secret fires in caverns lay,
And we the sacrifice ;

But gloomy caverns strove, in vain-
To 'scape All-searching eyes.

6 Their dark designs were all reveal'd :
Their treasons all betray'd :

Praise to the Lord, who broke the snare
Their cursed hands had laid.]

7 In vain the busy sons of hell
Still new rebellions try ;

Their souls shall pine with env'ous rage,
And vex away and die.

8 Almighty grace defends our land
From their malicious pow'r ;

Let Zion with united songs,
Almighty grace adore.

XCIII. God All, and in All, Psalm lxxiii. 25.

MY God, my life, my love,
To Thee, to Thee I call ;

I cannot live, if thou remove ;
For thou art All in All.

[1 Thy shining grace can cheer
This dungeon where I dwell,

'Tis paradise when thou art here ;
If thou depart 'tis hell.]

2 The smilings of thy face,
How am'able they are !

'Tis heav'n, to rest in thine embrace,
And no where else, but there.

4 To Thee and Thee alone,
The angels owe their bliss ;

They sit around thy gracious throne,
And dwell where Jesus is.

- 5 Not all the harps above
Can make a heav'nly place,
If God his residence remove,
Or but conceal his face.
- 6 Nor earth nor all the sky,
Can one delight afford ;
No, not a drop of real joy.
Without thy presence, Lord.
- 7 Thou art the Sea of Love,
Where all my pleasures roll ;
The circle where my passions move
And centre of my soul.
- 8 To Thee my spirits fly
With restless warm desire ;
And yet how far from Thee I lie !
Dear Jesus, raise me high'r.

XCIV. God my only happiness, Psal. lxxiii. 19

MY God, my portion, and my love,
My everlasting Aid !
I've none but Thee in heav'n above,
Or on this earthly ball.

- 1 What empty things are all the skies,
And this inferior world !
There's nothing here deserves my joys ;
There's nothing like my God.
- 2 In vain the bright the burning sun
Scatters his feeble light ;
'Tis thy sweet beams create my noon ;
If thou withdraw, 'tis night.
- 3 And while upon my restless bed
Among the shades I roll ;
If my redeemer shews his head,
'Tis morning with my soul.
- 4 To Thee I owe my wealth and friends,
And health, and safe abode ;

Thanks to thy name for meaner things,
But they are not my God.

6 How vain a toy is glittering wealth,
if once compar'd to Thee !

Or what's my safety or my health,
Or all my friends to me ?

7 Were I possessor of the earth,
and call'd the stars my own ;
Without thy graces, and thyself,
I were a wretch undone.

8 Let others stretch their arms, like seas,
And grasp in all the shore ;
Grant me the visits of thy face,
And I desire no more.

XCV. Look on him whom they pierced, and mourn.

INFINITE grief ! amazing woe !
Behold my bleeding Lord !
Hell and the Jews conspire his death.
And use the Roman sword.

2 Oh ! the sharp pangs of smarting pain
My dear Redeemer bore.
When knotty whips, and ragged thorns,
His sacred body tore !

3 But knotty whips and ragged thorns,
in vain do I accuse ;
In vain I blame the Roman hands,
And the more spiteful Jews !

4 'Twere you, my sins, my cruel sins,
His chief tormentors were ;
Each of my crimes became a nail ;
And unbelief—the spear.

5 'Twere you that pull'd the vengeance down
Upon his guiltless head :

Break, break my heart—oh, burst mine eyes,
And let my sorrows bleed !

6 Strike mighty grace, my flinty soul,
'Till melting waters flow ;
And deep repentance drown mine eyes
In undiscern'd woe !

XCVI. Angels punished, and Man saved.

DOWN, headlong, from their native skies,
The rebel-angels fell ;
And thunder-bolts of flaming wrath
Pursu'd them deep to hell.

2 Down from the top of earthly bliss
Rebell'ous man was hurl'd ;
And Jesus stoop'd beneath the grave,
To reach a sinking world.

3 Oh' love of infinite degrees !
Unmeasurable grace !
Must heav'n's eternal darling die,
To save a trait'rous race ?

5 Must angels sink forever down,
And burn in quenchless fire ;
While God forsakes his shining throne,
To raise us wretches high'r ?

5 Oh, for this love let earth and skies,
With hallelujah's ring.
And the full choir of human tongues
All hallelujah's sing !

—XCVII.—The same—

FROM heav'n the sinning angels fell,
And wrath and darkness chain'd 'em down
But man, wife man, forsook his bliss,
And mercy lifts him to a crown !

2 Amazing work of sov'reign grace,
Which could distinguish rebels so :

Our guilty treasons call'd aloud
For everlasting fetters, too.

3 To Thee, to Thee, almighty Love,
Our souls, ourselves, our all we pay:
Millions of tongues shall sound thy praise
On the bright hills of heav'nly day.

XCVIII. Hardness of heart Complained of.

MY heart, how dreadful hard it is!
How heavy here it lies!
Heavy and cold within my breast,
Just like a rock of ice!

2 Sin, like a raging tyrant, sits
Upon this flinty throne:
And ev'ry grace lies bury'd deep,
Beneath this heart of stone.

3 How seldom do I rise to God,
Or taste the joys above!
This mountain presses down my faith,
And chills my flaming love.

4 When smiling mercy courts my soul
With all its heav'nly charms,
This stubborn, this relentless thing,
Would thrust it from my arms.

5 Against the thunders of thy word,
Rebell'ous I have stood;
My heart, it shakes not at the wrath
And terrors of a God.

6 Dear Saviour, steep this rock of mine,
In thine own crimson sea!
None but a bath of blood divine
Can melt the flint away.

XCIX. The Book of God's decrees.

LET the whole race of creatures lie
Abas'd before their God;

Wate'er his sov'reign voice has form'd
He governs with a nod.

[2 Ten thousand ages e'er the skies
Were into motion brought.
All the long years and worlds to come
Stood present to his thought.

3 There's not a sparrow, or a worm,
But's found in his decrees;
He raises monarchs to their thrones,
And sinks them as he please.]

4 If light attend the course I run,
'Tis He provides those rays;
And 'tis His hand which hides my sun,
If darkness cloud my days.

5 Yet I would not be much concern'd,
Nor vainly long to see
In volumes of his deep decrees,
What months are writ for me.

6 When he reveals the book of life,
O, may I read my name
Among the chosen of his love,
The foll'wers of the Lamb!

C. The Presence of Christ is the Life of my Soul.

HOW full of anguish is the thought!
How it distracts and tears my heart,
If God at last, my sov'reign Judge,
Should frown, and bid my soul depart!

2 Lord, when I quit this earthly stage,
Where shall I fly, but to thy breast?
For I have sought no other home—
For I have learn'd no other rest.

3 I cannot live contented here,
Without some glimpses of thy face;
And heav'n, without thy presence there,
Would be a dark and tiresome place.

4 When earthly cares enross the day,
 And hold my thoughts aside from Thee;
 The shining hours of cheerful night,
 Are long and tedious years to me.

5 And if no ev'ning visit's paid
 Between my Saviour and my soul,
 How dull the night! how sad the shade!
 How mournfully the minutes roll!

6 This flesh of mine might learn as soon
 To live—yet part with all my blood;
 To breathe, when vital air is gone,
 Or thrive and grow, without my food.

7 Christ is my light, my life, my care,
 My blessed hope, my heav'nly prize;
 Dearer than all my passions are,
 My limbs, my bowels, or my eyes.

8 The strings which twine about my heart,
 Tortures and racks may tear them off;
 But they can never, never part
 With their dear hold of Christ, my love.

9 My God! and can a humble child,
 Who loves thee with a flame so high,
 Be ever from thy face exil'd,
 Without the pity of thine eye?

10 Impossible! for thine own hands
 Have ty'd my heart so fast to thee;
 And in thy book the promise stands,
 That where thou art, thy friends must be.

CI. The World's Three chief Temptations.

WHEN, in the light of faith divine,
 We look on things below,
 Honor and gold, and sens'al joy,
 How vain and dang'rous too.

2 Honor's a puff of noisy breath;
 Yet men expose their blood,

And venture everlasting death,
To gain that airy good.

3 Whilst others starve the nobler mind,
And feed on shining dust ;
They rob the serpent of his food,
T' indulge a sordid lust .)

4 The pleasures which allure our sense,
Are dang'rous snares to souls ;
There's but a drop of flatt'ring sweet,
And dash'd with bitter bowls.

5 God is mine all-sufficient good,
My portion and my choice :
In him my vast desires are fill'd,
And all my pow'rs rejoice.

6 In vain the world accosts my ear,
And tempts my heart anew ;
I cannot buy your bliss so dear,
Nor part with heav'n, for you.

CH. A happy Resurrection.

NO, I'll repine at death no more,
But, with a chearful gasp resign
To the cold dungeon of the grave
These dying with'ring limbs of mine.

2 Let worms devour my wasting flesh,
And crumble all my bones to dust,
My God shall raise my frame anew
At the revival of the just.

3 Break, sacred morning, through the skies,
Bring that delightful, sacred day ;
Cut short the hours dear Lord, and come ;
Thy ling'ring wheels, how long they stay !

4 Our weary spirits faint to see
The light of thy returning face ;
And hear the language of those lips
Where God has shed his richest grace.

[5 Haste, then, upon the wings of love,
Rouse all the pious sleeping clay :
That we may join in heav'nly joys,
And sing the triumph of the day.]

CIII. Christ's Commission, John iii. 16, 17.

COME happy souls, approach your God,
With new melod'ous songs ;
Come, render to almighty grace
The tribute of your tongues.

2 So strange, so boundless was the love
Which pity'd dying men,
The Father sent his equal Son
To give them life again.

3 Thy hands dear Jesus, were not arm'd,
With a revenging rod :
No hard commission to perform
The vengeance of a God.

4 But all was mercy—all was mild—
And wrath forsook the throne ;
When Christ on the kind errand came,
And brought salvation down.

5 Here, sinners you may heal your wounds,
And wipe your sorrows dry :
Trust in the mighty Saviour's name,
And you shall never die.

6 See, dearest Lord, our willing souls,
Accept thine offer'd grace ;
We bless the great Redeemer's love,
And give the Father praise.

CIV. The same.

RAISE your triumphant songs
To an immortal tune,
Let the wide earth resound the deeds,
Celestial grace has done.

- 2 Sing how eternal love
Its chief beloved chose ;
And bid him raise our wretched race
From their abyfs of woes.
- 3 His hand no thunder bears,
No terror clothes his brow ;
No bolts to drive our guilty souls
To fiercer flames below.
- 4 'Twas mercy fill'd the throne
And wrath stood fient by,
When Christ was sent with pardons down
To rebels doom'd to die.
- 5 Now finners, dry your tears,
Let hopelefs sorrow ceafe ;
Bow to the fceptre of his love,
And take the offer'd peace.
- 6 Lord, we obey thy call ;
We lay an humble claim
To the falvation thou haft bought,
And love and praife thy name.

CV. Repentance flowing from the patience of God.

- AND are we wretches yet alive ?
And dare we yet rebel ?
'Tis boundlefs, 'tis amazing love,
That bears us up from hell !
- 2 The burden of our weighty guilt
Would fink us down to flames,
And threat'ning vengeance rolls above
To crush our feeble frames.
- 3 Almighty goodnefs cries—forbear :
And ftrait the thunder ftays :
And dare we now provoke his wrath,
And weary out his grace ?
- 4 Lord We have long abus'd thy love,
Too long indulg'd our fin,

Our aching hearts e'en bleed to see
What rebels we have been.
5 No more, ye lusts, shall ye command,
No more will we obey;
Stretch out, O God, thy conqu'ring hand,
And drive thy foes away.

CVI. Repentance at the Cro's.

OH, if my soul were form'd for woe,
How would I vent my sighs!
Repentance should, like rivers, flow
From both my streaming eyes,
2 'Twas for my sins, my dearest Lord
Hung on the cursed tree,
And groan'd away a dying life
For thee, my soul, for thee.
3 Oh! how I hate those lusts of mine,
Which crucify'd my Go! !
Those sins which pierc'd and nail'd his flesh
Fast to the fatal wood.
4 Yes, my Redeemer, they shall die,
My heart has so decreed;
Nor will I spare the guilty things
Which made my Saviour bleed.
5 Whilst, with a melting broken heart,
My murder'd Lord I view,
I'll raise revenge against my sins,
And slay the murd'ers too.

CVII. The everlasting absence of God intolerable.

THAT awful day will surely come,
The appointed hour makes haste,
When I must stand before my Judge,
And pass the solemn test.
2 Thou lovely Chief of all my joys,
Thou Sov'reign of my heart,

How could I bear to hear thy voice

1 Pronounce the found—depart ?

[2 The thunder of that dismal word

Would so torment my ear,

'Twould tear my soul afunder, Lord,

With most tormenting fear.]

[4 What, to be banish'd from my life,

And yet forbid to die !

To linger in eternal pain,

Yet death forever fly !

5 Oh ! wretched state of deep despair,

To see my God remove,

And fix my doleful station where

I must not taste his love !

6 Jesus, I throw my arms around,

And hang upon thy breast :

Without a gracious smile from Thee,

My spirit cannot rest.

7 Oh ! tell me that my worth'less name

Is graven on thy hands ;

Shew me some promise in thy book,

Where my salvation stands.

8 Give me one kind, assuring word

To sink my fears again ;

And cheerfully my soul shall wait

Her threescore years and ten.]

CVIII. Access to the throne of grace, by a Mediator.

COME, let us lift our joyful eyes

Up to the courts above,

And smile to see our Father there

Upon a throne of love.

2 Once 'twas a seat of dreadful wrath,

And shot devouring flame ;

Our God appear'd consuming fire,

And Vengeance was his name.

3 Rich were the drops of Jesus' blood,
Which calm'd his frowning face ;
Which sprinkled o'er the burning throne,
And turn'd the wrath to grace !

4 Now we may bow before his feet,
And venture near the Lord !
No fiery cherub guards his feet,
No double flaming sword.

5 The peaceful gates of heav'nly bliss
Are open'd by the Son ;
High let us raise our notes of praise,
And reach th' almighty throne.

6 To Thee ten thousand thanks we bring,
Great advocate on high ;
And glory to th' eternal king,
Who lays his fury by.

CLX. The Darkness of Providence.

LORD, we adore thy vast designs,
Th' obscure abyss of Providence!
Too deep to sound with mortal lines,
Too dark to view with feeble sense.

1 Now thou array'ft thine awful face
In angry frowns, without a smile :
We, through the cloud, believe thy grace,
Secure of thy compassion, still.

2 Through seas and storms of deep distress,
We fall by faith, and not by sight ;
Faith guides us in the wilderness,
Through all the terrors of the night.

3 Dear Father, if thy lifted rod
Resolve to scourge us here below ;
Still let us lean upon our God,
Thine arm shall bear us safely through.

CX—Triumph over death, in hope of its Resurrection.

AND must this body die,
This mortal frame decay?
And must these active limbs of mine
Lie mould'ring in the clay?

2 Corruption, earth and worms
Shall but refine this flesh;

'Till my triumphant spirit comes,
To put it on afresh.

3 God, my Redeemer, lives—
And often from the skies

Looks down, and watches all my dust,
'Till he shall bid it rise.

4 Array'd in glor'ous grace
Shall these vile bodies shine;

And ev'ry shape, and ev'ry face
Look heav'nly and divine.

5 These lively hopes we owe
To Jesus' dying love;

We would adore his grace below
And sing his pow'r above,

6 Dear Lord, accept the praise
Of these our humble songs—

'Till tunes of nobler sound we raise
With our immortal tongues.

CXI. Thank giving for victory.

ZION rejoice, and Judah sing,
The Lord assumes his throne;
Columbia, own the heav'nly King
And make his glories known.

2 The great, the wicked, and the proud,
From their high seats are hur'd,

Jehovah rides upon a cloud,
And thunders through the world.

- 3 He reigns upon th' eternal hills,
Distributes mortal crowns;
Empires are fix'd beneath his smiles,
And totter at his frowns.
- 4 Navies, which rule the ocean wide,
Are vanquish'd by his breath,
And legions, arm'd with pow'r and pride,
Descend to wat'ry death.
- 5 Let tyrants make no more pretence
To vex our happy land;
Jehovah's name is our defence,
Our buckler is his hand.
- [6 Still may the King of grace descend
To rule us by his word;
And all the honors we can give,
Be offer'd to the Lord.]

CXII. Angels ministering to Christ and Saints.

- GREAT God! to what a glorious height
Hast thou advanc'd the Lord, thy Son!
Angels in all their robes of light,
Are made the servants of his throne.
- 2 Before his feet thine armies wait,
And swift as flames of fire they move,
To manage his affairs of state,
In works of vengeance, and of love,
- 3 His orders run through all the hosts;
Legions descend at his command,
To shield and guard these Western coasts,
When foreign rage invades our land.
- 4 Now they are sent to guide our feet
Up to the gates of thine abode;
Through all the dangers which we meet,
In travelling the heav'nly road.

5 Lord when I leave this mortal ground,
 And thou shalt bid me rise and come—
 Send a beloved angel down,
 Safe to conduct my spirit home.

CXIII. The same.

THE majesty of Solomon,
 How glorious to behold—
 The servants waiting round his throne,
 The iv'ry and the gold!

2 But, mighty God, thy palace shines
 With far superior beams!
 Thine angel-guards are swift as winds;
 Thy ministers are flames!

3 Soon as thine only Son had made
 His entrance on the earth,
 A shining army downward fled,
 To celebrate his birth.

4 And when oppress'd with pains and fears,
 On the cold ground he lies—
 Behold—a heav'nly form appears;
 T' allay his agonies

5 Now to the hands of Christ our King,
 Are all their legions giv'n;
 They wait upon his saints, and bring
 His chosen heirs to heav'n.

6 Pleasure and praise run through their host,
 To see a sinner turn;
 Then satan has a captive lost.
 And Christ—a subject born.

7 But there's an hour of brighter joy,
 When he his angels sends
 Obstinate rebels to destroy,
 And gather in his friends,

8 Oh! Could I say without a doubt,
 There shall my soul be found—

Then let the great arch-angel shout—
And the last trumpet sound !

CXIV. Christ's Death, Victory, and Dominion

I SING my Saviour's wond'rous death—
He conquer'd when he fell ?

'Tis finish'd—said his dying breath—
And shook the gates of hell.

2 'Tis finish'd—our Immanuel cries—
The dreadful work is done—

Hence shall his sov'reign throne arise ;
His kingdom is begun.

3 His cross a sure foundation laid,
For glory and renown ;

When, through the regions of the dead,
He pass'd to reach the crown.

4 Exalted at his Father's side,
Sits our victor'ous Lord ;
To heav'n and hell, his hands divide
To vengeance or reward.

5 The saints, from his propitious eye,
Await their sev'ral crowns ;
And all the sons of darkness fly
The terror of his frowns.

CXV. God the Avenger of his Saints.

HIGH as the heav'ns above the ground,
Reigns the Creator, GOD:
Wide as the whole creation's bound,
Extends his awful nod.

2 Let princes of exalted state,
To Him ascribe their crown ;
Render their homage at his feet,
And cast their glories down.

3 Know that his kingdom is supreme
Your lofty thoughts are vain ;

He calls you Gods, that awful name,
But ye must die, like men.

4 Then let the sov'reigns of the globe
Nor dare to vex the just:

He puts on vengeance, like a robe,
And treads the worms to dust.

5 Ye judges of the earth, be wise,
And think of heav'n with fear;

The meanest saint whom you despise,
Has an Avenger there.

CXVI. Mercies end Thanks.

HOW can I sink with such a prop,
As my Eternal God;
Who bears the earth's huge pillars up,
And spreads the heav'ns abroad?

2 How can I die, while Jesus lives,
Who rose and left the dead?

Pardon and grace my soul receives
From mine exalted Head.

3 All that I am, and all I have,
Shall be forever thine;

What e'er my duty bids me give,
My chearful hands resign.

4 Yet if I might make some reserve,
And duty did not call;

I love my God with zeal so great,
That I should give him all.

CXVII. Living and Dying with God present.

I CANNOT bear thine absence, Lord—

My life expires, if thou depart;

Be thou my heart, still near my God,

And thou, my God, still near my heart,

2 I was not born for earth or sin,

Nor can I live on things so vile.

Yet I will stay my Father's time,
And hope and wait for heav'n, a while.

3 Then, dearest Lord, in thine embrace
Let me resign my fleeting breath ;
And, with a smile upon my face,
Pass the important hour of death.

CXVIII. The Priesthood of Christ.

BLOOD has a voice to pierce the skies,
Revenge, the blood of Abel cries :
But the dear stream, when Christ was slain,
Spoke peace as loud, from ev'ry vein.

2 Pardon and peace from God on high ;
Behold ! he lays his vengeance by !
And rebels, who deserv'd his sword,
Become the fav'rites of the Lord.

3 To Jesus let our praises rise,
Who gave his life a sacrifice ;
Now he appears before his God,
And for our pardon, pleads his blood.

CXIX. The Holy Scriptures.

LADEN with guilt, and full of fears,
I fly to thee, my Lord ;
And not a glimpse of hope appears,
But in thy written word.

2 The volume of my Father's grace
Does all my grief assuage ;
Here I behold my Saviour's face
Almost in ev'ry page.

3 This is the field, where hidden, lies
The pearl of price unknown ;
That merchant is Divinely Wise,
Who makes the pearl his own.

4 Here consecrated water flows,
To quench my thirst of sin ;

Here the fair tree of knowledge grows ;
No danger dwells therein.

5 This is the Judge, who ends the strife
Where wit and reason fail !

My guide to everlasting life,
Through all this gloomy vale.

6 Oh, may thy counsels, mighty God,
My roving feet command ;

Nor I forsake the happy road
Which leads to thy right hand.

CXX. The Law and Gospel joined in Scripture.

THE Lord declares his will,
And keeps the world in awe ;
Amidst the smoke on Sinai's hill,
Breaks out his fiery law.

2 The Lord reveal'd his face ;
And, smiling from above,
Sends down the gospel of his grace,
Th' epistles of his love.

3 These sacred words impart
Our Maker's just commands ;
The pity of his melting heart,
And vengeance of his hands.

4 Hence we awake our fear.
We draw our comfort hence ;
The arms of grace are treasur'd here
Our armour of defence.

5 We learn Christ crucify'd,
And here behold his blood ;
All arts and knowledges beside,
Will do us little good.

6 We read the heav'nly word ;
We taste the offer'd grace,
Obey the statutes of the Lord,
And trust his promises.

7 In vain, shall fatar rage
 Against a book divine,
 Where wrath and lightning guard the page :
 Where beams of mercy shine.

CXXI. The Law and Gospel distinguished.

THE law commands, and makes us know
 What duties to our God we owe ;
 But 'tis the gospel must reveal
 Where lies our strength to do his will.

2 The law discovers guilt and sin,
 And shews how vile our hearts have been :
 Only the gospel can express
 Forgiving love, and cleansing grace.

3 What curses doth the law denounce
 Against the man who fails but once ?
 But, in the gospel, Christ appears
 Pard'ning the guilt of num'rous years.

4 My soul no more attempt to draw
 Thy life and comforts from the law !
 Fly to the hope the gospel gives :
 The man who trusts the promise, lives.

CXXII. Retirement and Meditation.

MY God, permit me not to be
 A stranger to myself and Thee ;
 Amidst a thousand thoughts I rove,
 Forgetful of my highest love.

2 Why should my passions mix with earth ;
 And thus debase my heav'nly birth !
 Why should I cleave to things below,
 And let my God, my Saviour go

3 Call me away from flesh and sense ;
 One sov'reign word can draw me thence.
 I would obey the voice divine,
 And all inferior joys resign.

1 Be earth, with all her sciences withdrawn ;
 Let noise and vanity be gone ;
 In secret silence of the mind,
 My heav'n, and there my God, I find.

CXXIII. The Benefit of Public Ordinances.

AWAY from ev'ry mortal care,
 Away from earth, our souls retreat ;
 We leave this worthless world afar,
 And wait and worship near thy seat.

2 Lord in the temple of thy grace
 We see thy feet, and we adore ;
 We gaze upon thy lovely face,
 And learn the wonders of thy pow'r.

3 While here, our various wants we mourn,
 United groans ascend on high ;
 And prayer bears a quick return
 Of blessings in variety.

4 If Satan rage, and sin grow strong,
 Here we receive some cheering word ;
 We gird the gospel-armour on,
 To fight the battles of the Lord.

5 Or if our spirit faints and dies,
 (Our conscience gall'd with inward stings)
 Here doth the righteous Sun arise,
 With healing beams beneath his wings.

6 Father! my soul would still abide
 Within thy temple, near thy side :
 But if my feet must hence depart,
 Still keep thy dwelling in my heart.

CXXIV. Moses, Aaron, and Joshua.

TIS not the law of ten commands,
 On holy Sinai giv'n,
 Or sent to men by Moses' hands,
 Can bring us safe to heav'n,

- 2 'Tis not the blood which Aaron spilt,
Nor smoke of sweetest smell,
Can buy a pardon for our guilt,
Or save our souls from hell.
- 3 Aaron, the priest, resigns his breath,
At God's immediate will ;
And, in the desert, yields to death,
Upon th' appointed hill.
- 4 And thus, on Jordan's yonder side,
The tribes of Israel stand,
While Moses bow'd his head, and dy'd
Short of the promis'd land.
- 5 Ifr'el rejoice, now * Josh'a leads ;
He'll bring your tribes to rest :
So far the Saviour's name exceeds
The ruler and the priest.

CXXV. Faith and Repentance, Unbelief, and Impenitence.

LIFE and immortal joys are giv'n
To souls who mourn the sins they've done ;
Children of wrath made heirs of heav'n,
By faith in God's eternal Son.

2 Woe to the wretch who never felt
The inward pangs of pious grief,
But adds to all his crying guilt
The stubborn sin of unbelief.

3 The law condemns the rebel dead ;
Under the wrath of God he lies :
He seals the curse on his own head,
And with a double vengeance dies.

CXXVI. God glorified in the Gospel.

THE Lord descending from above,
Invites his children near ;

* The same with Jesus and his Father's Spirit

While pow'r and truth, and boundless love
Displays their glories here.

2 Here in the gospel's wond'rous frame,
Fresh wisdom we may view ;

A thousand angels learn thy name,
Beyond what'er they knew.

3 Thy name is writ in fairest lines ;
Thy wonders here we trace :

Wisdom through all the myst'ry shines,
It shines in Jesus' face.

4 The law its best obedience owes
To our incarnate God :

And thy revenging justice shows
Its honors in his blood.

5 But still the lustre of thy grace
Our warmer thoughts employs ;

Gilds the whole scene with brighter rays,
And more exalts our joys.

CXXVII. Circumcision and Baptism.

(Written only for those who practice the Baptism of Infants.)

THUS did the sons of Abra'm pass
Under the bloody seal of grace ;
The young disciples bore the yoke,
'Till Christ the painful bondage broke.

2 By milder ways doth Jesus prove
His Father's cov'nant and his love ;
He seals to saints his glorious grace,
And not forbids their infant race.

3 Their seed is sprinkled with his blood,
Their children set apart for God ;
His spirit on their offspring shed,
Like water pour'd upon the head.

4 Let ev'ry saint with cheerful voice,
In this large covenant rejoice ;

Young children in their ear'y days,
Shall give the God of Abra'm praise.

CXXVIII. Corrupt Nature from Adam.

BLEST with the joys of innocence,
Adam, our father, stood!

'Till he debas'd his soul to sense,
And ate th' unlawful food,

2 Now we are born a sens'al race,
To sinful joys inclin'd :

Reason has lost its native place,
And flesh enslaves the mind.

3 While flesh, or sense, or passion reigns,
Sin is the sweetest good,

We fancy music in our chains,
And so forget our load.

4 Great God ! renew our ruin'd frame ;
Our broken pow'rs restore !

Inspire us with a heav'nly flame,
And flesh shall reign no more !

5 Eternal Spirit ! write the law
Upon our inward parts ;

And let the second Adam draw
His image on our hearts.

CXXIX. We walk by Faith, not by Sight.

'TIS By the faith of joys to come
We walk through deserts dark as night,

'Till we arrive at heav'n our home,
Faith is our guide, and faith our light.

2 The want of sight she well supplies—
She makes the pearly gates appear ;

Far into distant worlds she pries,
And brings eternal glories near.

3 Cheerful we tread the desert through,
While faith collects the heav'nly ray ;

Though lions roar, and and tempests blow,
And rocks and dangers fill the way.

4 So Abra'm, by divine command,
Left his own house, to walk with God,
His faith beheld the promis'd land,
And fir'd his zeal, along the road.

CXXX. The New Creation,

ATTEND, while God's exalted Son
Doth his own glories shew;

" Behold, I sit upon my throne,
" Creating all things new.

" 2 Nature and sin are pass'd away,
" And the old Adam dies;

" My hands a new foundation lay—
" See the new world arise,

" 3 I'll be a Sun of Righteousness
" To the new heav'ns I make;

" None but the new-born heirs of grace
" My glory shall partake."

4 Mighty Redeemer! set me free
From my old state of sin;

Oh, make my soul alive to Thee,
Create new pow'rs within:

5 Renew mine eyes and form mine ears,
And mould my heart afresh.

Give me new passions joys and fears,
And turn the stone to flesh.

6 Far from the regions of the dead—
From sin, and earth, and hell;

In the new world, which grace has made,
I would forever dwell.

CXXXI. Excellency of the Christian Religion.

LET everlasting glories crown
Thy head, my Saviour, and my Lord;

Thy hands have brought salvation down,
And writ the blessings in thy word.

2 What if we trace the globe around,
And search from Britain to Japan ?
There shall be no religion found,
So just to God, so safe for man.

3 In vain the trembling conscience seeks
Some solid ground to rest upon ;
With long despair the spirit breaks,
'Till we apply to Christ alone.

4 How well thy blessed truths agree !
How wise and holy thy commands !
Thy promises, how strong they be !
How firm our hope or comfort stands !

5 Not the feign'd fields of heath'nish bliss
Could raise such pleasures in the mind ;
Nor does the Turkish paradise
Pretend to joy so well refin'd.

6 Should all the forms which men devise,
Assault my faith with treach'rous art,
I'd call them vanity and lies,
And bind the gospel to my heart.

CXXXII. The Offices of Christ.

WE bless the prophet of the Lord,
Who comes with truth and grace
Jesus, thy spirit, and thy word
Shall lead us in thy ways.

2 We rev'rence our High-Priest above,
Who offer'd up his blood,
And lives to carry on his love,
By pleading with our God.

3 We honor our exalted King :
How sweet are his commands !
He guards our souls from hell and sin,
By His Almighty Hands.

4 Hosanna to his glor'ous name,
 Who saves by diff'rent ways ;
 His mercies say a sov'reign claim
 To our immortal praise.

CXXXIII. The Operations of the Holy Spirit.

ETERNAL Spirit ! we confess,
 And sing the wonders of thy grace ;
 Thy pow'r conveys our blessings down
 From God the Father, and the Son.

2 Enlighten'd by thine heavn'ly ray,
 Our shades and darkness turn the day :
 Thine inward teachings make us know
 Our danger and our refuge too.

3 Thy pow'r and glory work within,
 And break the chains of reigning sin ;
 Do our imperious lusts subdue,
 And form our wretched hearts anew.

4 The troubled conscience knows thy voice ;
 Thy cheering words awake our joys ;
 Thy words away the stormy wind,
 And calm the surges of the mind.

CXXXIV. Circumcision Abolished.

THE promise was divinely free ;
 Extensive was the grace ;
 " I will the God of Abra'm be
 " And of his num'rous race."

2 He said—and, with a bloody seal,
 Confirm'd the words he spoke ;
 Long did the sons of Abra'm feel
 The sharp and painful yoke.

3 'Til God's own Son, descending low,
 Gave his own flesh to bleed ;
 And Gentiles taste the blessings now,
 From the hard bondage freed.

4 The God of Abraham claims our praise ;
 His promises endure ;
 And Christ, the Lord, in gentler ways,
 Makes the salvation sure.

CXXXV. Types and Prophecies of Christ.

BEHOOLD the woman's promis'd seed !
 Behold the great Messiah come !
 Behold the prophets all agreed
 To give him the superior room !

2 Abraham, the faint, rejoic'd of old,
 When visions of the Lord he saw ;
 Moses, the man of God, foretold
 This great Fulfiller of his Law.

3 The types bore witness to his name,
 Obtain'd their chief design, and ceas'd ;
 The incense and the bleeding Lamb,
 The ark, the alter, and the priest.

4 Predictions in abundance meet,
 And join their blessings on his head ;
 Jesus, we worship at thy feet ;
 And nations own the promis'd seed.

CXXXVI. Miracles at the Birth of Christ.

THE King of glory sends his Son
 To make his entrance on this earth ;
 Behold, the midnight bright as noon,
 And heav'nly hosts declare his birth.

2 About the young Redeemer's head
 What wonders and what glories meet !
 An unknown star arose, and led
 The eastern sages to his feet.

3 Simeon and Anna both conspire
 The infant Saviour to proclaim ;
 Inward they felt the sacred fire,
 And bless'd the babe, and own'd his name,

4 Though Jews and Greeks blaspheme aloud,
And treat the holy child with scorn ;
Our souls adore the eternal God,
Who condescended to be born.

CXXXVII. Miracles in the Life Death and Resurrection of Christ.

BEHOOLD the blind their sight receive !
Behold the dead awake and live !
The dumb speak wonders ! and the lame
Leap like the hart, and bless his name !

2 Thus doth th' eternal Spirit own,
And seal the mission of the Son ;
The Father vindicates his cause,
While he hangs bleeding on the cross.

3 He dies ! the heav'ns in mourning stood !
He rises—and appears a God :
Behold the Lord ascending high,
No more to bleed, no more to die !

4 Hence, and forever, from my heart
I bid my doubts and fears depart ;
And to those hands my soul resign,
Which bear credentials so divine :

CXXXVIII. The power of the Gospel.

THIS is the word of truth and love,
Sent to the nations, from above ;
Jehovah here resolves to shew
What his Almighty grace can do.

2 This remedy did wisdom find,
To heal diseases of the mind :
This sov'reign balm, whose virtues can
Restore the ruin'd creature, man.

3 This gospel bids the dead revive ;
Sinners obey the voice, and live :
Dry bones are rais'd, and cloth'd afresh ;
And hearts of stone are turn'd to flesh.

4 Where satan reign'd in shades of night,
The gospel strikes a heavenly light;
Our lusts its wondrous pow'r controuls,
And calms the rage of angry souls.

5 Lions and beasts, of savage name,
Put on the nature of the Lamb;
While the wide world esteems it strange,
Gaze and admire, and hate the change.

6 May but this grace my soul renew;
Let sinners gaze, and hate me too;
The word which saves me, does engage
A sure defence from all their rage.

CXXXIX The Example of Christ.

MY dear redeemer, and my Lord,
I read my duty in thy word;
But in thy life the law appears,
Drawn out in living characters.

2 Such was thy truth, and such thy zeal—
Such deference to thy Father's will—
Such love, and meekness, so divine,
I would transcribe, and make them mine.

3 Cold mountains, and the midnight air,
Witness'd the fervor of thy pray'r;
The desert thy temptations knew,
Thy conflict and thy vict'ry too.

4 Be thou my pattern—make me bear
More of thy gracious image here;
Then God, the Judge, shall own thy name
Among the foll'wers of the Lamb.

CXL Examples of Christ, and the Saints.

GIVE me the wings of faith, to rise
Within the veil, and see
The Saints above—how great their joy—
How bright their glories be!

- 2 Once they were mourning here below,
And wet their couch, with tears ;
They wrested hard, as we do now,
With sins, and doubts, and fears.
- 3 I ask them, whence their vict'ry came ?
They, with united breath,
Ascribe their conquest to the Lamb ;
Their triumph, to his death.
- 4 They mark'd the footsteps which he trod,
(His zeal inspir'd their breast)
And, foll'wing their incarnate God,
Possess the promis'd rest.
- 5 Our glorious Leader claims our praise,
For his own pattern giv'n,
While the long cloud of witnesses
Shew the same path to heav'n.

CXLI. Faith assisted by Sense

- MY Savior God, my Sov'reign Prince,
Reigns far above the skies !
But brings his graces down to sense,
And helps my faith to rise.
- 2 My eyes and ears shall bless his name ;
They read and hear his word :
My touch and taste shall do the same,
When they receive the Lord.
- 3 Baptismal water is design'd
To seal his cleansing grace ;
While, at his feast of bread and wine,
He gives his saints a place :
- 4 But not the waters of a flood
Can make my flesh so clean ?
As by his spirit, and his blood,
He'll wash my soul from sin.
- 5 Not choicest meats, or noblest wines,
So much my heart refresh,

As when my faith goes through the signs,
And feeds upon his flesh.

6 I love the Lord, who stoops so low.
To give his word a seal:
But the rich grace his hands bestow,
Exceeds the figures still.

CXLI. Faith in Christ our sacrifice.

NOT all the blood of beasts
On Jewish altars slain,
Could give the guilty conscience peace,
Or wash away the stain.

2 But Christ, the heav'nly Lamb,
Takes all our sins away;

A sacrifice of nobler name,
And richer blood than they.

3 My faith would lay her hand
On that dear head of thine,
While, like a penitent, I stand,
And there confess my sin.

4 My soul looks back to see,
The burdens thou didst bear,
When hanging on the cursed tree,
And hopes her guilt was there.

5 Believing, we rejoice
To see the curse remove;
We bless the Lamb, with cheerful voice,
And sing his bleeding love.

CXLIII. Flesh and Spirit.

WHAT diff'rent pow'rs of grace and sin,
Attend our mortal state!
I hate the thoughts which work within,
And do the works I hate.

2 Now I complain, and groan, and die,
While sin and satan reign:

Now raise my songs of triumph high,
For grace prevails again.

3 So darkness struggles with the light,
'Till perfect day arise;

Water and fire maintain the fight,
Until the weaker dies.

4 Thus will the flesh and spirit strive,
And vex and break my peace!

But I shall quit this mortal life,
And sin forever cease.

CXLIV. The effusion of the Spirit.

GREAT was the day, the joy was great,
When the divine disciples met;
Whilst on their heads the Spirit came,
And sat, like tongues of cloven flame.

2 What gifts, what miracles he gave!
And pow'r to give, and pow'r to save!
Furnish'd their tongues with wond'rous words,
Instead of shields, and spears, and swords.

3 Thus arm'd he sent the champions forth,
From east to west, from South to north;
"Go, and assert your Saviour's cause;
"Go, spread the myst'ry of his cross."

4 These weapons of the holy war,
Of what almighty force they are,
To make our stubborn passions bow
And lay the prou'est rebel low!

5 Nations, the learned and the rude,
Are by these heav'nly arms, subdu'd;
While Satan rages at his loss,
And hates the doctrine of the cross.

6 Great King of grace my heart subdue—
I would be led in triumph too,
A willing captive to my Lord,
And sing the vict'ries of his word.

CXLV. Sight through a Glass, and Face to Face.

I LOVE the window of thy grace,
Through which my Lord is seen,
And long to meet my Saviour's face,
Without a glass between.

2 Oh, that the happy hour were come,
To change my faith to sight!

I should behold my Lord at home
In a Diviner light.

3 Haste, my beloved, and remove
These interposing days;

Then shall my passions all be love,
And all my pow'rs be praise.

CXLVI. The vanity of Creatures.

MAN has a soul of vast desires;
He burns within, with restless fires!
Toit to and fro, his passions fly
From vanity to vanity.

2 In vain, on earth, we hope to find
Some solid good to fill the mind:
We try new pleasures—but we feel
The inward thirst, and torment still.

3 So, when a raging fever burns;
We shift from side to side, by turns;
And 'tis a poor relief we gain,
To change the place, but keep the pain.

4 Great God! subdue this vicious thirst,
This love to vanity and dust;
Cure this vile fever of the mind,
And feed our souls with joys refin'd.

CXLVII. The Creation of the World. Gen. i.

"NOW let a spacious world arise,"
Said the Creator Lord;
At once th' obed'ent earth and skies
Rose, at his sov'reign word.

2 Dark was the deep : the waters lay
 Confus'd, and drown'd the land :
 He call'd the light—the new born-day
 Attends on his command.

3 He bids the clouds ascend on high ;
 The clouds ascend, and bear
 A wat'ry treasure to the sky,
 And float on softer air.

4 The liquid element below,
 Was gather'd by his hand :
 The rolling seas together flow,
 And leave the solid land.

5 With herbs and plants (a flow'ry birth)
 The naked globe he crown'd,
 E'er there was rain to bless the earth,
 Or sun to warm the ground.

6 Then he adorn'd the upper skies ;
 Behold the sun appears
 The moon and stars, in order rise
 To mark out months and years.

7 Out of the deep th' Almighty King
 Did vital beings frame ;
 The painted fowls, of ev'ry wing,
 And fish of ev'ry name.

8 He gave the lion and the worm,
 At once, their wond'rous birth :
 And grazing beasts of various form
 Rose from the teeming earth.

9 Adam was fram'd, of equal clay,
 Though sov'reign of the rest,
 Desien'd for nobler ends than they ;
 With God's own image blest.

10 Thus, glor'ous in the Maker's eye ;
 The young creation stood ;
 He saw the building from on high,
 His word pronounc'd it good.

11 Lord, while the frame of nature stands,
 Thy praise shall fill my tongue :
 But the new world of grace demands
 A more exalted song.

CXLVIII. God reconciled in Christ.

DEAREST of all the names above,
 My Jesus, and my God !
 Who can resist thy heav'nly love,
 Or trifle with thy blood ?

2 'Tis by the merits of thy death
 The Father smiles again ;

'Tis by thine interceding breath
 The spirit dwells with men.

3 'Till God in human flesh. I see,
 My thoughts no comfort find ;
 The holy, just, and sacred Three
 Are terrors to my mind.

4 But if Immanuel's face appear,
 My hope, my joy begins ;
 His name forbids my slavish fear,
 His grace removes my sins.

5 While Jews on their own law rely,
 And Greeks of wisdom boast ;
 I love th' incarnate mystery,
 And there I fix my trust.

CXLIX. Honour to Magistrates.

ETERNAL Sov'reign of the sky,
 And Lord of all below,
 We mortals to thy Majesty
 Our first obed'ence owe.

2 Our souls adore thy throne supreme,
 And bless thy providence,

For magistrates, of meaner name,
 Our glory and defence.

- 3 The rulers of those States shall shine
With rays above the rest,
Where laws and liberties combine
To make the nation blest'd.
- 4 Kingdoms on firm foundations stand,
While virtue finds reward ;
And sinners perish from the land,
By justice, and the sword.
- 5 Let Cæsar's due be ever paid
To Cæsar and his throne ;
But Consciences and souls were made
To be the Lord's, alone.

CL. The Deceitfulness of Sin.

- SIN has a thousand treach'rous arts,
To practice on the mind !
With flatt'ring looks she tempts our hearts,
But leaves a sting behind.
- 3 With names of virtue she deceives
The aged and the young ;
And, while the heedless wretch believes,
She makes his fetters strong.
- 3 She pleads for all the joys she brings,
And gives a fair pretence ;
But cheats the soul of heav'nly things,
And chains it down to sense.
- 4 So on a tree divinely fair,
Grew the forbidden food ;
Our mother took the poison there,
And tainted all her blood.

CLI. Prophecy and Inspiration.

- TWAS by an order from the Lord,
The ancient prophets spoke his word
His spirit did their tongues inspire,
And warm'd their hearts with heav'nly fire.
- 3 The works and wonders which they wrought
Confirm'd the messages they brought ;

The prophet's pen succeeds his breath,
To save the holy words from death.

3 Great God ! mine eyes with pleasure look
On the dear volume of thy book ;
There my Redeemer's face I see,
And read His name who dy'd for me.

4 Let the false raptures of the mind
Be lost, and vanish in the wind ;
Here i can fix my hope secure—
This is thy word and must endure.

CLII. Sinai and Zion, Heb. xii. ver. 18, &c.

NOT to the terrors of the Lord,
The tempest fire, and smoke ;
Not to the thunder of that word
Which God on Sinai spoke.

2 But we are come to Zion's hill,
The city of our God,
Where milder words declare his will,
And spread his love abroad.

3 Behold th' innumerable host
Of angels, cloath'd in light !
Behold the spirits of the just,
Whose faith is turn'd to fight !

4 Behold the bless'd assembly there,
Whose names are writ in heav'n !
And God, the Judge of all, declares
Their vilest sins forgiv'n.

5 The saints, on earth, and all the dead,
But one comunion make ;
All join in Christ, their living Head,
And of his grace partake.

6 In such society as this
My weary soul would rest ;

The man who dwells where Jesus is,
Must be forever blest.

CLIII. Dilemper folly and madnefs of Sin.

SIN, like a venomous difeafe,
Infects our vital blood ;

The only balm, is, Sov'rain grace,
And the phyfian, God.

2 Our beauty and our ftrength are fled,
And we draw near to death ;

But Chrift the Lord, recalls the dead
With his almighty breath.

3 Madnefs, by nature, reigns within :
The paffions burn and rage :

'Till God's own Son, with fkill divine,
The inward fire affuage.

[4 We lick the duft, we grasp the wind,
And folid good defpife :

Such is the folly of the mind,
'Till Jefus makes us wife.

5 We give our fouls the wounds they feel ;
We drink the poiſ'nous gall,

And ruſh, with fury down to hell ;
But heav'n prevents the fall.

6 The man poſſeſ'd among the tombs,
Cuts his own fleſh and cries,

He foams and raves, 'till Jefus comes,
And the foul ſpirit flies.

CLIV. Self-Righteou'nefs inſufficient.

WHERE are the mourners, faith the Lord,
"Who wait and tremble at my word ;

"Who walk in darknefs all the day ?

"Come, make my name your truſt and ſtay.

[2 " No works, nor duties, of your own,

" Can for the ſmalleſt ſin atone ;

6. The robes which nature may provide,
 Will not your least pollution hide.
 7. The softest couch which nature knows,
 Can give the conscience no repose :
 Look to my righteousness, and live ;
 Comfort and peace are mine to give.]
 8. Ye sons of pride, who kindle coals
 With your own hands, to warm your souls,
 Walk in the light of your own fire,
 Enjoy th. sparks which ye desire.
 9. This is your portion at my hands ;
 Hell waits you with her iron bands ;
 Ye shall lie down in sorrow there,
 In death, in darkness, and despair.

CLV. Christ our Passover.

- LO, the destroying angel flies
 To Pharaoh's stubborn land !
 The pride and flow'r of Egypt dies,
 By his vindictive hand.
 2. He pass'd the tents of Jacob o'er,
 Nor pour'd the wrath divine ;
 He saw the blood on ev'ry door,
 And bless'd the peaceful sign.
 3. Thus the appointed Lamb must bleed,
 To break th' Egyptian yoke ;
 Thus Isr'el is from bondage freed,
 And 'scapes the angel's stroke.
 4. Lord, if my heart were sprinkled too,
 With blood so rich as thine
 Justice no longer would pursue
 This guilty soul of mine.
 5. Jesus, our Passover, was slain,
 And has at once procur'd

Freedom from satan's heavy chain,
And God's avenging sword.

CLVI. Presumption and despair.

I HATE the tempter and his charms ;
I hate his flatt'ring breath ;
The serpent takes a thousand forms,
To cheat our souls to death.

2 He feeds our hopes with airy dreams,
Or kills, with slavish fear ;
And holds us still in wide extremes,
Presumption, or despair.

3 Now he persuades, how easy 'tis
To walk the road to heav'n :
Anon, he swells our sins, and cries
“ They cannot be forgiv'n.”

4 He bids young sinners yet forbear
To think of God, or death ;
“ For prayer and devotion are
But melancholy breath.”

5 He tells the aged they Must die,
“ And 'tis too late to pray ;
“ In vain-for mercy now they cry,
“ For they have lost their day.”

6 Thus he supports his cruel throne,
By mischief and deceit ;
And drags the sons of Adam down
To darknels and the pit.

7 Almighty God, cut short his pow'r ;
Let him in darknels dwell ;
And, that he vex the earth no more,
Confine him down to hell.

—CLVII.—The same.—

NOW satan comes with dreadful roar,
And threatens to destroy ;

He worriēs whom he can't devour,
With a malicious joy.

2 Ye sons of God, oppose his rage ;
Resist, and he'll be one ;

Thus did our dearest Lord engage,
And vanquish him alone.

3 Now he appears almost divine,
Like innocence and love ;

But the old serpent lurks within,
When he assumes the dove.

4 Fly from the false deceiver's tongue,
Ye sons of Adam, fly

Our parents found the snare too strong,
Nor should the children try.

CLVIII. *Few saved; or, the almost Christian,
the Hypocrite, and Apostate.*

BROAD is the road which leads to death,
And thousands walk together there ;
But wisdom shews a narr'wer path,
With here and there a traveller.

2 " Deny thyself, and take thy cross,"
Is the Redeemer's great command !
Nature must count her gold but dross,
If she would gain this heav'nly land.

3 The fearful soul, who tires and faints,
And walks the ways of God no more,
Is but esteem'd almost a saint,
And makes his own destruction sure.

4 Lord, let not all my hopes be vain ;
Create my heart entirely new ;
This hypocrites did ne'er attain,
And false Apostates never knew.

CLIX. Unconverted state ; or. Converting grace.

GREAT King of glory and of grace !

We own, with humble shame,
How vile is our degen'rate race,
And our first Father's name !

2 From Adam flows our tainted blood ;
The poison reigns within ;
Makes us averse to all that's good,
And willing slaves to sin.

[3 Daily we break thy holy laws,
And then reject thy grace ;
Engag'd in the old serpent's cause,
Against our Maker's face.]

4 We live estrang'd afar from God,
And love the distance well !
With haste we run the dang'rous road,
Which leads to death and hell.

5 And can such rebels be restor'd ?
Such natures made divine ?
Let sinners see thy glory Lord,
And feel thy pow'r of thine.

6 We raise our Father's name on high,
Who his own Spirit sends
To bring rebell'ous strangers nigh,
And turn his foes to friends.

CLX. Custom in Sin.

LET the wild leopards of the wood
Put off the spots which nature gives ;
Then may the wicked turn to God,
And change their tempers, and their lives.

2 As well might Ethiopcan slaves
Wash out the darkness of their skin ;
The dead as well may leave their graves,
As old transgressors cease to sin.

3 Where vice has held its empire long,
 'Twill not endure the least controul ;
 None but a pow'r divinely strong
 Can turn the current of the soul.

4 Great God! I own thy pow'r divine,
 Which soon can change this heart of mine ;
 I would be form'd anew, and blest
 The wonders of creating grace.

CLXI. Christian Virtues.

STRAIT is the way, the door is strait,
 Which leads to joys on high ;
 'Tis but a few who find the gate,
 While crowds mistake, and die.

2 Beloved self must be deny'd,
 The mind and will renew'd,
 Passion suppress'd, and patience try'd,
 And vain desires subdu'd.

3 Flesh is a dang'rous foe to grace,
 Where it prevails and rules ;
 Flesh must be humbled, pride abas'd,
 Lest they destroy our souls.

4 The love of Gold be banish'd hence,
 (That vile idolatry)
 And ev'ry member, ev'ry sense
 In sweet subjection lie.

5 The tongue, that most unruly pow'r,
 Requires a strong restraint ;
 We must be watchful ev'ry hour,
 And pray, but never faint.

6 Lord ! can a feeble, helpless worm,
 Fulfil a task so hard ?
 Thy grace must all my work perform,
 And give the free reward.

CLXII. Meditation of Heaven.

MY thoughts surmount these lower skies,
 And look within the veil ;

- There springs of endless pleasure rise,
Whose waters never fail.
- 2 There I behold, with sweet delight,
The blest'd Three in One ;
And strong affections fix my sight
On God's incarnate Son.
- 3 His promise stands forever firm ;
His grace shall ne'er depart :
He binds my name upon his arm,
And seals it on his heart.
- 4 Light are the pains which nature brings ;
How short our sorrows are.
When, with eternal future things,
The present we compare !
- 5 I would not be a stranger still,
To that celest' al place,
Where I forever hope to dwell,
Near my Redeemer's face.

CLXIII. Complaint of desertion, and temptations.

- DEAR Lord, behold our sore distress ;
Our sins attempt to reign ;
Stretch out thine arm of conqu'ring grace,
And let thy foes be slain.
- 2 The Lion, with his dreadful roar,
Affrights thy feeble sheep :
Reveal the glory of thy pow'r,
And chain him to the deep.
- 3 Must we indulge a long despair ?
Shall our petitions die ?
Our mournings never reach thine ear ?
Nor tears affect thine eye ?
- 4 If thou despise a mortal's groan,
Yet hear a Saviour's blood ;
An advocate so near the throne,
Pleads and prevails with God.

- 5 He bought the Spirit's pow'rful sword,
To slay our deadly foes :
Our sins shall die beneath thy word,
And hell, in vain, oppose.
- 6 How boundless is our Father's grace,
In heighth, and depth, and length !
He made his Son our righteoufness,
His Spirit is our strength.

CLXIV. The end of the World.

WHY should this earth delight us so?
Why should we fix our eyes
On these low grounds where sorrows grow,
And ev'ry pleasure dies?

2 While time his sharpest teeth prepares
Our comforts to devour,

There is a land above the stars,
And joys above his pow'r.

3 Nature shall be dissolv'd and die—
The sun must end his race :

The earth and sea forever fly,
Before my Saviour's face.

4 When will that glor'ous morning rise?
When the last trumpet sound ?

And call the nations to the skies,
From underneath the ground ?

CLXV. Unfruitfulness, ignorance, and unbelief.

LONG have I sat by death's cold hand,
Oft by Salvation, Lord,

But still how weak my faith's command,
And know not of thy word.

Oft I have curs'd thy holy name,
And lov'd the sin that's in my hand.

How frail a person art thy grace,
My memory can testify !

- [3 My dear Almighty, and my God,
How little art thou known
By all the judgments of thy rod,
And blessings of thy throne !
- 4 How cold and feeble is my love !
How negligent my fear !
How low my hope of joys above !
How few affections there !]
- 5 Great God ! thy sov'reign pow'r impart,
To give thy word success ;
Write thy salvation in my heart,
And make me learn thy grace.
- 6 Shew my forgetful feet the way
Which leads to joys on high ;
There knowledge grows, without decay,
And love shall never die.

CLXVI. The Divine Perfections.

- HOW shall I praise th' eternal God ;
That Infinite unknown ?
Who can ascend his high abode,
Or venture near his throne ?
- [2 The great Invisible ! He dwells
Conceal'd in dazg'ling light ;
But his all-searching eye reveals
The secrets of the night.
- 3 Those watchful eyes, which never sleep,
Survey the world around ;
His wisdom is a boundless deep,
Where all our thoughts are drown'd.]
- 4 Speak we of strength ? His arm is strong,
To save, or to destroy ;
Infinite years his life prolong,
And endless is his joy.
- 5 He knows no shadow of a change,
Nor alters his decrees ;

Firm as a rock his truth remains,
To guard his promises.

6 Sinners before his presence, die;
How holy is his name!

His anger and his jealousy
Burn like devouring flame.

7 Justice upon a dreadful throne,
Maintain the rights of God;

While mercy sends her pardons down,
Bought with a Saviour's blood.

8 Now to my soul immortal King,
Speak some forgiving word:

Then 'twill be double joy to sing
The glories of my Lord.

CLXVII. The Divine perfections.

GREAT God, thy glories shall employ
My holy fear, my humble joy;
My lips, in songs of honor, bring
Their tribute to th' eternal King.

2 Earth and the stars, and worlds unknown,
Depend precarious on his throne;
All nature hangs upon his word,
And grace and glory own their Lord.

3 His sov'reign pow'r, what mortal knows?
If he command, who dare oppose?
With strengt' he girds himself around,
And treads the rebels to the ground.

4 Who shall pretend to teach him skill?
Or guide the counsels of his will?
His wilcom, like a sea divine,
Flows deep and high, beyond our line.

5 His name is holy, and his eye
Burns with immortal jealousy;
He hates the sons of pride—and sheds
His fiery vengeance on their heads.

4 The beamings of his piercing sight
Bring dark hypocrisy to light ;
Death and destruction naked lie,
And hell, uncover'd to his eye.

7 Th' eternal law before him stands ;
His justice, with impartial hands,
Divides to all their due reward,
Or by the sceptre, or the sword.

8 His mercy, like a boundless sea,
Washes our loads of guilt away,
While his own Son came down, and dy'd
'T' engage his justice on our side.

9 Each of his words demands my faith ;
My soul can rest on all he saith :
His truth inviolably keeps
The largest promise of his lips.

10 Oh, tell me with a gentle voice,
Thou art my God—and I'll rejoice !
Fill'd with thy love, I dare proclaim
The brightest honors of thy name.

CLXVIII. The same.

JEHOVAH reigns, his throne is high—
His robes are Light and Majesty
His glory shines with beams so bright,
No mortal can sustain the sight.

2 His terrors keep the world in awe !
His justice guards his holy law ;
His love reveals a smiling face,
His truth and promise seal the grace.

3 Through all his works his wisdom shines,
And baffles satan's deep designs ;
His pow'r is sov'reign to fulfil
The noblest counsels of his will.

4 And will this glor'ous Lord descend
To be my Father and my Friend ?

Then let my songs with angels join—
Heav'n is secure, if God be mine.

CLXIX. The same.

THE Lord Jehovah reigns!
His throne is built on high,
The garments he assumes,
Are light and majesty:
His glories shine,
With beams so bright,
No mortal eye
Can bear the sight.

2 The thunders of his hand
Keep the wide world in awe;
His wrath and justice stand
To guard his holy law:
And where his love
Resolves to bless,
His truth confirms
And seals the grace.

3 Through all his ancient works
Surprising wisdom shines,
Confounds the pow'rs of hell,
And breaks their curs'd designs:
Strong is his arm,
And shall fulfil
His great decrees,
His sov'reign will.

4 And can this mighty King
Of glory, condescend?
And will he write his name
My Father and my friend?
I love his name;
I love his word;
Join all my pow'rs
And praise the Lord.

CLXX. God incomprehensible and Sovereign.

CAN creatures to perfection find
Th' eternal uncreated mind?
Or can the largest stretch of thought,
Measure and search his nature out?

2 'Tis high as heav'n, 'tis deep as hell,
And what can mortal know or tell?
His glory spreads beyond the sky,
And all the shining worlds on high.

3 But man, vain man, would fain be wise;
Born like a wild young colt, he flies
Through all the follies of his mind,
And smells and snuffs the empty wind.

4 God is a King of power unknown;
Firm are the orders of his throne:
If he resolve who dare oppose,
Or ask him why, or what he does?

5 He wounds the heart and he makes whole;
He calms the tempest of the soul:
When he shuts up in long despair,
Who can remove the heavy bar?

6 He frowns, and darkens veils the moon;
The fainting sun grows dim, at noon:
The pillars of heav'n's starry roof
Tremble and start at his reproof.

7 He gave the vaulted heav'n its form:
The crooked serpent and the worm:
He breaks the bilow with his breath,
And smites the sons of pride to death.

8 These are a portion of his ways;
But who shall dare describe his face?
Who can encure his light, or stand
To hear the thunders of his hand.

END OF THE SECOND BOOK.

* * * * *

BOOK III.

Prepared for the holy Ordinance of the LORD'S SUPPER.

I. The Lord's Supper instituted, 1 Cor. xi. 23.

'T WAS on that dark, that doleful night,
When pow'rs of earth and hell arose
Against the Son of God's delight,
And friends betray'd him to his foes.

2 Before the mournful scene began,
He took the bread and bless'd and brake:
What love through all his actions ran!
What wond'rous words of grace he spake!

3 This is my body, broke for sin,
Receive and eat the living food:
Then took the cup, and bless'd the wine;
'Tis the new cov'nant in my blood.

4 For us his flesh with nails was torn;
He bore the scourge, he felt the thorn
And justice pour'd upon his head
Its heavy vengeance in our stead.

5 For us his vital blood was spilt,
To buy the pardon of our guilt :
When, for black crimes of biggest size,
He gave his soul a sacri fice.

6 " Do this (he cry'd) till time shall end,
" In mem'ry of your dying Friend ;
" Meet at my table, and record
" The love of your departed Lord."

7 Jesus, thy feast we celebrate ;
We shew thy death, we sing thy name,
'Till thou return and we shall eat
The marriage-supper of the Lamb.

II. Communion with Christ and with Saints.
1 Cor. x. 16, 17.

JESUS invites his saints
To meet around his board ;
Here pardon'd rebels sit, and hold
Communion with their Lord.

2 For food he gives his flesh ;
He bids us drink his blood :
Amazing favor ! matchless grace,
Of our descending God !

3 This holy bread and wine,
Maintain our fainting breath,
By union with our living Lord,
And int'rest in his death.

4 Our heav'nly Father calls
Christ and his members one !
We the young children of his love,
And he the first-born Son.

5 We are but sev'ral parts
Of the same broken bread ;
One body, with its sev'ral limbs,
But Jesus is the Head.

Let all our pow'rs be join'd
 His glorious name to raise :
 Pleasure and love fill ev'ry mind,
 And ev'ry voice be praise.

III. The New Covenant, sealed.

THE promise of my Father's love
 Shall stand forever good :
 He said—and gave his soul to death,
 And seal'd the grace, with blood.

2 To this dear cov'nant of thy word
 I set my worthless name ;

I seal th' engagement with my Lord,
 And make my humble claim.

3 The light and strength, and pard'ning grace
 And glory, shall be mine :

My life and soul, my heart and flesh,
 And all my pow'rs are thine

4 I call that legacy my own,
 Which Jesus did bequeath ;
 'Twas purchas'd with a dying groan,
 And ratify'd in death.

5 Sweet is the mem'ry of his name
 Who bless'd us in his will,
 And to his testament of love
 Made his own life the seal.

IV. Christ's dying love.

HOW condescending and how kind
 Was God's eternal Son !
 Our mis'ry reach'd his heav'nly mind,
 And pity brought him down.

3 When justice, by our sins provok'd,
 Drew forth its dreadful sword,
 He gave his soul up to the stroke,
 Without a murm'ring word,

- 3 He sunk beneath our heavy woes,
To raise us to his throne :
There's ne'er a gift his hand bestows,
But cost his heart a groan.
- 4 This was compassion like a God,
That when the Saviour knew
The price of pardon was his blood ;
His pity ne'er withdrew.
- 5 Now though he reigns exalted high,
His love is still as great :
Well he remembers Calvary,
Nor let his saints forget.
- 6 Here we behold his bowels roll
As kind as when he dy'd ;
And see the sorrows of his soul
Bleed through his wounded side.
- 7 Here we receive repeated seals
Of Jesus' dying love :
Hard is the wretch who never feels
One soft affection move.
- 8 Here let our hearts begin to melt,
While we his death record,
And with our joy for pardon'd guilt,
Mourn that we pierc'd the Lord.

V. Christ the Bread of Life. John vi. 31, 35, 39.

- LET us adore th' Eternal Word,
'Tis He our souls has fed ;
Thou art our living stream . O Lord,
And thou th' immortal Bread.
- 2 The manna came from lower skies,
But Jesus from above ;
Where the fresh springs of pleasure rise,
And rivers flow with love.
- 3 The Jews the fathers dy'd at last,
Who ate that heav'nly bread ;

By these provisions which we taste,
Can raise us from the dead.

4 Bless'd be the Lord who gives his flesh
To nourish dying men,
And often spreads his table fresh,
Lest we should faint again.

5 Our souls shall draw their heav'nly breath,
Whilst Jesus finds supplies ;
Nor shall our graces sink to death,
For Jesus never dies.

6 Daily our mortal flesh decays,
But Christ, our life shall come ;
His unresisted pow'r shall raise
Our bodies from the tomb.

VI. The Memorial of our absent Lord. John xvi,
16. Luke xxii. 19. John xiv. 3.

JESUS is gone above the skies,
Where our weak senses reach him not ;
And carnal objects court our eyes,
To thrust our Saviour from our thought.

2 He knows what wand'ring hearts we have,
Apt to forget his lovely face ;
And to refresh our minds he gave
These kind memorials of his grace.

3 The Lord of life this table spread
With his own flesh and dying blood ;
We on the rich provision feed,
And taste the wine and bless our God.

4 Let sinful sweets be all forgot,
And earth grow less in our esteem ;
Christ and his love fill ev'ry thought,
And faith and hope be fix'd on him.

5 Whilst he is absent from our sight,
'Tis to prepare our souls a place ;

That we may live in heav'nly light,
And dwell forever near his face.

6 Our eyes look upward to the hills
Whence our returning Lord shall come ;
We wait thy chariot's awful wheels,
To fetch our longing spirits home.

VII. Crucifixion to the World by the Cross of Christ, Gal. vi. 14.

WHEN I survey the wond'rous cross
On which the Prince of glory dy'd,
My richest gain I count but loss
And pour contempt on all my pride.

2 Forbid it, Lord, that I should boast,
Save in the Death of Christ, my God :
All the vain things which charm me most,
I sacrifice them to his blood.

3 See from his head, his hands, his feet,
Sorrow and love flow mingled down !
Did e'er such love and sorrow meet ?
Or thorns compose so rich a crown ?

4 His dying crimson, like a robe,
Spreads o'er his body on the tree ;
Then am I dead to all the globe,
And all the globe is dead to me.

5 Were the whole realm of nature mine,
That were a present far too small :
Love so amazing, so divine,
Demands my soul, my life, my all.

VIII. The Tree of Life.

COME, let us join a joyful tune
To our exalted Lord—
Ye saints on high around his throne,
And we around his board.

2 While once upon this lower ground,
Weary and faint ye stood,

What dear refreshment here ye found
From this immortal food?

3 The tree of life, which near the Throne
In heav'n's high garden grows,
Laden with grace bends gently down
Its ever-smiling boughs.

4 Hov'ring among the leaves there stands,
The sweet celestial Dove,
And Jesus on the branches hangs
The banner of his love.

5 'Tis a young heav'n of strange delight
While in his shade we sit :
His fruit is pleasing to the sight,
And to the taste as sweet.

6 New life it spreads through dying hearts,
And cheers the drooping mind ;
Vigor and joy the juice imparts,
Without a sting behind.

7 Now let the flaming weapon stand,
And guard all Eden's trees :
There's ne'er a plant in all that land
Which bears such fruit as these.

8 Infinite grace our souls adore
Whose wond'rous hand has made
This living branch of sov'reign pow'r
To raise and heal the dead.

IX. The Spirit, the Water and the Blood.
1 John, v. 6.

LET all our tongues be one,
To praise our God on high,
Who from his bosom sent his Son,
To fetch us, strangers nigh.

Nor let our voices cease
To sing the Saviour's name;

Jesus, th' Embassador of peace,
How chearfully he came !

3 It cost him cries and téars
To bring us near to God :

Great was our debt and he appears
To make the payment good.

4 My Saviour's pierced side
Pour'd out a double flood ;

By water we are purifi'd
And pardon'd by the blood.

5 Infinite was our guilt,
But He, our Priest, atones ;

On the cold ground his life was spilt,
And offer'd with his groans.

6 Lock up my soul to him

Whole death was thy desert,

And humbly view the living stream
Flow from his breaking heart.

7 There, on the cursed tree,
In dying pangs he lies.

Fulfils his Father's great decree,
And all our wants supplies.

8 Thus the Redeemer came,
By water and by blood :

And when the Spirit speaks the same,
We feel his witness good.

9 While the eternal Three
Bear their record above,

Then I believe he dy'd for me,
And seal my Saviour's love.

[10 Lord, cleanse my soul from sin,
Nor let thy grace depart :

Great Comforter ! abide within,
And witness to my heart.]

X. Christ Crucified; the Wisdom and Pow'r of God.

NATURE with open volume stands,
To spread her Maker's praise abroad;
And ev'ry labor of his hands
Shews something worthy of a God:

1. But in the grace which rescu'd man,
His brightest form of glory shines;
Here on the cross 'tis fairest drawn
In precious blood, and crimson lines.

[3. Here his whole name appears complete;
Nor wit can guess, nor reason prove,
Which of the letters best is writ,
The pow'r the wisdom, or the love.]

4. Here I behold his inmost heart,
Where grace and vengeance strangely join;
Piercing his Son with sharpest smart,
To make the purchas'd pleasures mine.

5. Oh! the sweet wonders of that cross,
Where God, the Saviour lov'd and dy'd!
Her noblest life my spirit draws
From his dear wounds, and bleeding side.

6. I would forever speak his name
In sounds to mortal ears unknown,
With angels join to praise the Lamb,
And worship at his Father's throne.

XI. Pardon brought to our Senses.

LORD, how divine thy comforts are!
How heav'nly is the place,
Where Jesus spreads the sacred feast
Of his redeeming grace!

2. Here the rich bounties of our God,
And sweetest glories shine;
Here Jesus says, that I am his;
And my beloved's mine.

- 3 Here (says the kind Redeeming Lord,
And shews his wounded side)
" See here the spring of all your joys,
" Which, open'd, when I dy'd !"
- 4 He smiles, and cheers my mournful heart,
And tells of all his pain :
" All this, says he I bore for thee,"
* And then he smiles again .
- 5 What shall we pay our heav'nly King,
For grace so vast as this !
He brings our pardon to our eyes,
And seals it with a kiss.
- 6 Let such amazing loves as these
Be founded all abroad ;
Such favors are beyond degrees,
And worthy of a God.
- 7 To Him who wash'd us in his blood
Be everlasting praise ;
Salvation honor, glory pow'r,
Eternal, as his days.

XII. The Gospel Feast, Luke xiv. 16, &c.

HOW rich are thy provisions, Lord!
Thy table furnish'd from above !
The fruits of life o'er spreads the board,
The cup o'erflows with heav'nly love.

2 Thine ancient family the Jews,
Were first invited to the feast :
We humbly take what they refuse,
And Gentiles thy salvation taste.

3 We are the poor, the blind, the lame ;
And help was far, and death was nigh !
But, at the gospel-call, we came,
And ev'ry want receiv'd supply.

4 From the high way which leads to hell
From paths of darkness and despair,

Lord, we are come with thee to dwell,
Glad to enjoy thy presence here.

5 What shall we pay th' Eternal Son,
Who left the heav'n of his abode,
And to this wretched earth came down,
To bring us, wand'ers, back to God !

6 It cost him death, to save our lives ;
To buy our souls, it cost his own ;
And all the unknown joys he gives,
Were bought with agonies, unknown.

7 Our everlasting love is due
To him who ransom'd sinners, lost ;
And pity'd rebels, when he knew
The vast expence his love would cost.

XIII. Divine Love making a Feast, and calling in the Guests, Luke, xiv. 17, 22, 23.

HOW sweet and awful is the place,
With Christ within the doors,
While everlasting love displays
The choicest of her stores !

2 Here ev'ry bowel of our God
With soft compassion roils ;
Here peace and pardon, bought with blood,
Is food for dying souls.

3 While all our hearts and all our songs
Join to admire the feast,
Each of us cry, with thankful tongues,
" Lord, why was I a guest !

4 " Why was I made to hear thy voice,
" And enter, while there's room ;
" When thousands make a wretched choice,
" And rather starve than come ?"

5 'Twas the same love which spread the feast
That sweetly forc'd us in ;

Else we had still refus'd to taste,
And perish'd in our sin.

[6 Pity the nations, O, our God;
Constrain the earth to come;
Send thy victor'ous word abroad,
And bring the strangers home.

7 We long to see the churches fall,
That all the chosen race
May with one voice, one heart, one soul,
Sing thy redeeming grace.]

XIV. *The Song of Simeon ; Luke ii. 28 ; or, a
Sight of Christ makes Death easy.*

NOW have our hearts embrac'd our God ;
We would forget all earthly charms,
And wish to die, as Simeon would
With his young Saviour in his arms.

2 Our lips should learn that joyful song,
Were but our hearts prepar'd like his ;
“ Our souls still waiting to be gone,
“ And at thy word depart in peace.

3 “ Here we have seen thy face, O Lord,
“ And view'd salvation with our eyes,
“ Tasted and feit the living word,
“ The bread descending from the skies.

4 “ Thou hast prepar'd this dying Lamb,
“ Hast set his blood before our face ;
“ To teach the terrors of thy name,
“ And shew the wonders of thy grace.

5 “ He is our light, our morning-star,
“ Shall shine on nations yet unknown ;
“ The glory of thine Isr'el here,
“ And joy of spirits near the throne.”

XV. Our Lord Jesus at his own Table.

THE mem'ry of our dying Lord
Awakes a thankful tongue ;

How rich he spreads his royal board,
And blest'd the food, and fung.

2 Happy the men who eat this bread,
But doubly blest'd was he

Who gently bow'd his loving head,
And lean'd it Lord, on Thee,

3 By faith the same delights we taste
As that great fav'rite did,

And sit and lean on Jesus' breast,
And take the heav'nly bread.

4 Down from the palace of the skies
Hither the King descends !

"Come, my beloved, eat, (he cries)
"And drink salvation, friends.

[5 "My flesh is food and physic too,
"A balm for all your pains :

"And the red streams of pardon flow
"From these my pierced veins."

6 Hosanna to his bount'ous love,
For such a feast below !

And yet he feeds his saints above
With nobler blessings too.

7 Come the dear day, the glorious hour,
Which brings our souls to rest !

Then we shall need these types no more,
But dwell at th' heav'nly feast.]

XVI. The Agonies of Christ.

NOW let our pains be all forgot,
Our hearts no more repine ;
Our suff'rings are not worth a thought,
When, Lord, compar'd with thine.

2 In lively figures here we see
The bleeding Prince of Love ;

- Each of us hope, he dy'd for me,
And then our griefs remove.
- 3 Our humble faith here takes her rise,
While sitting round his board ;
And back to Calvary she flies,
To view her groaning Lord.
- 4 His soul, what agonies it felt
When his own God withdrew ;
And the large load of all our guilt
Lay heavy on him too.
- 5 But the divinity within
Supported him to bear ;
Dying, he conquer'd hell and sin,
And made his triumph there.
- 6 Grace, wisdom, justice, join'd and wrought
The wonders of that day :
No mortal tongue nor mortal thought
Can equal thanks repay.
- 7 Our hymns should sound like those above,
Could we our voices raise :
Yet, Lord, our hearts shall all be love,
And all our lives be praise.

XVII. The Flesh and Blood of Christ.

WE sing th' amazing deeds
Which grace divine performs
Th' Eternal God comes down and bleeds,
To nourish dying worms.

2 This soul-reviving wine,
Dear Saviour, 'tis thy blood :
We thank that sacred flesh of thine
For this immortal food.

3 The banquet which we eat,
Is made of heav'nly things ;
Earth hath no dainties half so sweet.
As our Redeemer brings.

- 4 In vain had Adam sought,
 And search'd his garden round,
 For there was no such blessed fruit
 In all the happy ground.
- 5 Th' angelic host above
 Can never taste this food :
 They feast upon their Maker's love
 But not a Saviour's blood.
- 6 O as th' Almighty Lord
 Bestows this matchless grace ;
 And meets us with some cheering word,
 With pleasure in his face.
- 7 Come, all ye drooping faints ;
 And banquet with the King ?
 This wine will crown your sad complaints,
 And tune your voice to sing.
- 8 Salvation to the name
 Of our adored Christ ;
 Through the wide earth his grace proclaim,
 His glory in the high'n.

XVIII. The same.

- JESUS! we bow before thy feet!
 Thy table is divinely stor'd!
 Thy sacred flesh our souls have ate,
 'Tis living bread—we thank thee, Lord!
- 2 And here we drink our Saviour's blood;
 We thank thee, Lord! 'tis gen'rous wine,
 Mingled with love, the fountain flow'd
 From that dear bleeding heart of thine.
- 3 On earth is no such sweetness found,
 For the Lamb's flesh is heav'nly food;
 In vain we search the globe around
 For bread so fine, or wine so good.
- 4 Carnal provisions can at best,
 But cheer the heart, or warm the head;
 But the rich cord'al which we taste,
 Gives life eternal to the dead.

5 Praise to the Master of the feast ;
 His name our souls forever bless ;
 To God the King, and God the Priest,
 A loud hosanna round the place.

XIX. Glory in the Cross.

AT thy command, our dearest Lord,
 Here we attend thy dying feast :
 Thy blood, like wine, adorns thy board,
 And thy own flesh feeds ev'ry guest.

2 Our faith adores thy bleeding love,
 And trust for life in one who dy'd ;
 We hope for heav'nly crowns above,
 From a Redeemer crucify'd.

3 Let the vain world pronounce it shame,
 And fling their scandals on the cause :
 We come to boast our Saviour's name,
 And make our triumphs in his cross.

4 With joy we tell the scoffing age,
 He who was dead has left his tomb ;
 He lives above their utmost rage,
 And we are waiting 'till he come.

XX. The Provisions for the Table of our Lord.

LORD, we adore thy bount'ous hand,
 And sing the solemn feast,
 Where sweet celest'al dainties stand,
 For ev'ry willing guest.

[2 The tree of life adorns the board
 With rich immortal fruit ;
 And ne'er an angry flaming sword
 To guard the passage to't.

The cup stands crown'd with living juice,
 The fountain flows above,
 And runs down streaming, for our use,
 In rhytlets of love.]

4 The food's prepar'd by heav'nly art ;
 The pleasures well refin'd ;

They spread new life through ev'ry heart,
And cheer the drooping mind.

5 Shout and proclaim the Saviour's love,
Ye faints, who taste His wine ;
Join with your kindred faints above ;
In loud hosannas join.

6 A thousand glories to the God,
Who gives such joy as this !
Hosanna ! let it sound abroad,
And reach where Jesus is.

XXI. The Triumphal Feast for Christ's Victory over Sin, Death, and Hell.

COME, let us lift our voices high,
High as our joys arise ;
And join the songs above the sky,
Where pleasure never dies.

2 Jesus, the God, who fought and bled,
And conquer'd, when he fell,
Who rose and at his char'ot wheels,
Dragg'd all the pow'rs of hell.

3 Jesus, the God, invites us here,
To this triumphal feast :
And brings immortal blessings down
For each redeemed guest.

4 The Lord ! how glorious is his face,
How kind his smiles appear !
And, Oh ! what melting words he says
To ev'ry humble ear.

5 " For you the children of my love,
" It was for you I dy'd ;
" Behold my hands, behold my feet,
" And look into my side.

6 " These are the wounds for you I bore,
" The tokens of my pains,
" When I come down to free your souls
" From misery and chains,

- 7 "Justice unsheath'd its fiery sword,
 " And plung'd it in my heart ;
 " Infinite pangs for you I bore,
 " And most tormenting smart.
- 8 " When hell, and all its spiteful powr's,
 " Stood dreadful in my way,
 " To rescue those dear lives of your's,
 " I gave my own away.
- 9 " But while I bled, and groan'd and dy'd,
 " I ruin'd Satan's throne ;
 " High on my cross I hung, and spy'd
 " The monster tumbling down,
- 10 " Now you must triumph at my feast,
 " And take my flesh, my blood,
 " And live eternal ages bless'd,
 " For 'tis immortal food."

11 Victorious God ! what can we pay
 For favors so divine ?
 We would devote our hearts away
 To be forever thine.

12 We give thee, Lord, our highest praise,
 The tribute of our tongue—
 But themes so infinite as these
 Exceed our noblest songs.

XXII. The Compassion of a dying Christ.

O UR spirits join t' adore the Lamb ;
 Oh, that our feeble lips could move
 In strains immortal as his name,
 And melting as his dying love !

1 Was ever equal pity found ?
 The prince of heav'n resigns his breath,
 And pours his life out on the ground.
 To ransom guilty worms from death !

2 Rebels, we broke our Makers laws
 He from the threatnings sets us free,
 Bore the full vengeance on his cross,
 And nail'd the curses to the tree.]

4 The law proclaims no terror now—
 And Sinai's thunder roars no more :
 From all his wounds new blessings flow,
 A sea of joy, without a shore.

5 Here we have wash'd our deepest stains,
 And heal'd our wounds with heav'n'ly blood ;
 Bless'd fountain ! springing from the veins
 Of Jesus, our incarnate God.]

6 In vain our mortal voices strive
 To speak compassion so divine ;
 Had we a thousand lives to give,
 A thousand lives should all be thine.

XXIII. Grace and Glory by the Death of Christ.

SITTING around our Father's board,
 We raise our tuneful breath ;
 Our faith beholds our dying Lord,
 And dooms our sins to death.

2 We see the blood of Jesus shed,
 Whence all our pardons rise ;
 The sinner views th' atonement made,
 And loves the sacrifice.

3 Thy cruel thorns, thy shameful cross,
 Procure us heav'nly crowns ;
 Our highest gain springs from thy loss !
 Our healing from thy wounds.

4 Oh ! 'tis impossible that we,
 Who dwell in feeble clay,
 Should equal suff'rings bear for thee,
 Or equal thanks repay.

XXIV. Pardon and Strength from Christ.

FATHER we wait to feel thy grace,
 To see thy glory shine ;
 The Lord will his own table bless,
 And make the feast divine.

2 We touch, we taste the Heav'nly bread ;
 We drink the sacred cup ;

- With outward forms our sense is fed,
Our souls rejoice in hope
- 3 We shall appear before the throne
Of our forgiving God,
Dress'd in the garments of his Son,
And sprinkled with his blood.
- 4 We shall be strong to run the race,
And climb the upper sky ;
Christ will provide our souls with grace,
He bought a large supply.
- [5 Let us indulge a cheerful frame,
For joy becomes a feast ;
We love the mem'ry of his name,
More than the wine we taste.

XXV. Divine Glories and Graces.

- HOW are thy glories here display'd !
Great God how bright they shine !
While at thy word we break the bread,
And pour the flowing wine !
- 2 Here thy revenging justice stands,
And pleads its dreadful cause ;
Here saving mercy spreads her hands,
Like Jesus on the cross.
- 3 Thy saints attend, with ev'ry grace
On this great sacrifice ;
And love appears with cheerful face,
And faith with fixed eyes.
- 4 Our hope in waiting posture sits,
To heav'n directs her sight ;
Here ev'ry warmer passion meets,
And strongest pow'rs unite.
- 5 Zeal and revenge perform their part,
And rising sin destroy ;
Repentance comes with aching heart,
Yet not forbids the joy.

6 Dear Saviour, change our faith to fight ;
 Let sin forever die :
 Then shall our souls be all delight,
 And ev'ry tear be dry.

I CANNOT persuade myself to put a full period to these Divine Hymns, until I have addressed a special song of Glory to God the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit. Tho' the latin name of it, Gloria Patri, be retained in our nation from the Roman Church; and though there may be some excesses of superstitious honor paid to the words of it, which may have wrought some unhappy prejudices in weaker Christians, yet I believe it still to be one of the noblest parts of Christian worship. The subject of it is the doctrine of the Trinity, which is that peculiar glory of the divine nature, that our Lord Jesus Christ has so clearly revealed unto men. and is so necessary to true Christianity. The action is praise, which is one of the most complete and exalted parts of heavenly worship. I have cast the song into a variety of forms, and have fitted it by a plain version, or a large paraphrase, to be sung either alone, or at the conclusion of another Hymn. I have added al o a few Hosannas, or a criptions of salvation to Christ, in the same manner, and for the same end.

A Song of praise to the Ever-blessed Trinity, God the Father, Son, and Spirit.

XXVI. 1st Long Metre.

BLESS'D be the Father, and his love,
 To whose celestial source we owe
 Rivers of endless joy above,
 And rills of comfort here below.

2^d Glory to Thee, great Son of God :
 From whose dear wounded body flows
 A precious stream of vital blood,
 Pardon and life for dying souls.

3 We give Thee, sacred Spirit, praise,
Who, in our hearts, of sin and woe,
Make living springs of grace arise,
And into boundless glory flow.

4 Thus God the Father, God the Son,
And God the Spirit we adore,
That sea of life and love unknown,
Without a bottom or a shore.

XXVII. 1st Common Metre.

GLORY to God the Father's name,
Who from our sinful race,
Chose out his fav'rites to proclaim,
The honors of his grace.

2 Glory to God the Son be paid,
Who dwelt in humble clay :
And, to redeem us from the dead,
Gave his own life away.

3 Glory to God the Spirit give,
From whose almighty pow'r
Our souls their heavenly birth derive
And bless the happy hour.

4 Glory to God who reigns above,
Th' eternal Three and One,
Who by the wonders of his love,
Has made his nature known.

XXVIII. 1st Short Metre.

LET God the Father live
Forever on our tongues ;
Sinners from his first love derive
The ground of all their songs.

2 Ye saints employ your breath
In honor to the Son,
Who bought your souls from hell and death,
By off'ring up His own.

3 Give to the Spirit praise,
Of an immortal strain,

Whose light, and pow'r and grace conveys,
Salvation down to men.

4 While God, the Comforter,
Reveals our pardon'd sin,
O may the blood and water bear
The same record within.

5 To the great One and Three,
Who seal this grace in heav'n,
The Father, Son, and Spirit be
Eternal glory giv'n.

XXIX. 2d Long Metre.

GLORY to God the Trinity,
Whose name has mysteries unknown;
In essence One, in Person Three;
A social nature, yet alone.

1 When all our noblest pow'rs are join'd,
The honors of thy name to raise;
Thy glories over-match our mind.
And angels faint beneath the praise.

XXX. 2d Common Metre.

THE God of mercy be ador'd,
Who calls our souls from death:
Who saves, by his REDEEMING WORD,
And new creating breath.

2 To praise the Father, and the Son,
And Spirit—all divine—
The One in Three, and Three in One,
Let saints, and angels join.

XXXI. 2d Short Metre.

LET God the Maker's name
Have honor, love and fear,
To God the Saviour, pay the same,
And God the Comforter.

1 Father of lights above,
Thy mercy we adore,
The Son of thy eternal love.
And Spirit of thy pow'r.

XXXII. 3d Long Metre.

TO God the Father, God the Son,
 And God the Spirit, Three in one,
 Be honor, praise, and glory giv'n
 By all on earth, and all in heav'n.

XXXIII. Or thus:—

ALL glory to thy wond'rous name,
 Father of mercy, God of love:
 Thus we exalt the Lord the Lamb,
 And thus we praise the heav'nly Dove.

XXXIV. 3d Common Metre.

NOW let the Father, and the Son,
 And Spirit be ador'd,
 Where there are works to make him known,
 Or saints to love the Lord.

XXXV. Or thus:—

HONOR to Thee, Almighty Three,
 And everlasting One;
 All Glory to the Father be,
 The Spirit, and the Son.

XXXVI. 3d Short Metre.

YE angels, round the throne,
 And Saints, who dwell below,
 Worship the Father, love the Son,
 And bless the Spirit too.

XXXVII. Or thus:—

GIVE to the Father praise;
 Give glory to the Son:
 And to the Spirit of his grace
 Be equal honor done.

XXXVIII. Song of Praise to the Blessed Trinity.

I GIVE Immortal praise
 To God the Father's love,
 For all my comforts here,
 And better hopes above.

He sent his own

Eternal Son,

To die for sins,

Which man had done.

2 To God the Son belongs
 Immortal glory too ;
 Who bought us with his blood
 From everlasting woe ;
 And now he lives,
 And now he reigns,
 And sees the fruit
 Of all his pains.

3 To God the Spirit's name
 Immortal worship give,
 Whose new creating pow'r
 Makes the dead sinner live :
 His work completes
 The great design,
 And fills the soul
 With joy divine.

4. Almighty God, to Thee
 Be endless honors done ;
 The undivided Three,
 And the myster'ous One :
 Where reason fails
 With all her pow'rs,
 There faith prevails,
 And love adores.

— XX XIX. —

TO Him who chose us first,
 Before the world began,
 To him who bore the curse
 To save rebell'ous man :
 To him who forms
 Our hearts anew,
 Are endless praise
 And glory due.

2 The Father's love shall run
 Thro' our immortal songs ;
 We bring to God the Son
 Hosannas, on our tongues :
 Our lips adress
 The Spirit's name

With equal praise,
And zeal the same.

- 3 Let ev'ry faint above,
And angels round the throne,
For ever bless and love,
The sacred Three in One.
Thus Heav'n shall raise
His honors high
When earth and time
Grow old and die.

—XL.—

TO God the Fathers throne
Perpetual honors pay:
Glory to God the Son,
To God the Spirit praise:
And while our lips
Their tribute bring,
Our faith adores
The name we sing.

—XLI.—

TO our eternal God,
The Father and the Son,
And Spirit all divine,
Three mysteries in one:
Salvation, pow'r,
And praise be giv'n,
By all on earth,
And all in heav'n.

XLII. Long Metre.

For HOSANNA. or Salvation ascribed to Christ.

HOSANNA, to king David's Son,
Who reigns on a superior throne
We bless the Prince of heav'nly birth;
Who brings salvation down to earth.

- 2 Let ev'ry nation, ev'ry age,
In this delightful work engage;
Old men and babes in Sion sing
The growing glories of her King.

XLIII. Common Metre.

HOSANNA to the Prince of grace,
 Zion behold thy King :
 Proclaim the son of David's race,
 And teach the babes to sing.

2 Hosanna to th' incarnate Word
 That from the Father came ;
 Ascribe salvation to the Lord,
 With blessings on his name.

XLIV. Short Metre.

HOSANNA to the Son
 Of David, and of God,
 Who brought the news of pardon down,
 And bought it with his blood.

2 To Christ th' anointed King,
 Be endless blessings giv'n ;
 Let the who'e earth his glory sing,
 Who made our peace with heav'n.

—XLV—

HOSANNA to the King,
 Of David's ancient blood :

Behold he comes to bring
 Forgiving grace from God ;

Let old and young
 Attend his way,
 And at his feet
 Their honors lay.

2 Glory to God on high ;
 Salvation to the Lamb :
 Let earth, and sea, and sky,
 His wond'rous love proclaim ;

Upon his head
 Shall honors rest
 And ev'ry age
 Pronounce him bless'd.

THE END.

A DORE, and tremble, for our God	26
Alas, and did my Saviour bleed	106
All mortal vanities be gone	18
And are we wretches yet alive	176
And must this body die	180
And now the scales have left mine eyes	158
Arise, my soul, my joyful pow'rs	159
As new-born babes desire the best	88
At thy command, our dearest Lord	234
Attend, while God's exalted Son	192
Awake my heart, arise, my tongue	16
Awake our souls, away our fears	27
Away from ev'ry mortal care	188
B ACKWARD with humble shame we look	34
Begin, my tongue, some heav'nly theme	149
Behold how sinners disagree	81
Behold the blind their sight receive	196
Behold the glories of the Lamb	3
Behold the grace appears	5
Behold the potter and the clay	72
Behold the Rose of Sharon here	41
Behold the woman's promis'd Seed	195
Behold the wretch, whose lust and wine	76
Behold what wond'rous grace	38
Bless'd are the humble souls who see	63
Bless'd be the everlasting God	19
Bless'd be the Father and his love	239
Bless'd morning whose young dawning rays	152
Bless'd with the joys of innocence	191
Blood has a voice to pierce the skies	185
Bright King of glory, dreadful God	135
Broad is the road which leads to death	209
Bury'd in shadows of the night	61
But few among the carnal wise	60
C AN creatures to perfection find	218
Christ and his cross are all our theme	74
Come, all harmon'ous tongues	160
